ITALY MAKES APPEAL FOR "CLEAN SLATE" (Continued from Page One)

The interest is due, Dec. 15. Problem complicated. French opinion recognizes that the problem is complicated by the so-called "commercial debt" due on war stock purchases—a debt which is linked to the so-called "political debt," but which France accepts must be paid.

Meanwhile, Premier Edouard Herriot also was giving his attention to the disarmament problem. En route from Lens, where he urged world peace, the premier last night said he was confident Europe would evolve a system of security against war.

Speaking briefly at Arras, M. Herriot said the difficulties of the external situation should not be exaggerated. "We will succeed in surmounting these difficulties," he said. "I ask you to have confidence in our will to organize peace based on disarmament through security."

MUSSOLINI ASKS CANCELLATION TURIN, Italy, Oct. 24 (AP)—Premier Benito Mussolini wants the United States to cancel or reduce Europe's war debts.

He voiced the suggestion in an address last night. The occasion was his first visit to this industrial center, 40 miles from the French frontier, which heretofore had been long the hot-bed of anti-fascism.

The body, the knife driven through the heart, swayed errily, then pitched backward and rolled to the bottom. The youth was still standing at the top of the stairs, horror-stricken when police arrived. Today he was called to court to answer for patricide.

The evidence they found in the apartment. Miss Nash was questioned about abrasions on the knuckles of her right hand, and said that they were not caused by a bruise but by burns, officers said. She insisted she had not quarreled with Inglis.

A friend of both Inglis and the woman, Mrs. Leo Casey, said that the two had been married but only their closest friends knew of it. Two years ago, Mrs. Casey declared, "his wife" had prevented a similar suicide attempt, by disarming him.

Together Three Years A former Mills college and Bellingham Normal girl, and Inglis had been living together at the apartment for the past three years as man and wife, J. A. Mikel, the apartment manager said. She had been employed as a stenographer in the government veterans' employment service office which he headed.

Colonel Inglis, whose wife died three years ago, went overseas in command of the 161st infantry. On his return he was a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator but was defeated.

GIRL IDENTIFIES KIDNAPER NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 24 (AP)—Police announced today that Anna Klein, eight-year-old kidnap victim, had identified Samuel Morris as the man who lured her into a woods near Springfield and attempted to attack her. The girl, who previously had exonerated Morris as quoted by Chief of Police McNeil, was saying she feared Morris would kill her if she identified him.

Two 6-Hour Shifts to Be Put to Work (Continued from Page One)

Nearly 175 men will be afforded employment by the re-opening of the mill in addition to the crew which has been at work in the planer this fall. The 175 include both those in the logging camps and in the mill. Only heads of families are being employed.

Unfortunate Expedition There were 120 ships in the Spanish armada which attacked England in 1588; only 54 survived the expedition to return home.

Elks '49 Show Comes to Close Saturday Night In spite of present conditions in La Grande, the Elks cleared a fair amount of money at the annual Days of '49 show which closed on Saturday evening at the Sacajawea Inn, and will be able to carry on their large program, although not on as large a scale as formerly. H. S. Browning, chairman of the '49 show committee, announced this morning. The proceeds from the show are used annually to erect a Christmas tree for children in the downtown section and to distribute baskets of provisions among the needy. The Elks were assisted in their four-day show by the American Legion drum corps, the La Grande band and the Ladies. Parades were held preceding each night's events and guns and bells accompanied the strains of the musical organizations down Adams avenue to the Sacajawea Inn.

LOWLY CARD TABLE DECORATED Claudette Finds the "Motif Unusual"

BY CLAUDETTE To be a smart hostess these days one simply cannot follow the leader in party ideas. It isn't done! And as a result, the everlasting search for the "motif unusual" grows tiresome and Milady weary from exhausting hours of shopping around. From my point of view, the principal factor in being smart in card table accessories, and in fact everything, is to have things so simple that they are striking. In the accompanying sketch is a "motif unusual" for the lowly and, for the most part, neglected card table. Sunflowers in a gorgeous shade of yellow, fashioned of rayon taffeta with centers of brown or black velvet, do the trick in this instance. The flowers are applied on the table cover, but are made separately for the artistic bouquet arranged in a black velvet box as a centerpiece. This little box, which represents a vase to all appearances, is really a convenient holder for the cards. The flowers are simple to make and I will send complete directions with patterns. The vase is made of cardboard, covered with velvet, and is simple to construct. The table cover can be made of black satin, velvet or any material you especially desire. The bouquet card holder and the table cover are separate patterns so that either or both may be obtained. Either one alone is 20 cents, or both of them for 35 cents, with complete instructions for making.

weekend, beginning Thursday night and ending Sunday. For the present, this plan hinges on the completion of the address the president will make in New York City a week from today. If Mr. Hoover does not finish his New York speech in time, the tentative arrangements will permit postponement of the fourth mid-western tour until later.

Upon reaching the White House yesterday after an uneventful return trip from Detroit, the president conferred with Henry M. Robinson, Los Angeles banker and chairman of the central committee of the banking and industrial committees in the 12 federal reserve districts.

Robinson is a White House guest, as was also for a brief time yesterday Henry Ford and Mrs. Ford. The automobile manufacturer and his wife made the trip back from Detroit with the president, leaving later in the afternoon to return home.

White House aides said that Mr. Hoover and Robinson, during their conference in the Lincoln study, the president prepares most of his campaign speeches, discussed economic and banking conditions. These subjects have been prominent in all the chief executive's political addresses.

Speaks in Detroit In Detroit he said the measures taken by the administration "are winning this major battle for recovery" and cited 10 points of evidence that "the tide has turned and the gigantic forces of depression are in retreat."

