

April The Fifth Wins Epsom Derby; Dastur Close Second

ORWELL WEAKENS AND DROPS BACK AS RACE FINISHES

Lord Roseberry's Miracle Third and Royal Dancer Fourth — May Change Winner's Name.

EPBOM DOWNS, Eng., June 1 (AP)—April the Fifth, given only an outside chance to win, today outclassed 40 of England's best three-year-olds, winning the 153rd running of the derby.

As April the Fifth, carrying the silks of T. Walls, flamed across the line three-quarters of a length in front of the Aga Khan's Dastur, W. M. G. Singer's Orwell, the choice to 15 to 8, finished far back in the field. Lord Roseberry's Miracle, second choice at 100 to 9, was third, a head back of Dastur.

Although rated by many as a money horse, April the Fifth was considered to have no better than a 100 to 6 chance to defeat Orwell, winner of the two thousand guineas and champion juvenile of the English turf last year. Dastur was a rank outsider at 18 to 1.

Crowd Surprised
The victory of April the Fifth, owned by Tom Walls, movie star, trainer and all-around sportsman, came as a complete surprise to the estimated crowd of one million, including the king and queen and other members of the royal family.

The result showed what many turf experts had predicted—that Orwell would not stand up under the grueling test over the one and one-half miles. April the Fifth, sired by Craig An Bran out of Sold Again, traveled the up and down hill journey in two minutes and 43 seconds.

The Aga Khan, Indian potentate, just missed winning his second derby in three years, when Dastur failed to overhaul the fast traveling April the Fifth in the stretch. Bismah won for the Aga Khan in 1930. E. Esmond's Royal Dancer, the only member of the derby field to win a race over the Downs course this season previous to today, was fourth, beating out the Aga Khan's other entry, Firdausi.

Orwell, famed for his early speed, was well up among the leaders for the first part of the difficult journey but weakened when the real test came.

May Change Name
Walls, who recently returned from the South Seas, said he was considering changing the name of the winner from April the Fifth to "June the First."

The crowd, said to be one of the largest in the long history of the blue ribbon turf classic, was favored by the weather. There were sporadic showers but they failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the multitude, which packed the huge grandstand and jammed every available standing space on the Downs.

Despite the defeat of Orwell, his first in eight starts, Walls was given a tremendous ovation as he led his colt from the track. The only other time Orwell had been defeated was in his first race as a two-year-old last year.

Three American horses, Victor Emanuel's Totig and Richard Croker's Celebrator and Corcy, ran but failed to figure in the money. The three were outsiders in the wagering.

From an excellent start, Cockpen jumped into the lead, closely followed by April the Fifth and Baccus with Miracle and Orwell not far off the pace.

At the half-way mark, Lord Derby's Portfolio took command and with glacial, Cockpen, Miracle and Orwell within striking distance. When the field reached Tattenham corner, the critical point in the race, Portfolio was still out in front.

A quarter of a mile from the finish line Dastur bounded to the front, setting a fast pace. April the Fifth was running strongly on the outside, however, and in the last hundred yards caught the Aga Khan's color bearer and went going away. Dastur just managed to save off the mud tush of Miracle.

Orwell gradually dropped behind in the stretch, finishing ninth. Victor Emanuel's Totig and Richard Croker's Celebrator and Corcy, the American-owned horses, were far behind.

Mrs. Moody Wins Quarter-Final Match 6-2, 7-5

AUTEUIL, France, June 1 (AP)—Mrs. Helen Willis Moody, seeking her fourth singles title, today defeated Miss Colette Pavot, of Switzerland, 6-2, 7-5, in a quarter-final match of the French tennis championships.

Mrs. Willis won the French title in 1926, 1929 and 1930, but did not defend last year.

She will play Hilda Krahwinkel, German finalist at Wimbledon last year, in the semi-finals. Fraulein Krahwinkel today defeated Mrs. Eileen Bennett Whittingstall, the fine English player, in the quarter-finals, 6-3, 6-3.

Olympic HOPES

The two greatest quarter-milers in University of Pittsburgh's history believe they have a chance in the forthcoming Olympic games. The one, Reginald (Pete) Hoven, above, will do the running. The other, Frank Shea, track and field boss at Pitt, will coach Hoven. Pete is a Pitt alumnus, but only he goes out to the stadium and sets in his training heels. He was kept off the 1928 Olympic team by an injury the day before the final trials at Harvard stadium. Hoven has twice toured foreign lands in company with American college athletes. In Germany in 1929 he created a world record of 59.4 seconds for the 200-yard dash. He has stepped the 400 meters in 47.6 seconds and has consistently done the quarter under 48 seconds. Hoven is a member of the New York Athletic Club.

