

Cooking Inexpensive Dishes Theme of Three-Day School

150 WOMEN AT OPENING CLASS ON WEDNESDAY

Miss Margaret Coates Gives Advice on Preparing Dainty, Toothsome Pastries.

One hundred and fifty women attended the opening day's program of the Safeway homemakers' bureau cooking school conducted by Miss Margaret Coates, presented by the La Grande Safeway stores, yesterday afternoon at the Scajawa Inn. Attractive ways of cooking inexpensive dishes is the theme of the three-day school which will continue through Friday afternoon.

"Dainty little magic lemon cream pie with a peaked cap of meringue done to a turn, luscious meat roll, appetizing chocolate bread pudding, graham cracker pudding were only a few of the dishes which Miss Coates prepared.

"Fool-proof" pastry, made the jelly roll method, offers many possibilities for dainty things, Miss Coates demonstrated. The pastry is made with two cups of flour, one teaspoon of salt, two-thirds of a cup of shortening, and six tablespoons of cold water. After adding the flour first with the after held high above the bowl so that as much air as possible may become incorporated with it, the dry ingredients are added and the entire mixture is sifted again, after which Miss Coates added the shortening, using the water method of measuring.

In the water method one-third of a cup of water is put in a measuring cup, and then the last is added. When the water reaches the top of measuring cup then two-thirds of a cup of shortening will be accurately measured.

"Do not cut the shortening into the water in fine pieces but leave it as coarse as peas," she stated. Then add the water, a few drops at a time until it holds together.

The bread board and rolling pin should be covered with a cloth before the dough is put out on the board where it is rolled into a long narrow strip and dotted with additional tablespoons of shortening. Then roll the pastry like a jelly roll, cut in three pieces, and roll each piece to fit the tin.

Suggests Pastry Twigs
With the dough which is left over, Miss Coates suggests pastry twigs be made. Roll out the pastry and with a doughnut cutter cut rings from it. With a knife cut straws or sticks about one-fourth inch wide and six inches long. Bake in a hot oven until delicately brown, and after they are cooled place as many sticks in a ring as can be easily arranged, and use each bundle as a garnish for salad.

A delicious filling for the pies, which are baked before filling, was made by Miss Coates. Magic lemon cream pie is easily made, using one can of condensed milk, and she states that it is important that condensed milk be used and not the evaporated variety, since the former is sweetened and thickened. To the milk add grated rind of one lemon, three egg yolks, one-half cup of lemon juice and a pinch of salt. The ingredients should be mixed in the above order and beaten well, after which they are poured uncooked into the baked pie shell and baked for about 15 minutes in a very moderate oven. The oven heat is important since the meringue which is added before the pie is put in the oven must be thoroughly dried before it is browned so that it will not "fall" when the pie is cold.

Making Meringue
For making successful meringue, Miss Coates suggests that two tablespoons of granulated sugar be added to each egg white, and beaten until it is thoroughly blended.

A standard biscuit recipe was demonstrated by Miss Coates as a base for a meat roll. A discovery made by the homemakers bureau is the advantage of lightly kneading biscuit dough with the finger tips, replacing the old theory that it should be handled as little as possible. A phase in which biscuit dough differs from pie dough is in the fact that the shortening should be finely cut into the former instead of left in large lumps as in pie dough, she added.

The meat roll, which is a mixture of meat, onions and so forth, is made by spreading the meat mixture on a bed of biscuit dough and then rolling up in the shape of the jelly roll. When the mixture is cooked for about 15 minutes in a hot oven it is removed and sliced, and is especially delicious with a covering of gravy.

Miss Coates also demonstrated the making of gelatine cubes, which makes an excellent dessert for children; panama salad, a new combination of pineapple and cream cheese; an open face egg sandwich; under-the-sea salad; chocolate bread pudding; graham cracker pudding which is frozen in the ice box; glazed baked apples; a platter meal of corned beef, rice and chopped onion; and spiced prunes which made a pretty garnish.

