Mr. Dunn's skull was fractured.

U.S.W. V. Picnic Held Sunday In Blue Mountains

Veterans and Families From Pendleton, Walla Walla, Baker and La Grande at Meeting.

Ninety-one United Spanish war veterans and their families gathered yesterday for their annual picnic at Emigrant Springs with representatives present from Pendleton, the host city, Walla Walla, Baker and La Grande. Louis Plinson, of Pendleton, was chairman of the host committee and acted as toastmaster, calling on veterans from various cities. J. G. Henry, of James E. Page camp, La Grande; E. A. Kirkendall, of Frederick Funston camp at Baker, and past state commander, George Hartman, of Malabon camp at Pendleton, and a representative of the Henry Lawton post at Walla Walla were called upon and discussed the abolition of the pension and recruiting, two measures which are of vital interest to the veterans now. T. J. Bantz, of Portland, whose membership is in the James E. Page camp, was called on to speak also.

Mrs. Jessale Nelson, of La Grande, department auxiliary secretary, brought greetings from the department auxiliary president, Mrs. Rose Fugit, of Baker, who was unable to attend.

Walla Walla camp will be hosts for the next annual picnic which will be held at Emigrant Springs next summer, the date to be set later.

Recital Club Gives Program Sunday at Inn

The La Grande Recital club held its first program Sunday afternoon in the small ballroom of the Sacajawea Inn, and several new members were added to the roll during the brief business session at the beginning of the meeting.

Unfortunately several of those who had prepared selections for presentation were unable to attend yesterday's meeting because of other engagements, so the program was brief, but nevertheless enjoyable and of fine quality.

Mary Truchess played Bergmuller's "The Tender Flower," a beautiful piano selection. Another piano number, well-rendered, was Chopin's "Nocturne, Opus 37, No. 2" by Mrs. W. C. Long.

The only vocal selection on the program was Mayhew's "Shoogy-Shoo," sung by Mrs. Merville Moore, and highly enjoyed by the members of the club. Mrs. Harvey St. John concluded the program with a piano solo, "Liebestraum" by Liszt, played with her usual excellent technique and expression.

Several music lovers have recently asked for associate memberships in the club, which would allow the privilege of attending the programs without the necessity of taking part at least once every three months, as is required of all active members. But at yesterday's meeting it was decided not to establish associate memberships, but to give members the privilege of inviting to programs any friends or acquaintances who may express the desire of attending.

Regular programs of the club are to be held on the last Sunday afternoon of each month throughout the year, the next one being Sunday, Sept. 25.

Autumn Arrives During Weekend; To Stay? Maybe

Autumn served notice yesterday and today that it will be here for a permanent visit within a very short time—that is providing it retires for a few days in deference to the dying days of summer.

CARR FUNERAL THIS AFTERNOON

Prominent Furniture Man, Who Died Saturday, Will Be Buried Today.

Funeral services for Joe J. Carr, prominent La Grande furniture man, who died in his apartment Saturday morning of heart disease, were to be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the Snodgrass and Zimmerman mortuary with burial to take place in the Masonic cemetery. Rev. Mr. Clarence Kopp, of the Episcopal church, was to officiate.

Mr. Carr, who was 57 years of age, had a wide reputation throughout the Pacific northwest, particularly in business circles, and his passing marked the end of one of the most dynamic personalities in Eastern Oregon. In his business, he invariably put his whole soul and energies into any deal and his successes over a period of years stood as testimony to his ability.

He was from sturdy pioneer stock, his father, John Carr, emigrating to the Grande Ronde valley in the early 70s from Idaho, and settling on what is now known as the Carr ranch.

Joe as a boy attended La Grande High school, later going to McMinnville college and finishing his schooling in a business college at Quincy, Ill. Later he married Kathryn Carey, who died March 31, 1929.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. F. W. Woods, of North Bend, Ore., who was unable to come for the funeral services, and by a sister, Mrs. H. Anderson, of Ellensburg, Wash., who arrived here late Saturday.

Hoover and Roosevelt Return to Their Work; Socialist Speaks in Mid-West

Roosevelt turned again today from his campaign for the presidency to the chores of state.

During a busy weekend the governor covered more than 600 miles in New Jersey, New York City, and on Long Island. A huge throng heard him speak at Seagirt, N. J., Saturday.

Mr. Roosevelt conferred here last night with Melvin A. Traylor, Chicago banker who was among the presidential candidates presented to the Democratic convention.

Commenting on the absence of former Governor Alfred E. Smith, 1928 Democratic presidential candidate from a luncheon in Governor Roosevelt's honor yesterday at West Hampton Beach, L. I., Governor Roosevelt said today a previous engagement prevented Mr. Smith's attending.

The luncheon was given by Basil O'Connor, former law partner of the New York governor and Democratic presidential candidate. The invitation to Smith, who opposed Mr. Roosevelt at the Democratic national convention in Chicago, was regarded by some political observers as a move to (Continued From Page Four)

FARM STRIKE AROUND OMAHA IS CONTINUING

OMAHA, Neb., Aug. 29 (AP)—Iowa and Nebraska farmers picketing roads into Omaha from the east, south and the north in a drive to obtain higher prices for produce were enforcing a strict watch over the highways and very few trucks were getting into the city.

