PORTLAND TAKES SERIES 4 TO 3

Beavers Wind Up Important Week With Two-Game Lead in Circuit.

By The Associated Press

Portland beat of Hollywood's challenge for Coast league leadership by winning the critical series, four games to three, the Beavers going into a new week two games ahead of the Stars. The Sunday doubleheader was split, the Ducks taking the first game 6 to 5, on Mike Higgins' homer in the tenth, after tying the score in the ninth. The Stars reversed matters to win the second by the same score. In the nightcap Portland was two runs ahead as the ninth inning opened, but the Stars came through with three runs to win.

By splitting a double bill with Seattle Sunday the Missions won the series four games to three. The opener went ten innings, the Reds winning 6 to 4 as Pitchers Reuther and Lieber allowed only six hits to the Seattle batters. Things were reversed in the second game, Hal Haid giving the Reds but eight safe blows as the home team won 10 to 4.

Los Angeles beat Sacramento 4 to 2 in the Sunday opener, but the Senators came back to take the nightcap, 5 to 4, giving the Angels the series five games out of seven. Leroy Herrmann, despite a scalded hand, held the Seals to four hits in the first game until the ninth inning, when he blew up and was replaced by Ballou. Flynn pitched for Sacramento in the second game and gave only seven hits, while his team mates got 14 off three Angel hurlers.

San Francisco's Seals beat Oakland twice Sunday, 6 to 2, and 5 to 1, taking the series, four games to three. The Seals had Bill pitching in both games, with Hill Henderson on the mound in the first encounter, and Lee Stine in the second.

Hawkeyes See End Of Sports Slump Since Day of Ban

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—If quantity of experienced talent can do it, the University of Iowa next school year may emerge from the athletic slump it has been in since its suspension from the Big Ten two years ago.

In the field of 10 varsity sports a total of 60 major-letter-winning veterans, barring ineligibility or injuries, will be available as nuclei for the 1932-33 teams.

Ossie Sohm, new football coach, will have 16 veteran gridgers on hand when he begins work September 15. Coach Rollie Williams expects nine letter men to give him a good start on a basketball quintet.

Lenglen Debates Trying Comeback As An Amateur

PARIS (AP)—The longing eyes that Suzanne Lenglen has cast toward amateur tennis in recent months have caused a start in French sports circles.

Lenglen is still a big name in French tennis and back of every tennis lover's mind is a longing to see her in another battle with Helen Wills Moody, who is no longer a youngster but a seasoned veteran and holder of an untouched pinnacle in present feminine tennis.

However, to come back to amateur ranks, Lenglen would have to satisfy four conditions.

- (1) To abstain from any act of professionalism during five years.
- (2) To obtain a two-thirds vote of approval from the council of the French Tennis federation.
- (3) To get the approval of the International Tennis federation.
- (4) To turn in a certain proportion of her earnings as a professional.

Pacific Coast Conference In Session Today

PASADENA, Cal., July 25 (AP)—With the question of radio broadcasting of football games apparently the predominating issue, athletic heads of the Pacific Coast conference open their three day convention here this morning.

Report of a sub-committee on the much discussed problem was expected to be referred to the convention today. While the contents has not been disclosed, it is understood that broadcasting will be allowed to continue despite action of several college conferences against it.

The report of Jonathan A. Butler, special investigator of the conference also will be submitted during the meeting. Butler has been making a survey of athletic conditions in the colleges of the Pacific coast for more than a year. After the report has been weighed the convention will decide whether Butler will be retained as athletic supervisor of the group.

There also was the possibility that the conference will take action on a proposal that it disregard the "dead ball" rule passed by the national committee last winter, in which it was decided that when any part of the ball carrier's body but his feet touched the ground, where he is in an opponent's grasp or not, the ball shall be declared dead and the play stopped.

Football schedules for the 1933 season will be tentatively drawn up at the meeting.

172 national collegiate athletic association also will meet here July 28 and 29.

FUGITIVE YOUTHS CAPTURED

PORTLAND, July 25 (AP)—Two youths who escaped from the state training school at Woodburn Sunday, were arrested here last night when police said they found them robbing a clothing store.

The boys gave the names of Charles Fuller, 18, and Kenneth Williams, 18. They were turned over to the juvenile court, charged with being fugitives, breaking and entering, and automobile larceny. The boys said they escaped from the training school at 2:30 p. m., made their way to Oregon City, stole an automobile, and rode in to Portland.

It's Champion Family; Right in Swim

When it comes to aquatics, the Van Buren sisters of Ogden are all champions. In the state swimming meet at Salt Lake recently, Veda, left, became breaststroke queen; Shirley, center, took the 100-yard backstroke title, and Helen won the diving and 100-yard freestyle events. Which is some splash for one family.

