COLLEGIATE AUTOMOBILES CONFORM TO TRADITION

AMES, Iowa, Apr. 27 (AP)—Maybe the college automobile hasn't been recognized by common reputation after all.

Prof. R. A. Moyer, as chairman of a committee working on a model traffic ordinance on the Iowa State college campus, found that of 1240 student and faculty machines inspected, 75 per cent were defective in some way or other.

Michigan State college animal husbandry experts have found wheat meal to corn as a fattening feed for hogs.

HUSKIES AND BEAVERS MEET ON SATURDAY

SEATTLE, Apr. 27 (AP)—The outdoor intercollegiate track and field season in Seattle will be opened Saturday when the Oregon State college Beavers battle with the University of Washington Huskies in a dual meet in the Washington stadium.

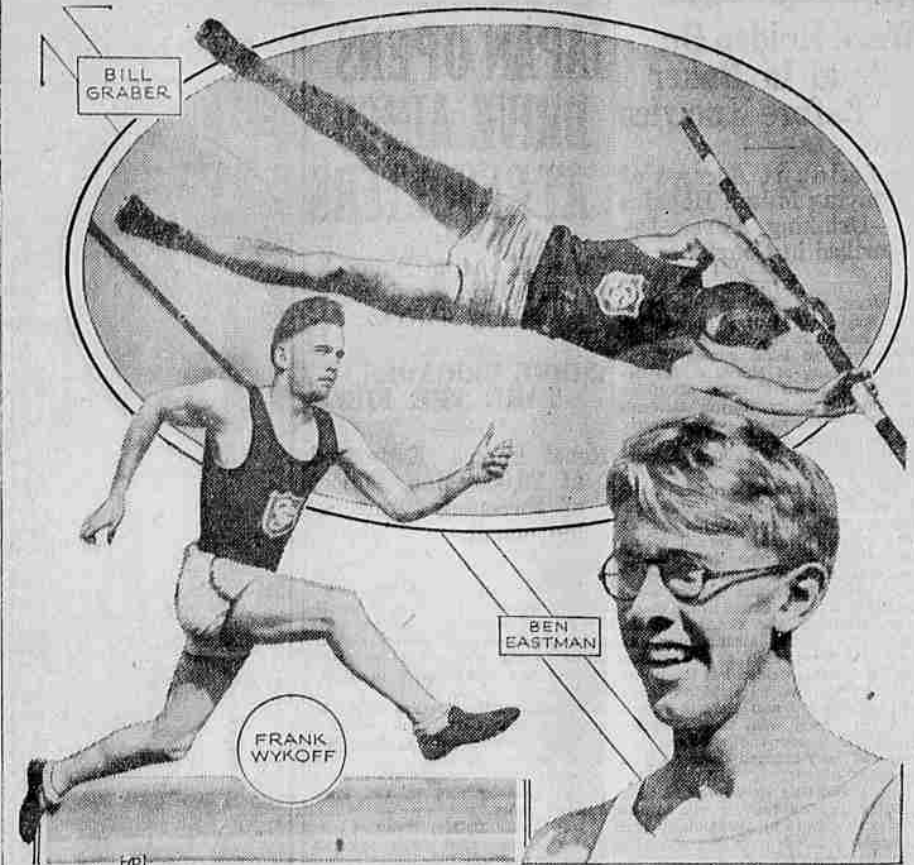

Only 18 men will compete on northern division Pacific Coast conference teams this year instead of the customary 22. Graduate managers of the schools at their meeting decided to limit the squads to 18 as an economy measure.

The Husky team is at full strength again with the return of Newton Harrell, two-miler and John Condon, quarter-miler. Both boys were out of competition for several days because of injuries.

The Beavers are expected to be strong in the field events with Washington figured to have the best cinder runners.

More than 100 anglers were entered in the 1932 casting tournament of the Port Worth (Tex.) Scientific Anglers' association.

STANFORD, TROJAN DUAL TRACK MEET NOW "STRAW VOTE" TEST OF I. C. 4-A.

With little on the horizon to prevent either Southern California or Stanford from walking off with the I. C. 4-A track title this year, the winner should be tabbed by a dual meet of the schools April 30 at Los Angeles. The champion Trojans with such stars as Frank Wykoff, sprint king, and Bill Graber, pole-vaulter, are favorites. Stanford's chief hope is Ben Eastman, who recently bettered the quarter and half mile world's records.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—In what is rapidly becoming an annual "straw vote" to uncover the winner of the I. C. 4-A, A. A. track and field classic the Stanford squad tackles the national championship University of Southern California team here April 30.

This meet, the only one large enough to swing open the gates of the Olympic stadium before the Xth Olympiad gets under way July 30, is expected to give conclusive evidence as to whether Coach Dean Cromwell's Trojans are sturdy enough to repeat in the I. C. 4-A tests at Berkeley, Cal., July 8 and 9 and win their third straight championship.

