

Price Of Cube Butter Down A Cent Today

REDUCTION DUE TO COMPETITION OF EAST BUTTER

Butterfat Values Also Reduced One Cent a Pound — Make of Butter in Unusual Volume.

PORTLAND, May 24 (AP) — Cut of 1c in the price of cube butter during the late season of the produce exchange was in line with general expectations of the trade as well as the remaining markets of the west coast. Fear of competition of eastern butter along the coast has caused the trade to become more or less panicky and has resulted in a very weak undertone throughout the trade. On the exchange all cubes were off 1c lb., which means the lowest price ever reached in this territory.

Butterfat values were also reduced 1c lb. by local centralizers with the general price more or less uniform. Make of butter continues to reflect unusual volume. There is an increase reported from practically all sections of the Pacific northwest while the California volume is holding up better than reasonable.

Market for eggs continues to reflect a rather unsettled tone although regular marketing interests are quoting no change in their selling lists. In spots a better feeling is reflected in the market for chickens. Demand for light and medium hens is excellent at the better values.

A new low price is generally reported in the market for dressed turkeys along the wholesale with top hens not above 16c with some mostly around 12c to 13c. The latter are staggier and generally not very good.

There is a small movement of spring ducks here with live birds selling around 19c top for best pekins. At the moment there is no movement reported in the crop geese.

With only a scant supply in sight, market for strawberries was firmer and higher generally for the day. California sold up to $1.85 for 20s while best Oregon fruit moved nominally $2.75 to $3.00 for 24s top quality but little business was shown at the top.

First raspberries of the season were reported in. Several crates of 15 boxes of half pint stock arrived from Sacramento and was listed around $1.50 crate.

More than passing weakness is reflected in the market for country killed lamb and especially so for those that do not show extreme quality. Even top lambs are now higher than 3c with veal and hogs within the recent range.

Notes of wholesale trading: Slightly better feeling is showing for better quality home grown head lettuce.

Asparagus market is slightly firmer up to $2 pyramid. Cuts of about 1c lb. shown in new Garnet potatoes. White and old crop unchanged.

Cantaloupe prices are again off about 25c crate. Top jumbo $4.50. Weather has slowed up demand for cucumbers.

Hothouse tomato movement slow in spots for the same reason. More California cauliflower is due; no supply in sight.

Butterfat Prices At New Low Mark

SAN FRANCISCO, May 24 (AP) — Butterfat prices went to new low marks today, with the San Francisco premium f. o. b. quotation at 18c a pound. This was a drop of 1c from yesterday, and the lowest quoted, records of the Golden State company showed, since 1910, on premium quality butterfat.

WOULD PLACE HAWAII UNDER ARMED RULE

Floyd Gibbons, war correspondent, who had come here at Britten's suggestion to testify, was in the room when Williams made his statement.

Britten said he could not regard a couple of hundred thousand Japanese in the Hawaiian Islands as loyal American citizens.

Representative Johnson (R., Wash.) interposed that was "an incorrect statement of fact."

When Britten made his statement about searching the Japanese homes, Williams said: "That's rather far fetched."

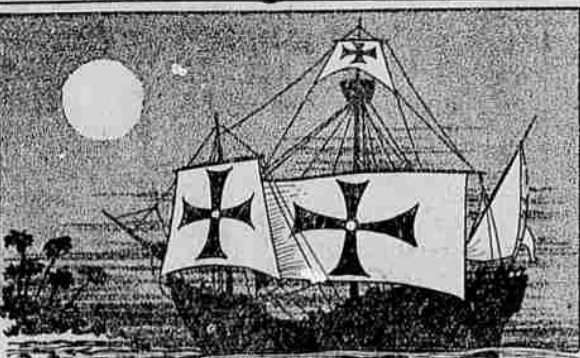

Islands Most Important "But I'm considering this from a military standpoint," Britten replied. "The Panama canal once was considered our most important military outpost. I now think the Hawaiian

Curious Crowds Overrun Spot Where Lindbergh Case Had Tragic End

Two days after the Lindbergh baby's body had been found, the scene of the tragic discovery took on the atmosphere of a street fair, as this picture reveals. While hundreds of tourist cars jammed the ordinarily little-traveled road between Mt. Rose and Hopewell, N. J., refreshment stands sprung up on the spot and hawkers mingled with the crowds. The arrows at the left point to peanut and popcorn "concessions"; that at the right, to a hastily erected refreshment tent.

60% OF THE FRENCH FOREIGN LEGION ARE GERMANS. IN AFRICA... A DEAD ELEPHANT CAPTURED A HYENA! ... WHILE DEVOURING AN ELEPHANT CARCASS, THE HYENA THROUST ITS HEAD THROUGH THE STOMACH WALL AND WAS HELD FAST.

