

Eggs Steady On Coast; No Change In Butter Market

PORTLAND, Sept. 8 (AP)—Egg markets all along the coast appeared fully steady today, there being no change of consequence recently in the Portland market. Prices here have been unchanged for the week.

Receipts are steady, showing no fluctuations in either direction, and holdings are about the same. In fact this market here is one of the few developments.

It is believed by some that the seasonal decline in egg production in the northwest has about 10 not already reached the low point.

Local butter markets are unchanged and steady for the day.

All classes of live poultry on the Portland market are steady at about unchanged prices. The supply has been fair and the call has held up well this week.

Medium hens are available at 9 cents, light 8 cents, broilers, all weights colored, 14c, and white 12 cents. Old fashions are steady at 7 cents and Primm ducks, 4 1/2 pounds and over, 11 to 12 cents. The December chicken reported by Wednesday with a moderate catch of fallbirds from the Oregon coast. Quality was good and the same about medium to small. Prices on all fish unchanged. Crabs are scarce, salmon somewhat lighter supply and half-price plentiful.

All country killed meats are in ample supply and the market is steady so about firm. The call has been consistently good.

J. H. Baker was offered for the day at 60 cents and appeared steady at that figure, which is an average advance of about 10 cents over the first part of the week. All others range 10 to 20 cents locally.

There were no changes in strip steaks for the day. Cargoes moved at $1.25 to $1.30 and income at $1.00. Call for watermelons is spotted.

Some recent retail sales cleared out some of the stock at dirt cheap prices but otherwise the movement is rather inactive.

Activity in Wool Market Moderate

PORTLAND, Sept. 8 (AP)—Activity in the wool market in this section is moderate with a few new sales being made, mostly on smaller clips. Deliveries at Portland are heavy on the business and the upward movement is fairly consistent.

There appears a growing tendency in this district to sell, however, of the present flurry which started some time ago on wide demand from eastern mills. Some believe that the flurry will not last much longer before some sort of a reaction takes place and on that theory holders show more inclination to do business.

Most of the larger clips in the Lakeview and Kinman Falls areas are said to be strongly cleaned up. Willamette valley fleeces were held quotable at around 15 cents and others 9 to 11 cents with some limited business done at a slightly higher figure.

WHOLE STORY OF DEATH EXPECTED

done. He never had secrets from anyone.

Bern was to be one of the witnesses at the inquest scheduled to be held later today. Miss Harlow, who married the film executive two months ago, was subpoenaed but on the report of her physician that she was in no condition to attend, was excused by Coroner Frank A. Hanson.

Other witnesses will include Martin Bell, Miss Harlow's stepfather; Irving Thalberg, studio official; John Carmichael and his wife, Winifred, domestic help of Paul Bern; Clinton Davis, gardener at the Bern estate; Harold Garrison, Bern's chauffeur; Isabelle Williams, Miss Harlow's maid; M. K. Greenwood, studio executive and priest. The findings of autopsy surgeon Frank Weir are expected by studio officials to remove all mystery surrounding the death of Bern. They stated the physical condition of Bern was an all-important factor in the tragedy.

The autopsy report showed Bern was free of all disease, but that his physical handicap was one that would prevent a happy marriage.

The brother said Bern, although a bachelor until he married Miss Harlow at the age of 41, had another woman in his life previously.

"Paul was not a virtuous man in the conventional sense," said Bern. "But he had a higher virtue. He was honest. I am proud of his honest talk about him."

RECALLS 'MEX. PAUL BERN'

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (AP)—Officials at the Hotel Algonquin said today that a woman registered as "Mrs. Paul Bern" had lived at the hotel for a decade, leaving last spring shortly before Paul Bern film executive, whose suicide has mystified the country, married Miss Harlow.

Hotel officials said Mrs. Bern received fortnightly checks from the west coast signed "Paul Bern" and that Bern visited her about once a year.

They said her tastes were modest and that she seemed deeply religious, always having many religious tracts in her room.

SAYS BERN MARRIED BEFORE

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Sept. 8 (AP)—The strange suicide of Paul Bern, Hollywood movie executive, produced another mysterious angle today when George G. Clark, Los Angeles life insurance man and Bern's insurance adviser, said here that Bern was married ten years ago and never divorced from a woman who is a mental incompetent in a New York sanatorium.

Clark said that insurance policies held by Bern are payable to a trust fund, handled by a New York trust company, for the benefit of the woman.

Last Survivor Of Revolutionary War Lived Until 1868

Did you know when the last survivor of the Revolutionary War died?

Did you know that he was one of the oldest men in the country during the last few years of his life?

The answer to those two questions was printed the other day in the Noble County Citizen, a paper of Caldwell, Ohio, and attributed here by W. A. Westfall, of La Grande.

According to a story carried in the newspaper, John Gray, who died Mar. 29, 1868, was the last survivor of the war that granted the United States its independence, and at the time of his death was 104 years two months and 23 days of age. On his grave appears the inscription: "The Hoary Head is a Crown of Glory."

By a special act of congress Feb. 22, 1866, two years before his death, he was granted a pension of $500, payable semi-annually. Following the war, Mr. Gray for a time worked for George Washington at Mt. Vernon. Incidentally, it is a peculiar fact that this last survivor was born and lived near Mt. Vernon, the home of Washington.

STOCKS SLUMP AFTER COTTON PRICE BREAK

NEW YORK, Sept. 8 (AP)—Influenced by an extreme break of about 45 a bale in cotton, stocks slumped today in one of the most active sessions of the last two years. Transactions approximated $500,000,000.

Mid issues of $1 to $3 1/2 to 1/2 were recorded by leading issues as heavy selling ruled over the list late. Cotton weakness followed publication of the government figures estimating a small decrease in the indicated crop of Sept. 1, whereas traders had been expecting a large reduction. Wheat lost about a cent a bushel. Fruit and stock prices were around the low of the day.

The TINNITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN PICTURES BY JOE KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

As all the blockheads formed in line to make a stairway, they looked fine. "Look at their legs," wee Scouty cried. "Gee, some are stretched way out."

"I'd hate to have my legs that way. Real short! I hope that mine will stay I wish we really knew just what this stairway's all about."

"Just wait until you run up high and finally stand out in the sky," replied one of the blockheads. "Say, you'd better start to climb."

The other Tinnies will leave you behind and that would never do. Right now they're on their merry way. You're losing lots of time."

So Scouty followed all the rest. Said he, "I'll do my very best to stay right on the stairway and not topple to the ground. You blockheads wobble to and fro and it is rather hard to go. And, also, I get dizzy when I start to look around."

"Oh, you ahead and get your thrill! We're trying hard to stand level still," replied one of the
