

DECREASE IN EGGS FAILS TO RELIEVE

Tomatoes Are Expected to Take Price Drop—Blackberries Arrive

PORTLAND, June 22 (AP) — Continued decrease in offerings of eggs is noticeable on the local market as there is little actual improvement in the price situation. The local market is better in a sentimental way with the removal of some of the former demoralizing competition.

Latest survey of the situation indicates that the farm egg lay is decreasing very rapidly. These appear the worst competition in the trade, inasmuch as many farmers sell direct to retailers and usually 1 to 2c doz. below values regularly established.

Trade in the butter market continues to reflect practical steadiness for both prints and cubes. There appears a sufficient supply for all needs at the moment.

Chickens Still Weak

In general a weak tone is reflected in the market for live chickens along the wholesale way. There was no further change in the price list but demand was just able to absorb supplies.

Practically no changes in the price list on country killed meats was shown for the day although veal offerings are of fair volume. Sales of hogs, veal and lamb were made within the price range.

Further slide in prices is suggested for tomatoes, including both hot-house and outdoor stock. The market is very badly congested and the trend of values appears still lower.

Raspberries slow

Trifle slower tone appeared generally in the markets for berries. Strawberries were about a dime lower. Raspberries were also lower with a nominal call. It was difficult to move loganberries.

First shipment of blackberries of the season appeared with a half crate of fancy fruit from the Roseburg section. The stock was grown by C. N. Howard of Looking Glass. Sold $1 for the half crate.

First Lambert cherries of the season were also received. These were from Maryhill, Wash., and consisted of 3 boxes of 15 lbs. which sold $1.40 box. Entire cherry market is reported slow at low prices.

Notes of wholesale trading:

Fresh black figs are showing a better movement.

Both watermelons and caseabas are lower, with the former steady in the south.

Honey Dew melons are also lower with a slow movement.

Green beans are weaker and lower with liberal supplies. Wax too.

Peas are down again with increased stock but fancy telephones are in call for shipment.

New northwest potatoes are generally a shade lower.

The one bright spot in the price list is cabbage. Dales stock is advanced to 2 1/2c lb.

Southern yams are so plentiful that the price has dropped to 50¢/75¢ bu. hamper, the lowest known here for quality.

Head lettuce is active with prices maintained.

Oregon Celery Shipped East

PORTLAND, June 22 (AP) — First rail shipments of new crop Oregon celery are being made to the east by the Oregon Gardeners' association. The supplies are from the Labish territory and are moving in mixed cars of other vegetables.

Market for celery is showing a fair degree of improvement throughout the country although the season is still too young to force carload business. Sales of smaller lots are being made up to 43 half crates, which is considered a very favorable price.

Celery crop of the state continues to indicate excellent output except in spots where more or less damage is already confirmed. This year's acreage is slightly in excess of that of last year. In fact it is the greatest area ever planted to celery in this state.

PORTLAND CASH

Oats: No. 2 white $22.50.

Today's car receipts: wheat 27; oats 1; hay 1.

Raspberries And Cherries Appear On Local Markets

CORVALLIS, Ore., June 22 (AP) — Shipments of fresh fruits and vegetables from the northwest last week were about 100 cars heavier than for the same period last year, said the weekly report issued today by the O. S. C. extension service and the U. S. D. A. bureau of agricultural economics. Carloadings totaled 970 for the week.

Most of the Royal Anne cherry crop at The Dalles has been harvested and barreled but Bing shipments are just beginning.

Difficultly is being encountered by quarantine regulations against some Oregon cherry shipments because of suspected cherry fruit flies in several sections. Willamette valley and Union county cherries cannot legally move into Washington, Montana, California and most parts of Idaho but can go to all states east of the Rockies. Hood River cherries are barred from Washington and California. Umatilla, Wasco, Douglas, Josephine, Jackson and Curry county shipments are unaffected.

The Oregon peach crop is estimated at 316,000 bushels, compared with 224,000 bushels last year. The June 1 condition of Oregon apples was considerably better than last year but below the 10-year average.

AL SMITH SAYS DRY BILL MUST BE DESTROYED

running mate?"

"I haven't thought that out yet," he replied.

Roosevelt Talk Ballyhoo

Smith reiterated that talk about Roosevelt being nominated on the first ballot was "a little ballyhoo."

"I thought you described that in New York as a bedtime story," some one suggested.

"Well, that is a kind of modified ballyhoo," Smith replied.

He refused to predict how many votes the New York delegation would give him.

"Asked about his part in the 'stop Roosevelt,' movement, Smith said: 'There is nothing to that. I'm combating a stop Smith movement that commenced one year and a half ago.'"

"Why do you oppose Roosevelt?" he was asked.

"I want myself nominated."

"Who is your second choice?"

"I haven't got any. I am for myself alone."

Smith said he did not believe the convention would abrogate the two-thirds nominating rule. Asked if he would support the nominee of the convention, he said it was not necessary to "talk about that at this time."

"Will you urge an economic plank?"

"I can't tell until I see the product of the committee."

Hague to Manage

Smith said he had appointed Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City as his floor manager.

"He leads the grand march," the 1928 nominee added with a grin.

"Nominata Me."

Asked what the Democrats should do on the whole to assure success in November, Smith replied: "Write an honest straightforward and clear platform and nominate me."

"How many ballots will that take?"

"That depends on how fast the delegates can see."

Smith said it depended entirely upon developments between now and the first day of the convention next Monday whether he would address the convention on any issue.

He said he was opposed to a cash bonus plank but that he did not care to state the reasons at this time.

"What about Speaker Garner's statement (urging prohibition repeal)?"

"The more the merrier," Smith said, concluding the interview.

Smith said he favored Jettett Shouse for permanent chairman and would take the floor if necessary in the fight to nominate him. He added, however, that he believed Shouse would be elected without a contest on the floor.

He opened his press conference in a manner reminiscent of his 1928 campaign days. After announcing he had a statement, he shook hands with numerous friends among the newspapermen while the copies were being passed out.

Close behind Smith, Senator Hull of Tennessee, prominently mentioned as chairman of the resolutions committee, arrived with the statement that he found the consensus of wets and dries in the party to be for a plan submitting to the people the question of repeal or retention of the eighteenth amendment.
