CLEVELAND MAN GETS NINE HITS IN 11 TIMES UP

Foxx, With Six Bingles Including 3 Homers, Drives in Eight Runs in Long Game.

By Gayle Talbot (Associated Press Sports Writer) The Philadelphia Athletics were only six games out of first place in the American league today, having written into the record one of the most spectacular long distance victories in baseball history.

Eighteen innings they traveled yesterday to beat out the Cleveland Indians, 18 to 17, and it was a game the likes of which won't be seen once in a blue moon. It was won and lost a half-dozen times before Jimmie Foxx finally scored the deciding run.

Burnett Gets Nine Hits To give some idea, Johnny Burnett of the Indians collected nine hits in eleven times at bat, and his teammates, Averill and Morgan each cracked five. Foxx, with six hits, including three home runs, knocked in eight runs for the A's. Simmons had five.

Burnett's feat, like all the records disclose, might have established a major league record. The accepted mark of seven hits, set by Wilbert Robinson before the turn of the century, was in a regulation length contest.

Hommel Wins Game The veteran Ed Hommel went the last 17 innings for the Athletics and in the end gained the nod over young Wesley Ferrell, who was firing them over the last 11 and a fraction frames for the Indians. But for the fact that Ed Morgan, Cleveland first baseman, let an easy roller trickle down through his legs after two were out in the ninth, Cleveland would have won them and the game.

Whit made the victory doubly sweet to the A's was the fact that the Yankees were being taken over the jumps twice by St. Louis, 10 to 0 and 8 to 7. The Yanks don't look like the team they were a week ago, before Bill Dickey took his celebrated swipe at Carl Berglund and Lefty Gomez dropped his cleat of invincibility. The Browns knocked Gomez from the hill in the first game to hand him his third straight defeat.

Detroit divided a pair with the Red Sox, winning the first, 7 to 5, and dropping the second, 13 to 2. Big Smoed Jolley of the Sox pounded seven hits during the afternoon to move into third place among the American league's batters.

While Alvin Crowder pitched steady ball, Washington belted three White Sox flippers for 19 hits and a 13 to 3 victory.

Pirates, Cubs in Stand-Off Pittsburgh and Chicago were a stand-off in their territorial race for National league honors as both captured Sabbath encounters. The leading Pirates made a flying raid into the east and picked up an 8 to 7 win over Brooklyn when Mack Wilson let a drive get away from him in the ninth. The Rookie Bill Swift was credited with his fifth straight triumph.

Chicago's dazzling sophomore, Lonnie Warneke, shut the Braves out, 4 to 0, on six hits for his twelfth success of the year. Gabby Hartnett led the Cubs at bat with a home run, double and single.

Reds Whip Giants The Cincinnati Reds, receiving two well-pitched games, didn't do a thing but belabor the Giants twice, 6 to 4 and 4 to 2. The Reds, with eight victories in ten games, were out of the basement today, leaving eighth place to the New Yorkers. Red Lucas pitched his eighteenth consecutive complete game in the first tilt, and Owen Carroll outduel Adolvo Luque in the nightcap.

Bill Hallahan and Dizzy Dean hurled the Cincinnati to a double win over the Phillies, 7 to 3 and 3 to 1. Dean, yielding only five hits. The twin victory pushed the world champions all the way from sixth place to fourth in the league standing.

GRIMES, ROOT ARE DEMOTED TO BULL PEN CHICAGO, July 10 (AP)—Burlough Grimes and Charlie Root have been demoted to bullpen duty, and four other Cub pitchers have established themselves as starters—and as long as they operate as they have during the past five days, they will keep right on starting.

STORK AVOIDS ENGLAND LONDON (AP)—The stork's visits to England are becoming less frequent. There were 7541 fewer babies in the first quarter of 1932 than in 1931, the 194 of 1833 a thousand being the lowest on record.

BEAVERS BEGIN WEEK AT THE TOP

Portland Takes Two From Solons While Stars and Reds Split Two.

By the Associated Press Portland held a one-game lead in the Pacific Coast league today by beating Sacramento in two Sunday games, 8 to 3 and 2 to 1, after taking a 17 to 2 pasting Saturday night from the Stars.

In the Sunday morning game, played at Stockton, the Beavers broke a 2 to 2 tie with an active-run spurge in the sixth inning. In the afternoon, Prudhomme pitched four-hit ball, and only a home run by Demaree, Senator centerfielder, kept him from a shutout. Prudhomme assured himself the victory by driving in Portland's second run in the sixth with a double.