IRISH STRONGEST IN HAMMER EVENT

Suspicion Exists That There is Some Trace of Erin in Freddy Tootell

By Alan Gould
(Associated Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, June 1 (AP)—Probably because of an ancient proficiency at tossing the blackthorn shillalah or a playful tendency to leave bricks the Irish long have been famous for.

producing the world's best hammer thrower. Native sons of Erin have won six of the seven Olympic championships, and the suspicion exists that Freddy Tootell, the Bowdoin giant who won the 1924 title at Paris for the United States, has some Irish blood in his system.

The old Irish dynasty, fathered by the great John Flanagan, was developed among American emigrants. It contributed to this country's uninterrupted sweep of hammer tossing honors until 1928, when a new product of the Ould Sod, Dr. Patrick O'Callaghan, carried Ireland's colors to victory.

O'Callaghan is a pupil of Flanagan, who went back to Ireland to live after his long career as a New York policeman-athlete. The present Olympic champion has so far improved under Flanagan's tutelage since 1928, when his throw of 108 feet, 7 1/2 inches was good enough to win a world championship, that he appears almost a certainty to repeat this summer.

Last year O'Callaghan was credited with throwing the iron ball 183 feet 8 1/2 inches. This is four feet beyond the Olympic mark set by Matt McGrath, now a New York police captain, in 1912 and is not far from the 1924 Ryan's 19-year-old world record of 169 feet, 6 1/2 inches.

Sweden's Greatest Rival
There is no American weight tonner capable of competing with the Irish star on this basis, with the possible exception of Frank Connor, the Yale product, who has bettered 177 feet. O'Callaghan's main rivals likely will be a pair of Swedish polemen, Martin Lind and Oskari Skold, both with marks well over 170 feet.

Skold was second in the 1928 Olympics, in which Connor was sixth with only 153 feet. There is also V. Porhola of Finland, the 1920 Olympic "shotput" champion, who achieved 176 feet with the hammer last year.

The best of the American collegians just now seems to be Grant McDougall of Pennsylvania, with several throws close to 170 feet. Norwood Wright, former Cornell star, is good for about the same distance at his best.

Once Trick Event
There was a time when the Europeans considered the hammer throw strictly a trick event and desired its abolishment. The Greeks refused to include it in the program for the 1896 and 1906 Olympic revivals.

So it took the Irish-Americans to make it popular among the Scandinavians. Old John Flanagan won the Olympic crown three straight times before young Matt McGrath broke in. Matt's record heave at Stockholm in 1912 was one of those do-or-die efforts, on his last throw. He had fouled on all previous trials.

In four Olympic competitions McGrath finished second in 1908 to Flanagan, first in 1912, fifth behind

BRUSHING UP SPORTS...

Ryan in 1920 and second to Tootell in 1924.

Tootell was the greatest college weight-lifter ever developed. He retired from competition and did not defend the title in 1928. After capturing the Olympic crown in Paris he made a practice throw for the benefit of photographers and tossed the 16-pound ball beyond world record distance.

Players Fined For Attack On League Umpire

CLEVELAND, June 1 (AP)—It will cost four members of the Chicago White Sox good money for their affair of fatigues with Umpire George Moriarty and the veteran arbiter can nurse a severe reprimand as well as his injuries.

Present Will Harridge of the American League, after an investigation of Moriarty's battle with the Sox here Memorial day in which the umpire suffered a broken right fist and Pitcher Milton Gaston was knocked out, last night handed out penalties and censures all around.

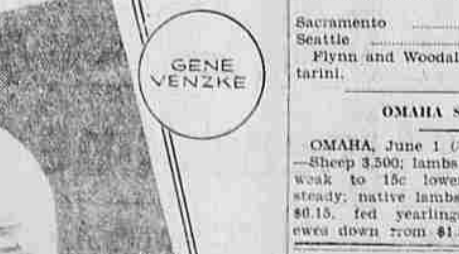

Manager Hugh Faneua of the Sox was fined $500. Pitcher Gaston was assessed a like sum and suspended 10 days, and Catchers Charley Berry and Frank Grube were penalized $250 and $100, respectively. In addition Coach Johnny Butler was suspended five days without pay for "use of profane language" toward Moriarty.

Moriarty, who broke his hand on Gaston's jaw and proclaimed himself ready to fight the whole Chicago team, was "severely reprimanded for neglect of duty," Harridge announced. The league president held that according to Moriarty's own story the umpire should have chased Faneua and Berry from the game before the trouble started.

Faneua heard the bad news calmly. "Harridge is the boss and anything he says goes," he said. Moriarty, in seclusion, could not be reached. President Alva Bradley of the Cleveland Indians said he was "100 per cent" satisfied.

