Drawn up before the building in which was Georgie's fat Jenny saw an ambulance. Evidently Eddie had been brought home.

She halted in her step, then went steadily forward. Since Georgie's hesitating — "There's bad new and let him know you're here?"

Jenny shook her head and moved away. She felt cold in the blazing sunshine and most atterly fortors. Gill and Mrs. Bigger might watch the slowly retreating car until it turned the corner, but she could not.

Gill was walking at her side.

Possibly Garth Aveney had read its news last night; most probably he had read his papers this morning. #### Tropics Not for Whites

The white man can live in the tropics, according to a scientist who made a study of the question for the Smithsonian institution, but he needs intelligence and a rigid discipline in order to do so successfully. Life in the tropics will certainly become more comfortable at well as safer for the white race, says this authority, but acclimatization in its full and literal sense is and will remain impossible.

Nut of Pines The pinon nut is a large edible seed of any of several species of pines called nut pines. They are small trees with leaves in one to four leaved clusters, globose cones and large seeds.
