

American Athletes Prepare for Weekend Tryouts

CREAM OF THIS NATION'S TRACK MEN TO COMPETE

Greatest Collection of Stellar Performers in Country's History Waiting For the Gun.

PALO ALTO, Cal., July 14 (AP)—America's warning to the invading army of athletes seems likely to be sounded with record-smashing emphasis in the final Olympic track and field tryouts, Friday and Saturday, before upwards of 30,000 spectators in Stanford university's beautifully laid out stadium.

Combined with the national senior A. A. U. championships for 1932, the decisive tests for the American team, which will carry the shield in the blue-ribbon events of the tenth Olympiad at Los Angeles two weeks hence, have brought together the greatest collection of track and field stars in the country's history. World recordbreakers, present and prospective, will be featured in at least seven events.

Should Have No Alibis
"So far as most of the main events are concerned, you pick the winners out of a hat just as easily as you can figure them on a dothesheet," Lawson Robertson, the American Olympic head coach, told the Associated Press today. "We should have no alibis when the team is finally chosen, by actual tryouts, to meet the best that the rest of the world can offer. It's the greatest lineup I have ever seen."

The American team, barring some last-minute change of heart by Olympic officials, or extraordinary developments, will be based on the results of the tryouts. The desire of Ben Eastman, famous Stanford runner, to compete only in the 400-meter run, has disposed of one field of picking him, without trial, for the 800 meters.

Big Ben Seeks Revenge
Eastman has been a storm-center ever since the circus began assembling for the final trials. Since his defeat in the intercollegiate 440 by Bill Carr, of Pennsylvania, Big Ben has been noted for a return of pride and revenge. In the 400 meters, Eastman and Carr are "seeded" in separate heats of the 400-meter bout, leaving the biggest kind of an upset, probably will battle it out in the final Saturday.

Coast enthusiasts today, however, were offering no better than even money that Eastman would take Carr's measure, following word the blond Stanford runner had been affected by a slight cold. Eastman's offer of the suggestion that either Karl Warner, of Yale, or Reginald Bowen, former Pittsburgh star, might contribute another upset, if Carr failed to repeat. The record of 47 seconds should be knocked how-legged, anyway.

Field to be Reduced
The preliminary contests will reduce the all-star field, from around 300 athletes to not more than 125 for Saturday's finals. This will be cut in half again by the qualifying tests. The first three in each of 18 events will qualify for the Olympic team, in addition to which extra men will be chosen for the 400 and 1600 meter relay teams.

Although the spotlight focuses on a flock of Pacific Coast stars, all eager to add the California touch to California's Olympics, the dope-sheets indicated the east and middle west will contribute most of the place-winners. On a consensus of experts, the prospects point to these results: East, 29; mid-west, 21; far west, 17; south, 2. This includes the selections already made for the decathlon and marathon, as well as the relay probabilities, to complete the track and field lineup.

O. S. C. LINE WILL HAVE NEW FACES

Success of 1932 Orange Football Team Depends On New Material.

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, July 14 (AP)—Success of the Oregon State college football team next fall depends to a great extent on how almost a complete new line comes through. Last year's regular starting lineup from tackle to tackle and several substitute lettermen have been lost to the squad. Many new men will be seen in the lineup the coming season. The real strength of the team will not be known until the Oregonians meet Stanford university in Portland in the opening conference game of the season Oct. 1.

Of the 11 lettermen who have been lost to the squad six were regulars last season. They are Buck Hammer, center; Gil Bergerson and Jack Cox, guards; Harry Kent and Bill Byington, tackles; and Reg Rust, left halfback. Others are Barney Carlson, guard; Snowy Gustafson, fullback; Bill Head, halfback; Herald Hytton, tackle; and Floyd Root, end. Loss of New Year's available lettermen for left guard, left halfback and center.

Frank Porfily, a letterman, who died of pneumonia last spring was in line for the left guard position. Johnny Bianco, who made his letter at quarterback last season but was declared ineligible for this year on account of playing in a soccer game during the Christmas holidays, was banked on for left halfback.

Several Prospects
Here are some of the outstanding prospects for the different positions: Center—Vic Curtin, who made his letter at right end last year; Willis Dantforth and Reinhold Kanler, varsity reserves; Mel Masterson and John Woodard, freshmen last year.
Right guard—Loren Tuttle, letterman; Bill Kenna, varsity reserve; Warren Powers, John Pitts and Charles Bartos, all from the freshman squad.

Right tackle—Ade Schwammel and Wayne Harn, both lettermen; John King, reserve; George Svendsen and Harold Brown, freshmen last year.
Left tackle—Curly Miller, two-year letterman; Harry Field, transfer from University of Hawaii; Don Wagner, varsity reserve and Erney Bears, ineligible last year.

Quarterback—Art Rampton and Tommy Ward, letterman quarterbacks last year; Ted Hermann, letterman fullback last year; Russ Anderson, transfer from Pacific university, and Jimmy Clarke, transfer from Monmouth Normal.
Right halfback—Hal Moe and Pierre Bowman, lettermen; Arnold Heikenen and Howard Forrest, freshmen last year.
Fullback—Frank Little and Harold Joslin, lettermen; Leon Underwood and Leonard Marsh, varsity reserves, and Harold Pangle, freshman halfback last year.

Complete Oregon State college schedule:
Sept. 17—Gonzaga at Spokane.
Sept. 24—Willamette at Corvallis.
Oct. 1—Stanford at Portland.
Oct. 8—So. Cal. at Los Angeles.
Oct. 22—Wash. State at Corvallis.
Oct. 29—W. Coast Army at Corvallis.
Nov. 5—Oregon at Corvallis.
Nov. 12—Montana at Missoula.
Nov. 19—Fordham at New York.

