Portland held a much firmer grip on the 1932 Coast league pennant after trouncing Seattle 12 to 3 on the Ducks' home field Tuesday night while the second place Hollywood Stars were dropping a game to Los Angeles.

With but six games remaining to be played, Portland needs four more victories to become mathematically certain of the championship. The Ducks now lead Hollywood by three full games.

Seattle was only two runs behind the league leaders until the last half of the seventh inning when Almda dropped a fly. Three Ducks scored on the misplay, and before the inning was over they had collected seven runs and cinched the game. Bill Shores, Portland hurler, held the Indians to six hits, cracked out a single and a double, scored three runs and drove in another.

Hollywood Nosed Out

Hollywood met a close setback Tuesday night when the Angels came out ahead in a close 3 to 2 game at Los Angeles. Ward for Los Angeles and Yde for Hollywood turned in splendid mound performances, allowing 5 and 3 hits, respectively.

With the season almost at an end, the seventh-place Oaks and the cellar Missions suddenly found their batting power Tuesday and began to play winning ball. Oakland walloped Sacramento 11 to 2 at Oakland, and the Missions buried San Francisco under a barrage of 18 base hits to win 15 to 5.

Billy Phebus contributed to the Oakland victory by holding the Senators to five hits.

San Francisco sent three pitchers to the mound in a futile effort to halt the Mission attack. H. Pillette was hit freely by the Seals but kept the blows well scattered.

Oriental Pitching Duel Scheduled

An unusual attraction—an Oriental pitching duel—was announced for the Wednesday game between Sacramento and Oakland. Le Gum Hong, believed to be the first Chinese to enter organized baseball, will pitch for the Oaks and will be opposed by Kenso Nushida, diminutive Japanese hurler.

Petition For Two Exceptions to Dead Ball Rule Refused

CHICAGO, Sept. 28 (AP)—A petition by Western conference football coaches for two exceptions to the new "dead ball" rule has been turned down by the national rules committee.

Chairman E. K. Hall has informed A. A. Stagg, of the University of Chicago, that special dispensation for a man touching a hand or knee to the ground in the mechanical execution of such a play as Michisan's famous "old 83," could not be allowed this season, in order to give the new rule a thorough test.

A request that a zone ruling, to apply when a player, in the clear, trips and falls was rejected on the ground that application of such an exception would be difficult to call satisfactorily.

coming convinced that there is not room in this country for two parties —both conservative." The Democratic party, he added, is the party of liberalism.

CURTIS ON WAY TO OKLAHOMA

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 28 (AP)—Vice President Charles Curtis is en route to Oklahoma today, leaving behind in West Virginia a prediction that America "will be the first to recover from the depression under the leadership of President Hoover."

Closing a two-day stump of the mountaineer state, Curtis last night said there had been 19 periods of depression in the United States in the last 125 years but that the nation "came out of each depression more powerful than ever."

He declared "a competitive tariff for revenue" advocated by the Democratic platform and Governor Roosevelt, Democratic presidential nominee, "will not help a single working man, farmer, mine or factory in the United States."

In another speech as he formally opened a new government lock in the Kanawha river at Market, near here, Curtis approved a shorter working week for laboring men — 40-hour, five-day week.

Curtis said curtailment of hours might herald "the beginning of a movement for a shorter day and shorter week for labor which I hope will come because I believe that will solve the great problem of labor."

SAYS F. R. WILL WIN W. VA.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 28 (AP)—Clem Shaver, former Democratic national committee chairman, said today that Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic presidential nominee, will carry West Virginia.

The New York governor "will carry this state by a majority of from 50,000 to 75,000 votes and the entire state ticket will be elected with him," Shaver forecast in a statement issued by the Democratic state headquarters.

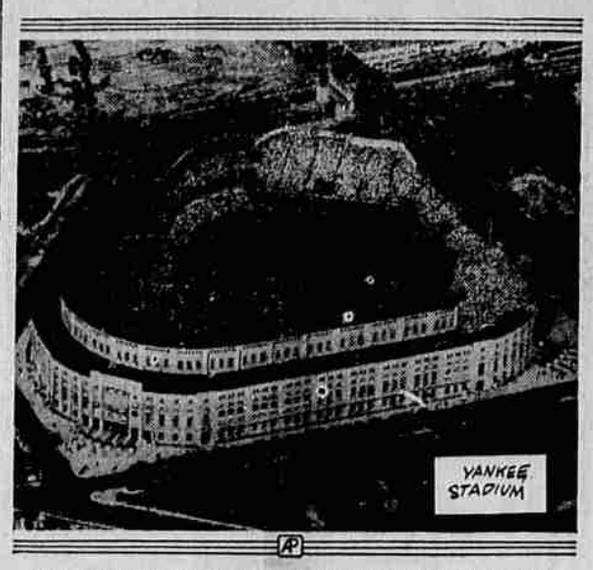
WHERE THE WORLD SERIES OPENED



Yankee Stadium, New York, where the world's series opens today, is shown above in air view. The crowd was not up to par as the Cubs and Yankees started the opening game.

