

Page Pitches One-Hit Game For Hollywood Stars

PITCHING STAR WINS OWN TILT WITH HEAVY BAT

Page Belts Out Homer, Triple and Two-Bagger For Three Runs - Seattle Trims Portland.

By the Associated Press
 Vesper Page stepped into the Coast League hall of fame last night by pitching and batting Hollywood to a 4 to 1 victory over the Angels. Not only did he hold the usually hard-hitting Angels to one me hit, but he led the Hollywood attack by bating out a home run, a triple and a double to score three runs.

Page had almost perfect support from his teammates, for, although he didn't fan a single batter, only three Angels managed to get on base. Summa doubled in the fourth for his team's only hit, scoring on two infield outs; Campbell was safe on Hollywood's only error, and Summa got on again in the ninth when hit by a pitched ball. Page issued no free passes.

Seattle Wins Easily
 Seattle evened the series with Portland at two-alls by running away with a game of 12 to 5. Fred Muller, Seattle second baseman, who got two home runs the previous day, continued his heavy bat work by collecting two more, one of which scored two men ahead of him. The Indians knocked Zahniser, Portland pitcher, off the mound in the seventh inning in the course of a five run barrage, including one of Muller's homers.

The San Francisco Seals opened their series against the Oaks with a 4 to 1 victory, though Ray Thomas for 11 hits, Jimmy Zinn, pitching for the Seals, allowed 8 hits and helped the victory along by getting three hits off his own. The Oaks had visions of a ninth inning rally when Leroy Anton homered, but Zinn fanned the next three batters.

Races Trim Missions
 Sacramento played snappy ball to beat the Missions 7 to 2. The Senators made all their runs off Bert Cole, who was lifted in the seventh for a pinch hitter. Sacramento out-hit the Reds 11 to 7, and played errorless ball.

OLYMPIC HOPES

Emil Hirschfeld of Germany and Leo Sexton, formerly of Georgetown, are likely to be close together in the finals of the shotput at the Olympic games this summer. Hirschfeld, just after the 1928 games, set a new world record.

U. S. HAS STRONG MEN IN WEIGHTS

But in Spite of Star Athletes, Much Opposition Faced in Shotput.

By Alan Gould
 (Associated Press Sports Editor)
 NEW YORK, June 11 (AP)—It's no longer a matter of touching 50 feet in the gentle art of hurling 16 pounds of iron shot from a seven-foot circle.

OLYMPIC SHOTPUT CHAMPIONS

Year Winner, Country Dist.
 1896 Garrett, U.S.A. 39-02
 1900 Sheldon, U.S.A. 46-03 1/2
 1904 Rose, U.S.A. 48-07
 1908 Sheehan, U.S.A. 49-04 1/2
 1912 Rose, U.S.A. 48-07 1/2
 1916 McDonald, U.S.A. 50-03 1/2
 1920 Porhola, Finl'd 48-07 1/2
 1924 Houser, U.S.A. 49-02 3/4
 1928 Kuek, U.S. 52-00 11-16 (world record)

X Olympic record, World record, 52 feet 7 1/2 inches, by Hirschfeld, Germany, 1928.

The modern athletic gladiators don't take their sweat-shirts off now until they have done better than that. They have passed 52 feet, at least a half dozen of them, since championship and a new record at the 53-foot Olympic test. It may take a 53-foot hurler to capture the world championship in the games in Los Angeles.

John Kuek, the big Kansas farmer, launched the first 52-foot shotput to win the 1928 Olympic crown. This world record stood less than two months. After he returned home, Emil Hirschfeld of Germany, who had trailed Kuek as well as Herman Brix, in the Olympics, got off a toss of 52 feet 7 1/2 inches.

Since then, Brix, the former University of Washington star; Harry Hart, the South African giant; Leo Sexton, former Georgetown all-around athlete; and Franz Douca of Czechoslovakia, all have come at least within a half dozen inches of 53 feet. In fact, it is predicted with a practice heave of 53 feet 3 inches, but his best competitive mark is considerably less.

With the leather-covered indoor shot, Sexton let go a put of 52 feet, 8 1/2 inches at Boston last winter. The cable dispatches this spring credited Douca with exceeding Hirschfeld's world record by a fraction of an inch. Brix holds the official American outdoor record, 52 feet, 8 1/2 inches.

