Portland Increases Margin Of Leadership In Coast League Race

BEAVERS DEFEAT SEATTLE WHILE STARS LOSE OUT

San Francisco Moves Into Third Place By Whipping Hollywood in 11 Innings.

By the Associated Press

After two weeks of ill fortune on the road, Portland's Beavers returned home to take the series opener from Seattle, 7 to 4. The Indians were ahead 4 to 2 as the eighth inning opened, but the Ducks rallied to make six hits and five runs. Defeat of the second place Hollywood Stars by San Francisco left Portland leading the league by a two-game margin.

San Francisco provided the first of the week's expected changes in the Coast league standings by beating Hollywood 10 to 9 in an eleven inning battle Tuesday night to move into third place. The Angels slipped to fourth position by losing to the Missions, which left the Seals one percentage point ahead.

The Seals-Stars contest was a hitting carnival, the former getting 16 safeties and the southerners 15. Five home runs enlivened the evening. Bill Brenzel, San Francisco catcher, retired in the third inning with a fractured thumb.

Missions Down Angels

Speaking of upsets, the tail-end Missions beat Los Angeles 3 to 2, as Dutch Lieber held the Angels to six hits. The Reds didn't win until the last of the ninth, however, when they combined two singles, a walk and a sacrifice to produce the needed tally.

The Senators made it 12 victories out of the last 13 starts by trimming the Oaks 7 to 1. Lefty Flynn got credit for the victory, although he was replaced in the eighth by Bryan after walking three men in a row. Four errors by the Oaks detracted from Ray Joiner's work on the mound.

POREDA WHIPS GIANT CARNERA IN TEN ROUNDS

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 17 (AP)—Stanley Poders, 23-year-old boxer of Jersey City, spotted Primo Carnera 62½ pounds last night and won the referee's decision after ten rounds, but the arbiter of the contest must explain why.

Commissioner George E. Keenen, who was at the ringside wants to know exactly why Referee Joe Mangold, of Atlantic City, awarded the decision to Poreda and said he would ask Mangold to explain and show him his score card.

The 264-pound Italian was warned in four rounds for roughness that included back-hand blows, pulling and elbowing and drew the boos of the crowd of 15,000.

Aside from that, Carnera exhibited a whipping left hand that jabbed Poreda's head time and again but the Jersey youngster supplied his own telling blows in the late rounds and reached Carnera's mid-section with clouts that made the big fellow wince and double up.

Tennis Prodigy, 9, To Enter Tourney

LIVERPOOL, Eng. (AP)—Peggy Cant, a 9-year-old tennis prodigy, is entered in a tournament here to meet girls twice her age and women who have children older than she is.

"Peggy has only been playing 15 months," according to her coach, E. J. Gillow. "She makes every stroke perfectly. She has a tennis brain and learns most of her strokes watching me tutor others. The secret of her amazing skill is her ability to concentrate. She will spend hours by herself preparing a stroke until she has it just right."

Gillow thinks she will be a world champion if properly handled. She does her best work in tournament play before a gallery.

Sport Slants

By Alan J. Gould
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

This being a year for major upheavals, it hasn't been so inconsistent to have Nurmi and the Finns take the same downward path that big George Earnshaw and the Athletics, Gabby Street, and his world champion Cardinals, also have been traveling.

It may be some time before any of these combinations bounds upward again in the general scramble to get out from underneath the pile-up.

Meanwhile Japan has served notice, via the Olympics, that it has made the most sensational forward strides in sports of any nation.

AFTER FOUR YEARS

Four years ago, at Amsterdam, Japan scored 19 points in the track and field sports, did pretty well in the swimming and won her first individual titles.

This year the little orientals finished with 35 points, in fourth place, trailing only the U. S. A., Finland and Great Britain in the final team standing, and thereupon turned loose one of the greatest collections of young aquatic stars ever seen in Olympic waters.

A Japanese, Shuhei Nambu, now holds the world records for both the broad jump, at 26 feet, 2⅛ inches, and the hop, step and jump, 51 feet, 7 inches. Another, Shehei Nishida, is the first amateur athlete outside of the United States to clear 14 feet in the pole vault. Three of the first nine finishers in the Olympic marathon wore the colors of Japan.

Even in such sports as rowing, boxing and field hockey, comparatively new to them, the Japanese have made tremendous strides toward approaching the competitive level of nations long familiar with these branches of competition.

BEATEN, HOLDS RECORD

Glenn Hardin, Louisiana boy who placed second in the 400-meter hurdles, is the first beaten athlete to get his performance on the books as an official world record.

