

LOCAL BRIEFS

House Robbed—Ray Ford, 1519 S avenue, reported to police that his house was entered last night and a considerable amount of clothing was stolen, including shirts, shorts, a robe and other articles.

Accident—C. P. Hutchens reported to the police that Wednesday, while he was waiting in line on Emigrant for the flagman to reverse the one-way traffic, that a grader belonging to the Standard Asphalt Paving Co. tore the left rear fender from his car.

Here From Wallawa—Mrs. Otto Frick and Mrs. Gordon Martin, of Wallawa, were La Grande visitors this week. They were here shopping and calling on friends.

To Attend Normal—Miss Louise Kennedy, of Joseph, is in La Grande to attend the second half of the summer quarter at the Normal school. She has spent much time in La Grande previously and has a number of friends here. Miss Kennedy has been lifesaver and swimming instructor at a pool on the Clackamas river.

Visiting Sister—James A. Nickerson, member of the soldiers' home in Boise, stopped in La Grande today on his way to Wallawa where he will spend his vacation with Mrs. W. E. Fields, his sister. He will be in Wallawa county until about Sept. 25.

Howard's Here—Howard, of the state police, and Mrs. Howard, who was formerly Dorothy Krouse, left La Grande today after a short business trip in this vicinity. They formerly made their home here and called on old friends during their stay. Mrs. Howard's father was with them. The Howard home is now in Eugene.

Went to Cove—Mr. and Mrs. Beecher Ramsdell, of Texas, who are house guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stearna, spent yesterday at Cove visiting their cousin, Mr. and Mrs. E. Fields, his sister. Gene Ramsdell, Mr. Ramsdell's father, accompanied them there.

On Vacation—Miss Ella Niederer, of the library staff, has been spending her summer vacation in Pocatello, Idaho.

Had Interesting Trip—Miss Vergella Bond and brothers, Champ and Turner Bond, returned last week from a visit with relatives in Missouri and Kentucky. They report an interesting motor trip, with pleasant weather, good roads and no car troubles going or returning. While in Kentucky they visited the Lincoln memorial and the Mammoth and Onyx caves, and returned home through Colorado, where they climbed Pike's peak and visited the Garden of the Gods, drove over the most impressive of any seen on the journey, and crossed the Royal Gorge bridge, which is the highest bridge in the world. Miss Bond is now at her home at Haines, where she will spend the remainder of the summer, until time to take up teaching duties in Amherst. Turner Bond is also spending the rest of the summer at home, and Champ has resumed his work at a service garage in La Grande.

Goes To Olympics—R. D. Murphy, of Minnesota, was in La Grande overnight on his way to the Olympic games in Los Angeles.

Visit At Lake—Mrs. Nellie Harrison, manager of the Cinderella Frock shop, and Mrs. Blue, her mother, are expected home tonight from Wallawa lake where they have spent a day or so at the Clark cabin.

Home From Meeting—Dr. William Peare returned by train this morning from Portland where he attended a meeting of the state optometry board. Dr. Peare was re-elected secretary of the state group of which Dr. Floyd B. Daynton is again president. Dr. Isaac Staples was re-elected vice president.

Committee to Meet—There will be a meeting of the Union County Labor exchange committee tonight at the city hall at 7:30 o'clock. All citizens interested are invited to attend.

Former La Granders Here—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leavitt, both of whom are "La Grande natives," were back here today and called on their friends with news that they planned an extended visit. Mr. Leavitt was for many years master mechanic of the O-W shops here, and has 44 years of service with the ion Pacific to his record. He is now retired and, with Mrs. Leavitt, has been living in Portland. They expect to be here for a few months.

