NEW YORK, June 21 (AP)—For glory, honor and comparatively little cash, Max Schmeling and Jack Sharkey clash in a 15-round heavyweight championship bout in Long Island City tonight.

William F. Carey, president of Madison Square Garden which is promoting the match in the new outdoor arena on Long Island, predicts gross receipts in the neighborhood of $400,000. Even that figure, staggering as it is in these times, seems trifling when viewed from the point of view of the million-dollar "gates" of the Dempsey era.

Plain Mr. Fight Fan was not particularly interested in the gross receipts beyond deciding how much he would contribute to them. He viewed the match as a duel of two closely matched gladiators and the betting fraternity supported him in that opinion.

Schmeling Gets Odds

The odds continued at 6 to 5 with Schmeling a favorite, although some betting commissioners were quoting 11 to 10 and take your pick. Odds against a knockout by either man were 3 to 1.

Both Schmeling and Sharkey came down from their training camps in upper New York state in excellent condition. Sharkey has been the more impressive during the training grind but the experts pointed out that Schmeling never had looked any too good in a gymnasium. He needs real competition to look his best.

The Teuton has come far since that June night two years ago when Sharkey battered him around for three rounds and then fouted him into the championship in the fourth. Then he was a green, game youngster, a powerful puncher with his right hand and possessed of all the stamina in the world.

Endurance Amazing

Now he is a champion in fact as well as name, a punishing hitter with either hand, a much more elusive target than he used to be, and still gifted with amazing endurance. He stunned some of the experts with his masterly performance against Young Stribling last year in his first title defense, cutting down the rugged Georgian in the 15th and final round.

But if Schmeling is spurred on not so much by a desire to retain his title as to achieve vindication for his somewhat indolent victory in 1930, there is desperation behind Sharkey's challenge.

Sharkey Needs to Win

The Boston far simply can't afford to lose. He is getting only 10 per cent of the receipts, hardly enough to pay for his training expenses, but he wants the title. This may be his last chance. Time after time had been knocking at the door to the heavyweight throne room only to find it closed to him through his own erratic performances. Lack of control cost him several important matches, and indifference several others.

Although the bowl will seat 71,872 persons, not more than 55,000 or 60,000 are expected tonight. There may not be that many even though there are more than 40,000 seats at from $2 to $5 plus tax. Top price for choice ringside positions is $23.

The New York American's milk fund was to share in the net profits to the extent of 25 per cent — with a guarantee of $10,000.

Golden Bears Win Finals At Poughkeepsie

By Alan Gould (Associated Press Sports Editor)

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 21 (AP)—California's crew for California's Olympics wasn't just a slogan today. It looked very much like a prophecy, instead, as a result of the smashing victory of the Golden Bears over six eastern and one far western rival last evening in the four-mile varsity championship race of the intercollegiate regatta.

So far duplicating their triumphal naval maneuvers of 1928, when they swept unbeaten to world championship heights in the Olympics, the Californians now turn to the American Olympic try-outs, to be held July 7-9 on Lake Quinsigwond, and a prospective battle with Yale, among others.

There will be a strong fleet assembled for the Olympic tests, including at least two of the losing boatloads yesterday, Washington and Syracuse, as well as Wisconsin, Columbia's graduate eight and the Penn A. C. but the situation today pointed strongly toward another spectacular duel between California and Yale, for the right to represent the United States at Los Angeles.

Over the Olympic distance of 2000 meters (approximately one mile and a quarter) California barely turned back the Ella four years ago. Yale was the Olympic victor in 1924 so that each has the incentive to swing back on the international seas. Meanwhile on the ancient Thames at New London, Yale must best Harvard before raising its hopes for the Olympics too high.

Over the four-mile route yesterday, California registered one of the most decisive varsity victories witnessed on old man river in a number of years. The Bears failed to touch their own course record, due to a wind that shifted up stream, but administered a pretty sound beating to Cornell's powerful boatload, as well as Washington, Navy's defending champions and the highly rated but extremely disappointed Syracuse eight.

Rusty Gill, star California fullback whose pugilistic career ended with a knockout, has signed to make movie football pictures.

Boston Red Sox Making All-Time Defeat Record

By Gayle Talbot

In all that has been said and written of records broken and records threatened in the current major league baseball race, one of the most interesting of the lot has been overlooked almost completely.

The Boston Red Sox stand a fine chance of cracking the all-time American league mark for games lost in a season.

With the season well past the one-third post, the Sox have won just 11 contests, against 47 defeats for a percentage of 190 in the American league. Back in 1899 a Cleveland club of the old National league won only 20 games while losing 134. The Sox might not equal that mark, but they should have little difficulty bettering the next lowest record of 36 won and 117 lost set by the Philadelphia Athletics in 1916.

