By Mrs. L. Z. Terrill (Observer Correspondent)
UNION, Ore., June 10 (Special)—The second day of the stock show brought out a large attendance according to the association, the attendance for the first two days fell considerably below that of last year. In the opening parade yesterday, there was a noticeable addition of six black Percheron mares from the experiment station. The six-horse teams that created so much interest in the previous day were again exhibited in the arena immediately following the parade and Boy Wells' team, of Alsea, was given the first place; Routh McKenna's team, second; and Mr. Ledbetter, of Imbler, third. The teams were then divided and judged as four and two-horse teams, with Willis Moss' teams being awarded first in both contests.

The track and arena events progressed without friction yesterday, some of the fiercest of the day before having been disqualified from further participation in the races. Special features of the day were fancy trick roping in front of the grandstand by Williams, the Indian champion roper of the northwest; the mule and package races; and some new performances by Homer Holcomb, the clown. Herman Oliver, of Canyon City, demonstrated his calf roping skill in the arena and later participated in the wild cow milking contest. He, with C. L. Caldwell, of Union, won the joint prize in the latter contest; Mr. Oliver roped and threw the animal and milked her. Mr. Caldwell was also present.

Prominent guests in the audience were prominent men from several points of the northwest. W. A. Schoenfeld, director of agriculture at O. S. C. and director of experiment stations; Harry Lindgren, livestock specialist; O. S. C. Herman Oliver, president of the Cattle and Horse Growers' association; J. R. Irate Veterans Weed Out Communistic Influences in Their Ranks.

GROUP MARCHED TO VACANT LOT

New Supplies Arrive Today to Ward Off Danger of Starvation as Well as Disease.

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—Police moved today to segregate all communists from the bonus marchers army when the federal reserve bank contribution of $5,000, Pelham D. Glassford, superintendent of police who will administer the fund, said that the communists who could produce discharge certificates would be treated equally with other veterans.

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—Irate veterans at the principal encampment of the bonus army last night served fresh notice that they would brook no communistic influence by expelling some 200 avowed reds. The group kicked out of the aqualid makeshift village of the veterans was made up mostly of newcomers from Cleveland, Detroit and New York. They were singled out for late last night as the camp commander questioned the arriving contingents which numbered about 100 men.

Before possible violence could take place a detail of police, aided by ex-soldiers, marched the communists half a mile or so to a vacant lot, where a strong guard was maintained to prevent disorder. They were to be escorted out of town today. Health Officer Worried. The steady influx had swelled the "army" enormously, greatly adding to alarm of the camp conditions which the city health officer, Dr. William C. Foster yesterday pronounced frightful.

New supplies, however, arrived to ward off danger of starvation as well as disease. Several tons of food raised by a Hoboken Italian club.

Although declaring he intended to act on the Walker case with utmost speed, Mr. Roosevelt declined to indicate when concrete action might be forecast. Study of the eight volumes of evidence will require two or three weeks, it is believed. PORTLAND, Ore., June 10 (AP)—Leslie M. Scott, chairman of the Oregon state highway commission, presented his resignation to Governor Meier last night, but after a conference with the governor withdrew it again. Neither the governor nor Scott revealed the reason for the proffered resignation but it was generally believed it was occasioned by agitation for an additional bond issue against which Scott is strongly opposed.

Governor Meier late last night said he had been in conference with Scott and had persuaded him to remain at the head of the highway body. Governor Meier said he had not seen Scott's resignation until the conference last night.

Extended Discussion. "Upon its submission," the governor said, "we entered into an extended discussion. ### ROTARY HEAD

Maid, Lindbergh Kidnap Suspect, Commits Suicide

Violet Sharp, Employed at Morrow Home, Kills Herself by Drinking From Poison Bottle.

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., June 10 (AP)—Violet Sharp, a maid who had been questioned three times about the kidnaping of the murdered Lindbergh baby, who was to have been questioned again today, a butler found this afternoon in the home of Mrs. Lindbergh's mother, a suicide by poison.

Soon after the Lindbergh baby was stolen on March 1, Miss Sharp, who had been a maid in the Morrow home for about two years, was taken to the Lindbergh home at Hopewell for examination. Two more she was examined at the Morrow home, but even then police were not satisfied that she had learned all that she had to tell. Shortly before a fourth examination, scheduled for today, a butler found the maid's body in a pantry on the first floor of the Morrow home. In her room was found an empty poison bottle.

It was established that the girl died shortly before noon. Detective Lieutenant Nathan Allyn, of the Bergen county prosecutor's office, said the maid had taken a glass from the butler's pantry, come to her room on the third floor, and there drank the poison. She then returned to the pantry, where she was found dead.

Allyn estimated that death occurred only a few minutes after the girl reached the pantry. Detective Inspector Harry Walsh, of Jersey City, who has been active in the investigation of the Lindbergh kidnaping, accompanied by several states troopers, arrived at the Morrow home and began an immediate search of the girl's effects for any information concerning her or any notes she may have left.