Driving From Iowa—Friends of Francis Robinson will be interested to learn that he will arrive in La Grande about Saturday for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Robinson. Mr. Robinson's wife, who has not yet visited in La Grande, will be with them. Mr. Robinson earned his doctor of philosophy degree this year at Iowa university in Iowa City where he will be on the psychology department faculty next year. The degree was conferred on July 21 and Mr. and Mrs. Robinson left by car for La Grande on the 23rd. They are driving by way of Yellowstone. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson's other son John, will be here this weekend with his orchestra, the Varsity Vagabonds, of the Olympic band. Their visit to La Grande is of much interest because the orchestra was first organized here when the members were University of Oregon students. Mr. Robinson's wife is in La Grande Tuesday and had planned to be here when her brother-in-law and his wife arrived, but she was called on to Idaho Falls by the illness of her father.

TEAM WIN IS HELD CERTAIN FOR AMERICA

outlasting all others. The 10,000 meter run, first of the track events, will be a parade of the Finns. If Paavo Nurmi is reinstated and competes, along with his two young countrymen, Volmari Iso-Holm, and Lauri Virtanen. Their chief threat is the Polisher, Jan Kusciniski, who has a victory over Nurmi to his credit, but the Finns insist any one of their trio can shatter the world record, if necessary, to win. They are in a class with a chance in this distance race.

Shotput in Doubt—The shotput, also to be decided on the first day, may be the first Olympic title lost by more than 100,000 can see the world's speediest, brawn-iest and most agile athletes perform. Here's how the American coaches figure their prospects: Sure want 120 meters flat, pole vault and high jump. Likely winners—100 and 200 meter dashes, discus, high hurdles. Doubtful but with chance to win—800 and 1500 meter runs, 3000 meters steeplechase, shotput, broad jump, 400 and 1600 meter relays.

Weak—All distance races, including 500 and 10,000 meters and marathons, 400-meter hurdles, hop, step and jump, hammer, javelin (by comparison with Finns), decathlon and 50,000 meter walk.

On this basis, the United States will be lucky to win seven first places, one less than was collected four years ago at Amsterdam. The Finns figure they are certain to capture at least six and if Ville Forholm continues to lose the hammer over 180 feet, as he did in practice yesterday, he may beat the Olympic champion, Pat O'Callaghan, of Ireland.

Sprinters in Good Form—By contrast with the last two Olympiads, the American sprint runners and hurdlers have come up to the games in top form, confident they will regain lost prestige. The national champion, Ralph Metcalfe, of Marquette, is regarded in all camps as the man to beat in both the 100 and 200 meter dashes, due to his unusual stamina as well as speed. His running mates are two seasoned campaigners, Eddie Tolan and George Simpson. They have high regard, however, for Percy Williams, of Canada, the Olympic champion, as well as Arthur Jonah, of Germany.

The "best bets" to win, all factors considered are: Metcalfe in the 200 meters, Bill Carr, United States, in the 400 meters; Jack Keller, U. S., 110-meter hurdles; Bill Graber, U. S., pole vault; John Anderson, U. S., discus; Matti Jarvinen, Finland, javelin; and his brother, Aulis Jarvinen, decathlon. The Finns have three javelin tossers doing better than 230 feet.

Nurmi, with the big "if" always attached, will be the choice in the classic marathon, but you can't convince the Argentine delegation that their bright star, Juan Carlos Zabala, can be beaten. Zabala covered 22 miles in less than two hours in a workout this week and thinks he can cover the full marathon distance, 26 miles, 385 yards, in between 2:15 and 2:20 for a world record. But the boys will have to see it before they will believe Paavo can be trimmed.

EQUAL RIGHTS FOR WOMEN—NATIONAL AIR RACES—CLEVELAND (AP)—Because women will be admitted to all events on the national air race calendar August 27-September 5, they'll have a better "break" than the men.

All events, for the first time in the history of the classic, will be open to women fliers—but two events will be exclusively for the women.

One is a 50-mile race similar to the 1931 contest won by Mrs. Maude Tait with a speed of 187.5 miles an hour, while a new event will be the Amelia Earhart trophy race with an award posted by the transatlantic flier's husband, George Palmer Putnam.

LOSES JOB TO RIVAL TWICE

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—When Harry Leibold, deposed manager of the Columbus Red Birds, got a new job he probably will wonder if Billy Southworth will be next on the scene. When Southworth succeeded to Leibold's job it was the second time Leibold was traded by Cleveland to the Chicago White Sox. Southworth got his job in center field.

