Mrs. Wagoner Honored—

Mrs. Perle Wagoner, of Summerville, who is very active in the work of the Rebekah lodge was made one of the officers of the state lodge at the annual session which ended Thursday afternoon at Eugene. As a recognition of her zeal and faithfulness Mrs. Wagoner was appointed conductor and we presume was duly installed before the state gathering adjourned. This is quite an honor to come to the Summerville organization, and yet, though removed from many things, Summerville has one of the most active organizations in Eastern Oregon.

—o—

To Portland—

Mrs. Everett Wallsinger, of the Valeria district and her mother, Mrs. J. P. DeLong are leaving this evening for Portland. Mrs. DeLong will make an extended stay there with another daughter, while Mrs. Wallsinger will return home the first of the week.

—o—

Receives Severe Burns—

Arthur Miller of near Union, received some severe burns on his hands Tuesday morning when he attempted to extinguish a tent fire at the S. E. Miller sheep shearing camp on Lyons hill, beyond Union. Odin Miller and Kenneth South left their tent with a small fire burnin, early in the morning, and soon after Mr. Miller found it in flames. He cut the ropes and pulled the tent from the spot so as to save the bed and other articles in the tent, and also some hay that was stacked near it. He was brought to Union afterwards where a physician dressed the burns.

—o—

Form New Club—

Wednesday afternoon a group of the neighbors, probably two dozen women, who live in the vicinity of the Shadowpoint ranch, were guests of Mrs. J. E. Hulse and Mrs. Horn. In addition to informal visiting there were a number of interesting features of the pleasant afternoon. A quilt display was perhaps the most fascinating, with a number of the beautiful pieces of handiwork for the women to inspect. There was one which received particular attention, because Mrs. Horn, who had made it, had also designed it herself. Some little time was spent trying to decide upon a proper name for the quilt and finally it was agreed that "A Broken Wedding Ring," was perhaps the most suitable. It was said to have been very attractive. The main reason for calling the neighbors together at this time was to organize some sort of a social group, which should have a part in solving the present problems caused by trying conditions. The organization was perfected, and from henceforth, "The Happy Circle" will attempt to keep the morale of the neighborhood up to former standards, and furnish friendliness and neighborliness which only such an organization can furnish. Mrs. J. E. Hulse was made president of the club, Mmes. Monroe were made first and second vice presidents, Mrs. Courter was elected secretary, and Mrs. Horn was chosen as treasurer. The next meeting of "The Happy Circle" is called for Wednesday, June 8 at the home of Mrs. Jack Smith. Mrs. Smith will choose her own helpers. In the proper place we should have mentioned that the club has as one of its objects some welfare work. Music interspersed the deliberations of the afternoon and at the close of the business session Mrs. Hulse served some delicious home-made candies.

To Ontario—

Mr. and Mrs. Miles Woodell, of the Dry Creek neighborhood, drove to Ontario last week and brought home their daughter, Mrs. Ava Paul, who had closed a successful term as first grade teacher in the schools there. Mrs. Paul left Saturday evening for Eugene where she has been attending the state Rebekah assembly as a delegate from Jewel Rebekah lodg of Summerville. She will return home the last of the week and will remain with her parents until the 12th or 13th of June when she will join her husband in Portland and they will make their permanent home there.

Ladd Canyon School—

Mrs. J. H. Diehl, of La Grande, one of Union county's leading rural teachers, closed her successful term of school at Ladd Canyon, May 25, with a picnic at Riverside park attended by a large crowd of parents and friends of the school. A bountiful pot luck dinner was served at noon, followed by the serving of ice cream. Mrs. Diehl is a graduate of the 1929 class of the Eastern Oregon Normal school and finds time to teach the children a regular daily lesson in music as well as to teach art and all the other requirements of the daily program of a rural school having all eight grades. Following is a list of some outstanding achievements accomplished along with regular routine work: Wayne Peebler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Peebler, won the perfect attendance certificate, Essie Jones won the prize for the best Washington booklet; Esther Jones passed the eighth grade state examination with a general average of 91 per cent and Phillip Jones, the only other applicant, made a general average of 88 per cent; Mabel Austin who wrote upon the state examination in seventh grade geography made a grade of 95 per cent. Mrs. Diehl has been retained as teacher of Ladd Canyon school for the coming term which will make her third consecutive year in this district, however she taught this same school some years ago. She will go to Huntington the first of the week where she will spend the summer with her husband who is employed by the railroad company at that place. School will re-open the first Monday in September.