SCRIPPS-HOWARD PAPERS FOR AL

"Give Us Smith" is Title of Editorial All Members Feature Today

NEW YORK, June 10 (AP)—Roy W. Howard, chairman of the board of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, announced all Scripps-Howard newspapers were publishing today an editorial, entitled "Give Us Smith" in favor of Alfred E. Smith for president.

The editorial describes Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt as "another Hoover," and expresses the opinion Roosevelt and Hoover "possess in common one dominating trait—greed in a pinch with political consequences, they yield."

"Every item of his economic training and his international experience cried out against the tariff bill," the editorial reads. "yet Herbert Hoover signed it. Every instinct in Franklin D. Roosevelt's makeup revolts against the New York City revelations, yet for over a year he has temporized before 'rainy'."

Declaring that at this time "decliveness is called for as never before in history," the editorial states "our nation is confronted with the possibility of four more years of vacillation. Between the two (Roosevelt and Hoover) it is a tossup."

The editorial predicts the nomination of Hoover as a certainty and observes the nomination of Roosevelt as a possibility. "Between Roosevelt and the White House," it continues, "there now stands a man endowed in the very highest degree with those qualities which both Hoover and Roosevelt lack and which the country so sorely needs. That man is Alfred E. Smith."

"Something down deep in the human mind determines the type. As certain as it is that some eyes are blue and some brown, some men are negative and some positive. In Roosevelt and Smith we have the extremes. As Roosevelt generalizes Smith is specific. As Roosevelt loves to delay, Smith loves action. Irresolution is ingrained in the one; boldness in the other. And the times placed desperately for boldness."

After contrasting Smith's Jefferson day speech in Washington May 17 with Roosevelt's speech in St. Paul May 23—declaring Smith's speech left no doubt as to what type would were he at the helm and describing Roosevelt's speech as "columns of graceful generalities," the editorial continues: "It is with regret that we say that in Franklin D. Roosevelt we

BOTH PARTIES ARE GIRDING FOR BATTLES

Democrats Expected to Have More Fireworks Before Nominating.

CHAIRMANSHIP IS TO BRING SCRAP

Roosevelt's Forces Out to Oust Smith-Raskob-Shouse Combination From Control.

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—How- ever pugnacious next week's Republican national convention may become over prohibition, it seems increasingly evident that the real 1932 award for sustained and hard-fighting in-fighting will be won by the Democrats when they get together during the last week of June.

Not only is there to be a last-ditch battle over the candidacy of Franklin D. Roosevelt, but a first-ditch combat of real proportions now is assured over the convention chairmanship, and it is easy to foresee plenty of excitement in between.

For the first time, the developments of the present week have seen the Roosevelt-anti-Roosevelt split surface before the country in all its magnitude. By their decision to oppose Joseph Shouse for permanent chairman the Roosevelt managers raised an issue which the opposition shows every sign of meeting directly.

Roosevelt's Enemies Busy. There even are reports that they will put up a candidate against the Roosevelt-pledged Senator Barkley of Kentucky, for temporary chairman. They may not go that far, but there is no question the Roosevelt move to put Senator Walsh of Montana into the place for which Shouse was slated has been accepted by many on the other side as a definite attempt to read the whole Smith-Raskob-Shouse influence out of the convention picture, and that does not set well at all with Mr. Roosevelt's enemies.

The decision to oppose Shouse surprised most politicians. Up to now the Rooseveltian strategy has been almost wholly conciliatory. When Al Smith made his celebrated thrust at "demagogues," the reply was acerbic-ly worded. When Shouse was "commended" by the arrangements committee for chairman, it was interpreted widely as a Roosevelt gesture of recognition toward that wing of the party which was opposing him.

Floor Manager Picked. On Sunday last, without the slightest publicity, a conference of leaders assembled at the governor's home at Hyde Park. Five senators and nine members of the house had been summoned from Washington to meet with the local Roosevelt men. On the agenda was the whole Smith-Raskob-Shouse influence out of the convention picture, and that does not set well at all with Mr. Roosevelt's enemies.

Japanese Army Scores Victory Over Mah's Men

TOKYO, June 10 (AP)—Major General Hideo Hiramatsu, with his 27th brigade of the 14th Japanese army division, claimed today a smashing victory over General Mah Chan Shan in Northern Manchuria, according to a dispatch to the Rengo news agency from Hailu.

The dispatch said Hiramatsu reported that General Mah's troops were driven from the Hulan-Hailu railway sector and were retreating toward Helho.

General Mah was personally with the troops, the dispatch said, directing the insurgent offensive upon Harbin and withdrew first to Tungpei, then to Tetu and finally toward Helho.

A Japanese air base was established at Taincheu on the Taitshair-Koshan railway line from whence the planes bombed each place General Mah established headquarters. The planes now were attempting to follow his northward retreat, the dispatch said.
