

TWO WEDDINGS AT UNION YESTERDAY

Alice Saling Weds Emmett Rogers—LaVerne Clark and K. D. Hartwell Wed

By Mrs. L. Z. Terrall (Observer Correspondent) UNION, Ore. (Special)—Two weddings of interest took place at Union yesterday. At 8:30 in the morning Alice Saling, daughter of Mrs. Lester Nelson, and Emmett Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rogers, of Roseburg, were united in marriage by Rev. R. C. Lee at the Methodist parsonage. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Watts were their only attendants. After the ceremony they drove to Cove where her sister, Mrs. Oscar Johnson, prepared a family wedding dinner. They planned to make their home at the Stanton place owned by Will Woodruff uncle of the bridegroom.

The second was an attractive church wedding which took place at 12:15 immediately following the regular morning service at the Methodist church. La Verne Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Clark, became the bride of Kelvin D. Hartwell, of Fairfield, Idaho. The bridal party was ushered in to the tune of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Miss Josephine Elias and Rev. R. C. Lee officiating. The ceremony was the double ring service. The bride was lovely in a gown of pale pink georgette and picture hat to match. She carried a bouquet of roses and sweet peas. Her attendants were Gooding college friends, Louise Leighton, of La Grande, and Eldian Lines, of Idaho Falls. The bridegroom was attended by Leland Deane, of Nampa, and Iner Nielson, of Gannett, Idaho. Only a few friends and relatives attended the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Clark, parents of the bride, and son Leonard; Mrs. Mary Sturgill, of Elgin; Marion Stevens, of Portland; Dorothy Fulton, of Gooding; Mr. and Mrs. Sid Vaden and Grace, Mrs. Clara Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Davis and Thelma Irvin, of Union. The bride is a graduate of the Union High school and of Gooding college and taught last year near Fairfield. The bridegroom was principal and coach in the Fairfield High school last year and will return there in the fall to fill the same position. The young couple will spend their honeymoon in Burley, Ida., where his parents reside, returning to Union the last of the week to make their home during the summer months.

Fawn Geertson, who underwent a serious operation at Hot Lake on Friday, is still very ill. Her sister, Nellie, arrived from Boise yesterday evening and two other sisters, Mrs. Chas. Senter, of Nampa, and Mrs. C. A. Fisher, of Boise, arrived on Saturday. Lenore Handrman, of Seattle, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Maggie Mitchell, for a couple of weeks. After a week's visit at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Well, Mrs. Deon Lacy returned Saturday evening to her home at Multnomah. Her seven-year-old son, Billy Mayo, who has been making his home with his grandparents near her.

Four sisters of Roy Jones, who is seriously ill at Hot Lake, went to visit him on Friday. They were Mrs. M. W. Wilde, wife of last Friday night; Mrs. Sue Cates, of Portland and Mrs. Tom Rees, of Cove. The Portland women have been visiting friends at Union. Mrs. Edith Piny entertained at a birthday dinner party for her son Dr. Mark Piny, Friday evening. Others at the party besides the guest of honor were Mrs. Mark Piny and Billy, Miss Jane Holt, of Eugene, Billy Joe Wendt, of Baker, and Mrs. Bell Wright. A beautiful birthday cake made by Mrs. Sarah Caspar, of Hot Lake, completed the setting for a festive meal.

John Clark is having a fine new bulldog built on the old Moore place in North Union, just south of the Mary Sturcell property. Gus Levy and son, Lewis, came down from Baker Sunday bringing some equine exhibits to the stock show. Milton will come later and they will remain until after the show. Lois Lawson, who taught at Hoquiam, Wash., the past year, will complete her school work this week but will not return home as she plans to take a summer school course at Bellingham Normal school. A unique party was given by the M. I. A. of the L. D. S. church at the M. W. Wilde place last Friday night in the form of a chicken barbecue. Eleven chickens were stuffed, wrapped in "blankets" and placed in a pit over the hot stones. These were covered over with hot coals and a fire was kept going for several hours. Rolls were served with the chickens which were cooked to perfection and there wasn't much left when the 65 young people finished their meal. They built a big bonfire afterwards and played games for a time after which the crowd went to the Grant Wilde place and finished out the evening with a dance in the loft of their big barn. Old-time music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. John Weaver and Ed Horton.

