Columbia River Asparagus Sends Top Prices Down

PORTLAND, Apr. 13 (AP) — There was again lack of definite change in the general butter market situation. On the open market both cubes and prints were unchanged for the day.

Local make and receipts from the country continue to reflect a very liberal increase, which in spots is becoming more or less burdensome. Quality in general is better all along the line.

Butterfat market appears about steady with the price uniform in most sections of the Portland trade territory.

Trading in the egg market continues to reflect nothing but easiness generally throughout the country. There is little change in prices, values being held by the storing of surplus by distributors.

Continued stationary values are reflected in the live chicken trade with the only weakness apparent in small broilers. Much of this depression appears artificial.

With a quick rush to market of Columbia river asparagus, prices show a very sharp reduction here for fancy stuff. Sales are generally being made around $1 dozen bunches, a few a fraction more. Kennewick stock is down to 80@90c for 12s.

Very firm demand is showing for California strawberries. Carload lots are quickly moved. Another one is due Thursday morning and is priced to sell again at $1.75 for 12s.

While practically no cash purchases of onions are reported in the country, consignments are being made. The cash price is nominally $5. The 499th car was reported out of Brooks yesterday and the 500th was due to leave Wednesday.

There is a surplus of spring radishes on the local market with a resulting sharp cut in the price. Sales in general are not being made above 40c dozen bunches.

There was practically no change in general country killed meat prices Wednesday. Veal continues to show strength with weakness and easiness in hogs and lambs, both spring and old crop stuff.

Notes of wholesale trading:

Rhubarb market is slow with prices generally easier.

Demand for hothouse tomatoes is just about able to absorb current small supply.

Poor quality hothouse cucumbers, selling down to 30 @ 40c dozen are finding favor with better stuff slow sale.

Steadiness is shown for cauliflower with better quality locals arriving.

PORTLAND PRODUCE

PORTLAND, Apr. 13 (AP) — Onions —Selling price to retailers: Oregon $6.00@6.50 cental; boilers $5.00 @ $5.25.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Apr. 13 (AP) — The price to be paid for the new wool clip in the country appears to be a factor in the uncertainty over spot values in this market. As long as the goods market remains dull, manufacturers are inclined to hold back or make only low offers. Dealers hesitate to accept the extreme low prices recently offered, for they are uncertain whether they replace stock at prices on the level of the bids.

Market Fails To Overcome Decline

NEW YORK, Apr. 13 (AP) — The stock market failed to overcome its habit of declining today, but selling pressure relaxed markedly. A few issues finished with losses of 1 to more than 3 points, but most leaders were off only fractions. The closing tone was heavy. Transfers approximated 1,100,000 shares.

Advices of the federal reserve's fresh credit expansion program, and reports that large banks had been admonished by reserve authorities against needless calling of loans, apparently played a part in the better tone of the market.

DEMOCRATS MEET IN PARTY RALLY IN CAPITOL CITY

Representative Mary T. Norton of New Jersey, and Mrs. Nellie Tayloe Ross, vice chairman of the party's national committee, in a severe arraignment of Republican promises and policies, the senate's Democratic chieftain also called for:

Rigid enforcement of the anti-trust laws, use of American capital at home, a policy of non-cancellation of foreign debts and no readjustment of debts except in the interest of America, and re-establishment of higher commodities prices through orderly disposition of existing surpluses, readjustments in domestic production and other processes.

Gatherings throughout the day and evening were programmed, beginning with a session at which "minute men" gave John J. Raskob, party chairman, a report on the situation in each state.

The crowning event of the day, a gala banquet tonight, will have former Governor Smith; Harry Flood Byrd of Virginia; Governor Ritchie of Maryland and Senator J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, as speakers.

All the speakers on the luncheon program let loose critical darts at the administration's tariff and relief measures, but only one—Representative Norton—took a fling at prohibition.

Urging abandonment of the prohibition bureau, she said the "noble experiment" has cost the American people $370,000,000 for enforcement, not counting the revenue "which could be had from a legilazed tax on beer and wine; while the cost in murders, suicides, corruption, crime and prison and insane asylum upkeep cannot be estimated."

"While all of this is developing," she added, "the leader of our country is not sufficiently interested to even attempt to discover the remedy. Men on Capitol Hill with closed minds refuse to read the evident handwriting on the wall."

