The Presbyterian church double quartet is composed of Mrs. S. B. Morgan, Mrs. Ray Fuller, Mrs. W. H. Bohnenkamp Jr., Miss Corrine Baker, E. E. Hurley, George Plank, Raymond Williams and C. E. Anderson.

First Presbyterian Church
Washington at Sixth
Rev. J. George Walz, pastor.

The 11 o'clock hour Sunday morning at the First Presbyterian church will be devoted to a meeting for men at the Presbyterian church, Rev. J. George Walz, pastor, announces, stating that he will preach the sermon on "Why I Am a Man." Men and boys over 15 years of age will be admitted by ticket, whereas a ticket will not be necessary for women and boys under that age. Tickets for men are five and may be secured at the door Sunday morning, and any man presented with a ticket should accept it as an invitation to attend this service.

Miss Edris Maguire will play the service, and a special musical selection will be a presentation of the anthem, "Jehovah Reigns," by Mendelssohn, in which Mrs. S. B. Morgan, soprano; Mrs. Hal Bohnenkamp, alto; E. E. Hurley, tenor, and C. E. Anderson, bass, will take part. Miss Maguire will play the prelude, "Temple March," by Vincent.

Sunday school will open at 9:45, and the young people's meeting in the afternoon will be Junior Christian Endeavor at 3 o'clock; senior-intermediate and young people's endeavor at 6:15.

First Methodist Episcopal Church
Fourth at Spring
Rev. W. H. Hertzog, pastor.

The Methodist Episcopal church will combine with the other churches of the city in presenting the opening program of National music week Sunday evening at the L. D. S. tabernacle. As a prelude to the evening service, however, Rev. W. H. Hertzog has announced an interesting program for the day.

"Breadth of Fellowship" is the theme on which the pastor will speak at the morning service at 11 o'clock. Miss Helen Williams will play the service on the pipe organ.

A special feature of the service will be the duet, "I Saw a Golden Sunbeam Fall," by Miss Corinne Baker and Miss Jean Williams, accompanied by Miss Helen Williams at the organ. She will also accompany the choir in the anthem.

Sunday school opens at 9:45 in the morning, and special music has been arranged for that time by the orchestra which will play the opening number. At 7 o'clock, Adam Leighton will direct the lesson of the Epworth league.

Church of Christ
Seventh and Penn
Rev. Paul De F. Mortimore, pastor.

The northwest Oregon convention of the Central Church of Christ will meet in La Grande Tuesday, with sessions from 8:30 a. m. until 7:30 o'clock in the evening attended by visitors from Baker and Wallowa counties. Rev. Paul De F. Mortimore, pastor, states. Rev. C. F. Swander, of Portland, and Rev. Guy L. Drill, of Pendleton, will be the visiting leaders.

"A Fatal Lacking" is the theme of the sermon which Rev. Mortimore announces for the Sunday morning services at the church. He will speak and special music has been arranged by the choir, accompanied by Miss Doris French, organist, at 11 o'clock.

Sunday school will open at 9:45 in the morning, and the evening services for young people will be held at 6:30, when the junior, high school and young people's groups will have a meeting, with special emphasis on the meeting of the former.

The members of the church will enjoy the union musical services at the L. D. S. hall at 8 o'clock.

Zion English Lutheran Church
M Avenue near Fourth
Rev. Edwin Brecher, pastor.

A service for life service day will be presented Sunday in the form of a pageant Sunday morning at 11 o'clock at the Zion English Lutheran church. Juanita Stitzinger is in charge of the event in the capacity of life service secretary of the Luther league.

"Life's Highway," the pageant which will be presented, has a group of 10 characters, including Homer Schroeder, the traveller; Herbert Langren, the stranger; Edward Schumann, the young man; Fred Matthes, Jr., the beggar; Leonard Fields, Helen Jensen, Helen Hughes, Katie Meller, Irma Schilling and Barbara Stitzinger, members of the procession.

Sunday school will be held at 9:45, the story for next Sunday being "A Herdsman Who Sang the Story of Jesus."

No Luther league services will be held in the evening because of the music service at the L. D. S. tabernacle.

Baptist Church
Corner Sixth and Spring
Rev. B. Marcus Godwin, pastor

Communion will be observed at the Sunday morning service at the Baptist church, following a sermon by Rev. B. Marcus Godwin delivered on the theme "Purpose or Chance?" at 11 o'clock. "How Long Wilt Thou Forget Me?", a solo, will be presented by Mrs. Merville Moore, accompanied by Mrs. H. L. St. John.

"Finding My Place in Life" has been announced as the topic for discussion by the young people at their meeting at 6:30 in the evening. Miss Bichsel will be the leader.

Sunday school opens at 9:45 o'clock. On account of the music week program there will be no evening service on Sunday. Prayer meeting will be held Thursday evening at 7:30.

St. Peter's Episcopal Church
Fourth Street and O Avenue
Rev. Clarence A. Kopp, rector of St. Peter's church, announces the following services for Sunday:

Holy communion at 8 o'clock; church school at 9:45; morning prayer and sermon at 11 o'clock; and the Young People's Fellowship at 6:30.

