

Columbia University Defeats Eastern Oregon Normal School, 19 to 0, in Night Game

GAME PLAYED ON WET FIELD; IRISH SHOW STRENGTH

Opening Touchdown Made on 70-Yard March, With Two Scores Coming in Last Half.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 14 (AP)—By a score of 19 to 0, Columbia university turned back Eastern Oregon Normal Teachers of La Grande on a wet field at Multnomah stadium last night.

Taking the ball after the opening kick-off, Columbia marched steadily down the field from their own 30-yard line to the Teachers' two-yard line. Thomas smacked center for the touchdown, and Corcoran kicked the point.

The second successful goal line drive came in the third period after Billy McCarthy, a sub safety, ran back on a kick from his own 33 to the Teachers' 43. Thomas went over on a reverse end run.

The final score came in the fourth period, resulting from a lateral pass from the 12-yard line.

In a downpour of rain which reached its height in the fourth period and bordered on a cloudburst, the fighting Irish crew demonstrated their punch in power plays and the deception of their running attack, as well as a capable aerial game.

Bob Quinn's athletes from La Grande didn't make a first down in the opening period but they took the play away from Columbia in the second.

Columbia's first touchdown came after seven plays.

Cougars, Bears Play Saturday; Two Teams Even

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14 (AP)—Attention of Pacific Coast conference football followers will be focused on Berkeley tomorrow, when the University of California's Bears and the Washington State college Cougars clash in one of the three conference games scheduled for this weekend.

The Cougars arrived in Berkeley today in what their coach, "Babe" Hollingbery, describes as the best of condition, for their second conference engagement. It will be the first loop game of the season for the Bears.

Because of California's showing last week against St. Mary's, and because Washington State was equally impressive, although losing, at Southern California two weeks ago, the game is regarded as an even break here.

At Portland, a slightly crippled, but still formidable U. C. L. A. eleven will meet the powerful Oregon university team which beat Santa Clara 7 to 0 and held Washington to a 0 to 0 tie on successive Saturdays.

Oregon is favored, but both teams have regulars on the injured list.

At Missoula, Montana and Idaho will meet in the annual "big game" of that section. The little brothers of the conference are fairly well matched this year, but Idaho, with a fast versatile backfield, is the favorite.

This Back Knew How to Put The Wood to The Ball

This is the fourth of a series of articles in which O. W. "Red" Severance, noted official, relates the humorous and "inside" stories he has run across in a long association with leading football coaches.

By O. W. "Red" Severance (Written For The Associated Press) Mike Donahue, famous Yale star and one of the first northern coaches to bring football into the south, was a firm believer in the theory that all great punters gain their distance by keeping the right knee straight at the moment of impact.

Donahue was coaching at Auburn, and this particular year Auburn needed more than anything else a good punter.

So Mike's eyes brightened during practice one day as he noticed a newcomer booting the ball far down the field—and kicking through with a straight knee.

Oregon, Uclans Will Arrive In Portland Today

EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 14 (AP)—After an intensive workout to acustom themselves to a moist field, the Oregon university football men planned to leave today for Portland where they will meet the Uclan Bruins tomorrow afternoon in a Pacific Coast conference clash.

The Bruins, headed by Coach Bill Spaulding, also were scheduled to arrive in Portland and to try out the civic stadium field, where they will show their wares for the benefit of the Portland Shrine hospital.

Minus one of their best pile-driver players, Fullback Mike Mkuak, the Webfoots will undertake to play a line-plunging game, Coach Prink Callison indicated, unless the sky retracts its threat of rain and a dry field receives the teams.

In that event Oregon's pony express boys are expected to get the call for most of the backfield work.

Howard Bobbitt, fullback, and Stan Koetska, halfback, will probably get most of the ball carrying assignments in the event of a dampened field.

Kid Chocolate Beats Feldman In 12th Round

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 (AP)—His third successive victory over Lew Feldman has gained for Kid Chocolate, Cuban negro flash, a piece of the more or less vacant featherweight championship.

Chocolate hammered Feldman into decisive defeat before a sparse gathering of 7000 spectators in Madison Square Garden last night, stopping the New York youngster in the 12th round of what was to have been a 15-round bout.

To the winner went recognition as featherweight champion in the eyes of the New York state athletic commission which has ignored the title claims of Tommy Paul of Buffalo, winner of a national boxing association elimination tournament to find a successor to the 120-pound crown vacated by Chris Battolino.

Chocolate now holds pieces of two championships. In addition to his disputed featherweight title, the "Kid" holds the synthetic junior lightweight crown.

Although far off form, the Cuban gave Feldman a neat trouncing last night, winning nine of the 12 rounds and cutting Feldman so badly about the nose that Referee Patsy Haley finally was forced to halt the match after two minutes, 45 seconds of the 12th.

Feldman won the second and third rounds, but Chocolate was more punches than he landed, and held the Cuban fairly even in the fifth.

Chocolate weighed 123 1/2 pounds; Feldman 125 1/2.

In the first match of a Garden middleweight elimination tournament, Ben Jely of New York floored Paul Brown of Cleveland six times before knocking him out in the sixth round of a ten round bout.

