

Portland's Winning Streak Extended to 6 Games

DUCKS OUTSLUG LOS ANGELES IN THURSDAY GAME

Score 10 to 6 in Portland; Hollywood, Meanwhile, Wins Third Straight From Oaks.

By the Associated Press
The pace-setting Ducks made it three straight over Los Angeles to win 10 to 6 at Portland Thursday night and cling to their three-game lead over the second-place Hollywood team. The fast-finishing stars trimmed Oakland 9 to 5 in a night game at Los Angeles. If the Stars should win all of their games, Portland needs only nine victories to clinch the pennant.

Despite a six-run lead piled up by the Ducks in the opening six innings, Los Angeles made a game of it in the seventh with a fine rally that netted five runs. Portland scored five more in their half of the seventh and another pair in the eighth to clinch the game. Berger led the Portland attack with home runs in the fifth and sixth.

With Jack Sherlock cracking out two doubles and a homer to drive in six runs and score three, Hollywood had little trouble winning from Oakland 9 to 5. Knut Yule, Hollywood mound star, pitched steadily throughout.

Sacramento moved into third place in the pennant race by routing out the Athletics at San Francisco 5 to 4 Thursday afternoon, while the San Francisco Stars were being trounced 11 to 5 at Seattle.

Lehman, Boston right fielder, pointed out a two-bagger with two men on in the eighth to score one of them and account for the winning Sacramento run.

Seattle gained a two to one advantage in the present series with San Francisco by the 11 to 5 victory Thursday. Page allowed the Seattle nine hits but had the situation well in hand at all stages of the game.

Monmouth Team Flying to Reno For Grid Game

SALEM, Sept. 23 (P)—Two tri-motored airplanes headed northward from here this morning en route for Reno, transporting Coach Larry Wolf's Oregon Normal school football team to the Nevada city for a game with the University of Nevada.

Wolf, an assistant coach, a manager and 23 players left the airport here at 7:15 o'clock this morning and plan to reach Reno about 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Though Wolf admits his men are nervous at aviation, he has a veteran football team which is noted for its trick plays, augmented with straight hard football. During the past two years Oregon Normal has lost only two football games, University of Oregon taking one and Oregon State college the other.

Wolf believes that the saving of time will qualify the use of airplane and indicates that he may fly his team to California for games with Chico State normal and San Jose State later in the season.

His starting lineup will be Oregon and California ends, Cannon and Chalmers tackle, Weston and McKnight guard, Berry center, Mohan quarterback, Crockett and Schmidt halfbacks and Blair fullback. Others making the trip are Buchanan, Johnson, Squares, Stein, James, C. White, Shide, Mackman, Bennett, White, Sorvig, Goslin, Duvall and Tippet.

Western Teams To See Action This Weekend

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23 (P)—Most of the 100 members of the Pacific Coast conference were in action today at the annual meeting in San Francisco. The California State football conference will be the first of the three seasons.

Standing in the line of admission to the big session will be the coaches of some 100 teams tomorrow between Stanford and University of San Francisco. The California State football conference will be the first of the three seasons.

In the south, both Los Angeles universities play today. Tonight the U. C. A. Bruins will go under the floodlights to battle the admirably coached team from the California State University. The University of Southern California champions are expected to have an easy time disposing of the Utah teaming eleven tomorrow afternoon.

In the north, four games tomorrow and one game tonight are on the program. Tonight Oregon University will meet Pacific University at Eugene. University of Washington will tackle the Oregon Bulldogs in a stiff opening at Seattle, while Washington State will meet the Cougars of Idaho at Pullman.