St. Peter's church will also participate in the observance of national music week Sunday evening.

Christian Science Church
First and Washington

"Everlasting Punishment" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, May 1. The golden text will be taken from Gal. 6:1; and among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon will be Ezek. 33:15, 16. The lesson-sermon will also include a passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy.

Sunday school will be held for young people up to the age of 20 years at 9:45, the morning service will be held at 11 o'clock, and the evening service at 8. Wednesday evening they will gather at 8 o'clock.

Gospel Mission
2201 North Fir Street
Rev. L. Carlsen, pastor

Communion will be observed Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock service at the Gospel Mission, the pastor, Rev. L. Carlsen, states. Sunday school will precede the morning service at 9:45 o'clock, and there is a class for all, they state.

Elmer Carpenter will be the leader in the 6:45 o'clock service of the young people, and in the evening the pastor will discuss "Jesus Christ and His Deliverance for Man," at 7:30.

Tuesday evening they will meet at 7:30 o'clock, for a study of the book of Revelations in the Bible. They plan a meeting again on Friday evening at 7:30.

Sermonette
Edited by
Harriet R. MacDonald

"But seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you."—Matt. 6:33.

There need be no hesitation in realizing that we should never consent to look to religion and religious experience as means of providing us with merely outward blessings and benefits. Religion is a factor of the spiritual life, not merely of the natural life. Its great urge and issue is in the realm of the eternal, not the material. When it does reach down, as it surely must, if religion is of the life, it is in the natural and material only because it finds its way into them from within.

It is far more an evidence that religion actually is at work that a man shall discover himself growing in love and patience and gentleness and temperance, than that he should discover his body growing sounder day by day, his health and physical vigor more perceptible, his purse fuller. Not that sound health is to be despised, nor freedom from the anxieties incident to life in the world to be scorned, but that increased faith in God, added ability to confidently trust Him in all things, growing sympathy for others, increasing determination and desire to act against evil and in favor of good, are the truest evidences of the working of "the spirit."

Let us first seek these, and it may be that these other things may be brought about. But to seek those natural benefits as first ends will surely defeat the appreciation of these eternal things of heavenly life.

Indian Woman, 100, Dies at Chiloquin

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., Apr. 29 (AP) — Cinda Checaskane, whose age is given as 100 years, died at her home in Chiloquin Wednesday night, the oldest member of the Klamath Indian tribe.

She was a pensioner of the government, and a widow of Chief Checaskane who served as a scout in the troops of Captain O. C. Applegate during the Modoc war.

The aged Indian woman was feeble and totally blind for about 20 years before her death, but she continued to weave baskets and tan hides in spite of infirmities.

She was a member of the Wilson family, one of the most prominent on the Klamath reservation.

NOVEL BLACK CAPE HAS ONE SLEEVE

WASHINGTON (AP) — A tricky short cape of black velvet has only one sleeve. The other side is draped over the shoulder in ordinary cape effect.

The intriguing trifle fastens in the front with a black satin rose. The sleeve extends to just above the elbow of the right arm.

FULL HOUSE AT QUARTER; EMPTY BENCHES AT $2.50

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A wrestling match here between Hugh Nichols and Henry Stoeff, with a 25-cent admission charge, jammed 6,000 persons into the arena so tightly that the gates had to be closed an hour after they were opened.

A week later the same principals met in a card with a $2.50 top price and played to large numbers of empty seats.

OREGON JOBS ON INCREASE, REPORT

of Oregon industrial employment declined.

An increase of 12.3 per cent over the previous month in the number of workers employed in the lumber industry accounted for a large part of the seasonal rise.

Compared with March 1931, all lines except paper and printing showed substantial declines.

Average weekly wages continued to decline and were more than 20 per cent less than a year ago.

SECRECY SHROUDS LINDBERGH CASE

Two Norfolk intermediaries were absent on unexplained missions last night while a third, Rear Admiral Guy H. Burrage, said at Norfolk:

"I had a long distance telephone talk with Colonel Lindbergh at Hopewell tonight."

He and his two colleagues, John H. Curtis, boat builder, and Dean H. Dobson-Peacock, have said they have cleared away a number of obstacles between them and their objective, which is return of the baby.

In New York a radio station broadcast a message, apparently intended for Harry Fleischer, Detroit "purple" gangster sought in connection with the kidnaping.

It said:

"Harry Fleischer—Dear Harry: Connect with me immediately through my attorney, Henry A. Uterhart, 36 West 44th street. Do it through a third party. No danger of a tipoff. I am the party who was the main mug of the Ohio joint where you and big Mike grifted. Remember the supper you and the Turk gave me?"

Uterhart said he was acting as "liaision officer in the matter at the request of a friend, a lawyer." He said he had not been approached directly by Colonel Lindbergh but that the lawyer who asked him to act did so with the consent "of all interested parties."

CLERGYMAN HURT

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., April 29 (AP) — Rev. B. V. Bradshaw of Williamson river, was seriously hurt, and his wife suffered a broken arm when their automobile was struck by a freight train near Chiloquin last night. The clergyman received a crushed chest.

LOWER COVE PERSONALS

By Mrs. Neil P. Kight