Has Serious Time—

Miss Lucile Keenan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keenan, of near Imbler, has been having a serious time the past two weeks with one of her limbs, and she and her mother have been staying in La Grande, while two dressings and treatments a day have been necessary. Lucile was playing ball with her brother, Darwin, using a common tennis ball. The ball struck her on one leg just below the knee, but in such a way that, so far, it is believed a blood vessel well toward the bone must have been ruptured. The leg became very badly swollen. This has been reduced now but the trouble seems to have centered in one small place. More X-rays were to be taken today in an effort to more definitely locate the trouble. Her friends are hoping that the trouble may soon clear up and Lucile be able to be her busy self again, but at present, improvement does not seem to be an immediate possibility, we are told.

—o—

In Echo—

Louie Auclaire, of the Dry Creek neighborhood, has been visiting among his friends in and near Echo, Ore.

—o—

Sprains Ankle—

Neil Kight, of Lower Cove, has been kept from the heavier work about his farm the last few days by a sprained ankle, an accident which happened to him while about his work.

—o—

In La Grande—

Miss Emma MacAnish, of the Valeria district, is spending the week in La Grande the guest of her friend, Miss Gladys Owen.

—o—

Is Five Years Old—

Honoring the fifth birthday of her little daughter, Shirley Ann, Mrs. Reid Hibberd, of Willow Creek, entertained a few friends Tuesday afternoon. The children spent the happy afternoon at out-of-door games. At the close of a very enjoyable afternoon, the hostess served ice cream and lovely birthday cake. Those present for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Brugger and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hibberd, both grandparents of Miss Shirley, Mrs. Lloyd Rhinehart and two children, Carol and Jack, Raymond Collins and the guest of honor, Shirley Ann Hibberd.

—o—

Visits—

Mrs. L. Gaiser arrived in the valley last night from her home at Ritzville, Wash., and is making a visit at the home of her son, Paul Knautz and family in the Iowa district.

—o—

Island Aid—

Members of the Ladies Aid society of the Island City Community church were guests Thursday afternoon of Mrs. S. E. Hyde. Besides the members there were also two guests present, Mrs. E. R. Kendrick and Mrs. Henry Mohr, of La Grande. In the absence of the president, Mrs. J. M. Bowery presided over the business deliberations when plans were made for the chamber of commerce luncheon which is to be served some time next month. Rev. Maude Cone had charge of the devotionals. After a time spent socially, Mrs. Hyde served some very nice refreshments. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Bowery.

—o—

The Public Market—

More than 50 fruitmen, poultrymen, truck gardeners and farmers of the valley who have contracted to sell their produce through the Public Market are looking forward to the opening of the market which is to be on the first floor of the Foss building.

—o—

At The Lake—

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Phillips and Mary Jane, of Island City, drove to Wallowa Lake Sunday where they spent the day.

—o—

City Visitors—

Two interested visitors in La Grande the first of the week were Lilian Knautz and Helen Jean Speckhart of the Iowa district who had a few days stay at the homes of their grandmothers, Mrs. John Speckhart and Mrs. C. H. Snider. They visited the La Grande schools and took in a number of society functions during their stay. Of course it is a long week when they do not come to town three or four times, but to come for a visit and get the thrills from visiting city schools is another proposition.

—o—

Dry Creek School—

The Dry Creek school in the north end of the valley closed a successful term of school with a picnic last Friday. They had planned a picnic in the woods, but owing to the storm of rain and hail they concluded the school house was the safest place to eat their dinner. It was very bounteous and enjoyed by the pupils and parents, alike. In the afternoon under the supervision of their teacher, Mrs. Inez Fries varied games were played. Three from this school successfully passed the eighth grade state exams, each making an average grade of above 91 per cent. Two received perfect attendance certificates. Mrs. Fries will teach this school again next year, it is reported.