M'CARTHY AND GRIMM CONFIDENT

Both Managers Expect to Win World Series; Crowd Today Below Par.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28 (AP)—Here's how the rival managers looked at the world series between the Yankees and the Cubs, starting today:

Charley Grimm, Cubs: "Naturally I think we'll win. I won't attempt to say how many games it will go. My men aren't afraid of the Yankee hitters. We have confidence in our pitchers."

Joe McCarthy, Yankees: "I think we'll win all right. There isn't a limp or a gimp on the club. We're in grand shape from top to bottom."

Charge Mark Koenig, veteran Chicago Cub shortstop, with the first error of the world series. And with a quick recovery as well.

Mark was riding from the railroad station to the Cubs' hotel when he suddenly discovered his wallet and $400 were missing.

Finds His Wallet

He made a record dash back to the station and found the wallet and the cash still resting in the hammock of his Pullman berth.

Barring the wildest sort of a last-minute flood of enthusiasm the Yankees and the Cubs faced the entirely unexpected threat of a possible financial depression.

Never before in the history of six previous Yankee world series have Broadway and the far reaching environs of Manhattan failed to produce whooping enthusiasm, and crowds to throng the American league ball park.

But today, with Burly "Rufus the Red" Ruffing primed to hurl his fireball against the cocky Cubs, with Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, the siege guns, perfectly trained on Chicago's lanky Guy Bush, the ball park primed and draped in bunting, even the brasses of the Seventh Regiment band polished to a brilliance that rivals the noonday sun when there is one, either the evolution or the revolution of the faithful seemed certain to have taken place.

Even though the forecast of the weather bureau was for a showery day, with no clearing before late afternoon, a crowd of 40,000 at a Yankees series opening, bolstered by the presence of Speaker John N. Garner, Democratic candidate for vice president, and a solid phalanx of notables from all walks of life, was a far cry from the record attendance of 63,600 and receipts of $224,130 set at the Yankee stadium.

The teams themselves, the thrills, color, and battle they promised, seemed to warrant no such let down.

In the forefront of all the attractions heaved the corpulent figure of Babe Ruth, greatest slugger in baseball's history, lifting his cudgel for the tenth time in world series play, healthy and vigorous enough after a ten day siege of incipient appendicitis to assault a score of records for the championship every time he stalked to the plate.

Some 300 men were lined up at the bleacher entrances to the Yankee stadium at 8:30 a. m., waiting for the ticket windows to open for the first game.

Most of those there at that hour had arrived within the preceding 45 minutes and with rain threatening, some carried umbrellas. Police required them to line up four abreast. About 100 patrolmen and mounted policemen were assigned to posts about the stadium shortly after 8 a. m.

20 Wait All Night

Twenty of the prospective customers had waited all night, occasionally seeking shelter from intermittent showers in a garage across the street.

Bill Cunningham, of Kansas City, held down first position at entrance "A" to the bleachers. He said he had kept a week-long vigil and expected to be the first to purchase a ticket when the office opened at 10 o'clock. He slept on two automobile cushions and protected himself from the rain with an umbrella.

Present Grazing Fees May Continue

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 28 (AP)—Belief that the 50 per cent reduction in graing fees on national forests will be continued for 1933 was expressed by Senator Reed Smoot in a telegram from Washington to James A. Hooper, secretary of the Utah Wool Growers association.

Senator Smoot said he had confefferd with Arthur M. Hyde, secretary of agriculture about the matter and said the reduction undoubtedly will be ordered.

Hooper said he will leave October 14 with representatives of other western wool growing states to make a study of market conditions in large eastern cities as guests of meat packers.

FORMER PITCHING STAR GROOMS HARNESS HORSES

WAPAKONETA, O. (AP)—"Long Bob" Ewing, pitching ace with Cincinnati and Philadelphia in the National league a generation ago, is grooming some trotters for the harness races and keeping an eye on the career of Wesley Ferrell, Cleveland pitcher.

Ewing's interest is in Ferrell because he has heard that he is the nearest modern approach to the great Christy Mathewson, and Mathewson and Ewing were rivals when the former was at his best. He has never seen Ferrell perform.

Mathewson defeated Ewing in several pitching duels, but Ewing was not always on the losing side. He pitched for Cincinnati from 1902 to 1909. For several years Ewing was aherift here.
