

Four Pacific Coast Conference Games Scheduled For Saturday

MEN OF TROY TO TACKLE REDSHIRT AT STANFORD U.

Beavers and Cougars to Mix; Vandals to Play Oregon - Bears Meet Husky Eleven.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21 (AP)—Headline football games tomorrow, University of Southern California, Trojans and Stanford University Cardinals, rivals in many years of bitter grid competition, will meet at Palo Alto.

An almost-capacity crowd of approximately 20,000 fans is expected to watch Coach "Pip" Warner's red and white warriors take the field as favorites to defeat their southern opponents for the first time since 1928.

The game is regarded here as probably the football "natural" of the coast this season. Both teams are unbeaten this year. U. S. C. is last year's defending champion, and Stanford, with a list of increasingly impressive showings, appears to be headed toward the top.

Three other games also are listed on the weekend slate. At Seattle "Navy Hill" Ingram's University of California Bears will try their luck with Jimmy Phelan's University of Washington Huskies.

In view of the Bears' showing "out again-on again" propensities this year, the outcome of the game is dangerous to predict. Ingram, however, regards the Washington trip as uniting influence for his squad and a possible starting-point for a good showing later in the season.

From their 7-2 victory over California last week, "Babe" Hollingbery's Washington State Cougars meet the Oregon State Beavers in another more or less "traditional rival" battle. Comparative scores against U. S. C. favor Oregon State, but the dope bucket has it otherwise.

Vandals Meet Oregon. The University of Idaho Vandals, stronger this season than for a number of years, are nevertheless underdogs by a slight margin in their contest at Moscow against the strong Oregon University Webfoes.

The Oregon eleven, however, will be handicapped by the absence, due to injuries, of several stars.

The two other conference members, U. C. L. A. and Montana, will engage non-conference opponents. The Pelicans will meet California Tech at Los Angeles, and the Mountians tackle Montana State at Bozeman.

COACH MADIGAN PAYS $5 TO GET ONTO GRID FIELD

This is the eighth of a series of articles in which O. W. "Red" Severance, noted official, relates the humorous and "inside" stories he has run across in a long association with leading football coaches.

By O. W. "Red" Severance (Written For The Associated Press) Chief coaches often break the tension of nervous football teams before a big game by resorting to comedy relief.

But the great St. Mary's team of 1931 that defeated Southern California, later crowned national champion, turned the tables on Coach "Red" Madigan before one of their big games by resorting to comedy of psychological diversity.

St. Mary's was facing Southern Methodist university of Texas, then one of the two major undefeated teams, and 40,000 fans were jammed in the Oakland, Cal., stadium awaiting the kickoff.

Coach Madigan, tied up at the college with last minute details, sent the team ahead to the stadium, in charge of "Toby" Hunt, St. Mary's captain.

A new gatekeeper greeted the squad with outstretched hands, but mistook Toby for the coach.

"How do you like Coach Madigan?" he said. "Will there be any more of your team coming through this gate?"

Toby, seizing his opportunity, solemnly assured the gatekeeper the whole squad was present and advised him to admit no one from St. Mary's without a ticket. Meanwhile, Madigan finally arrived breathlessly at the stadium, only to find a determined gatekeeper blocking his way.

Indignant protests brought the response, "I'm on to you. Coach Madigan went in here more than 20 minutes ago."

Seeing that further argument was futile, "Toby" dashed over to the nearest ticket office and found the only seats available were in the 43 section. He bought one.

"On my way to the dressing room," Coach Madigan said, "I suddenly realized my boys had played a joke on me. After having a good laugh which relieved me of my intense nervousness, I found myself relaxed and capable of giving the necessary instructions before sending my team on the field."

MICHIGAN, OHIO OLD RIVALS

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—This year's gridiron contest between the University of Michigan and Ohio State university was the twenty-ninth game played between the two schools since 1897. Michigan had rolled up a big margin of victories, with 20 wins, six draws and two ties.

ERNIE SCHAAF LOSES BATTLE TO NEGRO PUG

BOSTON, Oct. 21 (AP)—The flistic toboggan slide appears well treated for Ernie SchAAF.

This once-promising youngster took a long rest after a disastrous summer season, during which he was beaten by Stanley Foreda and Max Beer, and last night he tried to get back into his winning stride against Unknown Winston, a negro battler from Hartford.

SchAAF weighed 200 pounds, 23 more than Winston, but put on such a sorry showing that he finished on the short end of a divided decision.

Willamette Will Play Albany In Conference Tilt

SALEM, Oct. 21 (AP)—The Willamette university Beavers, undefeated in conference play, will meet the Albany college eleven here tonight in a Northwest conference tilt.

Coach "Spes" Keating is short on reserves with Walt Erickson and Dave Drager out of the starting lineup, but the return of Gribble and Jones should add offensive strength.

Albany was strong in holding Whitman to a two touchdown victory early in the season and since then Muchan's return has added offensive power.

The big conference guns boom at Tacoma and Portland this weekend with College of Idaho attempting a comeback against undefeated College of Puget Sound tonight, and Pacific university and Whitman, both defeated by Puget Sound, meeting in Portland tomorrow. Linfield is idle this weekend.

Lindley Garrison, Former Secretary Of War, Is Dead

SEARIGHT, N. J., Oct. 21 (AP)—The death of Lindley M. Garrison, former secretary of war, recalled to life his sharp disagreement with Woodrow Wilson over national defense problems and a sudden resignation from that president's cabinet in 1916.

Garrison died here last night. During his 68 years he served both as a New Jersey state official and in Washington. Then he returned to the private practice of law with the New York firm of Nierenbrow, Miller and Garrison.

His break with Wilson came unexpectedly early in 1916. Garrison had been pressing for a national defense plan built upon a federal continental army as opposed to the national guard. Wilson too espoused the plan in public speeches but in correspondence with Garrison said that while he believed control of the military reserve should be placed under federal direction, he was not "irrevocably or dogmatically committed to any one plan."

A house military committee was opposed to the Garrison plan. Wilson advised his secretary he considered his insistence that only the war department plan should be considered "wholly unjustifiable."

On Feb. 10, 1916, Garrison resigned because "it is evident that we hopelessly disagree upon what I conceive to be fundamental principles."

GEORGIA TECH END FINDS STRIDE IN SENIOR YEAR

ATLANTA (AP)—Jerry Goldsmith, Georgia Tech's star end, apparently is coming into his own on the gridiron after a two-year handicap of injuries.

Playing his senior year, Goldsmith is developing into one of the best ends in Dixie and experts already are pointing him out as all-southern material.

A leg injury kept him from playing his sophomore year, and last season he was in Dixie and experts already are pointing him out as all-southern material.

ROYAL AND ANCIENT HEAD DRIVES SELF INTO OFFICE

ST. ANDREW'S, Scotland (AP)—Following a 12-hour boat race, the Earl of Lindsay has become captain of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club by driving himself into office.

A big gallery watched the new captain as he was being sworn in. The Earl and ladies scrambled to retrieve the ball and gain the reward of a golden sovereign from the Earl.
