

Price Of Butter Takes One Cent Drop In Oregon Market

BIGGER SURPLUS CAUSE OF CHANGE IN MARKET PRICE

Previous Advance Not at All Justified - Butter-fat Buying Prices Also Reduced a Cent.

PORTLAND, June 2 (AP) - Drop of 1c lb. in the price of cube butter during the late season of the produce exchange, was due in view of the increasing surplus. That the previous advance in the price was not at all justified is now apparent. The reported shortage in stocks at that time was more of the mind than a reality.

The new drop in cubes, which likewise affects prices, places butter prices here at the extreme low point reached a short time ago. It is as low as the lowest ever reached here. The new top for extras is 17c lb.

Butterfat buying prices are also reduced 1c lb. along with the cut in butter, placing the general Portland delivered price for No. 1 churning 14c and country stations 11c 1/2 lb. The price for sweet cream is generally 2c additional.

General trading trend in the market for eggs appears depressed not only at Portland but along the coast generally. Prices appear artificial and higher than actual sales at some points.

Demand for chickens remains good along the wholesale way with no change in general buying values. Call is for practically all offerings except very small springers.

There is another spurt of demand for dressed hen turkeys here but practically at record low values. Buyers appear willing to place some in store, considering present values - which are far below chickens - a good speculation.

Watermelons on Way First carload of watermelons of the season is due to arrive in Portland Saturday from Imperial valley. They will be of the Klondike variety.

Market for strawberries is steady with practically no change in values at wholesale shops. Sales are from 90c to $1 generally for top quality with late receipts somewhat limited. Quality good.

Demand for hot-house tomatoes continues of very good volume. Trade is taking care of daily arrivals with ease. Sales in general are 14c 1/2 lb. according to quality.

Further weakness in the market for country killed lambs has sent the general price down to 8c 1/2 locally, the lowest on record. Heavy calves are dragging with hogs steady.

Notes of wholesale trading: Appparagus market is steady with prices held.

Cantaloupes of quality are firmer but general price unchanged.

Truck load of apricots is due from the south, quoted $1.50 lug.

There continues a surplus of crabs and low prices are shown.

Peas are weaker and lower with additional supplies.

Head lettuce is about steady; general trading being $1.00-$1.25 crate.

Limited Trading Volume For Wool

PORTLAND, June 2 (AP) - There continues a very limited trading volume in the market for wool although here and there more interest is expressed. The volume of business continues too limited in all sections to firmly establish values.

At the annual meeting of the Portland Wool Trade association, new officials were elected. The following were chosen: W. L. Crowe, president; F. A. Clark, vice president; N. B. Stone, secretary-treasurer. These with E. J. Burke and Charles Green, form the executive committee.

nothing to do with the reds," he said. On the other hand, police say 200 known communists are in the city. One Emanuel Levin said the ex-sergeant's league claims credit for starting the movement in 30 strategic points. The league is planning a mass demonstration here June 8.

Glasford has about $400 to feed the campers, now being fed at a cost of six cents a day each. They get two meals. The police superintendent appeared before a senate committee yesterday and asked for a federal appropriation of $75,000.

A midnight show will be given in a local theatre tonight to raise additional funds. When funds are exhausted, Glasford threatens to evacuate the veterans within 48 hours. As long as food is available they probably will be permitted to remain until congress adjourns. Picked leaders of the veterans now are lobbying in congress for the bonus.

Senate Committee Busy A special senate committee today studied what to do with the increasing army of unemployed veterans. At the urgent plea of Police Superintendent Glasford the group, composed of Senators Capper (R., Kan.) and Copeland (D., N. Y.) considered the advisability of approving an emergency $75,000 appropriation to feed the men. The District of Columbia has no funds for the purpose but fears were expressed that a federal donation would encourage the jobless men to come in greater numbers.

Local authorities intensified efforts to have the several states discontinue marchers from passing through.

TEXAS VETS MOBILIZING

DALLAS, Tex., June 2 (AP) - From all sections of Texas today came reports of World War veterans gathering for a "march" on Washington to demand of congress speedy payment of veterans compensation certificates.

By automobile, truck and freight train, the veterans sought to reach the national capital quickly to back congressmen who advocate immediate cash payment of the soldiers' bonus.

In Fort Worth last night, the veterans coupled action with words by boarding an eastbound train, in what numbers was not definitely established. Special railway officers forced F. R. Compton, a leader, and 11 comrades to leave the train, as well as some 50 "hoboes," but it was reported many of the three-score veterans who had scrambled on the train before the officers arrived still held places when the train left town.