—o—

License to Wed—

Clarence R. Nolan, of Lostine, and Lucille Oatman, of Medford, were granted a license to marry in Portland the first of this week.

—o—

Guests—

Mr. and Mrs. Allie Watson, of Imbler, had as their recent house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Hatfield, of Sioux City, Iowa, who stopped off here on their way to Seattle to visit with relatives. The two families were neighbors and classmates years ago, we are told.

—o—

Elected President—

Mrs. Albert Baker, of Lower Cove, was elected president of the Altar society of Our Lady of The Valley Catholic church in La Grande at their annual meeting held the first of the week.

—o—

Improves—

Reports from Mrs. Garrett Blokland, of near Island City, who has been so very ill of typhoid fever for many weeks, are that she is improving and is able to be up for a short time at intervals. Her sister, Mrs. Kennard who has been here with her, has returned to her home in Portland.

—o—

Splendid Record—

The La Grande branch of the American Association of University Women is exceedingly proud of the record it has made during the year just past in the matter of contributions to the scholarship fund. As is generally known the scholarship fund is one of the biggest objectives of this organization. A new branch, and money scarce, it seemed to be a problem this past year. Under the very wise and inspiring leadership of Mrs. W. A. Zurbrick, of Moss Chapel district, the fund of $49.07 was accumulated this year, which sends La Grande well toward the top of the list of Oregon branches. It is a record to be proud of, and all the more so we feel, when the work has fallen on the shoulders of a busy farmer's wife who has multitudinous demands made on her time. There are several members of the group who are residents of the valley, in fact, a good per cent, and we feel this item has a right on this page for this reason in addition to the fact that Mrs. Zurbrick is a valley woman.

—o—

Rock Wall Grange—

At the regular meeting of this subordinate which is to be held this evening at their hall north of Elgin, the women who were losers in a recent program contest are to serve a dinner for the winners. For the affair all members of that grange are urged to be present.

—o—

In Poultry Business—

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Foster, of Fruitdale, have been having an interesting time with their poultry business, in which they have been engaged on a larger scale this spring. They installed commercial incubators and have done some commercial hatching. Their plant, while not the largest, is still very modern, and is a very interesting place. They had some uninvited visitors about a week ago who came either after they thought Mr. and Mrs. Foster had retired, or else figured that their stay away from home would be longer that it proved to be. At any rate when Mr. and Mrs. Foster returned from a neighbors they frightened some visitors away and on investigation found that the padlock had been removed from the hen house, but damage had not gone any further. We predict that unless this business of prowlers which is going on in all parts of the valley at present, does not let up, someone is going to get a good generous dose of something — and editorially speaking, they will have it coming.

—o—

Dance Postponed—

The dance which the American Legion would have had this evening at Summerville, has been postponed. On account of the big Memorial day dinner which is to be served at the Masonic hall Monday, the hall will be otherwise in use this evening and the men have withdrawn their party.

—o—

In Spokane—

"Grandma" Wright and her mother, Mrs. Edith Phy, of Union, have been in Spokane this past week visiting at the home of their daughter and sister, Mrs. Herbst.

—o—

Much Snow—

Albert Baker, formerly of this valley, now forest ranger stationed at Walla Walla reports that more snow than at any other time in the period of his association with the Blue mountains is on forest ground this season. He spent a week in the mountain district very recently, and says there is at present six feet of snow at Toll Gate and that last year at this time automobiles were making trips into that area. He says it is his opinion that the snow will remain in the shaded areas of the mountains until late July.

—o—

Grange—

The regular meeting of Blue Mt. grange will be held at the hall next Wednesday, June 1.

—o—

Home—

Miss Beulah Smith, after completing her year's work as English teacher in the Enterprise High school has returned to her home near Island City.

—o—

Improves Place—

E. T. Boswell who lives on the place in Lower Cove, better known as the R. H. Daniel place, was pointing up the outside of the house early this week, preparatory to start a painting job and otherwise improving the appearance of the place.