The chances, therefore, are that the U. S. A. will have to call upon its stalwarts for some fancy heaving to maintain traditional Yankee supremacy in this test of strength and skill.

Scott Brix and Harlow Rothert, former Stanford athlete, should do the heavy work for the U. S. A.

Except for 1920, when a brace of Finns, Porhola and Niklander, topped the list, our shotputters usually have had a monopoly. It was Houser, Hartranft and Hills in 1924, Kuek and Brix in 1928.

Back in 1912, another American sweep was featured by the struggle of Finns, Prand and Niklander, the New York policeman, and Ralph Rose, former University of Michigan giant, now dead.

Rose for years held the world record of 51 feet. He was striving for a third Olympic title at Stockholm but his mightiest effort was unable by a narrow margin to match the put of 50 feet 2 3/4 inches which gave McDonald an Olympic record.

rounds delivering coal as usual, but the mother was prostrated.

"Violet was one of the nicest girls in the world," she sobbed.

"I can't understand what made my poor Violet do it," said Mrs. Sharpe, referring to her daughter's suicide.

"She could have known nothing about the baby. Both girls were happy-minded and had no need of money, as they were well paid and were not the money-grabbing kind." The mother was in tears.

EMILY SHARPE ISSUES DENIAL

STOURBRIDGE, Eng., June 11 (AP)—Emily Sharpe, whose sister Violet committed suicide in the Morrow home at Englewood, N. J., denied today that she knew anything about the kidnaping of the Lindbergh baby.

"I know nothing whatever about the kidnaping," she said as she left here for her parents' home in Beacon Hill, Mass., in a quite steady motor car.

Her sister Violet knew nothing about it either.

"Ever since that baby disappeared she was badgered and questioned by police there until she didn't know what she was saying or doing."

"I used to work for Mrs. MacDow in Englewood, not far from where the Morrrows live, but I left there to take a situation in New York four months before the kidnaping."

After the baby was stolen Violet wrote to me and I went to Englewood to see her. She was terribly upset. The police had been questioning her for hours.

"She told me that on the night the child was kidnaped she went out with two men whose names she did not know. They went for automobile ride, and she said she hadn't seen them since."

"She swore to me that she knew nothing about the child's disappearance but she said the police wouldn't believe her because she had admitted that she had gone out with two boys she didn't know, that night."

"I came back to England for a vacation soon after the kidnaping. I left New York on the Aquitania on April 6, intending to return in August."

"It is all so cruel. Violet would never have done anything to that child or helped anyone who wanted to harm it."

"The police never let her alone. They questioned her for hours. They drove her crazy. She knew nothing but they'll never believe what you tell them over there."

Emily said she had not spoken to the police in England about the case. She has been here visiting her brother-in-law, who is employed by Viscount Cobham at Hagley Hall.

SPORT SLANTS

By Alan J. Gould

(Associated Press Sports Editor)
 Whatever may have been underlying reasons, apart from his health, that brought about the resignation of John Joseph McGraw, the one-time fiery chief of the Giants needs to make no apologies after 30 years at the helm, 42 years altogether in baseball and a career studied with remarkable episodes.

Connie Mack remains but McGraw's departure really removes from the field the last of the old-time "fighters," the war-horses of baseball who asked and gave no quarter.

It is remarkable, in fact, that all three of the leaders associated with the twentieth century successes of New York's trio of big league clubs have now passed from the scene of action. The late Miller Huggins died after winning six pennants with the Yankees; Wilbert Robinson virtually was ousted after a long term of office, during which he twice captured pennants for Brooklyn. Now McGraw is off the bench, after piloting ten National league champions and three world champions.

Of course McGraw, in the last few years especially, lost much of his old truculence. He was no longer the "scrapper" of scrapping days and resented the nickname heartily. Ill health forced him to take things easier and reduced his active direction of the club to a part-time basis.

The old spirit of McGraw somehow resented modern methods and trends, the forces that outlawed or discouraged the fighting habits of ball-players in another era—McGraw's era. It was only a season or so ago that the veteran's wrath exploded in St. Louis against his old foes, the umpires. McGraw carried the fight to John Heyler, president of the National league. Some bitter words were spoken but forgotten and McGraw subsided once more.

NATIONAL FIGHT WEARING ON MEN

Near Free-For-All Occurs as Dodgers Oust Cubs From Leadership.

