dict was accompanied by a recommendation for mercy. The deliberations lasted almost four hours.

The defendant's daughter, Constance, 11, was with her father in court when the judge delivered his charge to the jury, but she was not present to hear her father convicted.

The other famous case in which Mrs. Alpaugh served was a murder trial growing out of a shooting affray known locally as the "Battle of Jutland" because it took place near the village of Jutland, N. J.

CHERRY HARVEST TO BEGIN SOON

The county yield is grown, it is expected that the cherry harvest will begin about July 10, with a crop of fair size in prospect.

Cherry pickers, according to reports from Union, will receive three-quarters of a cent a pound for their work, and this price will not average them more than $1.50 a day.

NOMINEE ARRIVES AT CHICAGO FROM ALBANY IN PLANE

on his flight from Albany to the Democratic convention in Chicago, landed here at 10:08 a. m., eastern standard time.

The trip from Albany was made in two hours and forty minutes. The huge plane circled the municipal field and came down to a perfect landing in the American airways hangar where the large crowd was waiting to greet the Democratic nominee for the presidency of the United States.

The Democratic presidential nominee did not leave the plane as it was being refueled, remaining in his seat working on his speech of acceptance.

one side and the common people on the other. His statement follows: "I did not support Hoover before and the reasons I gave then for refusing to support him have been vindicated by his official actions since."

"I expect to support Roosevelt. The fundamental principle involved in the coming presidential campaign is the contest between organized monopoly on the one side and the common people on the other."

"In my opinion millions of progressive minded citizens all over the United States will take similar action and support Governor Roosevelt because they believe he stands for the welfare of the common people."

Straw Water "Dams"

In the desert ranges of the West sheep men sometimes cover snowdrifts with straw to delay melting and furnish water for a longer period. This water tides them over early dry seasons.

is fully as much need for patriotism today as in the time of the Revolution in 1776, or during the World War in 1918. This is the time for all to pledge allegiance to the flag and to the republic for which it stands.

By Herbert Plummer CHICAGO — The name of a tall, lean, energetic man from Jersey City is on the lips of practically everyone who is in Chicago for the Democratic national convention.

He is Mayor Frank Hague, vice chairman of the Democratic national committee — one of Al Smith's closest friends and strongest supporters. In New Jersey the name of Frank Hague is synonymous with political power. Just what he will do in Chicago is what they all want to know.

HE LIKES CHILDREN His hobbies are hospitals and children. "Little smokers" — his pet name for babies — are perhaps his greatest love.

His interest in them dates back to the time when he was a child. Born in a large and poor family, as a boy he was frail and sickly. His mother often told him how the doctors at the clinic saved his life when he was a baby.

Statue of Liberty and the New York skyline, rises the Jersey City medical center — one of the most remarkable city and county hospitals in the world.

Frank Hague has almost lived at that hospital. He has seen it grow from a single, poorly equipped building to a group of modern towers, splendidly equipped and impressively staffed.

He has spent so much time there that he talks like a doctor. From the operating rooms to the kitchens always he knows what is going on. Once he went out on an impromptu visit. While passing through the kitchen he encountered someone trying to sell the hospital some inferior chickens. He picked one up, sniffed it, and threw it in the dealer's face.

His other pet projects are the mothers' institute, where any baby in Jersey City may receive free care from an expert pediatrician, and the A. Harry Moore hospital for crippled children, with teachers to keep the little patients up in their studies.

UNDISPUTED LEADER In 1928 he was the subject of a legislative investigation. The New Jersey legislature ruled him in contempt of court for his refusal to answer questions about his personal income and ordered him arrested. The court of errors and appeals, however, vindicated him, and the year following he was re-elected mayor of Jersey City.

Since then, in his city and his state, his party leadership has been wholly undisputed. He has behind him an organization closely knit and functioning smoothly.