—o—

Willow Creek School—

School closed Wednesday at Willow creek with Mrs. Ida B. Gordon completing a very successful school year. We are informed that Mrs. Gordon deserves much credit for the splendid work and interest that she has shown with her pupils. Merit certificates to which those are entitled who attend 100 days without missing, were received by Roslyn Knight, Charles Beem and Lowell Hug. Leonard Cole, who received a certificate of perfect attendance has not missed a day at school for two years. Final penmanship certificates were received by Roslyn Knight, Shirley Hug, Leonard Cole, all of the eighth grade and Charles Beem of the seventh grade. Improvement awards were received by Gladys Lee and Lowell Hug, of the seventh grade and Homer Collins of the first grade received a silver button in penmanship. Charles Beem also averaged 95 per cent in the state seventh grade geography examination. Tuesday Mrs. Gordon and her seven pupils enjoyed an all day picnic at Indian creek. With her two children, Ardyth and Doris Jane, she leaves next week for Hermiston where they will spend the summer with her sister, Miss Pauline Stoop.

—o—

Dinner Guests—

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Welch had for their guests at dinner Sunday, at their home in Imbler, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gaskill, of near Imbler, Mrs. E. B. Long of Dry creek, her son, Art Weaver, of Summerville, and her grandson, John Andrew, of Coffeyville, Kansas, and Mrs. Jap Bennett, of Summerville.

—o—

Mr. Ringo, Speaker—

Attorney E. R. Ringo, of La Grande, is to be the speaker at the Memorial day exercises to be held Monday at the Odd Fellows hall in Cove. The program, to which the public is invited, will also include some numbers by the community chorus which has been getting ready for this event for some time under the directorship of O. M. Gardner. The annual Memorial day dinner is to be served in the hall after the program.

—o—

Rysdam School—

The school made a record during the year in the fact that the school did not miss one day all winter. The teacher, Miss Mildred Magee, left the last of the week for her home in Salem. Luella Rysdam a pupil of the school was awarded her final certificate for Palmer Method business writing.

—o—

Pleasant Grove Grange—

At the last meeting of the Pleasant Grove grange held last Saturday evening a large crowd was in attendance. After a "peppy" business meeting, a benefit card party was held under the management of Mrs. L. E. Standley, which was enjoyed by all who took part and a neat sum was added to the grange treasury. COVE (Special)—Lyon Farm's Volunteer Belle, the prize purebred Jersey cow, belonging to Gertrude Bell died Monday from an attack of indigestion causing bloat. Her dam "Bodice" belonged to J. A. Perree, at St. Savion, on the isle of Jersey and she was sired by the famous sire "Forward." Bodice was sent to America with a lot of other stock and on the trip Lyon Farm's Volunteer was dropped. Her sire was Volunteer Oaklands.

At an important sale in Portland, six years ago, when she was a tiny calf, she was purchased by E. H. Bell, of Cove for his daughter, Gertrude, who was very much interested in 4-H club work. She has one heifer that is milking and one heifer not yet in milk. She lost a bull calf a year ago at the age of four months. She has also three granddaughters.

She has won grand-championship prizes at the livestock show in Union and a year ago at the State Fair in Salem she won a grand championship prize. She has always been in the first class wherever shown.

She has the Jim Linn silver cup, a trophy won two years (1928-1929) in succession at the state fair and was also a winner of another Jim Linn trophy for one year.

The last year she has produced 351.5 pounds of butterfat, fed just as ordinary cows are fed, in spite of the fact that she was taken to all the livestock shows for exhibition and it is conceded that "showing" cows lessens their production.

When she was a heifer, before she ever freshened, her owner was offered $2000 for her by parties in Ontario, Canada, but refused the offer.

135 RURAL GRADE PUPILS PASS STATE EXAMS, ARE READY FOR HIGH SCHOOL

One hundred and thirty-five young people, students in the eighth grades over the county where state examinations are required, were successful in their recent examinations, have received their diplomas and are now ready to enter high school. In all there were 314 boys and girls who wrote on the seventh and eighth grade examinations given May 12 and 13. There were 151 in the latter class. Of the 163 pupils who wrote the geography examination in the seventh grade, 144 passed the test.