Because Hardin's conquerer, Robert Tisdall of Ireland, knocked over a hurdle, his time of 51.8 was not allowed but Hardin's record of 52 seconds, equalling the world record, was stamped with the approval of the I. A. A. F.

An effort was made to bracket Ralph Metcalfe with Eddie Tolan at 10.3 seconds for 100 meters in the record list. They finished only two inches apart in the Olympic final and were caught in identical time, but the I. A. A. F. declined to sanction this extraordinary proposal.

Yankees Add 2 More Games To Winning Streak

By Herbert W. Barker
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

On wings of a nine-game winning streak, the New Lork Yankees have soared into their longerst American league lead of the season.

A double triumph over the Detroit Tigers yesterday boosted the Yankees' advantage to 10½ games over the Cleveland Indians and Philadelphia Athletics who were virtually tied for second place although the Indians had a slight edge in percentage.

Thanks to some lusty clouting by Tony Lazzeri, Bill Dickey and Joe Sewell, the Yankees staggered through to win the first game, 13-8. Johnny Allen hung up his third victory of the Yankees' current winning streak in the nightcap, 7-3.

Glenn Myatt's homer with one on in the fifth, enabled Cleveland to beat the Athletics, 3-2 in an exciting pitching duel between Mel Harder and George Earnshaw.

Washington scored four runs in the eighth to beat Chicago, 5-3, while Walter Stewart turned in a seven-hit game to pitch the St. Louis Browns to a victory over Boston, 3-2.

The National league program was marked by the temporary check of Brooklyn's high-powered Dodgers who fell before the Pittsburgh Pirates, 4-0. The defeat dropped Brooklyn to one and one-half games behind the second place Pirates.

The Chicago Cubs retained their one-game lead over Pittsburgh by winning a sensational game from the Boston Braves, 4-3.

The St. Louis Cardinals beat the Phillies, 3-2, as Paul Derringer had a slight edge over Flint Rhem in a pitcher's duel. Big Fred Fitzsimmons granted only four hits as the New York Giants nosed out Cincinnati, 2-1.

Schools Exempt From Sports Tax

SALEM, Aug. 17 (AP)—The state and all municipal corporations of Oregon, including school districts, are exempt from a tax of sporting goods upon which a federal tax is levied, Attorney General I. H. Van Winkle held in an opinion Tuesday.

The opinion was requested by C. A. Howard, superintendent of public instruction. The specific case to which the question had reference is that of the Clatskanie school district, involving a tax on indoor baseballs.

Chats With Parents

THE CHILD'S LIMITATION
By Alice Judson Peale

A 3-year-old girl admired a ring upon the hand of a favorite aunt. "Give it to me, please," she said.

"You shall have it when I die," the aunt answered rather unwisely.

"Well, then," the little girl replied imperatively, "die right away." And as nothing happened, she said, "Well, are you going to? Hurry up."

To the little child unquestionably dying means not being—vanishing, but also unquestionably the child is quite ready to blot out of existence whatever and whoever at the moment appears as an obstacle in the way of pleasure.

One has but to observe the child's conduct with a toy in which he momentarily has lost interest. He drops it, simply not caring what becomes of it.

The little girl was undoubtedly fond of her aunt but she wanted her removed when her continued existence interfered with the immediate possession of a desired object.

The child's love for anything outside himself is still in a most undeveloped state. It will require years of wise and patient love from adults about the child before he becomes capable of the genuine, steadfast emotion toward another which we designate "love."

It is important to understand the selfish limitations of the young child's attitude toward others. Recognising it for what it is, a sign of immaturity, we will not be shocked at what may momentarily seem a most shocking thing.

When the child expresses the wish that some usually loved person were dead, we will not make him feel that he is wicked or that we are passing judgment on him and condemning him for something for which he is no more responsible than for the necessity to breathe.

FAVORITES WIN IN GOLF TESTS

Walker Cup Players and Seven Former Champions Qualify For Amateur.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP)—All ten members of the Walker cup team and seven former titleholders will be on hand when the national amateur golf championship opens at Baltimore Sept. 12.

That much—and more—was determined yesterday in the sectional qualifying rounds played in 18 districts. Nine members of the squad, George Voigt, Maurice McCarthy, Jess Sweetser, George Dunlap, Jack Westland, Don Moe, (Oregon) Billy Howell, Jimmy Johnston, and Charley Seaver, qualified in one district or another. The tenth member of the team and its captain, Francis Ouimet, the defending champion, was exempt from the qualifying round.

Ouimet, Sweetser and Johnston all are former amateur champions and they will be joined at Baltimore by four others, Chick Evans, Max Marston, Chandler Egan and Jesse Guilford.