Fifty or sixty people went to La Grande Sunday to attend the quarterly conference of the L. D. S. church. Stephen L. Richards, apostle from the church in Salt Lake City, assisted with the conference. Leland Deal who attended the Clark-Hartwell wedding Sunday, is a son of Rev. W. W. Deal, who filled the Methodist pulpit in Union more than 20 years ago. The latter has a small charge near Nampa. The engagement of Miss Dorothy Crawford, of Oregon City, to Eugene P. Rapp, of Baker, was announced recently and the wedding will take place in the evening of June 15 at the Methodist church in Oregon City. Miss Crawford was the home economics teacher in the High school last year. She is the daughter of Mrs. Lottie Crawford, of Oregon City, and is a graduate of Oregon state college. Mr. Rapp is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Rapp, of Baker, and also attended O. S. C. The young couple will make their home in Baker.

Negro Confesses Attack on Train

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., June 6 (AP)—Deputy District Attorney Van Tor said last night that Theodore Jordan, negro convict, had confessed that he attacked F. T. Sullivan, white Southern Pacific dining car steward, Saturday. Sullivan was found with a fractured skull in his sleeping car bunk on a siding here. Van Tor said Jordan told him he struck Sullivan with a gasp and that robbery was the motive. Jordan was released only last month from the state penitentiary at Salem.

BANKERS MEET IN EUGENE

EUGENE, Ore., June 6 (AP)—The annual convention of the Oregon Bankers' association was scheduled to open here today. Approximately 100 delegates are expected to attend. A feature of the convention will be a golf tournament this afternoon. The annual dinner will be held tonight. Tuesday's sessions will be devoted to discussion periods.

You Can't Marry

by Julia Cleff-Addams

Chapter 24 SPILLING A FEW BEANS GARTH AVENEY was bending large towards a woman in a lovely large hat and the floweriest of chiffons. He was amused, intent, baffling, challenging, elusive as the river.

Jenny moved her chair so that it faced the window. She wondered if he had planned to bring her here, when he had thought that perhaps she would help him to forget George for a day? She closed her eyes and for a magic second she was opposite to him in chiffons and lace.

And then Vale joined her and it was time to sit up and stop being a silly, sentimental little fool. "Hello, there's Brigitta and Aveney," he exclaimed, nodding over Jenny's shoulder to the couple by the far window. "Bit of a coincidence, what?" He laughed somewhat, but not as he waved a finger.

"Brigitta Deering?" Jenny would not turn but she was curious in spite of herself. Brigitta Deering, both on the stage and off it, was so exceptionally lovely. Had been—was exceptional, what? He laughed somewhat, but not as he waved a finger.

"That's her stage name," assented Vale. He appeared about to add something when there was a stir of chiffons and a waltz of scent. Brigitta Deering was on her way to the door.

Gill Jenny would not turn. No need to look up until Garth Aveney was level with her. No need then, unless he stopped and spoke. He did not stop. He went quickly past with a curt, mocking little bow for her and a word to Vale. It was Brigitta who stopped. She laid a brightly-nailed hand on Vale's shoulder and murmured: "Oh, I say, darling, what a sleuth you'd make!"

"Pure chance, I swear it," protested Vale. "All I know was, you'd gone somewhere along the river. By the way, have you met—"

But the exquisite Brigitta had trailed off. Vale, Jenny thought, was more than a little embarrassed by the encounter; and she was inclined to agree with Brigitta that it had not been entirely one of chance.

