

Wallowa County Creamery Holds Annual Picnic

By Mrs. C. A. Hunter (Observer Correspondent)

WALLOWA (Special) — Although Wednesday was a cool, cloudy day, and threatened rain, a large crowd gathered at the city park to enjoy the second annual picnic given by the Wallowa County Creamery association.

G. A. Brown, manager of the Interstate Creameries, of Portland, and Roger Morse, of the extension office of Oregon State college, were among the visitors present and both addressed the meeting of dairymen which followed the picnic dinner.

Coffee, cream and ice cream were furnished by the association.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hunter, of La Grande, are enjoying camp life at the end of the road in Bear creek canyon. They were in Wallowa Monday for supplies and stated that they were having plenty of trout and a few huckleberries to eat, that they have established a fine camp with a cookstove and other conveniences and expect to spend the month of August camping there and at Wallowa lake.

Mr. Hunter, who has been in poor health for several months, has gained in weight and is feeling quite himself again, he states.

Joyce Williams and Marie Koepf are representatives of Wallowa at the Presbyterian conference which is being held up South Fork canyon this week. A number of people from here who could not get for the entire week plan to attend some of the sessions.

James Woodruff left Sunday for his home in Portland after a two weeks visit here, and was accompanied by Mrs. Virginia Hunter, who will spend a few weeks in Portland.

Jack Rinker returned Sunday to Portland after his annual visit at his home. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Rinker, took him as far as La Grande.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. McLean and children, Corwin and Janet, of Corvallis, are expected here for a short visit. They will stop en route for a visit in Pendleton where they lived 18 years before moving to Corvallis three years ago.

Mrs. Rae Searle and daughters are giving up their large home on Mill street and will move next week to one of the Hamilton apartments where they will reside for the winter.

Dr. George Dale received word Tuesday of the death of his mother, Mrs. William Dale, Monday night at her home at Estacada. She was an invalid and well advanced in years so that her death was not unexpected. Funeral arrangements have not been received here. Dr. Dale left for the west Tuesday.

Paul Voght, Delbert Glawey, Bill Cook and Miss Lillian Dale drove to Wallowa from The Dalles for a week-end stay at the Dr. George Dale home.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jay Johnson Aug. 4 at their home here to whom the name, Louise, was given.

C. L. Bales and family left Monday for a two weeks vacation trip to Yakima, Seattle, Portland and other points.

Mrs. Margaret McDonald, of Wallowa lake, was the guest of Mrs. Fred Furst Thursday afternoon. Mrs. J. B. Gregory and Mrs. C. A. Hunter were other guests invited to form one table for bridge. The afternoon was spent playing auction and in conversation. Mrs. McDonald will leave early in September for Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Brandt, of Lostine, are the parents of a baby girl, born Sunday at the Wallowa hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Daugherty and sons, Billy and Bobby, motored to Cove Sunday and spent the day at the Cove swimming pool.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Sevier and family, who have spent the summer on their large ranch near Wallowa are leaving this week for their home in Berkeley.

A seven-pound baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meadows August 8.

Mrs. Averill Combs, of Burns, is in Wallowa visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cramer.

Honor Is Harvard's

Harvard university is the oldest institution of its kind in the United States. The first building was erected in 1637 by Nathaniel Eaton. Therefore this is the oldest school in the New England section as well as in the United States as a whole. The second oldest college founded in the United States is the College of William and Mary at Williamsburg, Va., founded when Virginia was still a colony in 1693.

Latin Once Widely Used

In the days of the Roman empire it was the language of commerce used almost universally throughout southern Europe and the old Roman empire that extended into Asia and Africa. The so-called Romance languages of today are evolved directly from Latin, and even in the English, German and Scandinavian languages a large proportion of the words are derived from Latin roots.

Archery Term

A wand shot in archery is a form of competition. The number of arrows shot is determined by local rules. For men the distance is usually 100 yards. The target is a "wand" 2 inches wide and 6 feet high from the ground. The wand is made of wallboard or soft pine. The one who has most arrows in the wand wins.

Species of Clover

Lespedeza is a type of clover, sometimes called Japanese clover, introduced into the United States by the Department of Agriculture. It grows best in the southeastern section of the country.

Ladybird and the Sun

In India and Egypt the ladybird has been associated from earliest times with the sun, and a comparison of the many versions of the nursery rhyme which still exist in England and in various European countries yields a similar result.

Sap From Sugar Maple
A Cornell bulletin says that about 15 gallons of sap may be expected from each sugar maple tree, an average, though the yield may vary from 5 to 40 gallons. Normal sap contains about 2 per cent of sugar. Hence, it takes 45 to 50 gallons of sap to make a gallon of syrup; a gallon of syrup of standard density contains about eight pounds of sugar.

This Fish a Fighter
The blood-thirsty giant moray eel is said to be the only denizen of the deep which will deliberately attack a man after it has been landed in a boat. It is much swifter in attack than a shark and is the most powerful and vicious creature of its weight in the tropic seas.

Race Horse Names
"Names of race horses are becoming queerer," says a turf authority. Recalling Charley Case's father, who didn't know the name of the bawky horse he got in a deal, so called him one, and then other.—Detroit News.

Millionaires in '61
Various opinions are held as to how many millionaires there were in the United States when the Civil war began. One writer says that there were but three. Others estimate that there were about fifty.

Girls in Business
When home girls become business girls they lose a precious, innocent charm, but in return are rewarded by obtaining a broader outlook on life, and a finer sense of values.—Dorothy E. V. Phelps.

CHERRY DIXON asked Dan Phillips to marry her. She was 19, beautiful and rich. Dan hadn't a cent beyond his weekly salary. Cherry knew he wouldn't ask her to give up the luxuries to which she was accustomed for the little he could offer her. So Cherry took matters into her own hands. She proposed to Dan—and became a "Leap Year Bride." That's the title of the exciting new serial by Laura Lou Brookman. Watch for it
