Bill Terry Takes Charge Of New York Giants

M'GRAW RESIGNS POST BECAUSE OF HIS ILL HEALTH

New Manager, Only 33 Years Old, Has Mind of His Own and Doesn't Hesitate to Speak it.

NEW YORK, June 4 (AP) — The New York Giants now have the youngest manager in the National league but there is little danger any of them will attempt to take advantage of Bill Terry.

The big fellow from Memphis is only 33 but he has a mind of his own and he doesn't hesitate to speak it. He will be manager of the Giants, right up to the hilt.

The first thing he attended after he was notified he had succeeded John J. McGraw was to post a notice to that effect in the club house. Then he called in the players, many of them his teammates for years, and had a thorough understanding.

"I told them that from here on they take orders from me and from nobody else. I told them I was going to ease up on some of the strict rules we've had and give them a chance to play ball for me and get out of the basement. If they can't do that there will be some changes."

Complete Surprise

Terry's elevation was a complete surprise to him. He never has, strictly speaking, been a member of the "McGraw school." He and the veteran manager were known to have had their disagreements, and no later than this spring McGraw was forced to make a special trip to reconcile Terry to his 1932 contract.

McGraw, however, always has admired a fighter and it perhaps was only natural he should think of the big first baseman when he decided to step down. He asked Terry about it first.

"He seemed relieved when I told him I would take the job," Terry said. "Looked like a man who had had a 40-pound weight lifted from his head. And he was mighty nice. He said to me:

"'Bill, if you ever need any help from me or want my advice, just ask for it. But you'll have to come for me because I'm not going to try to tell you how to run the team'."

Planning Trades

Terry intends to make some trades before the deadline June 15 and admitted there were "two players" he would have to let go. He didn't give their names.

He expected to retain Davey Bancroft as his first lieutenant and is confident there will be no friction, despite the fact the veteran has been in charge of the team much of the current campaign.

"I'm not the sort of fellow to go back on a friend," he said, "and as long as Dave wants to work with me he has the job. But he, like the others, knows I'm boss."

Although he answers to "Memphis Bill" and has made his home there for years, Terry was born at Atlanta in 1898. He has a home in Memphis, a rambling affair, that cost its original owner some $70,000 to build, but Terry didn't pay anything like that price.

Mrs. Terry and the three children, a boy and two girls, are at Memphis but are coming to New York shortly to spend the remainder of the season with the head of the family.

Baker Juniors Will Come Here For Ball Game

BAKER, Ore., June 4 (Special)—The Baker junior league baseball squad has been working hard for more than a week to whip themselves into shape for a game Sunday with the powerful La Grande team there. The team is sponsored by the American Legion as a part of its extensive program for better citizenship.

Verdell Ragsdale, who is coaching the team, plans to put his squad through a month of hard practice to make up for the late start of this year's program. With six of the players who made the trip to the elimination tournament at Burns last year returning the outlook for the season is bright. These boys are: Southard, catcher; Driesbach, pitcher; R. Beard, first base; Shinn, third base; J. Beard and N. Ragsdale, outfielders.

LA GRANDE PREPARED

Coach John R. Garity of the American Legion junior leaguers has been working his squad regularly for the past two weeks and is optimistic as to the material he has on hand. Tomorrow's game will be a real test for the youngsters as it is known that Baker's junior league team will be a very strong one this season. The game will begin at noon.

In addition to playing the Baker team Sunday Coach Garity also has arranged for a practice game with the Eagles team next Tuesday night at the High school field.

Although no definite line-up for the junior leaguers is available, the following players will more than likely see service in tomorrow's game.

Buck Fowler, c; McKinnis, p; R. Fowler, rf; R. Howell, Lyle Crouser, first; Buddy Reynolds, second; Hughey Irwin, first or third; Lyman, first or third; Kimmell, cf; Blokland, lf; Vore, lf; Del Jones, second or c; Beck, ss; walden, c; B. DeBorde, p; L. DeBorde, second; Richardson, cf; Mills, second or cf.

The battery for tomorrow's game will be K. McKinnis or B. DeBorde and Buck Fowler.

Finland's Runners Favored to Win The 3000-Meter Steeplechase Event

By Alan Gould
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, June 4 (AP)—Outside of the decathlon, toughest of all individual track and field tests, no event on the Olympic banner program calls for more all-around ability than the 3000-meter steeplechase.

