Preacher Refunds On Wedding Fee MONTGOMERY, Mo. (AP)— Sober second thoughts—or acute scarcity of ready cash—brought an unusual request to the Rev. R. E. McQuie, Baptist minister and former chaplain of the Missouri senate.

He received a letter from a bridegroom at whose wedding he had officiated, after publication of a newspaper story to the effect that Mr. McQuie made no specific charge for marriages.

"I wish you would please return at least $3 of the $5 I paid you," said the letter. Mr. McQuie compromised by returning $2.50.

Bitter Expression The expression "Solid pudding against empty praise" is from Alexander Pope's "Dunciad." In olden times kings protected poets, artists and musicians, and frequently gave them board and lodging, or a stipend on which to live. When aspiring poets received only praise and needed solid sustenance an empty stomach made the praise empty.

Most Famous Bible The Gutenberg Bible first appeared on August 15, 1450, a large folio of 1,282 pages printed in Latin, in double columns with spaces left in the text for hand-colored initials. Only 41 copies are known to exist, 11 of which are in the United States.

But They Can't Collect "Yawning" says a medical man, "improves the lines and contours of the face." Possibly there are many young men who can recall a girl who owes them something for beauty treatments.—Toledo Blade.

Few Fans To See What May Be One Of World's Greatest Matches

By Herbert W. Barker (Associated Press Sports Writer) NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)— Max Schmeling and Jack Sharkey may put on one of the greatest fights of modern times in Madison Square Garden's new outdoor bowl on Long Island next Tuesday night. And if they do, one of the smallest crowds in modern heavyweight championship history may be there to see it. All indications now point to an unprecedented lack of interest among the customers. Those well-known dyed-in-the-wool fanatics who formerly would have thought no room of remaining absent from a heavyweight title fight than of passing up their daily dinner are doing both these days. There has been much criticism of the Garden's action in scaling prices as high as $25. The latter figure, for choice ringside positions, is out of reach of many of the pocketbooks that once shelled out double that for seats at previous title battles, notably those in which Jack Dempsey was a figure. From an original estimate of 4700-5000 or more, the Garden now figures a "gate" of $400,000. And even that, in the eyes of some critics, seems over-optimistic by at least $100,000. They believe a crowd of 40,000 is the most the Garden reasonably can expect. The new bowl seats 77,000.

The fighters themselves seem to be concerned not at all about the size of the gate, anxious rather to renew their rivalry that ended so suddenly two years ago. Schmeling regards the bout as his chance for vindication before the New York crowd that saw him win the heavyweight title so ingloriously on a foul. Sharkey, possibly the most erratic heavyweight that ever reached a contender's position, sees in it his last real chance to win the title he has sought so long.

Early the U. S. L. T. A. is giving Vines every chance to get in shape. The one consistent quality is the doubles combination of Allison and John Van Ryn. They should win against any team in the world this season.

TO THE RESCUE When Connie Mack needed pitching re-inforcements for his well known Big Three, he landed the veteran Waite Hoyt, who promptly plugged just the desired relief. He is due up to bat in the world series when he tossed nothing but baseballs to young Master Martin in the critical fifth game at Shibe park.

CASTING about for help this spring, with Rube Walberg and even Earnshaw falling considerably short of expectations, the leader of the A's grabbed young Tony Freitas, south-paw star of the Sacramento club of the Pacific Coast league.

Freitas, a Portuguese, turned in a notable game as a farewell gesture to the coast league, and then came close to baffling the Washington Senators completely in his American League debut. But for the mistake of tossing a home run ball to Joe Cronin, Tony would have come off neatly with the decision. As it was he did ten innings of better than average work before being relieved by Earnshaw who lost the game.

With Grove alone showing 1931 consistency for the A's, the three-time champions will welcome a show of real effectiveness by Freitas, especially since Joe Bowman and Lew Krausse have failed to sustain Mack's confidence.

G. O. P. SHOW VACATES FOR DEMOCRATS

(Continued From Page One) tion to him. There was a movement for a younger and more spectacular figure. And there was an important undercurrent of opposition growing out of the social war which had been waged in Washington over the presence of Mrs. Curtis' sister, Mrs. Dolly Gann, and Alice Longworth.

Against this combined opposition, the Curtis people plied an interesting game. At their head was Mrs. Gann herself, receiving constantly at her hotel, present in a box at every session, and she had been busy at work in fact for months beforehand, making speeches to Republican gatherings far and wide, and in every one of them she had praised the achievements of the Hoover administration.

When the Curtis camp found, in Chicago, that it needed the help of the administration, it got it. States lukewarm toward Curtis, for instance, but undecided where to go, were advised to put up favorite sons, and keep on the sidelines until they saw how events were turning.

It worked very well. When the roll was called, the opposition was widely split, and no one was within gunshot of Curtis. He himself did not quite have the needed majority, but under the circumstances, the big Pennsylvania delegation quickly changed its vote for him.

Had the field been able to get together behind one opponent, the result might have been very different. Sanders' Surprise It is not yet apparent exactly what strategy was behind the decision, made at about the same time, to elect Everest Sanders to the national chairmanship. The choice of President Hoover and his advisers surprised almost everyone. Sanders had not been mentioned widely in previous speculation.

