COUNTY RELIEF IS PLANNED BY GROUP FROM CIVIC CLUBS

The county agricultural agent, H. G. Avery, is to be added to the committee along with a representative woman qualified to mobilize the women of the county for relief work. They will augment a committee including Judge Couch, Miss Alice Marquardt, A. McAllister, city manager, and will draw up a plan of work which will be presented at a county wide meeting in the near future. The three original members and the agricultural agent will choose the other member. The unemployed will be called on to co-operate in canning fruit and vegetables and as many as possible are expected to get at least a part of their own supply, since the committee believes that the farmers and growers will co-operate in donating their surplus to the relief program.

Many worthy men are unemployed at the present time, and Judge Couch states that the majority would work if they could find the work to do. Therefore he believes it is essential that they be helped during the coming winter. The only way in which they can be helped, members of the committee feel, is to give their own services in helping prepare foodstuffs for the winter.

No Idle Idea Wanted Members of the committee want especially that the unemployed will not come to regard the fruits of the relief program as their just due, but that they will help the committees which will be appointed to direct the work. This morning's meeting grew out of a recent session called by Governor Meier, which was attended by county officials. There they formulated a program which will be carried out in each of the counties of the state.

County Baseball Team Is Feature of Big Celebration (Continued From Page One) While the Montana delegation is instructed to work for abrogation of the two-thirds rule, its members seemed quite willing to avoid unnecessary hostilities. "It is quite possible," said Senator Walsh, "that the matter will come before the convention later in the session, after nominations have been made and that the Montana delegation then will have an opportunity to follow the state convention's instructions."

CHICAGO, June 27 (AP)— Discontent in the ranks of Roosevelt Southern delegations led some of the members of the board of strategy for the New York governor today seriously to consider abandonment of the fight against the two-thirds rule. These leaders of Governor Roosevelt insisted the votes were available by a narrow margin for abrogation of the two-thirds rule, but they were concerned over the sharp reaction among some Southern delegations friendly to the New York governor. As the convention opened, the Roosevelt board of strategy went into a new session to check up on the last minute result of state caucuses. James A. Farley, New York, head of the board of strategy, insisted that the Roosevelt group was going through with its fight but there was a division of opinion among the members. Alabama and North Carolina voted overwhelmingly against abrogation of the rule. It was these votes in delegations, however, friendly to Roosevelt, that caused discussion of the change in policy by the governor's leaders. Robert Hitchcock, Omaha publisher and chairman of the resolution committee was surprised to hear of Roosevelt's decision. Nebraska loyal Tom S. Allen, chairman of the Nebraska delegation, said "we are with Roosevelt in every move." Maine delegates instructed for Roosevelt, and who in caucus voted eight to four against abrogation, called the statement as assuring Roosevelt's nomination. "It's the best thing that ever happened," said P. Otis Gold, of Madison Me., delegation chairman. "It means Roosevelt's nomination and his election." Senator C. C. Dill, Roosevelt leader on the Washington state delegation, expressed surprise when informed of the decision. "I think the rule should be abrogated, because that is right," Dill said, "but, of course, if Governor Roosevelt wants to drop the fight, we will go along with him." "Roosevelt must have counted noses and found out he couldn't put it over." While the Montana delegation is instructed to work for abrogation of the two-thirds rule, its members seemed quite willing to avoid unnecessary hostilities. "It is quite possible," said Senator Walsh, "that the matter will come before the convention later in the session, after nominations have been made and that the Montana delegation then will have an opportunity to follow the state convention's instructions."

Special Program To Be Staged At Wallowa Lake

An extensive entertainment program for next weekend has been arranged at Wallowa Lake for the benefit of those who go there for the three-day holiday, Saturday, Sunday, and Monday. The Polka Dots, a girls orchestra from Spokane will be on hand to provide music for dancing, beginning Saturday evening. An invitational inter-city tennis tournament begins Sunday morning at ten o'clock. On Monday morning there will be races and various contests for everyone, and in the afternoon there is to be a baseball game between the Pendleton and Enterprise teams. The celebration will be climaxed by a fireworks display on the lake shore Monday evening.

An abundance of moisture has resulted in a heavy growth of vegetation at Wallowa Lake this year, and the forests and mountains are now at their best. The roads to the lake are all in very good condition, the Minam hill section having been widened recently. Fishing in the lake has been excellent this season, and the river up to the falls will be open for fishing on July 1. There is still considerable snow on the mountains for the benefit of those who want a touch of winter in July.

Forest Officials Attend Meet Of Fire Fighters

About 60 men employed by the national forest met for their annual school, held at Boundary creek ranger station near Granite, Grant county, June 21, 22 and 23, according to forest officials stationed in La Grande. The state forest fire patrol was represented by District Warden L. C. Morehead and H. A. Thornburg of La Grande; Bruce Morehead and Carl Clark, of Starkey.