Stars, Rose and Win Hollywood split a double header with the Missions, winning the first game 3 to 2, while the Reds took the second, 11 to 3. The Stars won the series four games to three. The first game was a pitching duel between Dutch Reuther of the Missions and Emil Yde of the Stars, each pitching shutout ball for seven innings. Dud Lee, Hollywood shortstop, broke up the game with a single in the ninth with two men out, bringing in the winning run. In the second game Sheehan took the mound for the Stars after being out for six weeks with injuries and the Mission batters gave him such a royal welcome he lasted only one inning.

The Seals and Angels broke even in their double header and also split the series, each winning four games. San Francisco took the morning game 7 to 6. George Caster, formerly of the Missions, started on the mound for Los Angeles, but a three bagger by Galan in the second inning removed him from the picture and Stitzel, who pitched the rest of the game, was charged with the defeat. In the afternoon game, which the Angels won 9 to 8, Jimmy Blinn, Seal pitcher, took his second defeat of the series, being forced to retire in the ninth inning.

Oaks-Indians Split Bill Oakland won the first Sunday game from Seattle, 4 to 3, but the Indians took the nightcap 3 to 2, giving them the series, four games to three. There was considerable hitting in the first game, the Oaks getting 11 safeties and the Indians gathering 10, being into the ninth inning of the second game on the short end of a 2 to 1 score. The Oaks staged a rally, but it netted only one run, three men being left on base when the final out was made.

Sport Slants

By Alan J. Gould (Associated Press Sports Editor) Ed Wray, whose St. Louis hospitality is as good as his judgment of sporting things, favors a return to finish fights for the major fistic championships, by way of eliminating the necessity of such arguments as have grown out of the Sharkey-Schmeling affair.

Certainly, in this particular case, it would have very likely ended any doubt about the outcome. The best fringe-gone guess was that Sharkey would have been lucky to last five more rounds against the young German, who was coming strong down the stretch; so strong, in fact, that one of the judges (although voting for Sharkey) scored seven of the last eight rounds in Schmeling's favor.

It happens, however, that Schmeling is a throw-back to a class of fighters now conspicuous by their absence. He can go the route. But there are very few of the set in any division. It is doubtful, under present day conditions, if fights in excess of 10 or 15 rounds would be either popular or entertaining. In fact, even in the old days, it was often a monotonous proposition by the time the 40th round was reached, with the issue depending on how long the gladiators could keep their feet.

CONDITIONS SHOULD RULE The ideal solution would be for the various ruling powers to equip themselves with a flexible law, by which they could, in the case of a world's heavyweight championship, sanction a finish match.

Since it is, theoretically, the most prized of all the fighting crowns, the possession of the heavyweight title should be freed so far as possible from the chance of dispute or suspension.

For two years Schmeling's right to the crown relinquished by Gene Tunney was subject to question. Now many believe the German was unjustly deprived of honors which he held pretiously on synthetic grounds.

OLDBLERS COME THROUGH When we were down in the sunshine and the baseball camps this spring, Yankee followers told us the club's chances undoubtedly hinged on the ability of the kid infielders, Otto (Jack) Saltzger and Frank Crosetti to come through.

Tony Lazzeri, was still on the open market, with no takers, and Joe Sewell was being kept only for an emergency. The emphasis was on the youngsters. They looked good, impressed even the old-timers.

Yet, as these Yankees go palloping past the mid-season mark so far out in front that the American League race again seems log-sided and just about settled, the plain fact is that Lazzeri, Lazzeri and Sewell get a large chunk of the credit, playing regularly and brilliantly. Meanwhile Crosetti is on the bench and Saltzger in New York for further seasoning.

Arloo Kyle Wins Public Links Title

PORTLAND, July 11 (AP)—The Pacific Northwest public links golf title will rest with Arloo Kyle, Portland veteran until next summer. Kyle won the trophy Sunday by defeating Jack Dillon of San Francisco, 5 to 4 in a 36-hole match marked by erratic play. Dillon experienced the greatest difficulty on the greens, but kept his score down by excellent approach shots.

EAGLES WIN AND LOSE ON SUNDAY

juniors Win In the first game the American Legion Juniors proved to be too much for the Eagles when Pitchers DeBorde and McKinnis succeeded in keeping the Eagles sluggers bog-tied while their team makes slugged out eight hits off Hall and combined with erratic hitting on the part of the latter chased seven runs across the platter.

Irwin, Jones and Knezevich played outstanding ball for the Junior League at third, second and first, respectively. Shortstop Frizzell also turned in a fine game.

The feature of the first-half game was the errorless game turned in by the Junior Leagueers. Several of the lads had some hard chances to handle and it was only by exceptionally fast and accurate playing that the perfect game was hung up. Two double plays, starting with Frizzell through Jones and ending up at
