

Leo Sexton and Babe Didrikson Win in Olympics for U. S. A.

CANADIAN TAKES HIGH JUMP WITH VAN OSDEL NEXT

Janusz Kusocinski, Poland, Wins 10,000-Meter Race—Sprint Preliminaries Held Yesterday.

By Alan Gould (Associated Press Sports Editor) LOS ANGELES, Aug. 1 (AP)—After a glittering inaugural before the greatest crowd in Olympic history, then a record-smashing competitive overture, the Olympic track and field championships today featured the prospect that two of the most popular titleholders, Percy Williams, of Canada, and Lord David Burghley, of England, would be hard-pressed to keep up the pace and probably would be dethroned.

Both barely survived the first day's battle for places, which gave 50,000 spectators in the Olympic stadium a succession of unexpected thrills, saw Olympic records shattered in four men's events and witnessed, all told, no less than eight record performances up to and including a world record javelin throw, for women, of 143.4 inches, by the "one-woman" track team from Dallas, Texas—Mildred (Babe) Didrikson.

Williams, in the semi-finals and finals of the classic 100-meter dash, outstanding event on this afternoon's program, faced not only the swift-returning challenge of a crack trio of Americans, Eddie Tolan, Ralph Metcalfe and George Simpson, but the threat of a new German flyer, Arthur Jonath.

The Canadian star, who won both sprint titles at Amsterdam four years ago, survived by way of the third and last qualifying position in a trial heat won by Tolan, the former Michigan negro ace, in the new Olympic record time of 10.4 seconds. Williams, in this heat of the second series, trailed Carlos Lutt, surprise contender from the Argentine, as well as Tolan.

Meanwhile Jonath, a big, rangily-built German, came through his second test in 10.5 seconds, also beating the former Olympic mark of 10.9, which he equalled in his first race, which he equalled in his first race, which he equalled in his first race.

were clocked in 10.7 seconds in their second races. Metcalfe, the Marquette university negro and American sprint champion, particularly seemed to have lots to spare as he breezed to his second victory over the sole Japanese survivor, Yoshioka, a gallant little fellow who churned up the cinders with a big handkerchief wrapped around his head.

Tolan Favored The favorites, as they stacked up among the even dozen of the world's best sprinters surviving the two preliminary rounds, were Tolan, Metcalfe and Jonath, in that order.

Otherwise the first day's track and field competition was marked by the crowning of three world champions. (1) Leo Sexton, United States, who twice shattered the Olympic shotput record with successive marks of 52 feet, 3 3/4 inches and then, for a climax, 52 feet, 6 2/16 inches. (3) Janusz Kusocinski, Poland, who broke the Finnish domination of the 10,000 meter race by beating the best of Finland's youngsters, Volmari Iso-Hollo, and cracking Paavo Nurmi's Olympic record by negotiating the distance in 30 minutes, 11.4 seconds.

McNaughton Wins Jump (3) Duncan McNaughton, Canada, who broke the running high jump, at 6 feet 5 3/8 inches, after a prolonged jump-off duel with his Southern California teammate, Bob Van Osdel, representing the United States.

(4) Mildred (Babe) Didrikson, United States, whose world record toss of 143 feet, 4 inches, on her first try with the javelin, marked the debut of this extraordinary girl athlete in Olympic competition. It also enabled her to beat the German, E. Braumuller, who had held the previous women's mark of 132 feet, 7 1/8 inch, and lost yesterday despite improving her own mark.

Breaks Olympic record of 30 minutes 18.8 seconds set by Paavo Nurmi, Finland, 1928.

Perfect Balance Needed In Stance BACK ON YOUR HEELS! BUT I CAN'T HIT IT THAT WAY! IT DON'T HELP ME NONE!

By Johnny Farrell (As Told to Artie McGovern) A stance which gives perfect control of balance is most essential to a golf swing. Any position that causes the body to sway will ruin a shot.

When the distance the clubhead travels before its contact with a small ball is considered, the need for perfect equilibrium is readily understood. A variation of a fraction of an inch will send the clubhead against the ball at an oblique angle, making a straight shot impossible. Stand up to the ball in a comfortably relaxed position. If you have been hooking or slicing as a result of body swaying, you will find it helpful to put the weight of the body back on the heels just before you start the clubhead into the swing.

Japanese baseball players always remove their caps before addressing an umpire, according to Ray Fisher, University of Michigan football coach.

At the close of the market July 29, local No. 1 hard white wheat was quoted at San Francisco at 97 1/2 to $1.00 and at Los Angeles at $1.00 to $1.02 1/2 per 100. No. 1 soft white wheat was quoted at San Francisco at 95 to 97 1/2 and at Los Angeles at 97 1/2 to $1.00. Intermediate wheat was quoted at San Francisco at $1.12 per 100 for No. 2 hard winter, 13 1/2 per cent protein, and at $1.05 for the same grade, ordinary protein for prompt shipment, Washington and Oregon shippers were quoting No. 2 western white at 98 1/2 to $1.00 delivered dock San Francisco and 95 to 97 1/2 delivered Los Angeles. No. 1 hard white, 13 1/2 per cent protein, was quoted at $1.12 1/2 to $1.15 per 100, delivered San Francisco docks.