HURLERS UNABLE TO STOP MIGHTY BATS OF VICTORS

The Dalles to Represent Eastern Oregon in Portland Play-Off As Result of Two Wins.

The La Grande American Legion junior league baseball team, winner of the championship of district No. 7, lost the chance to represent Eastern Oregon in the state finals at Portland yesterday, when the heavy bats of The Dalles Juniors took offerings of all opponent pitchers freely enough to score 12 runs while La Grande accounted for two. Saturday The Dalles won 6 to 3.

Although defeated in the Eastern Oregon finals, the La Grande boys this year went farther up the ladder toward a state title than in any previous year, indicating that baseball in junior circles here is on the upgrade.

The team was coached by John R. Garity, of the local legion post, and was composed of boys from Cove, Imbler, Elgin and La Grande. It won from Burns and Ontario to win the district championship.

Accounts of the two games at The Dalles in brief, follow:

THE DALLES, Ore., July 25 (Special)—Five runs in the first two innings, chalked up against Deborde, starting hurler, was too much of a handicap for the La Grande American Legion Juniors Saturday and The Dalles took the first leg of the battle for the right to enter the finals in Portland next month. The final score was, 6 to 3.

Miller started the proceedings in the first inning when he lined a triple to deep center and scored a minute later on Ford's single to the same garden.

Greene, who pitched a no-hit, no-run game two weeks ago against Bend worked well. Knezvich relieved Deborde in the second and turned The Dalles batters back with but three bingles the rest of the game.

THE DALLES, Ore., July 25 (Special)—The Dalles American Legion Juniors will represent the eastern half of the state of Oregon in the finals of the annual baseball tournament in Portland next month. They won the right by trimming La Grande, 12 to 2, in the second game of the series here Sunday. The Dalles won the first contest Saturday.

While the visitors were unable to touch Herb Kramer, The Dalles slugger pounded six La Grande hurlers and took advantage of several misplays in the field to tally in four innings. Beryl Hodgen, coach, shook up his lineup and gained good results from the change.

Sport Slants

By Alan J. Gould (Associated Press Sports Editor)

It may be some time before the last rebuttal is recorded in the east-west tangle over timing methods around the cinder paths.

The controversy broke with a loud blast after the Intercollegiate A. A. Championships held at Berkeley, Cal., where the westerners charged that eastern clockers leaned backward by timing Frank Wykoff in 9.9 seconds for the final of the 100 yard dash and "Red" Record in 15 seconds flat for the 120-yard high hurdles final.

The timing of the eastern veterans. It was claimed by west coast critics, also cheated Bill Carr, of even a better record than his 47 seconds for the 440 in which he whipped Ben Eastman.

Hokum? That was my first reaction to all the squabbling, too, but listen to John T. (Terry) McGovern of Cornell, a veteran of these meets, as to the eastern viewpoint.

"Why should we want to take anything away from these boys on the coast who have done so many brilliant things in track and field? So far as the talk of a 'conspiracy' is concerned, it is all the bunk but it is a fact that for a long time, the coast sprinters have been getting off on what we call a 'rolling' or 'perfect' start.

"In other words they knew the starter was going to give them 1-2-3 and the gun. An anticipatory start, if it can be so described, means at least a yard on the getaway in favor of the sprinter.

"Then, at the finish, they have been closing on the moment the tape is touched by any part of the body, whereas it is a definite, clear-cut rule in this country as well as England that the runner has not finished and cannot be timed until his entire body is past the finish mark.

"Combine this with a favorable start and it will mean at least one-fifth of a second, on the average, in faster time. It's important when you consider that world records can now be broken by a tenth of a second."

'ROTTEN IN BERKELEY'

Now listen to the invalid but nonetheless emphatic Mr. Dink Templeton, Stanford's famous track coach:

"These eastern timers simply showed themselves up when they gave the times they did at Berkeley. They clocked Wykoff, Simpson and others in 9.8 for the 100 in the east. They timed Wykoff and Hardy of Cornell in 9.7, eased up, in the semifinals out here, but in the final, where Wykoff unquestionably ran one of his finest races and decisively beat Hardy as well as Bob Kiesel, what was the time? It was 9.9 and if that isn't a laugh I never had one."

Not even the electrical "timing camera," which showed 9.99 seconds for Wykoff's final 100 could convince Mr. Templeton and the other westerners that the clocking wasn't "rotten in Berkeley."

KEANE CUTS IN

To make things all the more congenial, Mr. Thomas Keane of Syracuse, in his day perhaps the greatest of all professional sprinters, publicly proclaimed his own belief that no man can really run the 100 yards in 9.5 seconds, the present listed world record mark.