Raw Sugar
Demerara is the name given to the finest of raw sugars—sugar before the refining process. The term was formerly restricted to the Demerara section of British Guiana, noted for its high grade raw sugar, but is now applied to similar sugar from the West Indies.

CRICKET FLAT PERSONALS

By Lois Witherpoon
CRICKET FLAT (Special) — The pupils of the Hindman school held their closing day picnic at the school house Thursday. Lively baseball games were the main features of the day. ### L. C. Lewelling Is New Circuit Judge

PORTLAND, May 12 (AP) — L. C. Lewelling Linn county district attorney, was today commissioned circuit judge of the second judicial district, succeeding Gale S. Hill of Albany who died here last week.

The announcement was made by Governor Julius L. Meier late Wednesday. Commissions were mailed to Lewelling and to M. D. Shanks, Lebanon attorney, who will succeed him as district attorney.

Lewelling has served as Linn county district attorney for several years. Although Judge Hill's term would have expired Jan. 4, 1937, Lewelling must stand for election in November, as must Shanks.

LEO DUROCHER SUSPENDED
CINCINNATI, May 12 (AP) — Leo Durocher of the Cincinnati Reds drew three days suspension and a fifty dollar fine today for his eighth inning melee with Bartell of the Phillies yesterday.

The Red shortstop floored his Philadelphia rival with a smack to the jaw in a run in at second base which Durocher tried to steal but missed. Sliding in his foot scraped Bartell's wrist.

Hurley Favors Holding Up Work On The Columbia

PORTLAND, May 12 (AP) — A Washington, D. C. special dispatch to the Journal yesterday said "recommendations that development of the Columbia river be postponed until national finances are in better condition" was made in a report which Pat Hurley, secretary of war, has made on the Columbia river bill recently introduced by Senators McNary and Stelwer.

A further recommendation is that when work on the Columbia is started it be in the hands of a single executive, from Grand Coulee down.

The Journal's dispatch said "Hurley's report, which came to the senate committee on irrigation, may be construed as endorsing the four-dam plan favored by the army engineers, which forms part of the bill of the Oregon senators, but unaccountably it criticizes the bill for not including the cost of navigation locks at dams as part of the total cost to be advanced by the government and reimbursed from power revenues."

The dispatch continued: "The engineers reported that the $18,000,000 cost of navigation works should be borne wholly by the government. Hurley suggests that the authorization for Wendell be lifted to $64,000,000; Cello Falls $91,000,000; John Day Rapids $16,000,000, and Umatilla Rapids $64,000,000.

"If Hurley's idea is adopted the lower Columbia and Grand Coulee authorization would be jumped in one bill."

France's President Victim of Shots Fired by Fanatic

Paris, May 12 (AP) — Paul Doumer, 75-year-old President of France, who was assassinated in Paris by a fanatic Russian, is shown above in a recent portrait. His popularity steadily increased since his election last June and he was believed to have few political enemies.

Chinese Rebels Killed In Two Tilts Yesterday

TOKYO, May 12 (AP) — Japanese military officials reported today that 250 Chinese rebels were killed in two battles between the Chinese and Japanese Chientao expedition near Yenki yesterday.

Dispatches to the Ringo news agency said three Japanese were wounded in the battle.

NEEDED IN MANCHURIA?
NANKING, China, May 12 (AP) — The belief was expressed here today that Japan had decided to withdraw its army from Shanghai only because the troops were needed in Manchuria to swell the forces now there, which were estimated here to number 100,000.

Indignation was voiced in official circles over reports from Tokyo quoting Japanese officials as saying they hoped the Chinese troops would not enter within the 12 1/2 mile zone at Shanghai, after the Japanese troops leave.