It was the understanding that the president was looking for a business man for chairman, with contacts which would be a help in filling up the empty party campaign chest. Sanders, a former member of congress, has practiced law in Washington since he retired as secretary to President Coolidge. He has not maintained the very active contact with politics.

CHICAGO, June 17 (AP)— Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson sees in the Republican plank on prohibition a "well-founded program to retain the benefits derived from the 18th amendment and eliminate the evils. Vigorously defending the plank in a radio address, he said last night that it was no "straw man."

"It is perfectly consistent," he said, "perfectly definite and perfectly logical. It is well-founded in law and fact."

He criticized Senator Bingham's minority proposal for outright repeal as "an impatient demand to abrogate the entire work of the past 13 years under the 18th amendment, and to confess it to be an entire failure."

To condemn indiscriminately, without disentangling the gains from the evils, would be, he said, an act of "social folly."

The hearing had been postponed on the assurance of Reuss and two committee doctors that Fox would be able to appear.

"Burdette started something in which he had no business to enter when he openly declared war and argued in the supreme court against our ballot title," Ramage stated. "Our league now has representatives on its curatorial program in 36 counties in the state. Unless Burdette is muzzled we will not support the three-fold program of the government."

The bulk of the money thus far spent by the Marion group on its consolidation program has come from Portland, Ramage said, along with Henry Zorn, president of the group, refused to disclose the specific sources of the league's revenue.

"There are lots of business men in Portland who have put up money and will continue to do so," he said.

MUCH BUYING DONE BEFORE EXCISE TAX

Bradstreet Shows Upward Movement of Markets Over the Country.

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)— Retail buying power continued to show considerable breadth during the past week, and trade activity was further stimulated by active commodity buying in certain wholesale markets in anticipation of excise taxes recently adopted by congress, according to the weekly mercantile trade review.

Bradstreet's reported a continuation of the upward seasonal trend in merchandising in some sections, although others, particularly the central and southwestern divisions showed a decided lull.

"While summer dullness is coming on," said this review, "seasonal spring buying has been sufficiently deferred until now to bring retail volume about up to last year."

There has been a sharp upturn in some of the manufacturing and producing communities in anticipation of taxes to be imposed under the recent statutes enacted by congress. Rubber products, particularly automobile tires, are being made and sold in large quantities. In addition there has been an increase in quotations for all non-ferrous metals except copper.

Dun's said the most encouraging reports of distributive gains are being received from the southeast and that orders from merchants in rural districts are assuming a broad trend. This review also referred to the increased activities in manufacturing centers in response to the impending taxes.

Wilmer Allison looked by far the best singles shot of the team but he was sidetracked in favor of Frank Shields in the Australian series. The big New Yorker whose middle initial is "C" apparently will be "in the spot" for the main competition abroad.

Elsworth Vines remains designated by the "P". Apparently the lanky Californian intends to give the folks heart-failure before he comes through. He has been extremely erratic all spring. Yet, like Shields, he has "everything" when it works. By sending him abroad

DAVILA TAKES HELM AT SANTIAGO AGAIN

SANTIAGO, Chile, June 17 (AP)— Carlos Davila, former Chilean government for the second time in less than two weeks, informed the Associated Press today that he and his associates plan to create a purely socialist state and that if necessary they will attain their ends by force of arms.

"This government," he said, a few hours after he had overthrown the one headed by Colonel Marmaduke Grove, "will continue along the lines originally projected for a socialist republic of Chile. Armed forces will support the fully democratic and constitutional assembly which will be called soon to write a constitution for the socialist republic. Until then the government will confine its acts as nearly as possible within the present constitution."

While he talked cavalrymen rode up and down through the streets outside the presidential palace which he had just vacated. Former ambassador to the United States, took over early this morning after an exciting counter-revolution against the Grove regime. The troops were ordered to keep order, but a matter of fact the city was generally quiet.

"We aim to create a purely socialist state," said the new head of the government, "it will be a moderate socialist state with no connection whatever either with the extreme left or the extreme right."

He said he and his associates would proceed immediately against the "extreme left" by which he meant Colonel Grove and those who served him.

Many were speculating today whether any suggestion from Mr. Coolidge figured in the selection of new chairmanship. It was known that up to a few days ago, Mr. Hoover was considering William M. Butler of Massachusetts, the former president's close friend and manager.

It hardly is expected that much will be heard in the near future from the new Republican party set-up. Sanders and Curtis are more than likely to do their work quietly for the present, tending the Democrats air their troubles at their convention, and hold the spotlight for a while.

BORN THIRTY YEARS TOO SOON

HIS HEALTH IMPROVED 40%

After Use of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

If you are constipated, read this letter which Mr. Murray had typed by Notary Public:

"Two months ago I commenced using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN to relieve constipation. I am in better health today than I have been in years, due to the use of your wonderful bran. My bowels move regularly, and my general health has improved 40%."—George A. Murray, 288 K Street, South Boston, Mass.

Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN brings two things needed to correct common constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines; Vitamin B1 to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently it clears the intestines of wastes.

How much better to use ALL-BRAN than to abuse your system with pills and drugs—often harmful.

Two tablespoons daily will overcome most types of constipation—in serious cases, with every meal. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Use as a cereal with milk or cream, or in cooking. At all grocers in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