Receipts at the Omaha livestock market as estimated set the hog run at 8,500, termed a "rather light run" by market observers, but just how much the blockade had to do with the light receipts was a debated question.

All roads into Omaha from the west were open.

The picketers near Blair, Neb., north of Omaha, refused to allow any trucks to pass. South of the city, the situation was the same. There were no reports of violence.

The same situation prevailed on the Iowa roads.

One man, Amanuel Ticknons, was reported injured about the head.

The sheriff's office said that sympathizers gathered in front of the county jail, where they thought the two men had been taken, but were scattered when the sheriff threatened to use tear gas.

HOUSE BOMBED IN PORTLAND; NO ONE HURT

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 29 (AP)—A large bomb, exploded in the stairway of a Fourth street rooming house, jarred downtown Portland shortly before dawn today, breaking out windows across the street, and wrecking a room.

The identity of the bomber and the cause of the attack was not known to police, who said the rooming house was a disorderly resort.

A hole 12 by 15 feet in size was torn in one wall of the room on the first floor of the hotel.

A girl and a porter at the rooming house said shortly before the explosion occurred a man walked up the stairway carrying a bundle wrapped in newspaper. When he saw the two he excused himself, muttered "I'm in the wrong place," and went downstairs.

FIVE MORE MEN DIE IN TUNNEL

Brings Total Life Loss in Hetch-Hetchy Project in California to 94.

LIVERMORE, Cal., Aug. 29 (AP)—The cost in lives of the Hetch-Hetchy project, San Francisco's new water supply system, increased here today as rescue crews struggled through mud and rock which trapped five workers in the coast range tunnel last night.

Abandoning all hope of finding any of the men alive, rescue leaders placed the project toll at 94 lives.

Two bodies were taken from the tunnel this morning and a third was at the bottom of the shaft. All were badly mangled and no attempt was yet made at identification.

Workers toiled on with eight feet of mud still separating them from the remaining two bodies.

The five men caught in the cave-in, all miners and muckers from San Francisco, were: E. Cline, 39; Pat Crowley, 42; Thomas Denny, 39; Roy McLendon, 30, and Chester Simonsen, 30.

They were members of a crew of 10 which was engaged in removing timbers, preparatory to lining the 2 1/2 mile tunnel with concrete.

They never had a chance, their companions, who reached safely, said. Survivors of the slide said Cline, Crowley, Denny, McLendon and Simonsen, had just removed one of the timbers as there came a dreadful, ominous roar.

Before the five men could drop their tools, their companions said, the walls and roof of the tunnel collapsed about them. Albert Holmes, shift boss in charge of the crew, led six of the survivors to a shaft, 4,700 feet away. The others escaped through (Continued on Page Four)

Chinese Raiders Attack Mukden; Japs Surprised

MUKDEN, Manchuria, Aug. 29 (AP)—The flames and bullets of war spread terror through this key city of Manchuria today after hundreds of Chinese raiders had sprung up in the night and dealt a swift blow at the heart of the Japanese military defense system.

Before daylight most of the many small bands of Chinese had vanished, but large concentrations of Chinese guerrillas were reported only four miles away at Hun Hou. At daylight Japanese bombers took the air with orders to "get" them.

Battle in Mukden. In Mukden proper, the largest city of rich Manchuria, all was confusion after a night of panic, during which the big arsenal and Japanese air base were fired. The city's entire fire department battled the flames, and during the morning succeeded in preventing any explosion at the arsenal and getting that fire under control.

The air base was extinguished after several old airplanes had been burned. Other damage was slight.

The Chinese raiders obviously had a well organized plan of action, so sudden and mysterious were their attacks on strategic defense points shortly after midnight.

Hardly had the alarm been sounded for Japanese troops and police, when fire broke out at the arsenal and air base, and the wireless station was the scene of hand-to-hand fighting. In one skirmish near the arsenal, a Japanese officer and two soldiers wearing the uniform of the (Continued on Page Four)

Sacramento Dock Fire Loss $600,000

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 29 (AP)—Officials of the river lines and others interested in Sacramento river shipping sought today the cause of a fire which burned 12 vessels here early yesterday morning at an estimated loss of $600,000.

The blackened, half-submerged hulks of eight river freighters and two barges owned by the River Lines, a tug belonging to the United States government, and another owned by W. E. Curry, Sacramento, littered the Yolo county shore line. Workmen began repairing telephone and electric power lines on the river bank, damaged by flames from the burning craft.

River lines officials said they would continue business with their remaining two small stern-wheeler vessels.

Walker Hearing Is Delayed By Death

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 29 (AP)—Governor Roosevelt announced today the hearing of charges against Mayor James J. Walker would be adjourned until after the funeral of the mayor's brother, George Walker, who died at Saranac Lake today.

"Because of the death of the mayor's brother," the governor said, "the hearing, of course, will be postponed until after the funeral."

The governor said he did not know when the funeral was to be held.

A second expected development in the Walker case was postponed by a matter of hours when Supreme Court Justice Ellis J. Staley said he would not make public until tonight his decision on the application of Walker for an order to stop the governor deciding on the ouster request.