By Gayle Talbot
 (Associated Press Sports Writer)
 The hot fight in the National League, so hot the leadership is changing hands almost daily and no club can foretell its standing by the morrow's sundown, is beginning to wear on the players' nerves.

They're becoming quick on the trigger as the days get warmer and it becomes apparent the field is so closely matched a single game may decide the eventual winner. But for quick intervention from the sidelines there might have been a free-for-all in the final game of the Chicago-Brooklyn series yesterday at Ebbets field. The tense feeling between the clubs burst bounds in the second inning, when Bill Jurgens of the Cubs and Mickey Pfan of the Dodgers started throwing fists after a collision at second base, members of both sides rushed in and there was a wild mix-up before order was restored and the two combatants removed from the game.

Braves Out in Front
 The Dodgers went on to win, 4 to 3, behind Hollis Thurston's steady pitching. The defeat knocked the Cubs off the top and put the winning Braves back at the head of the class.

Ed Brandt, Boston southpaw, broke the Cardinals' winning streak when he bested Bill Hallahan in a tight mound duel, 2 to 1. Bill Urbanski singled, stole second and scored the winning run on Red Worthington's double in the sixth.

The Giants made it four straight from Cincinnati, 4 to 3, as Red Lucas, pitching his twelfth complete game for the Reds, lost on errors by himself and George Grantham.

The Phillies took their final with Pittsburgh, 6 to 5.

Alvin Crowder allowed only three hits as the Washington Senators blanked Chicago, 10 to 0. Osear Bluege's homerun with two on featured the winners' attack. The Athletics outslugged Cleveland, 10 to 7, in 11 innings as Simmons and Cochran hit homers, but probably lost the services of Young Ed Coleman for three months, with a broken ankle.

Earle Combs and Joe Sewell, Yankee veterans, connected in the eleventh inning to defeat the Detroit Tigers, 8 to 7. Vernon Gomez hurled the last three innings and was credited with his eleventh victory.

The St. Louis Browns knocked John Michaels from the hill in the seventh inning, scored four runs and nosed out Boston, 4 to 3.

Hope To Bring Girls' Team To La Grande Soon

Word was received here this morning by D. W. Hall, manager of the Eagles baseball club that the nationally famous girls' baseball club of Wichita, Kan., may make La Grande a stopover in a tour through the state.

The girls' club, widely known for their ability against masculine teams, will play the Eagles club if they can be brought here for a contest on Monday, July 25.

Irvin Van Blarcom, manager of the Wichita team, wired yesterday that a game in La Grande possibly could be played if he could arrange the girls' schedule satisfactorily.

The unusual novelty of a girls' team which can easily defeat most boys' pro nines in the country, is expected to draw the largest crowd of the season, according to Mr. Hall. Reports received from the feminine group indicate the nine is much stronger than last season when it went on a 10,000-mile campaign through the western states and won more than half the tilts from men's clubs.

The team now is on a tour through the west which will continue from June until October.

The club is made up of a group of midwestern and southern girls athletes who have been famous for their all-around ability for several years.

The Eagles will travel to Pendleton tomorrow afternoon to play the Pendleton town team a return engagement.

The probable starting lineup, according to Manager Hall, will be: Geddes, p; Selby, c; Brooker, 1b; Posey, 2b; Price, ss; Evans, 3b; Turner, 4b; H. Cochran, cf; Braden, rf; Nichols, Shelton, Courtney, Ledbetter, Case and Hoffman will also see service in this game.

Neil Christian Wins Northwest Open Golf Title

By Frank G. Gorrie
 SEATTLE, June 11 (AP)—A new open golf champion reigned in the Pacific Northwest today.

Neil Christian, veteran professional of the Waverly Country club, Portland, was the honored individual but it wasn't an unusual thrill for him as he had captured the crown twice before. He was elated, however, in the fact that he became the first man to ever win the title three times.

Christian traveled over 72 holes at the Ingleside course here Thursday and yesterday in 284 strokes, one of the lowest winning cards in the history of the Pacific Northwest open championship. His score was eight under par and six strokes ahead of his closest rival—Olin Dutra, vicous driving professional of Los Angeles.

Dutra trailed in a tie with Frank Price, Seattle pro, in fourth place after the first 36 holes Thursday but yesterday will Willie Price, Olympia, Emory Zimmerman, Portland and Rodia were having their troubles, he slipped into second money with 290.

The other three managed to get into the money along with Mortie Dutra, Lang Beach, a brother of Olin. Price was second with 293; Zimmerman and Rodia were tied for fourth with 294 and Rodia took the sixth purse with 295.