WHITE AND PURPLE IN TWO-TONE MODE

PARIS (AP)—Comtesse de Munoz is among the smart Parisians sponsoring the new two-toned evening frocks. Along her evening gowns is one designed with a bodice of white satin and a high-waisted, clinging skirt of purple-blue satin. It is worn with a very long scarf of white satin with deep ends of the purple blue.

By J. R. Williams

Glassford maneuvered them in such a way the veteran army was broken up into a number of sections, some on the job to be cleared and others across the street.

Night officers who had been off duty but a few hours were roused from bed and sent to the scene. The scattered veterans encampments at Anacostia and other places in the southern section of the city were deserted, their inhabitants having gone individually or in groups to the Pennsylvania avenue site.

Plunging into the center of the fight, Glassford succeeded in stopping the rush at police ropes. Several police and a number of veterans were injured and Glassford had his badge torn off.

He stopped the men and asked to confer with company leaders. One small veteran, apparently the leader of the attack, attempted to urge the men on again. He had been struck with a brick and the right side of his face was covered with blood. Police seized him and put him in a patrol wagon.

Walter W. Waters, commander of the bonus expeditionary force, was present but at first refused to take any part in the discussion. Later he talked with Glassford. Police reinforcements poured in constantly, motor sirens screaming and officers were ready for action with their clubs. No tear gas bombs were used in the first clash, officers fighting the veterans off with their sticks.

Immediate eviction of all members of the bonus expeditionary forces from federal property was ordered by the government shortly after a group of veterans had been removed from one of the buildings they occupied on lower Pennsylvania avenue near the capitol.

The ground floor was cleared without difficulty amidst considerable razzing from veterans on the upper floors and on the roof. The only way to get to the second floor was up a ladderlike stairway. When the treasury agents arrived on that floor they met their first resistance.

"Dizzy" Negro Arrested—A large negro declared that he was unable to walk down the stairway "because the height makes me dizzy." After his refusal the treasury agents started to pick him up bodily. When he resisted he was arrested. Officers bumped him down the steps as he shouted at the top of his voice "Don't hit me, don't hit me, I'm a citizen, I'm a citizen." Still shouting "don't hit me" he was placed in a patrol wagon and hauled away. Glassford, standing in the group of veterans on the second floor, joined with everyone else in hearty laughter.

Others on the second floor came down the narrow stairway without resistance. Hundreds of curious spectators crowded the sidewalks outside the roped off areas. One Woman in Building—There was one woman in the building. "I am Mrs. Brown, of Los Angeles," she said in reply to questions. "Yes, I have children, but none here. I am going to stay." The sweeping evacuation order was made public by Attorney-General Mitchell who said jails were available to care for all the veterans who proved rebellious.

A large group was removed, some forcibly, from their temporary home near the capitol. At least two arrests were made of veterans who refused to leave voluntarily and were hustled out by police. Under instructions of the treasury department, wrecking crews were sent to the site to tear down the structure preliminary to razing other

BOSTON WOOL—BOSTON, July 28 (AP)—Finer grade western wools are selling more freely than last week and early this week. Sales include Texas 12-months wools and 58-60's and finer territory wools. Graded French combing 64's and finer territory wools set at 32-35 scoured basis, and strictly combed 58-60's wool set at same range of prices, with both lines inclined slightly firmer.

STOCK MARKET BULLISH—NEW YORK, July 28 (AP)—In the face of a large volume of profit taking sales, the stock market chalked up further substantial net gains today, in one of the most active sessions since December 18. The market moved forward for the seventh time in the past eight trading sessions as market strength of the dollar in the foreign exchange markets, and buying of bonds and some commodities, prompted further bullishness.

FRENCH COURSE EASY—BIARRITZ, France (AP)—Golf has become too easy in the opinion of the members of the committee of the Biarritz golf club, and they are considering the addition of several bunkers to make the course more sporting.

