Miss Doty was in charge of the small library's section program which

Group Will Visit Lake Wonderland

Wallowa lake and the lake basin will be the haunt of a group of 17 faculty members and students of the Eastern Oregon Normal school and their friends this weekend. Elmo Stevenson has organized a party to leave La Grande Saturday morning for Wallowa lake, and then on to the lake basin on horseback.

Saturday afternoon will be spent fishing and hiking, while Sunday morning will be set aside for a hike up Eagle Cap. The group will return to Wallowa lake by horseback Sunday afternoon, and drive to La Grande.

Farmers Paying Their Employees With Produce

By G. C. Meek (Observer Correspondent)

WALLOWA, Ore. (Special) — The old-time custom of trade has again come into use to replace money with many people of this section. With a general scarcity of ready cash many of the farmers here are trading farm products in return for labor. In this manner a considerable number of men are finding employment where it would be impossible for many to hire. Some of the larger haymen are paying for their haying help with hay and the same transaction is likely to be much in use with the grain harvest.

Wallowa county hogs again topped the Portland market during the past week when a carload sent out from Evans, sold in Portland Monday at $5.15 per hundred. Two carloads of lambs were loaded out from that point early in the week for shipment to Denver. The lambs were selected from many of the small farm flocks and weighed seventy-five pounds and upward. Other shipments of lambs will follow as rapidly as one or two car loads can be gathered.

Reports from many parts of the county state that a great deal of damage to grain crops has been done by ground squirrels during the past two or three weeks. Farmers were unable to secure sufficient poison to get a good start in the fields and during the dry weather many have also had poor luck in getting them to take to the poison very good. The bulk of the damage has been to fall sown wheat in many places several acres have been badly ridged. In some places the squirrels are said to be hoing up at this time.

One of the worst dust and wind storms of the summer swept over this community Sunday. Early Sunday morning a light shower of rain fell and many were in hopes that a soaking rain would come. However, with the wind shifting to the northwest it terminated into a real dust storm which lasted the greater part of the day.

Oscar Maxwell finished plowing and harrowing a tract of some 250 acres of summerfallow at the U. G. Couch farm in the Leap section the latter part of the week. He was also busy digging and piping out a spring for stock water there the last of the week.

Miss Lois Couch, of Leap, spent a few days visiting friends in town the latter part of the week. A crew of about 20 men from the Leap and Parsnip creek communities were busy Friday preparing the grounds and building a dance platform at the top of the Whiskey creek hill where a 4th of July picnic was held. A committee on programs has also been busy recently preparing the program. A baseball game and foot races provided a part of the entertainment of the day.

H. N. Ashby, manager of the Bowman-Hicks Lumber Co., was a business visitor in this community during the past week.

R. E. Heskett and T. J. Dryden and wife, of Freewater, Ore., were in this community the latter part of the week, driving over to attend the funeral of Hiram N. Williams, who passed away at his home on Parsnip creek June 20th. Mr. Heskett and the Drydens were former residents of the Leap community, having sold their homes there and moved to Freewater some 12 or 15 years ago.

Guy Parker and wife, who are working at the Crowley logging camp in the north woods, drove to La Grande the latter part of the week for a few days visit with Mr. Parker's sister and family. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Charlson, who recently arrived here from California.

James Anderson, who is working for John Couch of Leap, visited the last of the week at the Meek Bros. home at Leap.

A. W. Harmon, of Leap, was a business visitor in town the latter part

Hyde and Moses Fire Blasts At Gov. Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, July 6 (AP)—Governor Roosevelt's plan for economic improvement through reforestation was described in a statement by Secretary Hyde as "utterly visionary and chimerical."

Referring to the Democratic presidential nominee's speech Saturday in which he promised "a new deal" with employment of "a million men to reforest abandoned farms and cut over lands" the agriculture secretary said "this grand project is worthy of the 'economic foresight' of the governor." The forestry program of New York, of which Governor Roosevelt so enthusiastically exclaims "I have done it and am doing it today" calls for reforestation of 1,000,000 acres over a period of 15 years at a cost of $20,000,000. It employs 72 men on a permanent basis and enough occasional employees to equal the hours of 207 more permanent employees. Thus the government's enthusiastic "eureka" reduces itself as a matter of permanent employment, to 270 men."