The French Foreign Legion, of North Africa, boasts of over 50 different nationalities among its 20,000 men, and it is more difficult for a Frenchman to get into the legion than it is for men of other countries. A Frenchman who wishes to join must have plenty of satisfactory reasons why he does not join the regular French army.

HYENAS, unless desperately hungry, live entirely off the kills of other animals. Theodore Roosevelt, when hunting in Africa, made the curious discovery of a spotted hyena held fast by a dead elephant.

Islands are more important in that respect than Gibraltar to England or Heligoland was to Germany. "No prospective enemy of ours would come east unless it first had destroyed our fortifications and facilities on the Hawaiian Islands and captured them."

Later, however, after Admiral William V. Pratt, chief of naval operations, and General Douglas MacArthur, army chief of staff, had discussed the Britten bill, Gibbons was called.

Gibbons Testifies Referring to Hawaiians of Japanese extraction he said: "It is my opinion that if any of them felt he could serve his country by giving his life to destroy the defenses the United States has in Pearl harbor he would do it in a minute."

Admiral Pratt said he did not favor the Britten bill in its present form. General MacArthur said: "The apparent purpose of the bill is to increase the defensive potentialities of the islands by a change in government. I believe the proposed and complete but unofficial tabulations were made last night from the 802 precincts Mott was 74 votes ahead. Until the count is checked officially, however, the outcome of the race will not be known. The unofficial count was Mott 39,814; Hawley 38,740. In the same district but running for the Democratic nomination for representative, William A. Delzell and Harvey G. Starkweather were in a still hotter race. Starkweather held a precarious lead of eight votes and there are still 13 of the 802 precincts to be heard from. The count from 798 precincts gave Starkweather 11,952 and Delzell 11,954.

Dry Lags Behind The third fight was between a wet and a dry for the Democratic nomination for United States senator, Walter Gleason, who ran on a platform advocating repeal of the 18th amendment, last night held a 407 vote advantage over Elton Watkins, dry. Only 1767 precincts had reported, however, out of the 1783 in the state. Marshall N. Dana, associate editor of the Oregon Journal, was in third place but far behind with 10,741 votes.

Senator Frederick Steiwer won the Republican nomination to succeed himself. He polled more than twice as many votes as his nearest opponent, Robert N. Stanfield, formerly a United States senator from Oregon. President Herbert Hoover's name was written in on the ballot 17,639 times in the 1835 precincts out of 1783 that had been counted last night but it was not enough to gain him Oregon's 13 votes in the national convention. These were pledged to Joseph I. France of Maryland who polled 64,148 votes.

On the Democratic ticket Gov.

Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York experienced no opposition. When 1890 precincts had been counted he had a total of 46,257 votes while William H. Murray, governor of Oklahoma, had only 10,910. The name of Alfred E. Smith was written in 132 times. Oregon has 10 votes in the national Democratic convention.

out of business," declared C. A. Brown, of Reno, Nev., testifying for the Nevada public service commission.

Bert L. Penn, traffic commissioner for the Idaho public utilities commission, adduced from M. C. Clair, Idaho sheep man, that few sheep and cattle growers in Idaho have any equity left in their herds; that delinquent taxes are increasing in Idaho and it is probable more schools will be closed or greatly curtailed.

CLIPS OF WOOL ARE CONSIGNED IN PENDLETON

PENDLETON, Ore., May 24 (AP) — The Joseph Cunna wool clip of 112,000 pounds and the D. L. Johnson clip of 88,670 pounds, have been consigned to the National Wool Marketing corporation. J. J. Kelley, cooperative appraiser, has been in this vicinity for some time and says other consignments are pending.

WOOL MOVEMENT INCREASING PORTLAND, May 24 (AP) — Movement of wool into Portland is increasing so rapidly that the trade is a little bewildered as to what should be done with it. There remains a general lack of business. Consignments appear the only source of movement at the moment. No sales are confirmed at any point. Whether this week's Condon auction will stimulate activity, only the future will show. Everyone in the trade hopes that something will happen to start things moving. The movement of consigned wool into Portland is from practically all Pacific slope states, even Northern California contributing some fleece. Most of the movement is by trucks; the highways into Portland being lined with huge loads of sacked wool. This has startled the railroad companies who are moving to protect their interests.

DO YOU INHALE?

A frank discussion at last on a subject that has long been "taboo"

"LET sleeping dogs lie!" So said the cigarette trade when first we raised the subject of inhaling. But dodging an important issue is not Lucky Strike's policy! Do you inhale? That question is vitally important... for every smoker inhales—knowingly or unknowingly. Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette! And the delicate membranes of your throat demand that your smoke be pure, clean—free of certain impurities. No wonder Lucky Strike dares to raise this vital question! For Luckies bring you the protection you want... because Luckies' famous purifying process removes certain impurities concealed in every tobacco leaf. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it! So, whether you inhale knowingly or unknowingly, safeguard those delicate membranes!