Since 1925 either Stanford or Southern California has walked away with the title in the big meet, until that time the exclusive property of the east. Troy claims four triumphs—in 1925, 1926 and in 1930 and 1931. Coach Dink Templeton's stars won in 1927, 1928 and 1929.

The dual test brings into action half a dozen title winners of the 1931 I. C. 4-A classic and undoubtedly will display a number of performers who are sure of making the United States Olympic team. World's records may be shattered in any number of events.

Whether the Trojans will go into the meet as decided favorites depends largely on whether Stanford's coach, Fred Lumsden, for many months will be able to direct his athletes from the sidelines.

Another question will be just how rapidly Coach Cromwell is bringing his performers into top condition. He has been reluctant to give his men hard training through the early part of the season, fearing the possibility of their going stale before the Olympic trials come up.

The running of Ben Eastman, who has eclipsed both the quarter and half mile world's records this spring, and Frank Wykoff, generally recognized as the nation's leading sprinter, will be closely watched. The Stanford middle distance expert appears good for at least ten points in the meet not to mention the possibility of his aiding in a victory in the mile relay.

Wykoff, beset by injuries and poor health, probably will confine his activities to the hundred yard dash, thereby cutting down Troy's potential power.

The other I. C. 4-A champions figuring in the meet are Bob Hall, shot putter, Bill Graber, pole vaulter, and Dick Barber, broad jumper, all of Southern California, and Robert Jones, discus thrower of Stanford's.

Of these, Hall, Graber and Barber have not been in good condition at any time during the early training season because of minor injuries.

Since the two teams started their parade of I. C. 4-A, A. A. victories Stanford has won four dual meets from Southern California, leaving the Trojans three triumphs.

Boston Red Sox Humble Mighty Athletic Hurler

By Gayle Talbot
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Boston in six of their last seven starts the Philadelphia Athletics smarted today from the "unkindest" blow of all.

The Boston Red Sox, who in recent years have been just a warm-up for the American league champions, put on the finishing touches yesterday when they lapped Lefty Grove, 10-2, and sent the Mackmen into sixth place.

Such a thing is almost unprecedented since the Athletics started hitting the high spots three years ago. They trimmed the Sox 16 times last season in 20 engagements, Grove doing the honors three times, twice by the shutout route.

Good For Five Innings
For five innings the glamorous Grove looked like his old self, allowing not a hit, but in the last four frames the Boston boys rattled the Shibe park fences with 10 solid blows, including a homerun by Earl Webb, and were going away behind the steady five-hit pitching of young Ed Durham.

But if the big stopwatch was ineffective, his support was far from airtight. Joe Boley, shoved back into his old job at shortstop committed two errors. Dibble Williams, the steady one of the last world series, touched off a six-run rally in the sixth when he juggled a roller.

Eddie Rommel hurled the last two innings for the Macks, allowing four runs.

Yankees Nose Out Solons
While the A's were suffering, the New York Yankees were busy moving into second place in the league standing with a 6 to 5 victory over the Washington Senators, the first meeting of the year between these rivals.

The Senators made an uphill battle to tie the count in the eighth after the Yanks had scored five runs off Alvin Crowder in the first two innings, but it was to no avail.

Only the two games escaped another day of rain and cold.

EDELMAN WINS FROM CARTER IN PORTLAND

PORTLAND, Ore., Apr. 27 (AP)—Eddie Edelman, Eskimo left hander, won the meet over Wildcat Carter, Seattle, at the end of six hard rounds here last night. Both boys did damage, although there were no knock-downs. They are junior welterweights.

Lee Page, New York, speeded up enough at the finish to take a six round decision over Eddie Fox, Spokane. Denny Lenhart, Spokane, knocked out Jack McCarthy, San Francisco, in the third round after three previous knockdowns; "Turkey Red" Yarnell, Eugene, knocked out Jack Denny, San Francisco, in the first round with a terrific wallop to the midsection; Red Stanley, Longview, won a four round decision over Jimmy O'Brien, Los Angeles, and Johnny Snell, Portland, knocked out Chuck Carnera, Seattle in the first round with two blows, one to the stomach and one to the jaw.

AMATEUR MAT MEN IN MEET AT PORTLAND

PORTLAND, Ore., Apr. 27 (AP)—Ninety-two amateur wrestlers from Oregon, Washington and Idaho were here today for the Northwest amateur athletic union's Olympic wrestling tryouts tonight and Thursday night.

The tournament will be governed by Olympic weights and rules and the winner in each division but one, will be invited to participate in the national amateur athletic union's championships to be held at Jersey City, N. J. The exception is the 115-pound class which is an added event to take care of the Northwest competition only. The winner in this event will not be invited to the national tryouts because there is no competition in Olympic wrestling under 123 pounds.

