Oregon to Play Louisiana State

during which Sharkey will have had no intermediate action whatever. FOOTBALL AGAIN College football, moving back into the spotlight after a slow and somewhat colorless start, is up against the necessity of "building up" an almost complete new cast of satellites this season.

It takes more than a few broken-field dashes to find replacements for players like Albie Booth, Barry Wood, Marchie Schwartz, Ernie Pinkert, Jerry Dalrymple, "Catfish" Smith, Bill Morton, and Gene McEver.

RENTNER STILL AROUND Ernest "Pug" Rentner of North-western is the only member of the 1931 All-America backfield cast still in the collegiate gridiron picture this fall.

The Big Ten, one of the best balanced football groups in the country over a long period of years, anticipates another hot fight for the championship all the way. There's always plenty of the unexpected in this fast company.

VICE PRESIDENT GIVES KISS TO GIRL IN BAKER (Continued from Page One) Curtis told Mr. Knowles that he would like to make a platform speech in La Grande but that the earliness of his arrival and the strenuous speaking tour in which he has engaged prevented such arrangements.

MEMBERS OF BAR HEAR ADDRESS BY CHIEF EXECUTIVE (Continued from Page One) of the rapacious is the judicial system of the country, and that the impregnable apex of that system is the supreme court of the United States.

Chief Justice Hughes welcomed the president with the greeting: "We tender to him our fitting assurances of profound respect and deserved esteem." At the conclusion, the chief justice thanked the president "for his contribution" on behalf of the association.

On the platform was a distinguished assemblage of national and international barriers, including Marquis de Eguigure, Patricio Reynolds, French statesman, members of the supreme court and John W. Davis, of New York, 1924 Democratic presidential nominee.

"Our form of government is on trial in the eyes of millions of our citizens," President Hoover said. "Economic distress of unparalleled magnitude have wracked our people, and in their distress some are tempted to lay the blame for their troubles upon the system of government under which they live."

"It can be a dangerous thing, if wise and trusted men fail to explain to the people the interests have been betrayed by false prophets of a millennium, promised through seductive but unworkable and disastrous theories of government."

"The menace is doubled by the fact that these vain allurements and are today being offered to our harassed people by men of public reputation in economic and even by men in public life."

President Hoover told the lawyers "your court procedures are too unwieldy and that it was their duty to simplify them "to make the administration of law a terror to evildoers by its promptness and certainty." He continued:

"A corollary duty one that will hasten this end, is that you shall purge your profession of men unworthy of its trust. You occupy a position unlike that of other men who may honorably pursue only their private gain. You are, besides that, quite special officers of the government, sworn members of the courts in which you practice."

"Too many men have been allowed to take this oath and then be false to it. They use the complexities of law and procedure not to effect justice, but to defeat it. These men you must scourge from the temple which they profess."

Earlier the association approved a report urging a uniform state anti-machine gun law, and commended police for adopting scientific methods of detecting crime to replace the "third degree."

After coronation ceremonies at the new supreme court building today the association will hear Attorney General Mitchell speak on "reform in federal criminal procedure." Tonight the delegates will attend the annual White House reception to the United States judiciary.

At last night's session, it elected a new general council, and Friday will name its new officers for the ensuing year.

20,000 TO HEAR HOOVER CLEVELAND, Oct. 13 (AP)—Approximately 20,000 persons are expected by John D. Marshall, chairman of the local committee on arrangements, to gather Saturday night to hear President Hoover's plea for support in this pivotal state.

There will be three separate audiences at public halls where his address will be delivered. About 10,000 persons will be seated in the main hall, according to present arrangements, and behind him, in the music hall, will be 3000 more, mostly Republican organization workers.

In the basement, several thousand more will be able to hear his address by means of amplifiers. More amplifiers will carry his address to those expected to congregate in the street. After his formal talk, the president will speak briefly to the Republican workers, then make short appearances before basement and street crowds.

Today's fighting brought deaths from the latest Moro outbreak which started with Sunday's ambush in which 10 constabularymen were slain, to 49.

Sport Slants

By Alan J. Gould (Associated Press Sports Editor) If and when they are brought together, whether in Miami in the winter or the Madison Square Garden Bowl next spring, the two Maces of the heavyweight division, Schmeling of Germany and Beer of California, should furnish one of the best slug ging parties we have seen in many a moon.

It seems questionable whether Max Beer has improved as consistently and effectively as has Max Schmeling within the past year and a half but the rangy Californian certainly has fought his way back to a contending position.

Beer was just a big good-natured clown, with a round-house wallop from the hips, when he first came to the Big Town. He spent more time thinking about his saberdashery, his high-powered cars and good times than he did about his fist technique.

The stories of Beer's eccentricities outside the ring made good copy, for a while, but his equally erratic work in the ring soon left the customers as well as the ex-cited by necessity or real experts somewhat cold. Whether inhibition, he apparently has settled down to do some earnest scrapping.

Until some one comes along, however, to prove otherwise, the conclusion is inescapable that Schmeling is the best heavyweight in the ring today. He lost the world championship to Jack Sharkey on a highly questionable decision.

Even the pro-Sharkey element conceded Schmeling's superior performance and Sharkey decidedly on the down. The margin of superiority in the German's favor should be even more decisive in another year.

BRUIN FLASH TO PLAY IN PORTLAND AGAINST OREGON (Continued from Page One) The Wilcat star figures to be one of the hardest men to stop around the Big Ten whirl but until the Michigan game he was kept pretty much under wraps by Head Coach Dick Hanley.

He was sent into the last stages of the opening game with Missouri and exhibited enough stuff to satisfy the critics in Chicago that he's just as formidable an all-round threat as he was last year.

Schilling Tea Recently the United States Government Tea Examiners tested many teas for freshness. They found that tea quickly loses its freshness in an ordinary tin or cardboard box. The Supervising Examiner then said this: Teas packed in high vacuum... would naturally be the best method of packaging. Schilling Tea is the only fresh tea you can buy.