Forest Watson of Seattle, captured amateur honors with 304, nosing out Scotty Campbell, fellow-townsmen by one stroke.

Eldred Zimmerman, brother of Emey, defending champion, trailed in fourteenth place with 307. He defeated Don Moo, Portland amateur, a week ago for the honor of representing the Pacific Northwest in the national open and he said he believed he was state and planned to take a rest.

Emery posted the best 18-hole score of the tournament, bagging a sensational 68. Five under par in the morning round yesterday. The fancy card thrilled the small gallery and put him within three strokes of Christian at that time but a nasty 42 on the final nine of the day ruined his chances.

BOSTON WOOL

BOSTON, June 11 (AP)—Increased activity of manufacturers and top makers in the wool market during the past week has created a more cheerful tone. Interest was distinctly broader than for some time and resulted in the actual purchase of fair quantities of wool, trading as of sufficient volume to give a little more definite idea of values on several grades of domestic wool. Sentiment in the market, however, remains somewhat mixed, owing to the lack of a general participation in the recent demand.

OMAHA SHEEP

OMAHA, June 11 (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Sheep 4,500; compared week ago; lambs and yearlings weak to 25c lower, sheep steady, feeders weak; closing bulks fed wooled range fed, clipped and native lambs $5.75 to $6.00; ewes $1.00 to $1.50.

CAMP RESTRICTIONS TO BEGIN ON JULY 1

while in timber, brush or grass areas on national forest land except on paved or surfaced highways (and on the Siuslaw national forest).

B. Throughout the entire year:

4. Building a campfire in grass, leaves, rotten wood, or other dangerous places, or in windy weather, without clearing around the fire pit and confining the fire to a hole.

5. Leaving any fire to burn unattended or allowing it to totally extinguish a fire before leaving it.

6. Throwing or placing lighted cigarette, cigar, pipe heel, match, firecracker or other burning substance, or discharging fireworks, in any place where they may start a fire.

The above rules of general application are frequently supplemented by special restrictions necessary for the protection of certain areas of unusually high fire hazard. Special notices are always posted as trail and road entrances to areas where any additional precautionary measures are effective. Such restrictions may include closures: (a) to all smoking; (b) to all camping; (c) to all public use except by settlers within the area; (d) to entry except after registering at designated places and securing permits authorizing entry under certain conditions.

Wightman Cup Is To Remain With American Women

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 11 (AP)—The United States successfully defended the Wightman cup, women's international tennis trophy, today as Helen Wills Moody, the American champion, defeated Dorothy Round, of Great Britain. It was the fourth straight victory and clinched the series.

Mrs. Moody was victorious over Miss Round by scores of 6-2, 6-3.

The American team captured all three matches yesterday.

It was the first time since 1926 that the American women triumphed on Wimbledon's turf in the Wightman Cup matches.

The United States now has the biggest lead yet enjoyed in the series by either country, with six team victories in ten years.

Mrs. Eileen Bennett Whittingstall gave the English team its first triumph of the series when she defeated Helen Jacobs, 6-4, 2-6, 6-1.

Sarazen Will Be Guest at Dinner In Gotham Friday

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP)—Via transatlantic telephone, Gene Sarazen, newly crowned British open golf champion, has accepted an invitation to attend a dinner to be given in his honor here next Friday night.

The invitation was extended by Johnny Farrell on behalf of John Innes, president of the Metropolitan Professional Golfers' association which is sponsoring the affair.

"Oh, boy, am I excited," was Gene's greeting to Farrell on the phone. "This is a greater kick for me than when I won the U. S. Open. And maybe the crowd didn't get excited when they saw I had a chance to break Bobby Jones' record. It's a wonder I was able to finish the round. I'll see you in New York Friday."

GENE SARAZEN FOR HOME

SCOTTHAMPTON, Eng., June 11 (AP)—Gene Sarazen, bearing the cup emblematic of his record-breaking victory in the British open golf championship, left for the United States today on the Mauretania.

"My ambition now is to win the double crown," smiled Gene, "and I am going back to try to add the American open to my list of winnings. We ought to give 'em a good show out there on Long Island."

Sarazen was accompanied by Macdonald Smith, who finished second, and Tommy Armour, the dethroned holder of the British title.

"A hit before it even opens, that's THE CHAMP."
