

Egg Quotations Unchanged; Berry Market Is Active

PORTLAND, July 30 (AP) — There was no change in the price of eggs here for the week. General values are held in line with quotations listed by the local co-ops although reports indicate that some outsiders are still shading these figures 1c dozen.

Receipts better in the price at some inland and eastern points was of fractional volume and due generally to the hot weather which has created a shortage of quality fowls.

Announcement at the weekend is made at Tillamook of an advance of 1c pound in the price for both triplets and loaf. The former is now 14c pound, Tillamook, while the latter is 15c. The Portland selling list to retailers is 2c above this.

Market for steady continues to reflect a generally strong tone locally as well as along the coast generally. There was no change during the weekend session in either prints or cubes. Butterfat firm.

There are today ample supplies of live chickens to fill all immediate needs of the trade. Hens are in fair volume but there is no shortage. Prices are unchanged.

Steady movement of fancy quality killed meals is reported at the weekend. Light weights of hogs, calves and lambs are finding favor but heavy calves and hogs are not so easily moved.

With more coming from Central Washington sections as well as consignments from California, all wants of the tomato trade are taken care of. Prices are steady to a trifle easier in general.

Continued abundance of steelhead and silver salmon keeps the price of raw fish very low here. In fact there continues a surplus of offerings. Fancy chinooks are scarce.

Trading while dull in most lines on the east side farmers' wholesale market was fairly active for berries. Raspberries showed a movement from 75c to 81.5c crate with the bulk of the good fruit selling 85¢ to 90c.

Loganberries sold 60¢ to 65¢ crate generally. Blackberries were $1 crate for a small supply. Strawberries ruled slow at former prices.

Corn sales were generally $1 sack with a few $1.15. Cabbage sales were easy, mostly $1 crate. A few higher. Tomatoes sold well but generally no higher than 60¢ to 65¢ for 14.

Bull Forces In Control Today In Wall Street

NEW YORK, July 30 (AP) — Bull forces kept stock market well in hand today, in the face of weekend profit taking.

The list sagged moderately in the first hour, then stiffened in the later trading, with steels turning notably active. Changes were largely narrow at the finish, but a number of the leaders were up fractions to more than a point and the closing tone was firm.

Trading continued in fair volume, and the turnover for the short session approximated 800,000 shares.

The list appeared to be carried forward chiefly by its own momentum. Among favorably interpreted developments were the announcement of plans developing in the program of the reconstruction finance corporation, and the general agreement of the weekend business reviews that sentiment had improved markedly in most parts of the country, but distinctly new developments were largely lacking.

WATERS IN SECLUSION

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP) — L. W. Walde, who has been living in the house which Walter W. Waters had described as headquarters of the bonus-seekers, said today the leader of the movement would not immediately respond to a request for aid from his followers at Johnstown, Pa.

Dispatches from the Pennsylvania city, where a large group of the veterans evacuated from Washington have gone, said Waters had been requested by telephone to come immediately by airplane to help in handling the situation growing out of antagonism by some of the citizenry to the entrance of the former service men.

Waters himself remained in seclusion as he has done since he acknowledged last Thursday the veterans had gotten completely out of his control.

Waters was said to be "out." Press of "important business" here was given as the reason for his decision to remain here during the day. Its nature was not disclosed.

Walde said reports from Johnstown received today were "discouraging."

The newspaper would draft a guard from the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion and other citizens eligible for guard duty.

At this morning's staff conference, Carter and his aides, received reports that hordes of men evacuating Washington had reached the southern borders of the state.

Misdirecting Veterans Carter telephoned Waters that state police are misdirecting the veterans in an effort to avoid Johnstown and get them to the Ohio border.

In a camp hastily thrown up at Ideal park, about a thousand veterans lounged today and awaited whatever might happen. Other small groups trudged the streets.

A band of 50 from the veterans arrived at daybreak, dirty, tired and famished. They said 200 more Californians are scattered through the mountains southeast of the city.

Many have stopped in depression-desolated coal camps for rest but they found no food there, for the to billet and feed them. The Democrat suggested that all "unemployed from other parts of the country" who remain in Johnstown for more than 24 hours should be apprehended and placed in a concentration camp under guard.

was succeeded by Dr. L. W. Hyde, of Astoria. On Hyde's motion the vote for Scott was made unanimous.

Not until last night did Hamilton let it be known that he did not want to be candidate. His friends had believed they had enough votes to elect him. He decided that coupled with the circumstance that his time was limited, the success of the party might better be achieved if another were named.

This afternoon Scott was to address the committee. Two seven committees were present. Five proxies were held.

manufacture of blasting powder, is divided into separate units, separated by artificial humpbacks to take up the recoil from explosions and prevent the spread of any fire.

Today's blast occurred in the number 3 jolly plant, which was filled with nitro-glycerine.

Superintendent W. G. Frome immediately ordered a roll call of the workers in an effort to learn the identity of the missing men.

The explosion was felt over a radius of 30 miles, and resulted in a flood of inquiries at police stations and newspaper offices, and a continuous flow to the powder plant of relatives of workers.

The gates to the plant were closed, however, and all outsiders, including even county officials, were kept out. The whole plant is isolated on the bay shore and cut off by low hills from the highway and neighboring towns. In spite of that fact windows are shattered as far away as Richmond.

Company officials, announcement from the plant office said, went into the number 3 jolly house within an hour after the explosion to determine whether there were any bodies there and to try to learn the cause of the accident.

LAST BONUS ARMY GROUPS QUIT CAPITAL (Continued on Page Six)

previously after General Douglas MacArthur, the army chief of staff, had declared normal conditions once more prevailed. Only a few hundred veterans remained.

The department of justice announced that six of nine members of the bonus army who were finger printed after their arrest had criminal records.

All under arrest were being finger printed but only nine had been received at the department.

It said that John T. Pace, leader of the communist wing, was arrested January 4 at Lincoln Park, Michigan, and sentenced to 90 days in jail on a disorderly charge.

Glassford Won't Retreat Felham D. Glassford, police superintendent, declined to retreat from his stand that the invasion by military had overemphasized the seriousness of the situation. He reiterated that an order to him insisting that the bonus seekers be removed from federal property brought all the trouble.