At Oklahoma City, under leadership of a committee of 14, a band of 300 war veterans planned to leave today for Washington.

SOUTHERNERS ON MARCH

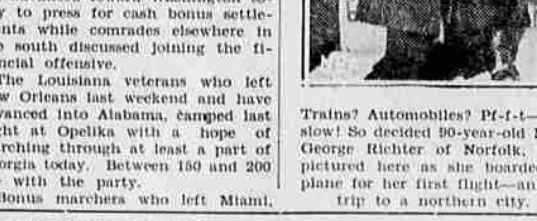

ATLANTA, Ga., June 2 (AP) - World War veterans from Louisiana and Florida advanced toward Washington today to press for cash bonus settlements while comrades elsewhere in the south discussed joining the financial offensive.

The Louisiana veterans who left New Orleans last weekend and have advanced into Alabama, camped last night at Opelika with a hope of marching through at least a part of Georgia today. Between 150 and 200 are with the party.

THE OUTLOOK

Big Celery Crop In Western Oregon

PORTLAND, June 2 (AP) - A crop of around 450 carloads of celery is expected this season under normal growing conditions, according to Percy Wells of the Oregon Gardeners' association. Wells estimated that this year's crop will be at least normal, perhaps a fraction better.

Growth to date this season has been abnormally good. The sizes indicate somewhat larger heads than normal and the quality promises to be very good.

Already some of the early crop is being moved out of the Marion county section and is meeting with a fair demand. Sales are being made down to $2 per half crate, which is a trifle less than usual, but in line with values in other commodities.

Fla. by automobile yesterday afternoon camped at West Palm Beach, Fla., last night. There were about 50 marchers.

In Johnson City, Tenn., Floyd S. Hawkins said he led a party of 200 veterans, members of the national soldiers' home there, who planned to leave today for Washington to enter the bonus argument.

Leaders in South Carolina said about 200 veterans would start a Washington Journey from Warrenville, S. C., Saturday by freight train.

Qualities considered by the nominating committee were scholarship, prominence in student activities, high ideals of character, personality, and attractiveness. She must also be a graduating senior.

Tuesday evening, Miss Byrd will be enthroned during the Evening ceremony. Responding to the call of trumpets, the students in the grand procession will take their places on the stairway, the seniors wearing caps and gowns. Two choristers are to interpret the significance of the event. Songs at school days, spring country, and evening will be sung. Two college songs have been composed especially for the occasion.

The queen, Miss Byrd, will reign for the evening, accompanied by her princesses and two attendants. She will initiate the torch lighting ceremony which will be a feature of the program.

Provisions will be made for seating the audience on Ninth street, below the stairway.

The committee of faculty members in charge is composed of President H. E. Inlow, Miss Helen Moor, Miss Kate L. Houx, Miss Madeline Larson, Miss Jennie Peterson, Miss Arta Lawrence, Mrs. Edward Daniel, and Roy Sken.

challenge or be destroyed. The advocates of modification or repeal should not ask for a plank which clouds the major issue. We ask for a clear-cut indictment of lawlessness.

"Let the platform recognize an honest difference of opinion on the eighteenth amendment. Let the platform bring forward the constitutional procedure already provided for the expression of the people's will. Let the provisions of article 5 for amending the constitution be frankly stated."

"Let the platform go a step farther. Let it face the fact that senators and congressmen in states and districts which have a decisive sentiment for change, should not be counted either for or against the eighteenth amendment merely because they vote to re-submit the question itself. I can see where it would be altogether feasible to write one plank for both party platforms - a plank at once loyal to the constitution and representative of government, fair to both sides and offering to each full opportunity to win on merit."

Stocks Higher In Closing Trading

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP) - The stock market was pulled up sharply in the afternoon trading today, along with bonds and principal commodities, after a further sinking spell in the morning. Shares closed with numerous advances of 1 to 3 points. Sales approximated 1,800,000 shares. The turn came with marked improvement in bonds, coincident with rumors that the projected bond pool had already started operations, although this was denied in usually well-informed quarters. The market had been overcast, and the sort of persistent liquidation that has been flowing in of late, presumably from bank loan envelopes and institutions, suddenly lifted.

Mr. Shelton estimated that if the 1,500,000 expected tourists would remain in Oregon for an average of five days each, it would mean a "tourist payroll" for the state of $51,500,000 figured on average expenditures of $7 a day for each person.