Exemptions were offered in five subjects. Many exemptions were earned thus reducing the work of the eighth grade examining board. Before these exemptions were offered, it required four days for the board of four members to grade the papers. This year the work was done in three days by three members.

Following is a list of the pupils receiving diplomas:

Iowa school: James Luhrs, Charles Noys.

Shanghai: Maxine Conley.

Union: Marion Peterson, Letha Watts, Jack Ricker, Lucia Bissett, Lanore Curtis, Sylvan Tidwell, Niola Anderson, Pauline Miller, Morgan Busick, Bill Gamble, Doris Lay, Clayton Hess, Maxine Jory, Harold Wolf, Albert McClellan, Margaret Ratcher, Edward Hudson, Fern Nelson, Henry Miller, Vivian Anderson, Virgil Grout, Kitty Spain, Lyle Helmick, Darrell Cline, Eva VanHouten, John Sayre and Verle VanHousen.

Perry: Hoy Carman.

BEES TAKE RIDE

L. R. Goolsbey arrived in Powder Wednesday evening with the first load of his honey bees from Orland, Cal., and plans to leave tomorrow morning with his truck for a second load.

Mr. Goolsbey reports that the bees stood the trip well. It is a two day trip by machine, but the load of bees made it necessary to use more time as they had to be cared for. The bees were loaded in their hives and all the hives had to be removed from the truck when it came time to feed the bees. A sugar syrup was spread over the screen and the bees fed through the wire. The bees are reported to have always been ready to eat.

Mr. Goolsbey has been here during the winter where he has been busy with the construction of hives and supers for the bees he bought in the California city. His family arrived last week from Long Beach, Cal., where they had been during the winter, and are living in the Myers' house until they find a permanent home.—North Powder News.

COUNTY CHERRY GROWERS DISCUSS DISPOSAL THIS YEAR'S ROYAL ANNE CROP

About 20 cherry growers from La Grande, Cove and Union met at the Union hotel Tuesday evening to discuss the disposal of their year's cherry crop. Royal Annes were the crop under consideration as plans are being made to barrel them for maraschino cherries. A committee was authorized to look after some preliminaries, principally the securing of containers for the crop, providing the cost is not prohibitive.

The matter of barreling this variety of the sweet cherries has been given much consideration by cherry growers during the last few months and the sentiment has been constantly growing. It is pointed out that this seems to be the most remunerative way of disposing of the Royal Annes. The suggestion was made at the meeting that as time for caring for the fruit comes, some local man be sent to The Dalles when the canning of their crop starts in order to get ideas on the method of preservation.

Reports from different parts of the valley indicate a light crop of Royal Annes this year due possibly to poor pollinization, but the Bing and Lambert varieties promise to be quite plentiful.

Following this meeting, and the discussions engaged in the story coming from The Dalles in regard to their attitude toward disposing of the 1932 crop there is quite apropos we believe. It reads as follows:

"The Dalles Royal Anne cherries will be a scarce commodity on the market this season with more than 1100 of the 1800 tons raised in this section placed in barrels to await better marketing conditions. The announcement of the decision of the local growers was made today by H. G. Miller, manager of The Dalles Cooperative Growers' association.

"Eastern manufacturers and buyers have come to The Dalles and offered 3 cents a pound, the lowest in history, at the same time circulating the report that California cherries are available at that price. The decision to barrel the cherries, reached by the local growers, is believed to be a forerunner of a similar decision of growers in five states who are members of the Western Cherry council.

"According to estimates received today the local growers' association will barrel more than 1100 tons of cherries this year, an increase of approximately 300 per cent over the amount placed in barrels last season. In addition a crop of 100 tons in the orchard of George Webb is to be bottled, the report indicates. Webb is constructing necessary buildings on his ranch today and will rush plans to bottle his entire crop.

"Of the 600 tons of cherries remaining approximately 400 tons have been contracted for by the Star Fruit Products company of Portland at a six-cent quotation. These contracts, it is understood, were signed last fall at what then was the average market price. The 200 tons of cherries, now unassigned, are widely scattered over the district and will be available either to the buyers or will be placed in the growers' pool, it was indicated today.