By way of proving they could lose as gracefully for their new manager, Marty McManus, as they had for John Collins, the Bostonians dropped their opener to Detroit yesterday, 6 to 4. McManus became a full-fledged member of the managers' association when he was chased for arguing a decision.

The Yankees kept intact their seven and one-half game lead over the field by beating St. Louis, 3 to 1. Lefty Gomez held the Browns to three hits in achieving his 13th victory in 14 games.

Jimmie Fox's 27th homerun and 25 other assorted hits provided the second place Athletics with an 18 to 11 victory over Chicago. Roger Cranner hit six singles, tying the major league record in that respect. Alvin Crowder bested Wes Ferrell in a tight duel as Washington shaded Cleveland, 3 to 2.

The National league race tightened around the top as the Boston took an 11-inning struggle from Cincinnati 3 to 2, while Chicago was dropping a 7 to 5 verdict to the Phillies. The Cubs were only a game and a half in front today.

Some sterling pitching by Vaz Mungo, plus a homerun by Al Lopez in the fourth frame and a "money" single by Joe Tripp in the seventh enabled Brooklyn to nose out Pittsburgh, 2 to 1.

The Cardinals and Giants were not scheduled.

Kinzel, Moore Tie In Tourney

L. K. Kinzel and Dr. A. M. Moore tied for the leading score in the "tin whistle" tournament played Sunday at the La Grande country club, Bob Duncan, professional, announces.

Many players took advantage of the excellent weather of Sunday and spent the day at the country club course.

Mr. Kinzel, with a net of 74, and Dr. Moore, with 75 net, both made 34 points. Ken Siegrist placed second, winning 32 points with a net score of 77. While W. C. Perkins was third with a net of 78 scoring 31 points.

Home run honors in the league are still held by Muller of Seattle, with sixteen circuit clouts to his credit. Base stealing honors are held by Fred Haney, Los Angeles, with eighteen thefts to his credit.

Baseball wars of the Pacific coast league shifted to new fronts today, with the Seals-Beavers series in Portland ticketed as the most important of the week with respect to percentage standings.

The Seals are within half a game of the first-place Hollywood Stars last Sunday morning, but lost two games to the southerners that day, and are now in third place, a game and a half behind Portland. The series this week is not only a private scrap, but the winner will be in a position to challenge the league leaders.

The Stars will take on the Oaks in Los Angeles, and if for some reason anything the league leaders should stay at the top and perhaps strengthen their hold.

The Missions come home to San Francisco from Los Angeles to take on the Senators in a daylight series. Los Angeles, fourth in the league standing, goes north to play Seattle, anxious to stay in the first division.

The games in the north and in Los Angeles this week will be under electric lights, while in San Francisco daylight ball will prevail.

It wasn't until 1890 that two minutes was broken in the half-mile run and this year's prospective winner, Benn Eastman of Stanford, is close to 1:50. Eastman's new world record of 46.4 for the quarter mile compares with 56 seconds for the first winner, Stevens of Williams, in 1876, who won the 100-yard dash in the same meet in 11 seconds flat.

No eastern squad has a chance to come within hailing distance of the two coast universities in the battle for points. But the easterners are used to having this trophy reside in Los Angeles, Palo Alto or Berkeley. The western talent has been supreme in the meet every year, but one (Yale in 1924) since 1921.

The eastern talent occupies somewhat the same position in relation to its ancient meet as do the Finns against the U. S. A. in the Olympics. The boys from the Atlantic seaboard figure to furnish the best performances in the distance races and field events. They haven't much to offer against such speed kings as Wykoff, Kiesel and Eastman.

As the coast experts view his performances, Eastman shows no signs of going stale, but, instead, appears to be running faster as spring blossoms into summer.

Let us not overlook this Kansas lad, Glen Cunningham, in taking any future stock of America's chances in the Olympic 1500 meters.

While Gene Venace, the winter sensation in the east, has been on the shelf with strained hip muscles, Cunningham has galloped right into the fore-front of our best mile-running talent. His victory in 4:11 in the N. C. A. A. championships for the fastest outdoor mile ever run in this hemisphere confirms previous testimony in his favor.

This sudden rush of Uncle Sam's college milers is a trifle amazing as well as gratifying. The boys seem to be working on a new time table.

Eckhart Topping Coast League for Batting Average

(By The Associated Press)

The Coast league had a new leader in batting averages today. He is Oscar Eckhart, Mission outfielder, with an average of .410.

Eckhart displaced Al Demaree, youthful Sacramento star, who is now second with an average of .372. A Los Angeles outfielder, Arnold Stutz, stands third with .367.

Home run honors in the league are still held by Muller of Seattle, with sixteen circuit clouts to his credit. Base stealing honors are held by Fred Haney, Los Angeles, with eighteen thefts to his credit.
