

LA GRANDE RETAIL MARKETS

Table listing various goods and their prices, including sugar, vegetables, fruit, and meat.

Sunday School—The Willowdale Sunday school will meet tomorrow at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Spencer in the Willowdale district.

Woman's Feet Recorded—The Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce says that Mrs. Holmes of Lawrence, Kan., was the first woman to hike up Pike's peak. She did it in 1850.

Miss Auelair's Recital—Miss Clara M. Auelair, of Dry Creek, music teacher of Elgin, whose pupils come from all over the valley, recently presented pupils in a recital at the Christian church in Elgin.

Woman's Feet Recorded (Continued)—The Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce says that Mrs. Holmes of Lawrence, Kan., was the first woman to hike up Pike's peak. She did it in 1850.

Scampering Mice Tarantella (Serbian)—Wilma Harmon, Catherine Barnes, first piano; Genevieve Sanders, Jean Petty, second piano.

Woman's Feet Recorded (Continued)—The Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce says that Mrs. Holmes of Lawrence, Kan., was the first woman to hike up Pike's peak. She did it in 1850.

CLASSIFIED ADS THE MARKET PLACE OF UNION & WALLOWA COUNTIES

WANTED Briefly Told Killing time is a good way to end life's aspirations.

Daily Cross-Word Puzzle Solution of Yesterday's Puzzle

FOR RENT MISCELLANEOUS NEW LOW PRICES on painting, paperhanging and kalsomining.

FOUND Let Women Do Work In Kibera, East Africa, the dusty jungles completely own, manage and work the one industry, salt making.

FOR SALE—Coffee cream that whips, home churned buttermilk and milk you'll like to drink.

Over The Valley Personals (Continued from Page Six)

Oh, I gave him our names of course! Carelessly Georgie led the way out into the hall and Jenny could not see her face; but she thought there was a suspicion of hurry in her voice as she chattered on.

There's a whole bundle on the back seat already—I got them when I heard of the accident," he remarked. "But they gave so few details that I was racing along to find out for myself about you—both."

She stared down at the papers he had tossed on to her knees. No, repeated her heart, and no and no. "What you meant to say," he suggested gravely, "was that you much regret you can't accept for this evening but that as it is obviously going to be a very fine Sunday tomorrow you will come picnicking with me anywhere in the country if I call for you punctually at ten."

That's what you meant, isn't it? She shook her head. The tears were rising in her throat. "No, she would not go. Why did he ask her? Because he had been so badly hurt by Georgie that he couldn't face a day alone. Why else? "No use for me at all, Jenny Revell!"

She was silent; and it was as though all the street became silent with her. The newsboy had darted away round a corner and the noise of the traffic lulled and dropped; a radio was suddenly switched off in a nearby house. It was as though someone had said to the world—"Hush! Listen! Listen to Jenny Revell, who is going to say 'no.'"

Professional Directory Hospitals Osteopathic Physicians Miscellaneous

Island Aid—Mrs. S. E. Hyde is to be the hostess to the Ladies Aid society of the Island City Community church next Thursday at her home.

Return From Lake—Mr. and Mrs. Sam Smith returned yesterday from the Willows lake where they have been spending a few days at their cottage on the Methodist camp grounds.

In Pasco—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, who have been living on the Hale place in the Pleasant Grove neighborhood have gone to Pasco, Wash., where they are working.

To Enterprise—Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Vaughan who are connected with the plunge and resort at Medical Springs have been visiting among their relatives at Enterprise for several days.

Pass Exams—Charles Noyes and James Luhrs, eighth graders of the Iowa school successfully passed the state examination last week, and are ready for high school. The two eighth graders at Pleasant Grove and the five seventh-graders were also similarly successful.

Is About the Same—Letters received by friends in the valley from Gilbert Hunter, former valley farmer who has been in the Veterans hospital in Portland, for many weeks have quite a cheerful note. Mr. Hunter has been bedfast ever since he went to Portland and contrary to A's stories he has not been able to be up and around at any time. The seat of his trouble has been located, it is believed. He states that because of the condition of his heart, he may not be able to live in this altitude, and is certain that he will never be able to do farm work again.

Another Picnic—Another picnic party yesterday at Riverside Park consisted of the pupils, teachers and patrons of the Pleasant Grove school, and there were around fifty people in this party. Like all such events the day was spent in games, such as the park efforts, whist and marbles of a wonderful dinner in the pavilion at noon. Miss Leona Fries and Mrs. Garnet Ruckman are the teachers of this school where 33 pupils have studied during the year which closed yesterday. The children are determined to keep together this summer and have already planned a hike and Weiner roast which they are to have on June 3.

You Can't Marry

The confusion passed. "I was going to buy a... at the corner," she said. Garth Aveney still held her elbow. He shook it lightly. In the falling dusk it was not possible to tell whether or not it was laughter that was lurking in his eyes. He drew her round so that she saw his car drawn up at the curb. "Get in," he directed. "I'll take you to buy all the papers at all the corners in town if you'll tell me..."

There's a whole bundle on the back seat already—I got them when I heard of the accident," he remarked. "But they gave so few details that I was racing along to find out for myself about you—both." The nurse before the "both" was as enigmatic as his laugh. "Now I know there's no serious damage done, will you come for a drive—just round the Park?" "No."

She stared down at the papers he had tossed on to her knees. No, repeated her heart, and no and no. "What you meant to say," he suggested gravely, "was that you much regret you can't accept for this evening but that as it is obviously going to be a very fine Sunday tomorrow you will come picnicking with me anywhere in the country if I call for you punctually at ten."

That's what you meant, isn't it? She shook her head. The tears were rising in her throat. "No, she would not go. Why did he ask her? Because he had been so badly hurt by Georgie that he couldn't face a day alone. Why else? "No use for me at all, Jenny Revell!"

She was silent; and it was as though all the street became silent with her. The newsboy had darted away round a corner and the noise of the traffic lulled and dropped; a radio was suddenly switched off in a nearby house. It was as though someone had said to the world—"Hush! Listen! Listen to Jenny Revell, who is going to say 'no.'"

She stared down at the papers he had tossed on to her knees. No, repeated her heart, and no and no. "What you meant to say," he suggested gravely, "was that you much regret you can't accept for this evening but that as it is obviously going to be a very fine Sunday tomorrow you will come picnicking with me anywhere in the country if I call for you punctually at ten."

The TINYMITES STORY BY HAL COCHRAN PICTURES BY JOE KING

DON'T FORGET TO PHONE THAT WANT-AD YOU can quickly raise extra cash by selling some of those things you no longer need.

PHONE MAIN 600