"It is a certainty the growers are not going to sell their product for 3 cents a pound," Bert Miller said today. "We believe that if we barrel the entire output this year, the growers will be granted a better price. It is impossible to pay expenses of operation at the figure offered."

Crops, Weather In Wallowa

WALLOWA, Ore. (Special)—Prospects for an abundance of moisture through the early part of the growing season, seem quite promising for this section at the present time. At no time since the leaving of the snow has the ground in this section dried out to any great extent. In fact, most fields have been for too wet to allow working of the soil as rapidly as farmers have wished for. During the last two days of the past week a large amount of rain fell here again soaking the soil to a very generous depth. Since the rain has stopped falling there has been considerable cold wind, which has dried the surface of the ground considerably, allowing farm work to become started again.

The greater part of the spring seeding has been finished at the majority of the farms at this time and some of the early seeded grain is coming up at this time. Winter wheat crops are making a fairly good growth at this time. However, most fields are far behind what they usually are at this season of the year. Weeds in many of the fields are ahead of the grain crops at this time, but it presents a condition with but which little can be done.

Some farmers have been doing some harrowing of their wheat recently and where the weeds had not become too large many of them were killed in this way.

Grass Gets Good Start

Reports from some of the stockmen who have recently been on the summer range areas state that grass is becoming quite well started there and with the soil well soaked with moisture it seems probable that the coming summer will prove better for grass than for the past several years.

Sheep to Range

Some bands of sheep have been moved to summer ranges. Reports from some of the larger sheep outfits which winter their bands on Snake river ranges, state that some of the bands are being trailed out at this time and will be brought through to mountain ranges during the next few weeks.

A small amount of shearing of sheep has been done in this end of the valley during the past week or two. However, the most of the flock owners do not contemplate starting shearing until about the first of June. L. W. Taylor, who has his band of sheep on range in the forest and in the Dry creek section, have been busy shearing during the past week. The rainy weather the latter part of the week has stopped this work for a few days. Various reports are heard regarding prices being charged for shearing, some hand shearing has been done for 8c and this appears to be the going price for machine shearing also.

ARE MANY PERFECT ATTENDANCE PUPILS

Among the many schools of the valley there are also many pupils who, by being neither absent nor tardy throughout the year, have earned the right to have their names on the honor roll for perfect attendance and also to receive the certificate which the state gives. This list is as follows:

Alicel: Minnie Stewart.

Pleasant Grove: Richard Gowey, Verne Frizzell, AnaBel Cantrel, Calvin End, Edgar Cantrel, Marian End, Aladine Gowey, Dean Johnston, Gene Garrett.

Cove: Chester Williams, Kathleen Comstock, Fields Caldwell, Delmar Richards, Bennie Delsman, Burnetta Musgrave, Ellen Green.

Darr: Exley Wilson.

North High Valley: Lloyd Edvalson, Donald Edvalson.

Gordon Creek: Martha Wells.

Telocaset: Virginia Hill, Josephine Hill, Monroe Mikesell.

Shanghai: Maxine Conley, Edmond Miller, Betty Presto, Louis Presto.

Mt. Glen: Edward Waite, Wiley Nebeker.

Imbler: Donna Watson.

Fruitdale: James Volz, LaVaughn Dial, LaVerne Carbine.

Island City: Ellen Greiner, Eugene Greiner, Wilfred Hamann, Thomas Muilenburg, Alma Schroeder, Eloise Stein, Lillian Hillhouse, Imogene Stein, Barbara Wardell, Harvey Schroeder.

Lone Star: Norma Greiner.

Union: Denzel Haynes, Pauline Miller, Marie McMaster, Sylvan Tidwell.

Valeria: Eugene Backer.

Frosty: Della Morris, Raymond Morris, Lovene Morris.

Wolf Creek: Lorene Gorham, Loretta Gorham, Audrey Gorham, Forrest Bowman, Quentin Bowman, Saul Coles, Jefferson Harrison.

Dry Creek: Dorothy Sanderson, Donald Sanderson.

Rysdam: Luella Rusdam, Arie Rusdam.

Pondosa: Ruth Nelson, Rhoda Nelson, Lois McKinney, Virgil Johnson.