By Laufer Charles Lucas Wins 7 of Ten Games to Date

By Gayle Talbot
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Charles (Red) Lucas, star member of Cincinnati's mound staff, apparently is out to set a modern record for complete games pitched in a season, and with the full approval of Manager Dan Howley.

Thus far, the popular red-head has started and finished ten contests, with the campaign less than a third gone, and his won seven of them. At that pace, he stands an even chance of equalling or bettering the modern mark of 36 complete games set by Grover Cleveland Alexander back in 1915.

Two hurlers, Wes Ferrell of Cleveland and Bob Grove of the Athletics, turned in 27 full-time jobs last season. Cincinnati's "work horse" should have little difficulty passing that figure.

That Col. Howley is in sympathy with Lucas' ambition was demonstrated yesterday, when the Reds took a 4 to 1 beating from Pittsburgh and fell back into a tie with the Pirates for third place in the National League.

Lucas wielded six hits and four runs in the first two innings, but turned it out to allow only three hits the rest of the way. He made little difference one way or the other, however, as Larry French was pitching almost unbeatable ball for the Pirates. It was Pittsburgh's eleventh victory in fourteen games.

Cubs, Braves Both Win
The battle for top position in the National remained at a standstill as both Chicago and Boston won. The Cubs defeated St. Louis, 3 to 1, behind Lon Warneke's six-hit pitching, while Ed Brandt southpawed the Braves to a 2 to 2 tie over the Giants.

Brooklyn and the Phillies were not scheduled, the lapse causing the Dodgers to drop into fifth place after a day in the first division.

Lusty hitting by Heinie Manush in the extra innings enabled the Washington Senators to take a 2 to 1 one from the Philadelphia Athletics, 5 to 4. In twelve rounds and go into a virtual tie with Detroit for second place in the American. Manush slapped a homerun in the eleventh and then that wasn't good enough to win, came right back with a triple in the twelfth that scored Buddy Myer with the clincher.

Frettas Done Well
Gony Freitas, a lefthander from San Francisco, made his debut for the Sox and pitched elegant ball until he was relieved by a pinchhitter in the tenth.

The Sox's only other contest in the American resulted in a 6 to 5 victory for the embattled Chicago White Sox over Cleveland. Errors by Benasik and Morgan helped the Sox score five times in the sixth inning.

STANTON, Eng., June 1 (AP)—Mrs. Leona Cheney, last surviving American in the British women's golf championship, was eliminated in the semi-final round today by Enid Wilson, defending titleholder. Mrs. Wilson won three and two, after leading all the way.

MRS. CHENEY IN SEMI-FINALS
STANTON, Devonshire, Eng., June 1 (AP)—Mrs. Leona Cheney, of Los Angeles, reached the semi-finals of the British women's golf championship today, defeating Beryl Brown of Farnham, six times Lancashire champion, 3 and 2.

The statuesque American blonde, sole remaining representative of the United States, played the same safe, steady brand of golf that had carried her successfully through the 36-hole qualifying round and through the three rounds of match play.

She was behind only once in her quarter-final match with Miss Brown, the English girl, winning the first hole with a par three. Mrs. Cheney got that one back at the second and never thereafter was behind. Miss Brown twice squared the match, once at the fifth and again at the tenth, but Mrs. Cheney applied pressure and won three of the four holes from the 12th through the 15th and then halved the sixteenth to end the match.

Out in 37
The American played as good golf as the current championship so far has been. She was out in 37 and made no mistakes after the tenth where her brassie landed on the side of a sand dune while Miss Brown, dead with her second, won the hole and wiped out the American's lead.

Mrs. Cheney, unperturbed, dazzled her rival with a perfect tee shot to the short 13th but got only a half. She won the 14th and 15th through excellent, surefire putting and her half on the 16th put her into the semi-finals this afternoon where her opponent is to be the defending titleholder, Enid Wilson.

Johannie Biancone Is Ineligible For Football In 1932

CORVALLIS, Ore., June 1 (AP)—Because he played one game of soccer football in Portland during the Christmas holidays last year, Johannie Biancone, sparkling quarterback on the Oregon State college football team has been declared ineligible for competition next fall. The decision was given Tuesday.

The game was played with the Sellwood community club team. In addition to being lost to football, Biancone likewise was declared ineligible for baseball competition during the remainder of the season.

Biancone went to Dean Harry Rogers, chairman of the board of control, for a ruling in his case when he heard of the recent ineligibility of another conference player on the same grounds. Dean Rogers held that under conference rules nothing was left but to declare Biancone ineligible for at least two terms. These rules specifically prohibit competition of students on any club or other athletic team from the opening of the fall term to the close of the year.
