LOWLY MISSIONS WHITEWASH DUCKS

Portland Fails to Score in Double Header; Angels Leading League.

By the Associated Press

With six wins out of seven games in the last week's series, the Angels emerged today as the leader in the Pacific coast's last weekly tourney. Results for the week were:

Los Angeles 6 wins, Sacramento 1.

San Francisco 4 wins, Oakland 3.

Portland 4 victories, Missions 2 (one game rained out).

Hollywood 4 victories, Seattle 3.

Sacramento got her only game of the series yesterday, taking the first contest 10 to 4. In this game Camilli and Demaree celebrated with two homers apiece. The Angels came back to win the second game 5 to 4, by virtue of Statz's homer in the seventh-and-last inning.

Missions Come to Life

The Missions got their only two games yesterday—both games being shutouts 20-, 10-. In the first game the Missions' six hits were good for 2 runs. The second game was tighter still, the single run blossoming in the sixth.

Seattle and Hollywood divided games, the Indians taking the first 6-4. Quellich homed for Hollywood with two on in the third. The Stars took the second game 3-0 by bunching hits, and captured the series.

The Oaks gave the Seals their liveliest series thus far by taking the morning game 4-2, behind Ludolph's tight twirling. The home team pounded out 20 hits for 15 runs to the Oaks' 2 in the second contest.

Sport Wager Ends In Death of Youth

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Apr. 25 (AP)—A wager, sportingly made on his youthful prowess, brought death to Bayard Tuckerman Elkins of Philadelphia, 20-year-old Harvard sophomore, and scion of one of America's wealthiest and socially prominent families.

His father, William M. Elkins, financier and philanthropist, came to Cambridge by a chartered special train, but arrived too late to see his son alive.

The youth succumbed yesterday to septic poisoning from a comparatively slight leg injury received eight days ago when, attempting to leap over a fence "on a bet" with his companion, William Delano Robbins Jr., of Washington, D. C., he lost his balance and was impaled on an iron picket.

Indians Not Fishermen

Among Indians fishing was commonly a woman's task.

Results From Sargon Almost Unbelievable

"Seems Marvelous the Way It Restored My Health"

"It's almost unbelievable the feeling of new life and strength that came over me when I started taking Sargon and Sargon Soft Mass Pills. I had the worst kind of stomach trouble and was terribly run-down, bilious and constipated. My whole system was poisoned and I suffered from sharp pains under my left shoulder. I became awfully nervous and could not sleep. Now I am as well and strong as I have ever been in my life. Sargon Soft Mass Pills are the most wonderful creative I have ever used."—Mrs. Irma Robertson, 422 I Street, Salt Lake City, Utah.

The prices, including tax, are $23; $17.25; $11.50; $5.75 and $3.45.

Weaver Poison To A's; Chalks Up Another Win

By Herbert W. Barker

Walter Johnson can discover no sound reason for embarrassment over his prediction early this spring that Monte Weaver would win plenty of ball games for the Washington Senators.

Already Weaver owns three consecutive victories, two over the champion Philadelphia Athletics.

Starting with a four-hit shutout over the Boston Red Sox and Horace Lisenbee, Weaver beat the A's and Rube Walberg, 7-4 last week although he failed to finish that game.

Yesterday Johnson sent him against the A's again. This time the young right hander went the route, held the A's to seven scattered hits while Washington hit George Earnshaw and Joe Bowman for 14 safeties, and won 8-2. Carl Reynolds drove in four Senator runs.

Detroit's amazing Tigers managed to keep a half game ahead of the Senators for the American league lead by scoring eight runs in the last two innings to conquer the Chicago White Sox, 10-9.

George Pipgras pitched the New York Yankees to an easy 9-2 verdict over the Boston Red Sox. Pipgras allowed only six hits and struck out an even dozen.

Earl Averill, Cleveland outfielder, came out of a batting slump to drive in seven runs with two home runs and a double as the Indians walloped the St. Louis Browns, 14-3.

In the National league, the pace-setting Boston Braves won their sixth consecutive game, nosing out the Phillies, 2-1, in a tight pitcher's duel between Ed Brandt and Ray Benge. The Braves won out in the sixth on Sphrer's single, a walk, a sacrifice and another single by Red Worthington, accounting for both runs.

The Cubs, close behind the Braves in the standings, unleashed a 16-hit barrage that buried the Pittsburgh Pirates, 12-3. Glenn Spencer had the doubtful distinction of pitching the whole game for the Pirates despite the heavy Cub cannonading. Charley Root Stopped the Corsairs with seven hits.

Behind Carl Hubbell's five hit pitching, the New York Giants easily trounced Brooklyn, 7-2.

The world champion St. Louis Cardinals turned back Cincinnati, 8-3. Flint Rhem held the Reds to three hits until the eighth when they bunched four singles and an error for all their runs. Chick Hafey, making his first start in the Cincinnati outfield, collected three singles his former teammates.