Autoera's Contempt
Vespasian, the Roman emperor, is said to have made the remark, "I will not kill a dog that barks at me," in expressing his attitude toward a group of republican conspirators.

(As Told to Artie McGovern)
"Why is it, Johnny, that when I'm out with my regular foursome, playing for small stakes, my game is from 10 to 15 strokes better than when I play in my club tournaments?"
Every golf professional will recognize the question for it is extremely common. There may be one of a thousand answers.
However, I think that every golfer, whether an outstanding prize winner or an amateur in club competition, finds himself inclined to press when he enters tournament play. This will ruin any shot.
My advice is to try to forget that you are playing against your opponent's ball. Disregard his shots entirely. Don't watch his play, his technique, where his ball lands, or anything else concerning his game.
Figure out for yourself on each hole the number of strokes your average game indicate as your score, and then play for this goal, not for what your opponent is doing.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

IN NORTHERN SIBERIA, - IN 1846 - A HUGE HAIRY MAMMOTH SUDDENLY APPEARED ON THE SURFACE OF THE INDIGIRKA RIVER! SOME 30,000 YEARS BEFORE, HE HAD MILED DOWN AT THIS SPOT, AND HAD FROZEN SOLID... AND THE UNUSUAL WARM WEATHER AND FLOODS OF 1846 RELEASED HIM.

IN JAPAN, a child born on December 31st would be two years old the very next day, while an American baby, born at the same time, would be only one day old. But the Japanese people do not mind adding years to their lives. In fact, old age is actually looked forward to, even by the women, for it brings with it great respect, and the wants of the older persons are looked after by their families.

With Grimes In Slump, Chicago Loses to Robins

By Gayle Talbot
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
That heroic figure of the last world series, Burleigh Grimes, must have been a source of the keenest disappointment to Rogers Hornsby the last few months.
The Cubs manager apparently made the smartest kind of a move when he acquired Grimes in the famous deal that sent Hack Wilson on his way. But the once great spitballer has failed to produce, and it is only because of Lonnie Warneke, the Arkansas youngster, has come through so spectacularly that the Cubs are where they are today.
Grimes in slump
Grimes, thus far has been able to win only four for Hornsby and has lost eight. After illness set him back at the start of the race, the veteran righthander started well and it looked for a time that he was set for a big year, but something slipped about a month ago and he has been very rough work mostly, he has lost five straight and was knocked from the box in his last three starts.
Grimes' inability to regain his stride cost the Cubs a 5 to 4 defeat by Brooklyn yesterday. The defeat kept the Cubs from climbing within a single game of the league leaders.
Boston took a pair from the Pirates, 5-1 and 10-5.
Cards Win Fourth Straight
The St. Louis Cardinals won their fourth straight, taking the Giants, 6-2, and the Phillies scored a 3 to 2 triumph over Cincinnati.
The Cleveland Indians romped on the A's again, 7 to 5, in 10 innings and went into second place in the American league.
Boston's Red Sox not only took their second straight from Detroit, 8 to 7, but chalked up their first series of the season, three games to two.
Home runs by Babe Ruth and Frankie Crosetti, each with one aboard, gave the Yankees their final win with St. Louis, 5 to 3. It was No. 25 for the Babe. Washington hammered three Chicago White Sox pitchers for 16 hits and a 15 to 4 victory.

REED DEFEATS DOC NELSON IN ROUGH MATCH

PORTLAND, Ore., July 14 (AP)—Robin Reed, Reedsport, Ore., defeated Doc Nelson, Atlanta, Ga., two out of three falls here last night, but found it necessary to resort to rough tactics to do it. Reed took the first fall in 10 minutes, 56 seconds. After weakening Nelson with whip writhings, Reed used a Sonnenberg butt to the stomach to flatten the southerner. Nelson won the second fall in 9 minutes, 44 seconds, with a peculiar style of neck-wrenching headlocks. After some very rough work the third fall went to Reed in 19 minutes, 22 seconds when he up-ended Nelson.
Bob Myers took two falls from Glenn Stone in the five round special event, while Bulldog Jackson lost the curtain raiser to Joe Gardiner, on a foul when he slugged his opponent on the chin.

SPORT SLANTS

By Alan J. Gould

Eddie Egan's entertaining book, "Fighting for Fun," throws the light on one of the most unusual amateur headlock careers on record.
The Colorado boy who went to war, to Yale, to Oxford and boxed his way around the world just for the sport of wrapping left hooks, seems to have enjoyed himself immensely. Yet he had a difficult time resisting the temptation to turn professional. Recently, through the schoolboy stages of his career, he defends himself, but it

Beavers, Stars Lose Again But Retain Places

By the Associated Press
Portland and Hollywood continued in first and second places in the Coast league today, both losing last night.

The Beavers were noosed out by the Oaks, 5 to 4, when Fuzzy Haffit, Acorn center fielder, singled in the tenth, scoring Le Roy Anton. Portland came from behind in the ninth with a two-run rally to tie the score at four-all.
Le Roy Hermann of the Angels shut out the Stars 4 to 0 for his 19th victory this season. He fanned ten Hollywood batters. "Tuck" Stainback, young outfielder, hit a homer in the third with two men on.

Sacs Win Again
Sacramento made it two straight over Seattle as Jimmy Dezhong turned in his eighth pitching victory in ten starts, to win 4 to 2.
The Seals and Missions ended the ninth inning in a 5-5 deadlock, but the Seals put over three runs in the tenth to win 8 to 5. Jimmy Caveney, manager of the Seals who plays first base, garnered five hits in five times at the plate.