One of the most spectacular of foot races, it demands rare stamina, courage and hurdling skill as well as speed. The spectators get most of the fun out of it.

For the boys apt to tumble into the water hazard, it's a good idea to know how to swim, too. The great Paavo Nurmi almost ruined himself at the water jump in 1928. First he stumbled over the barrier, then fell flat with a mighty splash. It was an inglorious situation for a world champion and did him no good, but Paavo waded out, made the best of things and finished second to his young countryman, Toivo Loukola, whose time of 9:21.8 is the Olympic record.

Finns Tough To Beat

The Finns, for whom life is just one obstacle race after another, finished 1-2-3 at Amsterdam, even though Willie Ritola, the defending champion, dropped out with a strained leg. Loukola and his mates will be the performers to beat.

The United States scored its only victories in 1900 and 1904, when the distance was shortened to 2500 meters, but the popularity of the event, developed within the past few years at relay carnivals has furnished new incentive to our boys.

Black-haired, robust Joe McCluskey, a Connecticue boy who runs bet to make a strong showing and perhaps win the steeplechase at Los Angeles. He has every qualification, plus unlimited gameness, which he demonstrated in making up for a poor start at the Penn Relays to win in the fine time of 9:28.4.

Two youths who chased McCluskey to the finish, J. C. Watson of Indiana and W. H. Pritchard of Hamilton college (New York) may develop into Olympic contenders, but the logical running mate for McCluskey appears to be Henry Brocksmith, another Indiana star.

Brocksmith has shown real speed at one and two miles, covering the longer distance in 9:18. If he can be trained to take the obstacles properly he should be right up with the vanguard all the way.

Pennsylvania's good cross country runner, Dan Dean, and Leo Lermond, the leading American prospect for the 5000 meter flat race, also may be considered for the steeplechase. Leo's brother, Lieut. George Lermond, also has the necessary combination of talent.

The captain of the British team, Lord David Burghley, has done some very good steeplechasing, but it is a risky business and he probably will prefer to concentrate on the defense of his 400-meter hurdles championship. The trials for the steeplechase are scheduled on the same afternoon as the 400-meter hurdle final at Los Angeles.

Republicans And Democrats To Mix On Ball Diamond

WASHINGTON, June 4 (AP)—First blood is drawn today in the great quadrennial battle between Republicans and Democrats, but this preliminary skirmish is on the baseball diamond.

With Gene Tunney announced as principal umpire, with vociferous spokesmen selected to argue his decisions, house members of the two parties meet this afternoon in Griffith stadium to see which one can sock the hardest, put most stuff on the ball, and slide home first and safe.

Sweet charity's sake is the principal reason for the conflict in which one-time athletes now grown somewhat corpulent step out to strut their stuff. The gate receipts will go to feed those who need it. Another reason is, admittedly, the small boy streak that persists in statesmen. The game was set to begin right after the house completed work for the day.

A considerable number of the country's leaders promised to attend; women's Democratic and Republican clubs have taken boxes, and foreign diplomats also were counted among the expected spectators.

Representative Vincent Carter of Wyoming, captained the Republican team, with the Democrats under McQuillan of South Carolina. Democratic bat-boy is 70-year-old, long hatred representative Edgar Howard of Nebraska. Schafer of Wisconsin, playing no ball, was made a member of the team solely to argue with the umpire.

Reheated Bread

Chemists studying staleness in bread found that reheating bread restores freshness temporarily, and the process can be repeated as many as seven times before the bread loses too much moisture to benefit by heating.

Olympic HOPES

Two major ambitions, both likely to bring fame to Dale Letts above, and glory to Uncle Sam spur the 22-year-old University of Chicago graduate. The first is an Olympic championship, gained in the 800-meters run. After that Letts plans retirement from track athletics to launch a career in law that eventually will bring him, he hopes, to a supreme court judgeship. For three years, Letts has been an outstanding mid-western athlete. In 1931, his final year at Chicago, he won indoor and outdoor championships in the Big Ten 880-yard run. He ran to victory in the national collegiate half-mile race in 1:53.5, defeating Ed Genung, recognized as the best half-miler on the Pacific coast. During the 1932 indoor season, Letts participated in several eastern meets as a member of the Illinois Athletic Club. He shared honors with the great Gene Venzke, winning three races and finishing second in another

Higgins' Single Wins Game For Beavers 4 to 3

By the Associated Press

Mike Higgins, Portland third baseman, farmed twice yesterday, but coming up in the last of the ninth inning with the score Portland 3, Oakland 3, the bases full and two out, he lined out a single that brought in the winning run.

