BALTIMORE, Sept. 22 (AP)—Lying on newspapers at the end of a pier, the body of Harry B. Jackson, of St. Joseph, Mo., former University of Missouri football star, was found today with a bullet hole through his skull. By the body was a pistol. Police said it apparently was suicide.

FOOTBALL OUT-TRAVELS CAR GOING 55 MILES AN HOUR
STOCKTON, Cal. (AP)—Harold Cunningham, assistant football coach at the College of the Pacific, would like to borrow a high powered automobile to continue his research work. His own car will go only 55 miles an hour and he has found a football game faster.

Cunningham has Tom Wilson, Pacific forward-passing sharpshooter, on the firing line in his experiments. Cunningham speeded up his automobile to 55 miles an hour as he passed Wilson, who let fly with the ball for a 25 yard toss. The football beat the car to the mark every time.

Tips on CONTRACT

By Tom O'Neil

Do you know when a player can be forbidden to bid in contract bridge or when one can be compelled to play his highest or lowest of a suit?

From Lieut. Atreus M. Gruenther Jr., who has retired at many large tournaments, comes an explanation of penalties for the most common violations of the rules.

Many players are unfamiliar with some rules and interpretations of them. Much of the lieutenant's time is spent in explaining to the players what is what.

Here are the most frequent violations of rules in social games:
1—Forgetting which player is the declarer, the wrong person leads originally.
Declarer has a choice of penalties. He can treat the card led incorrectly as an exposed card and require the possessor to leave it exposed until declarer calls for it to be played. Declarer can make that call upon any subsequent trick provided the offender must follow suit when possible. Or declarer can require the player who should have led originally to lead a specified suit, any card of it the holder chooses. This is of great advantage if the declarer holds an ace-queen or other tenace.

The declarer leads from dummy when he should have led from his own hand or vice versa.
Either opponent may require him to lead from the correct hand and card the declarer wishes of the suit incorrectly led from the other hand. If there is no card of such a suit in the hand whence the card was led, the declarer may lead as he wishes from the correct hand.

3—A player fails to follow suit when he has a card of the suit led and announces in order to prevent a revoke with its two-trick penalty.
This is a revoke. The card incorrectly played by an adversary may be treated by the declarer as exposed. Declarer may call for it to be played upon a subsequent trick provided it can be played legally. Or the declarer may require the offending adversary to play his highest or lowest card of the suit led. A declarer who has announced may be required to play his highest or lowest.

4—A player bids or passes out of turn.
If he bids out of turn the bid is void, the auction begins correctly and the partner of the offender is barred from the contracting entire. If the player passes out of turn, the auction proceeds correctly and the offender is barred from bidding until the original bid is overcalled or doubled.

5—A player, exposing his hand before all the cards have been played, claims the rest of the tricks.
If declarer makes such a claim he must leave his cards exposed. He cannot, at a finesse, unless it is announced in advance or unless it is a proved finesse, that is that the player sitting over the finessed card already has shown one of the suit led. If playing from his own hand declarer may be required to trump in dummy when a higher card of a non-trump suit led from his hand is in the hand of either opponent.

6—If one of the defending side claims the rest of the tricks and exposes his hand, he can be subjected to the usual penalty for exposed cards, that is he may be required to play any specified card provided it can be done legally.
Sidney S. Lenz did this to Ely Culbertson in the great contract match. Culbertson thought he could take the rest of the tricks. Lenz had a club suit set up in dummy. He played them, and Culbertson had to drop the ace, king and queen of hearts, having no clubs.

CINCINNATI SCHOOL FINDS GRID GAME PAYS AT NIGHT
CINCINNATI (AP)—"Sold" on night football, the University of Cincinnati is spending $15,000 on new lights for its gridiron confident that the investment will be profitable. Just as the old system erected in 1922. The new lights will be three times more powerful than the old lights. From six towers 150 feet high 120,000 watts will shine upon the field. The old lights had a wattage of only 40,000.

The new equipment, it is intended, will avoid glare to spectators and players and be high enough to prevent the losing of a high punt in the darkness.
The old system was one of the first for football fields in the country.