Indians and Sox Add Strength by Trade of Players

CLEVELAND, Apr. 25 (AP) — The Cleveland Indians and Chicago White Sox added new strength today by one of the American league's biggest player trades in several years.

The deal, announced last night, sends Shortstop Chalmers Bill) Cissell and Pitcher Jim Moore to the Indians in exchange for Second Baseman Johnny Hodapp and Outfielder Bob Seeds.

Cissel, once known as Chicago's "$123,000 beauty," is expected to give the tribe one of the tightest fielding inner gardens in the league, while Hodapp and Seeds were sought by the Sox for their punch at the plate.

Chicago bought Cissel from Portland in 1927 for $75,000 cash and players valued at $48,000. He is 28, fast and clever, and has a four-year batting average of .261. The tribe may use him either at second base or shortstop.

Seeds is considered one of the most promising young outfielders in the game, and is likely to hit above .300. Hodapp, a veteran, has a five-year average of .320, but is believed past the zenith of his career.

The Garden

GIVING SHRUBBERY A SQUARE MEAL

Shrubs need care, just as other plants in the garden do, but they thrive with very little attention. Cultivation may easily be overdone, since they have many feeding roots close to the surface; and digging near them may do harm by cutting these roots. Shallow cultivation to break the soil crust, where one has formed, is advisable in the spring, and two applications of plant food annually may be made.

It takes money and time to landscape a home and once the shrubbery is established and growing it's good judgment to keep it healthy.

All shrubs respond to the right nourishment. It is easy to feed shrubbery if you do it this way: In the early spring use a complete plant food, broadcasting it at the rate of four pounds per one hundred square feet of the area lying beneath the spread of the branches.

A second feeding should be given the shrubs about two months after the first feeding. This application should be made at the rate of about two pounds per one hundred square feet or one-half of the spring application. If the shrubs are growing as a hedge, plant food should be spread on either side of the hedge at the rate of four pounds for each fifty feet of row. The plant food should cover the soil as far away from the base of the hedge as corresponds with the branch spread. In most cases this will not be less than two feet on either side of the hedge. In each feeding work plant food lightly into the soil.

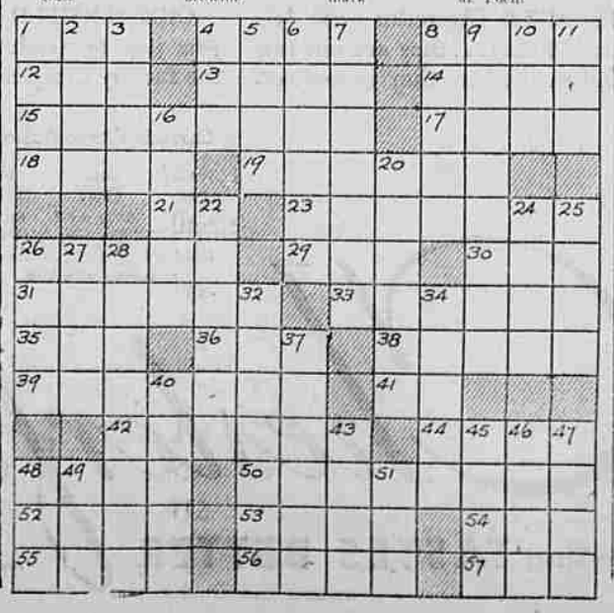
Solution of Saturday's Puzzle



The Tinymites

STORY by HAL COCHRAN PICTURES by JOE KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

THE rubber horse bounced 'round and 'round and soon the little skinny found that he was making all the Tinies giggle right out loud.

To them it was a sight to see, as funny as a sight could be. It isn't any wonder that the skinny felt real proud.

Said Scouty, "Say, you're doing fine. I wish that funny horse was mine. I'd ride on him the livelong day and let the others try.

"He's made of rubber. I can't see how you can ride so easily. It is a wonder you don't bounce away up toward the sky."

* * *

"AW, it's not hard, when you know how," the skinny said. "I will allow you all to have a little ride, if you don't scare my horse.

"There is a path that leads right through the big tree trunks and I'm sure you can make him follow that long trail. It is a riding course."

"Of course we can," one Tiny said. "We'll make the horse go straight ahead." And then the skinny cried, "All right," and jumped down to the ground.

Wee Scouty was the first to try to ride the horse and, me, oh my, it made him rather dizzy when the horse went 'round and 'round.

* * *

THEN Coppy did as he was told. He sat up very brave and bold and loudly shouted, "Giddyap!" The horse walked nice and straight.

Then Windy also had some fun and when his little ride was done wee Duncy said, "It's my turn now. Gee, I can hardly wait."

He scrambled to the horse's back and gave his side a friendly crack. The rubber horse seemed mad, though, and poor Duncy shortly found the others laughing loud in glee. And why they did it, he could see.

The horse bent in the middle and flopped right down on the ground.