Russian Harvest Interrupted Harvesting in Russia has been interrupted by rains and the acreage harvested to July 15 was under that of a year ago. Charterings for August-September shipment of new wheat from Black sea ports has recently increased, but tonnage is under that of the past two years. New Russian wheat was offered in British markets during the week at 55 3/4 per bu. for Sept. shipment. This was about 3 1/2 below quotations on No. 2 Manitoba from Vancouver and nearly 8c below sales of No. 1 hard winter from the Gulf. Quality of the new wheat, however, is uncertain and buyers are hesitating to contract before receipt of samples, according to trade reports although quality is claimed by shippers to be equal to that of last season.

Wheat Market Strengthens--Coast Prices Are Firmer

Butter Market Showing Strong Tone in Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 1 (AP)—Market for butter continues to reflect a generally strong tone locally with no change in the price here for the week's opening.

Most of the local egg trading is now confined to list values although reports indicate some outsiders are still supplying the large stores at a substantial discount.

Practically no changes are suggested in the price of live chickens for the week's opening. There is a sufficient supply in sight in all lines to take care of immediate trade wants.

Few dressed turkeys are now reaching the trade here.

Market for country killed meats is generally steady for the week's opening with the exception of heavy weight calves. There was some carry-over of these. Practically no further price change suggested.

There continues a scarcity of fancy Columbia river chinook salmon but plenty of standard and ocean caught stock is shown. The Nehalem opens today and supplies from there are due Tuesday.

There is again an easier tone reflected in the market for tomatoes with increased shipments from the Dalles and from Yakima. Considerable business in No. 1 stock no higher than 50 to 60c box.

Apricot market is dull with prices steady to easy.

Tree ripened Elberta peaches from California selling 80 to 85c generally. Early local peaches continue to drag. Cantaloupes are again inclined lower.

Green corn is down a mere fraction. Walla Walla onions are 5 to 10c lower here.

Potatoes are considered steady.

CROP LOSS NEWS OVER THE WORLD BOOSTING PRICE

Less Favorable Prospects in Canada and U. S.—Delayed Harvests Reported in Europe.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 (Special)—Domestic wheat markets strengthened materially during the week ending July 29 influenced by less favorable prospects for spring wheat both in the U. S. and Canada delayed harvests in Europe and some improvement in export demand and relatively light offerings of cash grain, according to the weekly grain market review of the U. S. bureau of agriculture economics. Feed grains were steady. The advance in wheat and further deterioration of the corn crop in important producing areas as a result of extreme heat and lack of moisture, were the principal strengthening factors. Rye and flax were also firmer, influenced by higher wheat prices.

The firmer situation which developed in the wheat market during the week was brought about largely by less favorable prospects for the new North American spring wheat crop. Reports of delayed harvests in Europe as a result of wet weather, some improvement in security markets and relatively light marketings of domestic wheat however, were also strengthening factors. Harvesting of winter wheat has been practically completed in the United States and threshing is well along in most areas. Marketings continued light, with receipts at the principal central and southwestern markets totaling only 32,102 cars since July 1, compared with 62,507 cars for the corresponding period last year. Harvesting of spring wheat is well along in southern parts of the domestic spring wheat area and threshing returns show good yields and high quality in Northwestern white and hard winter were quoted at caused considerable damage to spring wheat during the past two weeks and trade reports indicate a material reduction in yields and lower quality where moisture reserves were low.

The Canadian harvest has begun in Manitoba, where the crop is maturing rapidly. Prospects are reported still good in Northwestern Alberta and in Central and Northern Alberta with the exception of the Peace River valley and in Central Northern Saskatchewan. In other areas the crop has been given a definite setback as a result of the recent hot weather and insufficient current rainfall and inadequate subsoil moisture. These less favorable crop prospects, together with some improvement for export inquiry for Canadian grain, strengthened the Winnipeg market and No. 1 Manitoba northern was quoted at that point July 29 at 58 1/2c, which is equivalent to 50 1/2c in United States currency.

Coast Market Firm Pacific northwestern markets were relatively firmer than those at eastern points and both cash and future prices were 4 to 6c higher than a week ago. Harvesting was reported general over Eastern Washington and Oregon, but yields are below earlier expectations, because of recent dry weather. Early samples of Washington wheat indicates an average test weight of 1-2 lbs. lower than last year. Smut appears to be as prevalent as last season. The first car of new wheat from Montana was received at Spokane during the week and graded No. 2 dark hard winter. The test weight was 58 1/2 lbs., dockage 2 per cent and protein 15.8 per cent. Country marketings of wheat in Washington and Oregon continued light and receipts at Puget Sound and Columbia river terminals during the week totaled only 417 cars compared with 1,016 cars for the corresponding week last season. Demand was fairly active from both millers and exporters but trading was limited by the light offerings. Around 10,000 tons of wheat were reported sold for export to the United Kingdom during the early part of the week. The advance in prices however, restricted trading towards the close. Bids from the Orient continued too low to effect sales. At the close of the market July 29, B. B. bluestem hard white was quoted at Portland at 56 1/2c, soft and western white at 51 1/2c, hard winter, northern spring and western red at 50 1/2c per North Dakota. However, dry weather white and hard winter were quoted at Seattle at 51 1/2c, western red at 51c and hard white at 56c, sacked, basis No. 1, 12 per cent protein No. 1 dark hard winter was quoted at 56 1/2c sacked and 16 per cent protein No. 1, dark northern spring from Montana in bulk at 86c per bushel.

California wheat markets advanced about 5c per 100 during the week, largely reflecting advances in eastern and northern markets. Marketings of local wheat decreased but were sufficient for the local trade requirements. Mills were purchasing in moderate volume and only as needed