Boat Refuses to Sink
Cut out a piece of wood the shape of a slice of melon, and you will find that no matter what you do with it in water, it rights itself in an instant. This is in part the principle on which the self-righting lifeboat is constructed which has been the means of saving an untold number of lives.

Dismissal
"Dad tells us to 'skeddadle' when he wants us out of his way, but he can't tell us the origin of this outlandish word." It comes from the Saxon word "scedan" applied to milk overflowing the pail—"to pour out"—popularized into "run away."—London Tit-Bits.

One for Sale
Roland Italy and his two-year-old brother, Jimmie, of Coatesville, received a white rabbit each for Easter. Roland's aunt visited him the next week and asked him how much he would take for his rabbit. He said, "I won't sell mine but I'll take 50 cents for Jimmie's."—Indianapolis Star.

Why Worry?
It is not what you do when you work that kills, but what you do when you do not work. It is worry and fear that disturb. It is unnecessary anxiety that makes for illness. Why not put by those foolish fears and through all this great year be fearless and free, strong and glad?

F. R. SPEAKS IN PORTLAND ON UTILITIES

In any case the right to operate their own power business.
In his peroration, which he delivered dramatically, which the crowd frequently interrupted with cheering, Mr. Roosevelt said:
"To the people of this country I have but one answer on this subject. The natural hydro-electric power resources belonging to the people of the United States or the several states shall remain forever in their possession."

"Judge me by the enemies I have made. Judge me by the selfish purposes of these utility leaders who had talked of radicalism while they were selling watered stock to the people and using our schools to deceive the coming generation."

As Radical As Liberty
"My policy is as radical as American liberty, as radical as the constitution of the United States. Never shall the federal government part with its sovereignty and control over its power resources while I am president of the United States."

Of his "remedies for the regulation and control of public utilities engaged in the power business and companies and corporations relating thereto," Mr. Roosevelt declared:
1—Full publicity as to all capital issues of stocks, bonds, and other securities; liabilities and indebtedness; capital investment; and frequent information as to gross revenues and earnings; in other words, let's turn on the light.

2—Publicity on stock ownership of stocks and bonds and other securities, and this is a new state, the stock and other interest of all officers and directors.
3—Publicity with respect to all industrial contracts and services and interchange of power companies by federal power commission and the same publicity with respect to such holding companies as provided for the operating companies.
4—Regulation and control of holding companies by federal power commission and the same publicity with respect to such holding companies as provided for the operating companies.
5—Co-operation of federal power commission with public utilities commissions of the several states obtaining information on matters pertaining to the regulation and control of such public utilities.

6—Regulation and control of the issue of stocks and bonds and other securities on the principle of prudent investment only.
7—Abolishing by law the reproduction cost theory for rate making and establishing in place of it the actual money prudent investment principle as the basis for rate making.
8—Legislation making it a crime to publish or circulate false or deceptive matter relating to public utilities everywhere and at any time.
"I do not hold with those who advocate complete and indiscriminate government ownership or government operation of all utilities," the Democratic nominee declared. "I state to you categorically that as a broad general rule the development of most of our utilities should remain with certain exceptions, a function for private initiative and private capital."

"I lay down the following principle: 'That where a community—a city or country or a district—is not satisfied with the service rendered or with the rates charged by the private utility unit has the undeniable right as one of its functions of government, one of its functions of home rule, to set up after a fair referendum has been taken, its own governmentally owned and operated service.'

"State owned or federal owned power, or state and should properly be developed by government itself."
When Roosevelt asserted "I have spoken of a 'new deal' for the American people," the crowd roared. He added: "I believe that the 'new deal' can be applied to the relationship between the electric utilities on one side and the consumer and investor on the other."

"The regulation is for the equal benefit of the consumer and the investor."
Refers to Insult Collapse
Referring to the collapse of the utilities formed by Samuel Insull, the former Chicago magnate as a reason for stricter utility regulation, Mr. Roosevelt said:
"The Insull failure has done more to open our eyes than anything that has happened."