North Powder: Ralph Hansen, Dorothy Law, Albert Johnson, Bob White, Jessie Featherman, Malcolm Johnson, Hobart Keeney, Howard Snode, Hershel Tally, Margie Erwin, Cleo Dahlstrom, Mary Shafer, Maxine McGrath, Vida Oliver, Veve Gorham, Herbert Harrison, Shirley Parker, Norma Erwin, Mercedes Nevell, Arnold Olsen, Jeane Taylor, Keith Atteberry, Barbara Denning, Keith Denning, Jack Pearson, Billy Rohrer, Lena Shaw, Victor Harrison, Leo Newell, Louise May, Lucille Shaw, Leora Hobbs, Marjorie Rohrer.

Elgin: Loretta Cason, Evelyn Hallgarth, Doyle Phippen, Mabel Tracy, Hazel Hallgarth, Owen Williams, Bessie Eckstein, Dick Henderson, Frederick Hill, Arthur Adams, Clinton Clark, Catherine Barnes, Milton Culp, Alma Hallgarth, LaVaughn Culver, William Hawver, Betty Jane Hug.

Groups To Hold Annual Meet

It happens that the annual meeting of the Union County Grain Growers association and the annual meeting of the Grande Ronde Cooperative Creamery association come this year on the same day, June 6. And it also happens that Ernest DeLong, prominent member of the Grange Hall neighborhood, is the president of both organizations.

In view of these facts, plans are, in the formative stage for a joint meeting, with several outstanding features. It is rather expected that the joint meeting will be held at Riverside park in La Grande and the main will take the form of a picnic with basket dinner at noon. A representative of the Farm board, "Farmer" Brown, well known here, having visited the valley frequently, will be present, it is announced. It is also expected that a prominent representative of the state college has been invited to come and address the group, and if the invitation is accepted this gives promise of another strong drawing card for the day. Music is also being arranged, and in all, the promoters are expecting quite a day—should the weather man cooperate—and even if he does not.

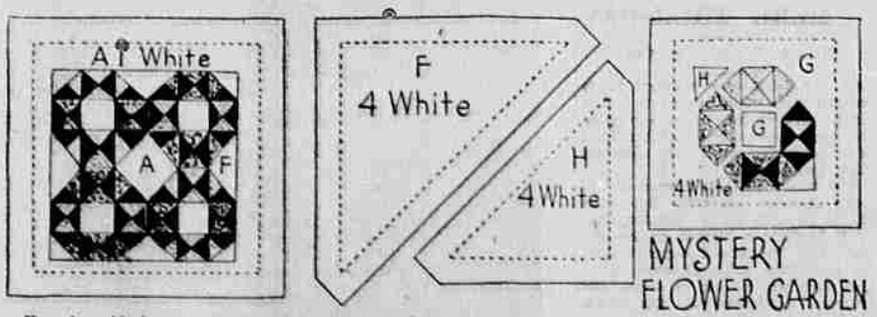
A SEASONABLE RECIPE—

Liver Loaf

Grind one pound of parboiled liver.
To this add one cup of bread or cracker crumbs.
One egg.
One cup tomato juice.
One teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
One tablespoon onion, minced.
One tablespoon chopped parsley.
Two tablespoons fat.
Mix in a loaf and bake in moderate oven about 30 minutes.

Our Prize Quilt for Today



Here is a block so small that tiny scraps can be used up in it. Only 6½ inches square, the block is made up of 4-inch "flowers" around a white "A". Carry out a complete color scheme for the separate flowers, the one shown inside the "G" shows prints with plain color—each "flower" requires 16 plain and 8 print "H" pieces, and there are 4 flowers—each a different color—in each block.

For a quilt about 84x97, with a 3-inch border, you will need 12 rows of blocks, 14 blocks in a row—168 blocks. About 4 yards of white and ¾ yard of color for border, will be enough with left overs from other quilts for print and color.

Quilt Pattern Book

Every lover of patchwork and appliqué quilts will be thrilled with this new book, "Prize Winning Designs." It gives 14 actual cutting patterns. Shows in three colors 125 quilt designs and many lovely quilting designs. 24-page book, only 25c.