Taking the "harmful results of 'new economics'," as his text, Senator Robinson termed the Hoover relief proposals as "palliatives, not cures," and said financial institutions had been slow to avail themselves of the privileges afforded by the "Glass-Steagall act, a Democratic measure," due to "fear which seems to have paralyzed the brains of those who control the sources of credit."

After saying a "nation-wide propaganda (in 1928) built up the myth that a letter mailed anywhere to the 'miracle man' would be promptly delivered to Mr. Hoover," the Arkansas senator, vice presidential nominee in that campaign, said every policy advanced by the president then "is now generally regarded as unsound, and by many regarded as a direct cause of the depression."

"Everything that Mr. Hoover said would happen failed to occur," he continued. "Everything that he promised would not occur has taken place."

"The record of the last three years," he said, "establishes the conclusion that the economic policy of the United States as reflected in extravagant government expenditures, in loans to bankrupt foreign governments, and in the enactment of tariffs which have well-nigh destroyed our commerce, have been the controlling factors in producing depression in this country, and in causing it to extend to other spheres. 'The new economics' must be cast into the limbo of exploded heresies."

The six recommendations Robinson made included:

First: That loans to foreign governments or to their nationals "on which payment is promised only on the theory the United States will in some mysterious way build up the ability of the borrowers to pay," should not be accepted. It is better to use the money at home.

Second: United States should announce a firm purpose not to cancel or readjust debts due from foreign countries except upon conditions manifestly in the interest of our own people.

Third: Abandonment of the policy of isolation reflected in prohibitive tariffs, and entering into fair reciprocal tariffs.

Fourth: Enforcement of laws for prevention and regulation of monopolies. He charged "feeble" enforcement of anti-trust laws by last three administrations.

Fifth: Reduction of high cost of government by, first, abolition of departments, bureaus, boards, commissions and offices to discontinue duplication in service and activities; second, "additional taxes must be levied. Increased taxation is no remedy for depression. It is the penalty which must be paid for extravagance during prosperous times."

Sixth: New domestic markets must be stimulated and foreign markets reached by receiving on more liberal terms those products of foreign countries which cannot be economically produced in this country. "Readjustments must come," he said, "in domestic production and in commerce before commodity prices will substantially advance."

Pittman World Court Plan Is Rejected, 11 - 8

WASHINGTON, Apr. 3 (AP) — The senate foreign relations committee today rejected, 11 to 8, the Pittman resolution proposing to ask for an interpretation from other signatory powers of the meaning of the Root protocol for American adherence to the world court.

Chairman Borah planned to poll the remainder of the committee but the 11 votes against the resolution were enough to defeat it.

The aim of the resolution was to determine whether the Root protocol covers a reservation adopted by the senate in 1926, under which the court could not render advisory opinions upon matters in which this country claimed an interest without the approval of the United States government.

Secretary Stimson has taken the view the Root formula completely covers the reservation.

The senators who voted for the Pittman resolution were: Borah, Johnson, LaFollette, Robinson of Indiana, Glenn, Pittman, Lewis and Shipstead.

Those opposed were: Capper, Reed, Fess, Vandenburg, Cutting, Swanson, Robinson of Arkansas, Walsh of Montana, Harrison, Wagner and Connally.

The committee reached no agreement for a time to vote on the Root protocol.

Work on Owyhee Project Not To Be Halted, Word

PORTLAND, Apr. 13 (AP)—Work on the Owyhee reclamation project in the Vale section will continue despite a cut in appropriation which was described today as "a paper slash."

A special dispatch today to the Journal from the national capital said "the cut in the Owyhee appropriation was approved by the senate Tuesday without debate after Senator McNary has consulted Senator Jones, chairman of the appropriations committee and received assurance that money to keep the work going will be reported later in a deficiency bill.

"The last half-million dollar cut by this arrangement will be only a paper slash and the necessary contracts can go forward."

The dispatch pointed out that there also remains the possibility that the reduction will not be approved in conference. "Under these circumstances," it is said, "Senator Steiwer did not press his amendment to restore the Owyhee figures to the basis of the house bill. The appropriation at this time stands at $500,000 plus the unexpended balance which approximates $1,600,000."