"The Insull monopoly," he declared, "did not realize that they had been inflating vast capital accounts."
"They did not realize that sound subsidiaries had been milked and milked again to keep alive the weaker sides of the great chalet."
"They did not realize that all these conditions necessitated terrible overcharges for services by these corporations."

Mr. Roosevelt said the next great hydro-electric development to be undertaken "by the federal government must be on the Columbia river."

After he left Portland, where he addressed also a farm gathering at Gresham, near the city, Mr. Roosevelt made platform appearances at several points in Oregon. His train is due to reach Sacramento at 3:10 p. m. Pacific time, and San Francisco at 7:10. He will remain at the Golden Gate until 10 p. m., Sept. 23, and then go on to Los Angeles.

He will oppose P. J. Stadelman, Republican of Wasco county, and J. H. Hazlette, Democrat, of Hood River.

COMMITTEE SUICIDE
MEDFORD, Ore., Sept. 22 (AP)—Julius H. von der Heiden, 55, despondent for ten years over the death of his wife, committed suicide at the home of a friend near Phoenix, the coroner said today. A shotgun was the death weapon. As a son was entering a bedroom to see his father, the trigger was pulled causing instantaneous death from a head wound.

HOT LAKE PERSONALS

By Harriet MacDonald (Observer Correspondent)

HOT LAKE (Special)—Mrs. F. C. Brosius, wife of Dr. F. C. Brosius, formerly of Elgin, who underwent an operation on Friday, is making satisfactory progress. Dr. Brosius has returned to his home in Hood River. Dr. D. W. Baird and wife and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Byland, of Caldwell, stopped to visit the sanatorium on their return trip from the legion convention at Portland.

Mrs. Paul Hansen returned to her home in La Grande on Saturday. Mrs. Daisy E. Busselle, of Baker, a former patient, is spending a few days at the sanatorium. During her vacation, she stated out two mining claims in Sumpter valley near Baker.

Jas. Connelley, a pioneer rancher of near Colfax, is in the hospital for arthritis. Mr. Connelley is an uncle of Mrs. Oliver Daseh, who was formerly an employee of the Hot Lake Sanatorium but now located in Portland. Rev. Geo. Foster Pratt, rector of St. Paul's parish of Baker, visited friends at the sanatorium last Friday.

Walwala Lake is still drawing delighted visitors from the sanatorium. On Sunday Joe Murphy, who is a frequent visitor here, took Mrs. Casper, Miss DeViney, Mrs. Graham, of Baker, and his mother, Mrs. J. P. Murphy, to the lake, returning the same day. Mr. Murphy and his mother, who has just finished a course of baths, drove on to their home in Nampa the following day.

A very interesting ceremony took place at the Methodist parsonage at Union last Monday when Rev. R. O. Lee administered the rite of baptism to baby Mark Melgard. Mrs. Bessie Hummel acted as sponsor. This event holds a special interest not only because baby Mark's parents have been longed in the sanatorium family for many years but also because Mr. Lee is well known here and Mrs. Hummel is one of the best loved nurses who ever belonged to this hospital staff.

Edwin Hedgren, son of Pete Hedgren, a well known railroad engineer of La Grande, was operated on for appendicitis last week.

J. P. Murphy and wife, of Boise, are leaving the sanatorium but Mrs. Murphy will return in a week or so for a stay of a couple months.

Mrs. Floyd Sherwood and Mrs. Lynn Wright, of La Grande, both prominent in musical and dramatic circles in that place, will give a program of vocal numbers and readings on Monday night, Oct. 3 at 7:30 p. m. This will undoubtedly be a delightful evening and the public is cordially invited to share it with the people of the sanatorium.

Mrs. J. W. Brown, wife of J. W. Brown, a pioneer mercantile institution, is spending a few days in the hospital.

H. P. Courtney, an old resident of La Grande, who has been engaged for some time in hydraulic placer mining on the Grande Ronde river, is a new patient in the hospital.

Warren Gilbert is taking a belated vacation for a few days hunting for big game in the Minam mountains. Howard K. O'Brien accompanied him.