In another, Frankie Battaglia of Winnipeg, was floored for a nine count by Chick Devlin of San Francisco in the eighth round but came back to gain a draw.

The tournament is designed to produce a challenger for Marcel Thil of France, generally regarded as king of the world's middleweights.

DAKOTA GRID MENTOR UNDER FIRE TODAY

VERMILION, S. D., Oct. 14 (AP)—Dissatisfaction of students with direction of the University of South Dakota football team has flared into open revolt today with a demand for removal of Captain Stanley G. Backman as head coach.

A petition asking Backman's resignation was presented to President Herman G. James just after the team left yesterday for a game with the University of Cincinnati Saturday.

President James said the athletic board probably would discuss the matter today.

Tomorrow, Tulane, bidding for another conference title, faces Vanderbilt probably the most formidable foe, at New Orleans.

Clarence Crabbe, Olympic swim champion, may turn professional, according to his father, Ned Crabbe of Honolulu.

If Your Ears Ring With Head Noises

People who are growing hard of hearing and who experience a flitting feeling of pressure against their ear drums, accompanied by buzzing, rumbling sounds in the head like water falling or steam escaping, should take prompt and effective measures to stop this trouble.

Secure from Red Cross Drug store (double strength) 1 oz. Parmitin (double strength). Take this home and add 3/4 pint hot water and a little sugar.

One tablespoonful four times a day should quickly relieve distressing ear-ache, ringing, open clogged nostrils, make breathing easy, stop annoying mucous discharge. All ear-ache sufferers should give Parmitin a trial.

BRUSHING UP SPORTS...

By Laufer STAGG TO RETIRE FROM GRID WORLD

70-Year-Old Chicago University Coach to Step Out of Game Next June

By Charles Dunkley (Associated Press Sports Writer) CHICAGO, Oct. 14 (AP)—They are singing the praises and telling the human side of Ames Alonzo Stagg, the "old man" of the mid-way today who he will retire next June from the position he has held for 41 years as director of athletics and head football coach at the University of Chicago.

"The greatest single influence for good in college athletics that football ever produced," was a tribute paid Stagg by Major General John L. Griffith, commissioner of athletics of the Western conference.

The life of Stagg has been synonymous with the development of intercollegiate athletics. No individual has equalled his influence in contributing to the standards of college competition. His skill as a coach is universally conceded, but it has been a sincere crusader for sportsmanship, honesty and high standards of amateur sports that he has become internationally known.

Unfair Win Worthless Stagg has always insisted that victory at the price of unfair methods is not worth having; sports which do not contribute to character have no justification. As a player, as a coach, as a member of the national football rules committee, of which he is a senior member, he has been a leader in the development of football. He is the most engaging figure in the sport.

He put the game on its feet before there were any Joneses, Warners or Rocknes, before there were any stadia or headgear.

Stagg has served the University of Chicago as athletic director and football coach since it first opened its door back in 1892, a record without parallel in the sport. In those early days at Chicago, when there were just a handful of students, Stagg, like many other coaches of the times, played on his own teams because he did not have enough men to make up a squad.

Graduated as a divinity student at Yale, Stagg always practiced what he preached. He was a stickler for discipline, never drank nor smoked and would not stand for profanity. He recalled today that Stagg benched "Five-Yards" McCarthy, one of his stars of a few years ago, because he used profanity in one of the Maroon games.

Stagg was thrifty. He lived in a small, cheap apartment for years, so he could save enough money to enable him to pay cash when he bought his home. They say he never borrowed a cent in his life.

Stagg in his 41 years of service to the University of Chicago placed the institution above personal success. He looked upon football as a means to an end, the well rounded development of character, and not merely an end in itself. Conscience to him meant more than applause. He was handicapped for years by the lack of first class material for winning football teams and his prestige with the public undoubtedly suffered seriously.

But Stagg never lost a night's sleep over it. He never complained, never blamed anybody or apologized for anything.

METCALF TO SUCCEED STAGG CHICAGO, Oct. 14 (AP)—One of the most engaging characters in American football today was in his closing pages for Ames Alonzo Stagg will retire as director of athletics and head football coach at the University of Chicago at the end of the college year next June.

The grand old man of the midway, Chicago's only athletic director and head gridiron teacher, having reached three score and ten years, must step aside under a university rule providing that seventy shall be the age limit for members of the faculty.

And Stagg will make way for Thomas Nelson Metcalf, now director of athletics at Iowa State college, Ames, Iowa, only because of the rule. He became 70 years old last Aug. 16.

In yielding, Stagg, clear-eyed and looking not more than 50 of his 70 years, said he was "frankly not content to do it"; that he felt he is good for 15 or 20 more years of active service. His successor as football coach will be named by Metcalf, who has given no indication of his choice.

In announcing the retirement of Stagg, the board of trustees of the university said a new post, chairman of the committee on intercollegiate athletics, had been created for him. Stagg, however, has not accepted the place.

Defective Auto Lights to Cost More to Drivers

SALEM, Oct. 4 (AP)—Citations carrying court costs will be issued motorists driving cars with defective lights, Charles P. Pray, superintendent of state police announced Thursday. An order to this effect was issued to all state police operatives and Pray said it would be vigorously enforced.