Ed Walsh, Oakland pitcher, purposely walked the man ahead of Higgins, thinking Higgins would be an easy third out. The game was close most of the way, with Oakland getting 10 hits and Portland 8.

Things are still going against the Sacramento team in a big way. Seattle won three of his first four games. The tribe collected 17 hits.

Hollywood made it four straight in the present series by beating the Missions 5 to 3. The victory strengthened the hold of the Stars on first place. The Stars bunched 12 hits to the embarrassment of three Mission pitchers, while Fred Ortman, Hollywood southpaw, kept the Reds' nine safeties well scattered.

The Seals-Angels game at Los Angeles was postponed because of wet grounds.

Washington High Wins Track Meet

PORTLAND, June 4 (AP)—Washington High school scored heavily to win the tenth annual Portland interscholastic league track meet here Friday, and Clyde Walker of that school set a new record for the shot-put.

Washington had 55 points, Grant 44¾ and Jefferson 22.

Walker heaved the 12-pound shot 49 feet 11¾ inches. The old record of 47 feet 2 inches was set in 1920 by L. Johnson of Washington High.

Gehrig's Four Homers Wreck Philadelphians

By Gayle Talbot
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Lou Gehrig, long accustomed to play second fiddle to the one and only Babe Ruth, today had carved himself a place in baseball's permanent record, the result of a homerun spree never equalled by his illustrious teammate or by any other big league batsman in the last 38 years.

The Yankee first baseman yesterday crashed four consecutive homers over the right field fence at Shibe park as his team beat the Philadelphia Athletics, 20 to 13.

Only once before had the feat been equalled. Robert Lowe, of the Boston Nationals of 1894, did it. Ed Delehanty of Philadelphia hit four in one game in 1896, but only three were consecutive.

Gehrig's record was not the only one to fall in the wild melee. The Yankees piled up a total of 50 bases on 33 hits and the two clubs had a combined total of 77 bases. The Yanks also equalled the big league record for homeruns in a single game, with seven.

Ruth Also Hits Homer

Jimmy Foxx hit his nineteenth homerun for the A's; Ruth his fifteenth.

The Chicago White Sox and St. Louis Browns offered a fine contrast in entertainment by fighting 10 innings before "Goose" Goslin cracked a homerun that gave the Browns a 2 to 1 victory.

Cleveland went into a virtual tie for third place with Detroit by beating the Tigers twice, 3 to 1 and 10 to 7. Wes Ferrell who won his own game with a homer with one aboard in the opener.

There was an exciting day in the National league, what with John McGraw passing the torch to Bill Terry and the Boston Braves reducing Chicago's lead to a bare game and a half.

Braves Nose Out Robins

Bob Worthington's timely double in the ninth inning gave the Braves a 6 to 5 verdict over Brooklyn. Hack Wilson blasted his third homerun in two days in the third frame.

Tony Piet, youthful second baseman, knocked one of Jackie May's slants out of the park in the eleventh inning to give Pittsburgh a 6 to 5 victory over the Cubs.

Pitching Staff Of Eagles Nine Is Strengthened

Baseball fans of La Grande and nearby communities will enjoy their first double header of the season tomorrow afternoon when the La Grande Eagles baseball squad will tangle with the strong Mission Indian team after an intercity game between Baker and La Grande junior league players.

The Eagles squad has been strengthened considerably during the past week with the addition of Turner to the outfield, and Waldo Geddes and Ledbetter to the pitching staff. Stronger pitching has been the most urgent need of the squad and with Geddes and Ledbetter, assisted by Courtney, Hart and Case, on the list of hurlers available for service, local fans believe that the Eagles will have a team on the field Sunday that will prove hard to beat.

Luke Shelton also has been practicing with the team this last week, and it is expected that his arm will be in shape within the next week or ten days to be of assistance to the squad. Shelton is well known for his pitching ability.

The probable starting lineup for tomorrow's game as announced by Manager D. W. Hall is as follows: Ledbetter or Geddes, p; Nichols or Selby, c; Brookler, 1st; Posey, 2nd; Price, ss; Evans, 3rd; Turner, lf; H. Cochran, cf; Braden, rf. Other players who will no doubt see service in the game are Parker, rf; Hoffman, lf; Case, Hart, and Lyons.