Jimmy Densmore, Erie, Pa., pitcher, tried an "iron man" stunt of pitching both games in a double-header with South Bend, but lost the second game.

Mrs. Williams accompanied her husband on the trip. They were in New York for one day and took the trip up the Hudson to Albany and then to Montreal, coming west from that city on the Canadian Pacific. The La Grande stay in Hazleton, Miss., where they attended negro church services and found the negro music exceedingly interesting. The negro church music was unlike the average presentation of jubilee music, and was unusual and beautiful to them, they said.

Libby Holman in Co-ed Days

Here are two pictures out of the happy past of Libby Holman Reynolds, now central figure in the tragic death of Smith Reynolds, heir to the Reynolds tobacco fortune. On the left, Libby Holman as a member of the French Patriots' Dramatic club of the University of Cincinnati in 1923, and on the right, a closeup taken the same year.

Ready to Say a Mouthful!

It seems a man can't even eat lunch without having a camera thrust under his nose—especially when that man happens to be the Democratic presidential nominee. Anyhow, it must have been a tasty meal that Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt and his sons prepared aboard their fishing yawl "Myth II," judging by the governor's evident enjoyment of the food. The picture was taken while the boat was tied up at Marblehead, Mass., during their vacation cruise.

buildings in the vicinity which have been occupied by the veterans to make way for the government building program.

While the second floor eviction was going on those on the roof sang war time songs mixed with various parodies. Cheers arose from veterans across the street when they sang the following: "My bonus lies over the ocean, My bonus lies over the sea. They gave the dough to the Frenchmen. And they won't give my bonus to me."

Walter W. Waters, the bonus commander, watched the eviction. He was wet with perspiration, being dressed in riding breeches, heavy woolen socks and boots and a woolen shirt. Some of the men being evicted who did not agree with Waters' policy shouted "puss in boots" at him. The bonus army leader ignored the razzing.

To Get New Quarters—Waters last night informed police he was willing to evacuate the area peacefully in view of the fact that "friends" had provided a camp site and money for barracks elsewhere. His plan was that the veterans move to that site.

Waters maintained he did not desire to make any veteran act against his own will and based his plea on the argument that it would benefit the bonus army in the long run to evacuate and form a permanent camp.

Waters' appeal to the men to move peacefully to another camp was received with boos from some of the men. Only a few indicated willingness to leave their shantytown along one of the world's most famous streets.

In his statement Attorney General Mitchell declared "there is no longer any excuse or justification for the assemblage in Washington of these men."

"They are trespassers on government property, much of which is immediately needed for erection of public improvements," he added.

"Many of them are violating the laws of the district by holding unlawful assemblies in the street, obstructing traffic, disorderly conduct, begging and other acts. Their refusal to leave government property and resisting removal is an offense against the law, punishable by fine and imprisonment."

"It is high time this conduct should end. There is no reason why these men should not obey the laws of the district just as every resident of the district is expected to do."

"In removing them from government property entirely lawful methods are available. Under the law it is not necessary to resort to the courts for ejectment decrees. Methods are legally prescribed for the summary removal and the necessary steps will be taken accordingly."

"In addition to the steps looking toward their eviction because of their trespassing on government property, steps are being taken to coordinate the work of arrest and prosecution for any and all violations of the law."

"Arrest will be made for all violations, and arrangements have been made for cooperation between the district attorney's office and prosecuting attorneys in the office of the corporation counsel to expedite these cases, present them to the courts, and to urge substantial sentences and to arrange proper prison accommodation in the district jail, the Occoquan workhouse, and the prison at Lorton for any number of persons who may be convicted."

"No one has any disposition to be unfriendly harsh in these matters, but it is hoped that these men and their leaders will realize that the illegal possession of government property and other unlawful conduct cannot be long tolerated and that they will yield to the inevitable and obey the law."

OFFICERS ON THE RUN FOR SHORT TIME (Continued from Page One) building which had been cleared of veterans. With the arrival of police reserves,
