Conditions In The Egg Trade Somewhat Mixed

PORTLAND, Oct. 14 (AP) — Conditions within the egg trade are very badly mixed. Few markets are quoting the mutual prices fresh eggs are selling at generally. Fresh egg prices are quoted at the sale level in Portland but this is one of the few big cities of the country where the quotations represent the bulk of the movement.

At this period, far the greater bulk of the egg trade is in storage stock, much of which is reported selling as fresh goods, but at prices materially lower than the current lay. Mixtures of fresh and storage eggs is again reported resorted to in many instances in order to create greater profits to speculators in the ice house goods.

Trade in the butter market is generally inclined to show a steady tone locally with no change suggested in the price. Receipts are showing a big decrease and there was further loss in the local churning.

Market for turkeys continues to hold a steady tone with trading volume slightly increased. Prices are still ruling generally 20@22c lb. The smaller birds continue in best call.

For the first time in an extended period there is a real demand for country killed cows in the local trade. The call is now quite fair with sales 8c lb. Lambs are firm.

Decline in the price of country killed bulls and canner cows has been forced here as a result of recent extreme weakness and price loss in the stockyards. Sales of dressed bulls no higher than 4@4½c lb. Canner cows around 2@2½c lb. Dressed hogs continue fairly steady.

Market for potatoes is inclined to show a very weak tone and the overload of Yakima stock continues. These consist chiefly of 2s which Yakima has claimed it would not ship outside the state. Deschutes potatoes are in good supply and steady call.

Brappone tomatoes are being featured here with the offering of liberal supplies packed in lugs. These are of quality and priced 50c. Other tomatoes of quality are finding favor and at late prices.

Notes of wholesale trading:

Persimmons are being offered at $1 for flats and $2 for lugs.

There is little activity in local onions. Many complaints of small size.

Cauliflower continues at the lowest all time price here with little shipping demand.

There is a shortage of Jonathan apples but prices continue low with plenty of others. Jonathans were chiefly hit by an army of worms.

Salway peaches are still meeting with favor with fairly well maintained prices.

WOOL REPORT

BOSTON, Oct. 14 (AP) — The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow:

"The demand for wool has been slow this week. Sales have been for piecing-out orders only. Prices are slightly in favor of the buyer.

"The piecegoods markets, also, has slowed up and for some descriptions prices have been hardly maintained, although topmakers and spinners are still getting reasonably good specifications.

"All bids were rejected as too low at the sealed bid sale in San Angelo, Tex., Thursday, when 3½ million lbs. of spring wools were offered for sale.

"The foreign markets have been a bit heavy this week. London closed Thursday with prices under opening rates but 5 to 10 per cent above the close of the preceding series, merinos being up most.

"Mohair is quiet but steady."

The Bulletin will publish the following quotations: scoured basis:

Seminole Indians Worried Because Their Children Turn to White Ways

By James H. Street

LITTLE RIVER, Fla., Oct. 14 (AP)—There is consternation among the squaws of the Seminoles because the children, they love far out on the wastes of the Everglades have shown an inclination to go "look-sha."

It is a serious tribal crime for a Seminole to age white men. Bucks have been "steamed" for adopting paleface customs. "Steaming" is a punishment in which the offender is confined to a mud and grass tepee and hot rocks are thrown in water near his feet. The steam doesn't kill, but it cures.

Bucks Wearing Pants!

Now some of the bucks and maidens threaten to go modern. Many bucks have deserted the sweeping, gaudy dresses of their tribe and wear pants. The girls still pack 20 or 30 pounds of beads around their necks like mother does, but some of the adventurous maidens have ridden in automobiles.

Obedience and tribal pride have been taught the young since the days when their chief led the Seminoles into a wilderness of sawgrass and slime for a last stand against the white man's ways, the white man's whiskey and the white man's gunpowder. But now the tribal wise men say a spirit of rebellion has entered the camps.

Situation Very Grave

The Seminoles consider the situation extremely grave because they have maintained a tribal pride despite poverty, disease and curiosity of tourists. They might have been rich like their Creek brothers if they had taken orders from the American government. But the Everglades Seminoles take orders from no nation and fear only the gods of the corn and the moon. The government ordered them to the Indian territory years ago, but they retreated to the swamps and vowed they would practice forever their own customs and follow their own laws.

Tribal customs say children cannot be born within the camps so the mothers go far away on the hammocks of the Everglades for the ordeal. There are more than 500 Seminoles in Florida now and each is proud of his heritage, that's why the squaws and the braves are worried lest the children forget their families and follow the roads that white men built.

COUNTY CHAPTER OF RED CROSS TO PLAN ROLL CALL

relief work by the assistance of this organization. Flour from the government farm board wheat has been obtained in sufficient quantity to meet local relief needs for the past five months, and garden seeds were distributed last spring to many needy families. A large shipment of cotton cloth is now being received by the local chapter for use in making garments for the needy this winter. This will relieve the county of the necessity of buying several thousand yards of such materials.

"Thus it will be readily seen that for every dollar which the county has given to the American Red Cross, it has received several in return," Mr. Mortimore states in talking of the necessity for a generous response to the annual roll call this year. "Unusual conditions have made especially heavy demands upon this organization, and in giving it our generous support, we are in reality only providing "relief insurance" for our own possible needs."

All members of the local organization are urged to be present tonight to hear interesting reports of past activities, and to make plans for future activities.

A banquet has been planned for the evening while an all-day session has been planned for Wednesday in the banquet room of the Baker hotel.

cost of government rise from about three billion dollars to about fourteen billion dollars. This was too much when taxes were moderately easy to pay. It is a crushing burden under present business conditions. . . .

"We believe that these public expenditures should be reduced all along the line. Every unnecessary action of the government should be abolished. High salaries should be reduced. The people should be permitted to spend more of their earnings on themselves and required to spend less on the tax collector. . . .

"We must discharge our obligations to the veterans and their dependents. But we should waste no money and tolerate no extravagance under the claim of performing any of these necessary functions. . . .

"All the costs of local, state and national government must be reduced without fear and without favor. Unless the people through unified action arise and take charge of their government they will find that their government has taken charge of them. Independence and liberty will be gone and the general public will find itself in a condition of servitude to an aggregation of organized and selfish minorities.

"When that day comes our political and economic system will neither merit nor command the respect and support of the people and universal bankruptcy and anarchy will prevail. If we are to be saved from that catastrophe we must join in organized service, organized sacrifice and organized patriotism."