Creek East Of Union Popular On July Fourth

By Mrs. L. Z. Terrall (Observer Correspondent)

UNION (Special) — Many groups who went to the hills or along Catherine creek for a weekend camping trip were almost driven to abandon their camps when the cold wave struck on Sunday. The wind accompanied by occasional showers made it uncomfortably cool all day Sunday, and a real rain during the night added gloom to the prospects. So it was with real joy that they greeted the delightful sunshine of Monday.

The day was ideally cool and sunny and people from many sections flocked to the hills to celebrate the Fourth. Union seemed quite deserted throughout the day and someone remarked that one-half of the people celebrated in La Grande and the other half forsook the town for a day in the great outdoors. However, there were several family dinners at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard Stearns and Jim, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Biddle this week.

A large group of 22 gathered at the cabin formerly owned by the Boy Scouts at the Jerry Thompson place to celebrate the Fourth with a family picnic. Among those present were the S. E. Miller family, and Chas. Miller from Union. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Myers and her sons, Rolex and Lexro Prillaman, of La Grande, Gearhart Stackland, of Cove, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Foss, of Minneapolis, and Eddie Harrington, of Seattle.

Eldon Caspar who came down from Wallula, Wash., to spend Sunday and Monday with his mother at Hot Lake was calling on friends in Union on Sunday.

A party of young folks consisting of the Misses Jane Smith, Leona Spray and Eldora Hutchinson, Mr. and Mrs. G. I. Hess, Wallace Adkinson, and Gaylord, were here to spend the Fourth with the S. E. Miller family, at the Ed Miles ranch on Catherine creek.

Walter Davis stopped over in Portland for a week's visit after his two weeks encampment with the national guard at Camp Clatsop and returned to Union Monday.

Many lambs are moving down from the range and several shipments will probably be made this week. A large band belonging to Oliver of near Baker, was brought into the Junction on Tuesday and Will Vogel's band are being brought in today.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cook, of Oregon City, and Paul Cook, of Portland, spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Cook. The Walter Cook family joined them for a picnic on Catherine creek on the Fourth.

Miss Esther Johnson, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Benson, and a friend, Miss Laura Gregory, came over from La Grande to spend the weekend at the Benson home. They are Wallowa teachers who are attending summer normal school at La Grande.

The Rex Gamble and the Giles Van Heusen families drove to Wallowa lake Sunday to attend the convention of the Blue Mountain Canton of the Odd Fellows lodge.

Mrs. Roy Brown, formerly a resident of Union, came here recently from Huntington for a visit and became very ill. She was taken to a La Grande hospital the last of the week.

Tex Lanus stopped over Sunday on his way from Portland to Boise to spend the day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Lanus, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reuser, of La Grande, were Sunday evening callers at the Levy home.

Mrs. Mary Woodruff went to Portland Saturday evening to visit her daughters for a few days.

Mrs. Ida Couper and daughter, Jean, and granddaughter, Betty, who had been visiting A. B. Davis and Mrs. Edna Busiek since last Tuesday, returned to their home in Weiser on Sunday.

Morris Irwin, who sustained an injury to his foot while haying at the Keckritz ranch last week, went a

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

HENRY MORGAN was the greatest pirate of the western seas. There have been pirates as cruel and brave as Morgan, but none who was so successful in firing his men with his own indomitable spirit. He was born on a farm in Wales, later became a slave, and finally a pirate. He always maintained a polite disguise of flying English colors. The sacking and burning of Panama was his greatest adventure. Even after he was made a high official he promoted piratical enterprises.

Ant Constructs Umbrellas

The umbrella ant derives its name from the waterproof shelter that it builds for itself. Small pieces of leaves, usually taken from fruit or coffee trees, are cemented together with a sort of mud to form this structure. Large colonies of these ants build domes as much as two feet high and forty feet across, so it is no wonder that they frequently ruin trees by stripping off too many of their leaves for building materials.

Nut of Pines

The pinon nut is a large edible seed of any of several species of pines called nut pines. They are small trees with leaves in ones to four leaved clusters, globose cones and large seeds. They are found in hilly country throughout the Southwest. Pinus edulis and Pinus cembroides are the two most important species.

Married—For the 7501st Time!

Getting married wasn't exactly a new experience for Hal Shubert, shown here as he was wed to Miss Marguerite Wegley, formerly of Pittsburgh, Pa., in New York. For as the star of the long-run play, 'Able's Irish Rose,' Shubert was 'married' 7500 times in the play! This very real 'off-stage' ceremony was performed by the Rev. Wilber T. Clemens.