Forthwith the coast critics jumped all over Mr. Keane, much to his personal enjoyment, and when last seen around the hotel lobbies the battle was still on.

Butter Market Continues To Show Strength

PORTLAND, July 25 (AP)—Continued strength and fractional advance in spots were reflected generally in the market for cheese. Distant and nearby points indicated a like condition insofar as volume of business was concerned although there have been no local price changes for an extended period.

Decreasing receipts of cheese are shown at most points with a corresponding increase in demand.

Market for butter continues to reflect a strong tone with practically a daily cleanup of offerings of all sources. City make is still showing fractional decrease.

For the week's opening there was no change in the price of eggs and while there is an undertone of strength in spots, elsewhere some of the recent boost appears to have subsided.

Aside from broilers, which are inclined to show passing strength, the market for chickens is just about steady with no change in the law quotation on hens.

Firm trading situation confronts the trade in the country killed lamb market with prices well sustained at last week's betterment. Ewes are stronger and there is a good tone for yearlings.

Market for country killed veal and hogs remains practically unchanged along the wholesale way with general conditions just about steady in both lines. Bulls appear a trifle easy but are unchanged as yet.

Arrivals of Eastern Oregon-Idaho new crop honey are increasing. Demand appears steady with the best wrapped selling $3.25 case for 12 ounce offerings.

There are again offerings of cassabaa in the local trade, the first shipment for some days now being available. Priced around 3c lb. Cantaloupes are generally quoted lower.

Notes of wholesale trading: Lettuce market is demoralized with much peddling of Puget Sound stock.

Peas are also inclined down and for the same reason.

Hum for country is congested and prices the lowest in years.

Onion trade is very slow with primary prices very weak.

Lemons are firm but did not make the expected advance.

Apricots are in active call and generally at late prices.

It was Seattle day on the east side farmers' wholesale market for there were greater offerings from the Puget Sound area than from nearby points. Seattle lettuce, peas and cauliflower again flooded the local trade to the general detriment of the price list.

The lack of loyalty of the local trade in purchasing the home product even in the face of as good quality, builds up the Seattle trade while practically demoralizing home growers.

Market Goes Along Road to Recovery

NEW YORK, July 25 (AP)—The stock market pushed forward in a broad recovery today.

The average level of shares was pushed up out of the narrow trading range of the last two months of the highest since May. Trading was the most active since early June.

U. S. Steel preferred gained about $5 a share, and the common $1. Standard Oil of California gained about $2. Similar advances appeared in American Tobacco B, Consolidated Gas and Union Pacific, while American Can, American Telephone, Santa Fe, New York Central, Standard Oil of N. J., were among a broad list of issues up about $1 a share.

Chicago Board Of Trade Will Fight to Last

CHICAGO, July 25 (AP)—The board of trade's appeal from the federal closing order will be built around a test of the constitutionality of the grain futures act.

This appeal, in preparation today by Peter Carey, president, and other officials of the board, will be presented "some time within the next few days" before the United States circuit court of appeals.

Today's was the first trading session since the commission of three cabinet members ordered the board of trade closed for sixty days for violating the grain futures act.

Wheat opened higher today, but later slumped down below last week's close. This was attributed to selling pressure and some traders hastened to lay the slump at the door of the closing order. Aside from this, there was no noticeable reaction to the federal ruling.

CHICAGO, July 25 (AP)—The Chicago board of trade today began a determined battle to the last legal ditch against federal closure but was undecided as to the course to follow if it should lose.

Whether to lock its doors for 60 days or to surrender by admitting the farmers national grain corporation to trading privileges will not be discussed until resort to courts of law has been exhausted, President Peter B. Carey said.

He blamed the closing order, issued Saturday by three cabinet members, on "President Hoover's jobholders who naturally would not decide against the subsidiary of the president's own farm board."

Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, Secretary of Commerce Lamont, and Attorney General Mitchell said their order would be effective Aug. 8.

George S. Milnor, general manager of the farmers national, said today the government sponsored co-operative had been granted clearing privileges in "every other important trading mart in the United States."

"In all their hue and cry about being closed up," Milnor said, "President Carey and others of the board overlook that part of the government's decision that would set aside the closing order if the farmers national were given clearing association privileges."

"It's just a plain case of Carey trying to lead the board to suicide."

Through the Hall-Baker grain corporation, a subsidiary, the farmers national has clearing association facilities on the Kansas City board of trade, and has, in itself, been admitted to such clearing membership in the Minneapolis, Duluth, Seattle and Portland exchanges, Milnor said.

"It seems," Milnor added, "that the Chicago board was the only one out of step."