A program of map work, pacing, compass work, firefighting and other beneficial features of forest service activities was presented, and talks on the prevention of the fire hazard were presented by Mr. Kuhn, Mr. Pain and Mr. Huff.

In view of the fact that several fires were caused last year by firecrackers, attention is now being drawn to the Oregon forest law which makes it unlawful to throw away lighted matches or other firestuffs. Careful attention to this warning will probably prevent much trouble and unwanted loss, they believe.

VANCOUVER MAN KILLED

VANCOUVER, Wash., June 27 (AP)— Arthur Johnson, 33, of Vancouver, was injured fatally and three others were injured when their automobile left the highway 18 miles from here and crashed into a telephone pole early Sunday.

DROPS EFFORT TO ABROGATE PARTY RULE

chairmanship, said he was glad to hear of the governor's statement because "it will dispose of a very controversial subject." "In my judgment the governor is a good sport," he added.

V. Y. Dallman, leader of the downstate Illinois Roosevelt forces and one of the "key" floor men for Farley, interpreted the governor's action as "evidence that Roosevelt believes he has enough strength to win without abrogation." "I'm still for the majority rule," Gov. Harry H. Woodring of Kansas, said "because it follows the precedent of all Democratic state organizations and because the two-thirds rule is undemocratic."

CHICAGO STADIUM, June 27 (AP)— Temporary organization of the Democratic national convention was effected today with Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky as temporary chairman and keynoter.

CHICAGO, June 27 (AP)— The Maine delegation voted today, 8 to 4, for maintaining the two-thirds rule. The delegation was the first to conclude its caucus. More than half a dozen other states were in meetings which may determine whether the Roosevelt forces will win or lose their fight to abrogate the two-thirds rule.

On that other hotly contested dispute, whether Jouett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic executive committee, or Senator Walsh, of Montana, shall be permanent chairman of the convention, the Maine delegation voted seven for Shouse and five for Walsh. The North Carolina delegation, which Governor Roosevelt last night had urged in a speech over telephone from Albany to be "good Democrats," voted 41 to 8 for keeping the two-thirds rule. The Roosevelt instructed Nevada delegation agreed, however, to vote for abrogation of the two-thirds rule. It has six votes. The Tennessee delegation launched first into a discussion of prohibition and wound up by shouting approval of a resolution calling for modification of the Volstead act to legalize the sale of beer. It took no action on the rules question, but chose a Roosevelt supporter for its member of the committee on permanent organization. The delegation's 24 votes are pledged to Roosevelt. The Iowa delegation voted 14 to 11 against abrogating the two-thirds rule. Its 26 votes are pledged to Roosevelt. The South Carolina delegation

Name Delegates For Conventions

Mrs. Charles Gump and Mrs. C. W. Chandler were named delegates to the national convention in Milwaukee during August when the woman's auxiliary to the United Spanish War divided on the chairmanship question to give Shouse 24, Walsh 7. Its 18 votes are pledged to Roosevelt. Like North Carolina, it has some fractional votes and the count of delegates on the polls exceeded the number of votes in the delegation. The Ohio delegation voted 50 to 2 for a declaration in the platform demanding repeal. Ohio did not take up the two-thirds rule. The Roosevelt instructed Alabama delegation split on the two-thirds rule, dividing its 24 votes: 16 for retention and six and one-half against. Delegates holding one and a half votes did not take part in the balloting. The state will split its vote on the convention floor. Michigan deferred action on a resolution favoring abrogation, but by 18 to 16 1/2 elected a member to the rules committee who said he believed the rule should become operative if five ballots did not give any candidate a two-thirds vote. Massachusetts, voting to have its 36 Smith instructed votes governed by the unit rule on all questions, decided to oppose abrogation of the rule and to support Shouse for permanent chairman.

In Iowa's case, also, the unit rule will control the delegation's vote on the rule question and its 26 votes will be cast for retention.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 27 (AP)— Governor George White, Ohio's "favorite son" candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, said today he did not intend to release the Buckeye delegates to the Democratic national convention from voting for him, as suggested by W. W. Durbin, of Kenton, a follower of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York.

The governor said he never for a minute had considered assenting to Durbin's suggestion. To release the Buckeye delegates, Governor White continued, would be in violation of an understanding he had with Newton D. Baker, Cleveland, and former Governor James M. Cox, "dark horse" candidates for the nomination. After talking by telephone with Henry G. Brunner, state party chairman, who is in Chicago, Governor White said "if Durbin doesn't want to go along, I can't help it." He pointed out Durbin is a delegate-at-large, with one-half a vote. Several representatives expressed a willingness to cooperate.