There is nothing in the recently signed treaty to that effect, the Chinese officials said, and it was pointed out that the Chinese delegates at the conference in Shanghai made a reservation that the agreement in no way bound China in the matter of the disposal or movement of Chinese troops. This reservation was accepted by the Japanese delegates, they said.

As usual the stock exchange anticipated the lower bank rate by rising values of gilt-edge offerings, but the actual announcement was cheered and further slight gains were recorded on good yielding securities.

Market discounts have been so low for the past few weeks that no further decline was anticipated, but market men expressed the opinion that the trading community would benefit by using commercial bills in the money market at the low rate instead of overdrafts at joint stock banks which charge a higher rate.

The belief prevailed that the way was now cleared for handling a big war loan conversion scheme to effect a considerable saving in interest payment.

Discout Rate Again Lowered By English Bank

LONDON, May 12 (AP) — The bank of England reduced its discount rate today from three to 2 1/2 per cent.

It was the second reduction within less than a month. The rate was lowered on April 21 from 3 1/2 to 3 per cent.

With the budget details completed at that time, it was announced, the bank was able to make a further move for cheaper money in the hope of checking the influx of foreign money for short term investment.

Uneda "Basket" Carries Scores Of Goodie Items

A fact that surprises many a home-maker is that the famous Snow Flake Soda has a whole host of "little brothers and sisters," as revealed by Miss Coates who is conducting the Safeway cooking school.

According to Miss Coates one of the biggest time-savers for busy shoppers is to go directly to the Uneda Bakers display which is a featured unit in leading food stores, and make selections all at one time to suit the varied needs of a home-maker's week. In that rack she will find of course the oven-fresh Snow Flake Soda that she needs to serve with soups and salads, and from which she can make campes and hors d'ouevres as well as main dishes in the escapalped editions. Then she can find a variety of items for the before-bedtime snack such as pretzels and other light but satisfying morsels. For afternoon teas or bridge occasions there are the sweet items in dozens of fancy variations. For after-school appetite demands are the delightful and wholesome Honey Maid Grammas and Uneda Grammas as well as many old standbys such as Barnum's animals and the better known favorites with the fancy tops.

"The way Uneda Biscuit items are now grouped in most stores," says Miss Coates makes it easy to stock up for every possible emergency, and women everywhere are availing themselves of the convenience of doing it this way."

Health POLIOMYELITIS PROBLEMS

It is but fitting now that the epidemic of poliomyelitis, or infantile paralysis, is over, that someone should take stock of what the experience has taught us.

To begin with, then, there is the residue of problems still unsolved. These concern the important items of transmission, diagnosis and protective immunity.

How is infantile paralysis transmitted? This problem has been definitely answered in part only.

It is established beyond doubt that it is spread from human to human, and most probably by the excretions of the nose and throat.

Other agencies, too, may however spread the virus of poliomyelitis.

Four Out Of 5 Men Like Cream Pie For Dessert

Four out of five men choose cream pie as their favorite dessert, was revealed by Betty Crocker, the noted Gold Medal expert, in a recent investigation among housewives of America.

"The problem is to make a good pie with a delectable filling in a crisp, flaky crust. And this is not a hard job, providing you have the correct flour," says Miss Crocker. "In our test-kitchen we bake pies and cakes in a home oven just like your own; thus we know what your baking results will be."

According to Betty Crocker, Gold Medal "Kitchen-tested" flour simplifies home-baking because it is perfectly milled from sound wheat — blended, and "kitchen-tested." Its texture and fine wheat flavor perfects all baking and cooking recipes that call for flour.

Clever housewives use Gold Medal "Kitchen-tested" flour in their favorite recipes, or surprise their families with one of the new dainties, among the easy-to-make recipes enclosed in every sack. Many grocers are including Gold Medal in their local advertising which should interest thousands of women who daily use the advertising columns of the Observer as their food buying guide.

Another quality product — Gold Medal Cake Flour — the flour that is "soft as silk," has won a host of friends among champion cake bakers.