She stared across the big room while he ordered tea—and saw Garth Aveney again; this time in a mirror that reflected the courtyard, in a mirror such as she had seen him when George had sat, gorgeous and velvety in apricot and gold, at his side; as now that lovely, painted woman was sitting in his car. Always, always someone beautiful and confident and successful in the place where Jenny Revell longed to be.

"Not much of the Matching look about him," commented Vale. Jenny could not follow the remark. "About Mr. Aveney? Why should there be?"

"Well, relations do sometimes resemble each other. You'll pour out, won't you? I never can get my own tea right; poor look-out for anyone else's."

Jenny lifted the tea-pot and put it down again. "Do you mean that Mr. Aveney is related to old Mr. Matching?"

"Nephew. Only one he's got. But surely you know? Aveney himself told me yesterday that both you and George knew all about him and his little stunt. He let me in on it as well, because he said he felt he'd made use of me, not that I minded it, but he's a sensitive sort of a fellow. He cares how he stands with people. And in any case, George came out with flying colors, so there was no secret left."

Jenny poured tea and yet more tea. In fact, she filled all the cups on the table and had to tip all but two away again. "Have I spilled any beans?" asked Vale, in a rush of anxiety. "Aveney said that George had put you wise what all the manœuvring was about, last Friday night. She did not put you wise, didn't she?"

IDAHO COACH WOULD BAN SPRING FOOTBALL WORK

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP)—Leo Calver, youthful grid coach at the University of Idaho, has a suggestion for intercollegiate football. "Abolish spring football practice and start the fall work September 1," advises the former Southern California star. "If all teams in a given conference or a given section would start practice on that date and have four full weeks to get settled down before playing games, coaches could bring their teams along properly without trying to play games five or ten days after practice starts."

Early Microscopes

The oldest recorded microscope in existence is a plano-convex lens of quartz found in the ruins of Nineveh, now in the British museum. The simple lenses came into greater use during the Middle Ages. A spec-tacles maker of Middleburg, Holland, named Zacharias Janssen, was the first to build a compound microscope, in 1590, and presented it to Charles Albert, archduke of Austria.

27 PUTOUTS IN ONE GAME RECORD OF YOUNG HURLER

SYLACAUGA, Ala. (AP)—Sylacauga baseball fans come forward to claim some sort of a record for their youthful star pitcher. This boy, Punny Duke is his name, fanned 19 men, threw out seven at first and tagged his 27th man coming home in the final game of his prep school career. Sylacauga ponder this record and call for a boy to page Babe Waddell, once great New York Giants' southpaw who used to tell his fielders to sit down and let him win the game.

THE TINNITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN PICTURES BY JOE KING

(READ THE STORY THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

WEE Duncy was the first to climb inside the rocket. What a time! They all were quite excited at the thought of sailing high. The little rocket cabin was a very dandy place because it had cute little seats in it. "We're sailing first-class. This is great! Please hurry, lad! I just can't wait. Be sure and close the window tight, so none will fall out. We'll gaze right through it when we go, so we can see far below." And then the happy Tinnies heard the rocket owner shout. "WHEN you are set to go," cried he, "one of you Tinnies wave to me, and then I'll light the rocket fuse. You'll whiz off mighty quick. Of course the fuse will make some noise, but do not let it scare you, boys. 'Twill only flash a minute. Then 'twill fade out very quick. At that time you'll be on your way. Now, do exactly as I say."

Yellow Diamonds Rare

A fancy canary-yellow diamond is more valuable than a blue-white or white diamond. This is because of the rareness of the stone. Of the diamonds that are found in commercial quantities the blue-white is the most valuable.

Variation in Hearing Range of hearing decreases with age, and many old people fail to hear notes which, to the middle aged, are quite distinct. Three individuals, none of them at all deaf, may listen to the same note; the first will merely call it "rather high," the second will complain of its painful shrillness, and the third will hear nothing!