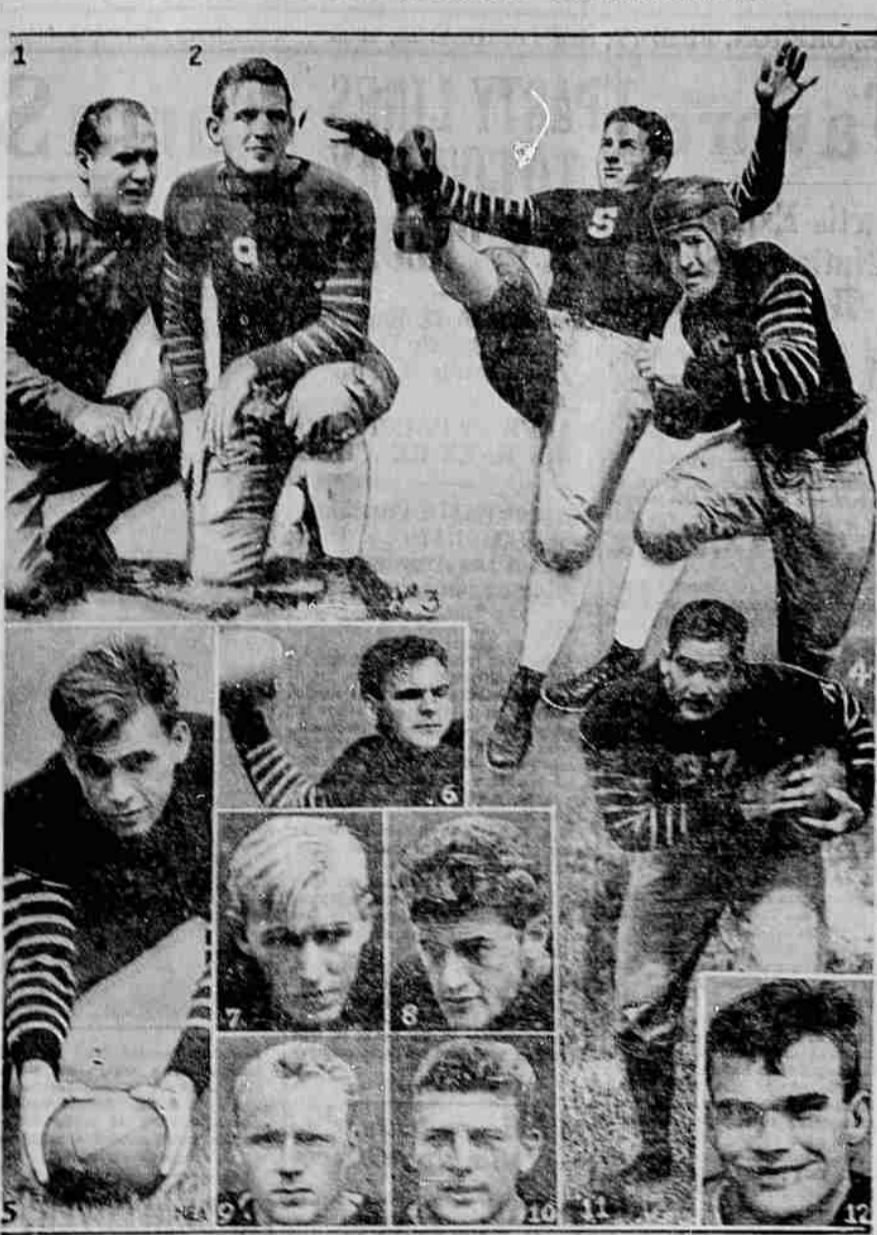

University of Idaho and Willamette will battle at Astoria in the third game, and Oregon State will stand up to the noon session under the lights at Corvallis against Willamette.

Wayne Harn Will Captain Beavers

CORVALLIS, Ore., Sept. 23 (P)—Wayne Harn, senior tackle, has been appointed head captain to lead the Oregon State team against Willamette tomorrow night Saturday night in the second non-conference game of the season.

Coach Sorenson's list of "captains" has been growing rather than diminishing in the past few days with the middle lineup now men will be in line something new. While some of the injured players probably would be in line for the Saturday afternoon game, it is not going to take any chance at appointing their duties before the Stanford game in Portland, Oct. 2.

LOTS OF MANPOWER AT CALIFORNIA

Some of the Golden Bears of California: 1. Coach Bill Ingram; 2. Dick Feyer, captain and tackle; 3. Hank Schulbach, veteran halfback; 4. Fred Williams, transfer fullback; 5. Marney Baldwin, center; 6. "Chick" Bertoni, a bright new backfield star; 7. Johnny Ransome, tackle; 8. Ed Waterbury, end; 9. Art Carlson, guard; 10. George Deagan, end; 11. Phil Klein, sophomore fullback; 12. Sammy Gill, guard.

By NEA Service
BERKELEY, Cal., Sept. 23 (P)—"Navy Bill" Ingram came to California last week, packed up the remnants of a 1931 Golden Bear and moved it to a team that fought surprisingly.

This year he's back with some of his own freshman developments, a lot of returned lettermen, and the Ingram system a year older. And if the California University coaches are to be believed, the Bears will be the team to beat in the Pacific Coast conference.

Manpower is the heart of Ingram's system. He has six or seven men for each of the 11 positions. He has 100 to discover which one to use as a starter at scheduled two games—West Coast State and California Aggie—for the afternoon of Sept. 25, so everybody could get a workout.

Ingram has three good ends and a lot of backs by graduation. And for the wing job, Ed Waterbury, tackle and a true pass-blocker, and George Deagan, a sophisticated star full back, seem the best stock choice. Schulbach, fullback, who was senior last year, Dave Mack and Carol Gill—another of "Navy's" brothers—are other end material.