Winners in each division also will be recognized as the A. A. U.'s Northwest champions.

The wrestlers have come from five colleges, four athletic clubs, a dozen Y. M. C. A. centers, and as many high schools. Six Pacific Northwest champions, eight Northwest Y. M. C. A. champions, and five high school champions are entered.

Elimination bouts will be held tonight and the finals Thursday night.

MAX BAER STOPS PAUL SWIDERSKI

Syracuse Pole Unable to Match Wallops With California Battler.

By Paul Zimmerman
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Apr. 27 (AP)—Max Baer stopped blonde Paul Swiderski here last night in the seventh round to the disappointment of most of the 7000 persons who wended their way to the Olympic auditorium in hopes of seeing the Livermore, Cal., playboy's tall form sent prostrate to the canvas.

It was a much different picture, painted in the claret of the Syracuse, N. Y. Pole, for Swiderski was lashed with Baer's long, stinging blows for three nine-counts before Referee Abe Roth stopped in and halted the proceedings with the seventh round 1 minute 30 seconds off.

Swiderski started out well enough, keeping up a fairly even pace with the bronzed Californian, through the slow moving first four rounds, giving Baer no end of trouble in the clinches. He even uncorked a few right crosses of force but the Livermore lad didn't seem to mind that.

Max caught his opponent on the chin with a rugged right early in the fifth and then dropped Swiderski with a left hook a few seconds later as the easterner attempted to move in and clinch.

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, Apr. 27—Oregon State baseball players will meet Willamette university nine in a two-game series this week. The first game will be at Salem today and the second here Wednesday afternoon. The Orange-men just did nose out Willamette here last week in a 12-inning game by the score of 3 to 2.

Oregon State has five letter-men on the squad this season. Other probable starters are Bob Cronin, first base; Don Johnson, second; Jimmy Clarke, third; and Dick Baechtel, left field.

Oregon State rooks will play their third baseball game of the season here Friday when they meet Salem High school. The Orange yearlings defeated Albany college varsity and Eugene High school Saturday.

MIDWESTERN OLYMPIC HOPEFULS TO GET TEST IN DRAKE RELAYS

CLYDE COFFMAN, HENRY BROCKSMITH, CLARK CHAMBERLAIN, HUGH RHEA

Striking pose in photo above of big Hugh Rhea, Nebraska shotputter, might be termed the "spirit of the Drake Relays." High, with the Olympics in the air, is going to do his mightiest to impress in the games, April 29-30 at Des Moines, Ia. Among other stars who will compete are Henry Brocksmith of Indiana and Clark Chamberlain of Michigan State, distance runners, and Clyde Coffman, Kansas pole-vaulter.

EASTERN OREGON MEET SATURDAY

(1924), 6 feet 3/4 inch.
Shotput: Joslin, Baker (1930), 47 feet 3 inches.
Discus: Joslin, Baker (1930), 121 feet 7 1/2 inches.
Both Pendleton and La Grande have won eight meets since 1910, and if the Tigers come through as expected Saturday, they will take a definite lead over their old rivals, the Beavers.

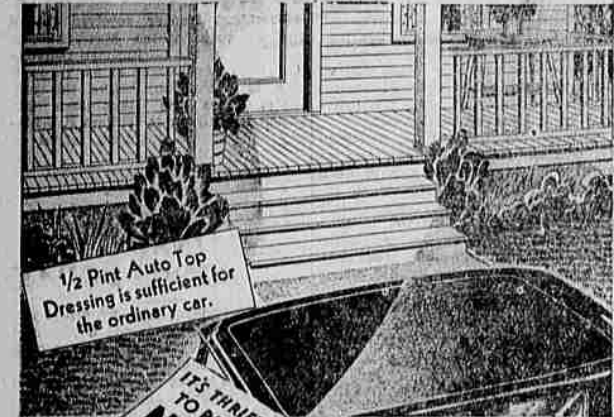

And of the 14 records that now stand on the books, there are only five that are in any apparent danger this year—and three of those listed as unlikely.

The two listed as most likely to fall are the 220-yard dash, with Corwyn Beery, of La Grande, as a threat; and the javelin, with Willie Torrence, of La Grande, expected to better the old mark providing weather permits. Beery now holds the 220-yard record with starting blocks and has a chance to better either this record or the regular one held by Taggart.

Torrence has thrown the javelin farther than the present mark on certain occasions.

Three other records that might be broken are: the broad jump, of 21 feet 7 inches, with Torrence as the only threat; the 440-yard dash mark of 53 1/5, which some dark horse might lower; and the relay mark of 1:35, once tied but not yet surpassed during the last decade. The Tiger team has an outside chance to beat the record.

The marks for the century, the half and mile, the hurdles, the pole vault, high jump, shotput and discus appear very, very secure as far as this year is concerned.