Pray announced that previously warnings were issued but that these did not prove sufficient. Many cars are now being driven with one light or high and bright lights. The new order will become effective at once.

The automobile fatality in Oregon for September was 32 as against 13 the year previous, it became known. Many of these fatalities resulted from defective lights, the information stated.

Jess Willard Is 'Bouncer' In Meat Market In South

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 14 (AP)—Once the heavyweight boxing champion of the world and a wealthy man, Jess Willard today, according to his own admission, is a "bouncer" in a meat market. His salary, he said, is $15 a week.

Willard was in court to explain his failure to pay $292.10, which a plumbing company official said he owed him. Asked by the court to explain his job, Willard, who formerly owned the meat market, said:

"They have a lot of hard boiled market men out there and my main work is that of a bouncer."

Willard has been in court on previous occasions to explain his failure to pay bills.

The big Polish outfielder never gained much popularity with the fans at Shibe Park. Moreover, the Shibes and Mack shed no tears over parting with the Simmons contract, calling for $100,000 over a three-year period having one more year to run.

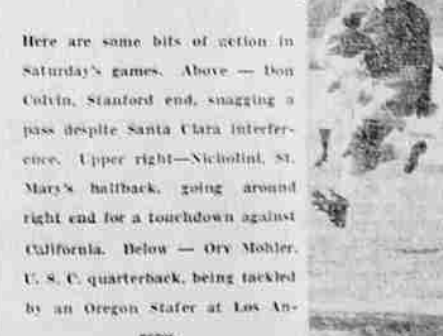

Mack has two unusually promising young outfielders already in his field. In Roger Cramer and Ed Coleman, besides another up-and-coming young man from Portland named Finney. There is also the old reliable, Bing Miller, but Cramer is the only player in this collection with the stamp of greatness so far.

Until an accident forced him out of the game, Cramer was playing sensational ball. He is fast, a natural hitter and has a fine arm.

Presidential Poll Shows F. R. In Lead in 31 of 38 States Reported

Roosevelt increases his lead over Hoover returns may change the entire complexion of the vote.

BOLOFF DEAD AT MULTNOMAH COUNTY FARM PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 14 (AP)—Ben Boloff's earthly trials are over. He died Thursday at the tuberculosis ward of the Multnomah county farm, following his release from prison last March after he had served about one year of a ten year sentence following his conviction on a charge of violation of the criminal syndicalism law.

The case of Ben Boloff was one of the most sensational to come before the Oregon courts. A ditch worker who could read little English, he was one of 13 alleged communists indicted for violation of the syndicalism. He was the only one convicted.

Hoover is indicated gaining strength in California, Illinois, Indiana, Maine, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Rhode Island in all of which states he shows increase over his last week's ratio. Returns from Massachusetts this week show a decrease in his percentage of the total vote there.

In an analysis of "how the same voters voted in 1928" Roosevelt appears to be obtaining more than one-half of his vote from former Republicans in California and Michigan while in the nine other states of Iowa, Kansas, Nevada, North Dakota, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Wyoming he has more votes from former Republicans than he has from former Democrats.

The same analysis reveals that Roosevelt has increased his inroads into Republican ranks of four years ago throughout the nation, gaining 39.64 per cent of his entire strength from former Hoover adherents this week as against 37.96 per cent in last week's report.

Roosevelt continues to carry California, the home state of the president, by a lead of nearly 2 to 1. He is ahead also in his own state of New York by a vote of 150,447 to 145,554.

Calculating the current returns on an electoral college basis, Hoover would receive 57 votes and Roosevelt 358.

Massachusetts leads the Republican column, giving 58.92 per cent of its vote to the president, taking the lead from New Hampshire which had this rank last week.

Roosevelt is indicated receiving a clear majority of all votes cast in over all six other presidential aspirants in twenty-nine of the thirty-eight states reported this week.

The Literary Digest cautions that though the figures this week are worthy of respectful attention, they are not yet conclusive and that later

Jim Londos Will Meet Ed Lewis

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 14 (AP)—Lou Daro, local wrestling promoter, said today he had signed Ed (Strangler) Lewis and Jim Londos, both claimants of the world's heavyweight wrestling championship, for an outdoor match here next February. Londos has been guaranteed $80,000 to risk his claim to the title. Daro said:

Lewis is scheduled to face Ray Steele, Glendale, Cal., great and the California heavyweight champion in New York, Dec. 5, for world's title recognition in that state. Daro said the Londos-Lewis match would depend on Lewis being victorious over Steele. Steele held Lewis to a 90-minute draw in Boston last April.

RED VARNELL WINS

VANCOUVER, Wash., Oct. 14 (AP)—Red Varnell, 158 1/2 pounds, Eugene, won a six round decision over Dave Humes, 165, Port Angeles, here last night.

In the six-round semi-final, Rudy Vastano, 142, Vancouver, won over Whitely Kirk, 139, Oakland.

Only five members of Florida's 1932 football squad, numbering more than 50, are from outside the state.