Tackle prospects are infinitely brighter. Dick Trout, this year's captain, and Johnny Ransome were fine tackles last year, with lots of fight. They're back again. So are Mello Malloy and Mal Cronin, who alternated with them last year. The 1931 freshman sent up Bill "Booms" See, Fred Meyer and Jim Cassidy. And there is new tackle material from the junior college, too. Three kids average six feet six inches and 200 pounds or more on the field.

Five lettermen are fighting it out for guard—and a flock of sophomores every autumn. So Ingram can be choosy in this place, too. Art Carlson, Bob Pascoe, Gerry Shumway, Fred Meyer and Jim Cassidy are the guard prospects. The best of them is Carl Carlson, who is a fine runner and a good punter. He is a fine runner and a good punter. He is a fine runner and a good punter.

California always has a knack of accumulating good center material. To include the great Mousie of 1925 season, there's lots of material—and most of it is underfoot. Marney Baldwin, Michigan's 170-pound, all-around half back, is a reasonable again. And two big sophomores—Joe Durston and "Red" Chapin, each 200 pounds and better than six feet high—demand a chance. Vernon Hall, a transfer student who was outstanding as a high school center, and Wilbur Blime and Herb Nordstrom from Modesto Junior College, White Lacey, a former varsity player, and Ben Buckner, an 80-pound man, are other center candidates.

Goals are the fighting, colorful "Randy" Gill, "Tuffy" Griffiths, Ray Shaw, Ed Kieran, Bill McCubbin, Fred, Joe Smith and George Watkins from the backfield of California. But the line and goal has a plethora of good backs regardless.

The drive-through tackle—Hank Schulbach is back, with injuries healed. Lee Valance, the sophomore leader who at times is brilliant, has another year and Gus Castro is back. There are other returned veterans, also sophomores and good transfers, and the California backfield has proven speed and versatility to boot.

Gus Castro, "Chili" Bertoni, a clever transfer, Schulbach and Phil Klein, a sophomore fullback, look like a good starting backfield, with distribution being by numbers rather than by position as ordinarily known.

But additional backfield stars are awaiting the coaches. Russ Callahan, a transfer from the University of Washington, sophomore fullback, Cliff Pringle and Carlotta are more seasoned material.

The sophomores present Jameson, Booth, Olson and Alvin as quarters and Fred Hester as a fullback, also available for these two spots are Wendell Stewart, Kester, Quiding and Fred Williams.

collegiate athletic prominence Athletic Head May Quit

Frank McDonald, athletic director, plans to leave Haskell when his contract expires in December. "It will be impossible," McDonald pointed out, "for Haskell to play such teams as Notre Dame and schools of Big Six standards with high school material, such as we have on our hands at present."

The junior college was dropped this fall, Dr. Baldwin explained, because the school was "not properly equipped" to continue it.

A's Need 1 Win To End Season Next to Yanks

By Gayle Talbot
Most of the excitement to be gleaned from the closing days of the major league pennant race is wrapped up in the final three-game series between the Washington Senators and the Philadelphia Athletics starting today in Philadelphia.

Second place in the American league, with its attendant "cut" of the world series money, is at stake, with Walt Johnson's Senators needing to sweep the series to win runner-up honors. A single victory would clinch the spot for the A's.

Then there is Jimmie Fox, mauling first baseman of the Athletics, and his assault on a couple of home run records, including that of the mighty George Herman (Babe) Ruth. Fox cracked his 55th and 56th of the season yesterday as the Athletics dropped a 10-inning struggle to the champion Yankees, 8 to 7.

The total of 58 homers ties the record for right-hand hitters, set by Hank Wilson with the Chicago Cubs in 1930. Another for the Maryland mauler would break Wilson's mark, and four more would tie Ruth's great string of 60, set in 27. Four of them in three games is a large order, but there is an outside possibility he'll do it.

The Senators remained in the scrap for second by beating the Boston Red Sox again, 4 to 2. General Alvin Crowder yielded but four hits to score his 14th straight triumph and his 25th of the year.

Over in the National league, the Pittsburgh Pirates continued to pour it on the champion Chicago Cubs, who are in no mood to be bothered by such trifles. Hal Smith, a youngster purchased from Kansas City, set the champs down with six hits and blanked them, 7 to 0. Paul Wagner hit his fifth two-bagger of the year, tying Chuck Klein's National league record.

Brooklyn tightened its hold on third place by taking its final from the Giants, 7 to 2, as Glenn Wright and Joe Stripp hit the ball hard. George Pucetti and Charlie Wilson, members of the St. Louis Cardinals' newest rookie crop, hit home runs to help beat Cincinnati, 8 to 4.

RED HAVE DEFEATED YANCOVERS

B. C. Sept. 23 (P)—Jack Pincus, 210, Vancouver fireman, took two out of three falls from Red Tye, 198, Portland, to win one half of a main double bill of a wrestling card here last night.

Bob Krause, Portland, 205, and John Fredberg, Seattle, 215, won five rounds to a draw in the other half of the main event.