Few Upsets

District play, in fact, developed few surprises. The qualifiers, for instance, included Johnny Goodman, Frank Dolp (Oregon), Lawson Little, Roland Mackenzie, Johnny Lehman, George Dawson, Johnny Fischer, intercollegiate champion from Cincinnati; Cyril Tolley, Gene Homans, Gus Moreland, and the two Gunn boys, Watts and Will Jr. Canada will be represented in the championship by C. Ross Somerville, of London, Ont., and Nicol Thompson Jr., of Toronto.

Somerville set the pace for the country with rounds of 71-69—140 in the Cleveland district which he led. Harry Eichelberger, of Los Angeles, who led that district with 142 turned in the best 18-hole score among the qualifiers—a 67.

FIVE PORTLANDERS QUALIFY

PORTLAND, Aug. 17 (AP)—Five Oregon men will represent the Pacific Northwest district in the national amateur championship play of the United States golf association at Baltimore next month.

The five, Frank Dolp, Oregon state champion, Johnny Robbins, Joe Brown, Don Moe, western amateur champion, and Eddie Hogan, all of Portland, qualified in the order named in Tuesday's rounds over the Alderwood country club course here.

Dolp led the field with a one over par card of 145 for the double round. Alderwood's par is 37 on the one nine, and 35 coming in, for 72.

The scores:
Dolp 74-71—145.
Robbins 73-74—147.
Brown 73-75—148.
Moe 76-74—150.
Hogan 77-73—150.

SEATTLE WOMAN KILLED

MEDFORD, Ore., Aug. 17 (AP)—Mrs. Mattie Robinson, 52, Seattle, was instantly killed; J. C. Moore, Corvallis, Ore., suffered a broken arm and fractured ribs, and three children of S. M. Robinson, widower of the dead woman, collided with Moore's car at Four Corners on the Midway highway near here yesterday.

Mrs. Robinson was rushed to a Medford hospital by a passing motorist, but she was dead before arrival. The Robinsons were returning from a trip to Crater lake and were using the connecting road between the Crater lake and Pacific highways.

Butter Market Continues To Waver Somewhat

PORTLAND, Aug. 17 (AP) — Market for butter continues to waver somewhat although no change is indicated in the price list generally. Receipts and manufacture along the coast generally are still showing a rather liberal decrease, which has continued for some time. However there appears no shortage of butter. In fact in spots the market appears overloaded.

Trade in eggs is generally without change locally and more or less easiness is indicated elsewhere with rather liberal withdrawals from storage houses. Outsiders are unloading much undergrade stuff here.

General steadiness is continued here for cheese. Prices are unchanged but late advances in the east have been considerable aid in forcing a greater movement in the territory west of the Rockies.

Market for small broiler chickens continues firm in the live poultry trade but prices are unchanged for the day as are the other lines.

Yakima Peaches Arrive

First carload of Yakima peaches of the season are rolling to Portland. This car is out of Benton City and is due Thursday. General peach trade is steady at late low prices.

From practically all northwest points pears that have been culled from carlots, are rolling to Portland. These are difficult to move as the trade is unwilling to take chances on them.

There will be a big increase in cantaloupe shipments from Dillard on the Portland market Thursday and the price will be put down to $1.75 for standard crates to create a greater movement. Other crants quoted 60 to 90c crate.

Very active trading tone is reflected for tomatoes here but prices continue around the recent low mark generally. Local stock is arriving but as yet in very small volume.

Notes of wholesale trading:

Ground cherries being offered $1 box.

Watermelon market is slow.

Sweet potatoes steady to a trifle easier.

Corn demand remains favorable and at late prices. Real good stuff is scarce.

Sugar rise of 10c is now in effect.

Celery market continues stagnant for shipment.

Cabbage is easier but shows no further price changes.

Country killed meats are steady with no price changes.

R. F. C. LOANS TO BE MADE PUBLIC

bill." The completed law contained the phraseology, in outline at least, demanded by Garner.

President Hoover then said in a statement announcing he would sign the bill that "the obnoxious features which had been injected into the legislation from time to time by members of the house of representatives and had so long delayed action, have been eliminated." Of one of these "obnoxious features" he added:

"The possible destructive effect upon credit institutions by the so-called publicity clause has been neutralized by the declaration of senate leaders of all parties that this provision is not to be retroactive and that the required monthly reports of future transactions are of confidential nature and must be so held by the clerks of the senate and house of representatives unless otherwise ordered by the congress when in session."

Trimble's brief concedes the publicity clause is not retroactive but that any interpretation of the language in view of the intent of congress is that the loans must be made public.

Unless the house clerk changes his mind or something else prevents, the public soon will have a peek at loans by the government to banks, railroads, insurance companies and other interests since July 21.