CUB INFELDERS GIVEN THE EDGE

Excell Yankees in Every-thing But Ancient Art of Hitting Homers.

(The following story compares the infielders of the Cubs and Yankees.)

By Alan Gould
(Associated Press Sports Editor)
NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (P)—The infielders of the Chicago Cubs hold the edge over their Yankee rivals in most everything except the potent art of slugging baseballs out of the park.

Lou Gehrig, Tony Lazzeri and Joe Sewell, a newcomer to this feature of the business, all pack the kind of batting punch that breaks up the old ball game.

Man for man, however, the Cub combination can point to more robust-looking batting marks for the 1932 season. The Bruin infielders, besides, can claim the distinction of being younger than their rivals, faster on the bases and quicker at the vital task of pulling double plays.

Two Men in Comeback

Apart from the color added to the world series by the comeback of Tony Lazzeri and Mark Anthony Koenig, one-time "keystone kids" of the Yankees now turning up as rivals, the two infielders are closely matched in all-around ability.

Both Lazzeri and Koenig are expected to start the series, although they have been out of commission recently, the former at second base for the Yankees and the latter at shortstop for the Cubs. Bill Jurges is ready to step in if Koenig cannot go the series route. Otherwise the only question in either lineup is whether Frank Crosetti, the slender shortstop, will hold down the shortstop post or field to Lynn Lary, Eddie Farrell, Crosetti likely will start.

Whatever Manager Charley Grimm of the Cubs lacks in clouting ability by comparison with lapping Lou Gehrig, the Yankee "iron man" first baseman, he makes up for in general steadiness. Grimm is a "money player" besides being a fine leader and banjo strummer. He has the artist's touch at first base. He was one of the few Cubs to play exceptional ball against the Athletics in 1929 world series, batting close to .400.

Lazzeri Has Edge

Lazzeri's harder hitting ability and longer experience, providing he is in shape, gives him a distinct shade over Billy Herman, the 23-year-old Cub keystone star. Tony is as vital a cog as Ruth in the Yankee machinery. He has the faculty of pulling the club together at shaky moments. Herman, however, has proved he can stand the gaff in a tough pennant scrap. Billy the kid leads off for the Cubs at bat and has a season's mark of around .310 for the full schedule.

Koenig's return from the minors was simultaneous with Chicago's pennant rash. Grimm was instrumental in getting him and credits the former Yankee with a big part in the team's winning drive. Because of his hitting and experience, Mark has the edge on any one of the three Yankee shortstop possibilities.

English Good Hitter

Elwood English is a better hitter than his average of around .270 for the season indicates. He is nine years younger and considered faster than Joe Sewell, the veteran Yankee third sacker, but no steeper in the field nor as consistent at bat. Sewell is one of the toughest men in the game to baffle at the plate. It's real baseball when Alabama Joe strikes out.

The Cubs have 23-year-old Stanley Backus, well as Jurges, for utility work around the infield premises.

COACH KEENE TO USE ENTIRE SQUAD IN TILT

SALEM, Sept. 23 (P)—Coach "Spec" Keene plans to give his entire traveling squad of 28 a workout when his Willamette University Bearcats tangle with Coach Paul Schisler's Oregon State football team at Corvallis Saturday night.

Keene wants to give his men as much experience as possible out of the game, rather than try to hold the score down, but a line slightly heavier than last year's and a pair of crafty ends should keep the Beavers from staking a track meet.

Four of the six returning regulars here arrived late, so less than a week has been devoted to offensive play and tomorrow's tilt under the big flood lights will be the first real scrimmage, held by Willamette, while the Staters have profited by taking a hard-earned game from Gonzaga.

Play Monmouth Next

In the next two weeks the Bearcats will meet Monmouth Normal and Washington State college before opening their Northwest conference schedule against College of Idaho at Caldwell.

The lineup against Oregon State will be Kaiser and Grannis ends, Weisser and Conors tackles, Felton and Boyd guards, Houck center, Frantz quarterback, Erickson and Jones halfbacks and Johnson fullback.

Haskell Indian School Fading From Gridiron

LA GRANDE, Ore., (P)—Changing conditions are causing the traditional gridiron to fade from Indian school—the paleface game of college football.

Due to elimination of the junior college at Haskell Institute, long sponsor of one of the nation's finest gridiron squads, it is a natural question, supposition with colleges and universities prominent in athletics long out of existence.

Only the high school and commercial and vocational departments remain at Haskell as sources of football players.

Only the high school and commercial and vocational departments remain at Haskell as sources of football players.

For the 1932 season only one game—a contest with Washington college, Tulelake, Kan.—has been scheduled, pending a decision as to whether Haskell will be able to hold up its end in the collegiate competition.

Even this time contract is not binding in the event the Indian school should elect