"Recovery would have been faster," Mr. Hoover told his audience in the Olympia arena, "but for four months of paralysis during the spring months while we were debating proposals of the Democratic house to increase governmental expense by $3,500,000,000, the issue of fiat money and other destructive legislation."

The president was given a rousing demonstration at the packed arena, though he was "dazed" several times by his arrival and during the three-mile drive to the arena.

Accuses F. R. of "Misstatement" There, the president said Governor Roosevelt "has broadcast a misstatement of facts" and added: "In consequence, his conclusions are amazingly removed from the truth. . . . Following will-o'-the-wisps is not progressive. That is not being liberal. Rather it is driving slowly to the tyranny which means the extinction under bureaucracy of liberty and hopes and opportunities."

"The Democratic candidate," he said, "has been extravagant and in his various statements implies that we should make a defense of our policies. There will be no offense; none is needed. . . . If we are supported by the American people and if the Democratic house will cooperate, I will make for the next fiscal year a reduction from the government expenditures totals of 1932, not of a billion but of a billion and a half."

THOMAS ATTACKS F. R. BALTIMORE, Oct. 24 (AP)—The assertion Franklin D. Roosevelt "is again doing business with Tammany" was made by Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for president, in an address at a Socialist rally here last night.

Thomas said the governor of New York state and Democratic presidential nominee "was more obedient to Tammany than any other governor in recent years" and since the resignation of Mayor Walker as mayor of New York City "is trading his endorsement of a Tammany man for machine support at the polls."

Three Burned To Death In Kentucky BLOOMFIELD, Ky., Oct. 24 (AP)—Lacking tangible clues, Nelson county authorities under Sheriff T. B. Peck, today sought evidence which might aid them in their investigation of the killing of three persons whose charred bodies were found yesterday in the ruins of a burned farmhouse near here.

That robbery was the underlying cause of the tragedy that took the lives of an unidentified man and Mr. and Mrs. Luid Ingram, recluse farm couple, was the belief generally expressed by authorities.

Unfortunate Expedition There were 120 ships in the Spanish armada which attacked England in 1588; only 54 survived the expedition to return home.

MRS. W. M. PIERCE SPEAKS AGAINST MOVING MEASURE (Continued from Page One)

Where is the money coming from that is being spent in campaigning for it?" MR. PIERCE SPEAKS HERE TONIGHT After travelling 3500 miles and making 84 speeches in the past month, Ex-Governor Walter M. Pierce, Democratic candidate for United States senator from this district, has returned to his own home town where he will address a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at the city hall. He was accompanied on his tour by his wife, Mrs. Corneila Marvin Pierce, who spoke on the theme "Why I, a Republican, Am Voting for Roosevelt," as well as on measures which will appear on the ballot.

Because of the desperate economic straits suffered in many communities at present for which he says the Hoover platform offers no relief, Mr. Pierce believes that Roosevelt will carry the state by at least 10,000 votes. The Pierce felt that election is in sight, if Roosevelt is re-elected. Mr. and Mrs. Pierce found more interest in political issues now than at any previous time for several years. In Canyon City, where they both spoke during their tour, they were the first political meeting which had been held since one 20 years ago, which nine people attended. The interest in political measures and candidates is so strong this year that 100 people came from far and near to attend the gathering.

The renewal of interest, the candidate believes, is due to the dissatisfaction and unhappiness of the people for which some relief is necessary. Indications point toward Mr. Pierce carrying all of the 18 counties in the district, he said this morning. Tremendously hard times are being felt in places throughout the state, Mr. Pierce reported. However, he says, there has been a slight rise in the price of wool which has encouraged the sheep man and which has been brought about by the heavy purchases being made by Japan to clothe her army in wool during the coming winter.

Practically every taxing unit in the state is paying on warrants, he found during his tour. Some communities have paid as low as 18 per cent, leaving an 82 per cent delinquency when the new crop of taxes are almost due. Mr. and Mrs. Pierce enjoyed fine weather during their trip, although they found the country very dry.

Tomorrow and Wednesday they will speak at Wallawa, Enterprise, Joseph and Flora; on Thursday they will speak at the Pomona garage in Pendleton, and on Friday they plan to go to Baker to deliver addresses.

F. R. IN ATLANTA FOR TALK TONIGHT (Continued from Page One)

Atlanta trip to Warm Springs, Ga., where he spends as much time as possible in the invigorating waters, the governor tackled the advertising campaign for Atlanta tonight and for Baltimore tomorrow evening. It was the first night he had spent off his special train since he started from Albany last Tuesday.

The governor has a speech-manufacturing technique all his own. He accepts and considers suggestions west and south.

After a welcome yesterday and an from all who offer them, receiving a flood of memos which an aide said totals "literally hundreds," they come from advisors and well-wishers, some well-known and influential, others humble and obscure.

First to go through this material is Professor Raymond Moley of Columbia university, the governor's expert economist, but Mr. Roosevelt usually signs into the pile himself, before taking up his pen or calling for a stenographer.

The governor has been giving some special thought to foreign relations and indications were seen that he would discuss that subject before the end of the trip.

Yesterday he said to a welcoming crowd of his neighbors at Warm Springs, "Only two weeks more and then I'll be back." It was explained he expects to rest for a week or ten days at the Warm Springs after election.

Georgians Welcome F. R. Georgians, who call him an adopted son of their state, hailed him along the 60-mile drive which has been named in his honor the "Franklin D. Roosevelt highway."

On his arrival in Atlanta in the morning he led the smiling, shouting crowd, "I'm not going to talk politics because it's Sunday, and anyway I don't have to talk politics in Georgia."

Mrs. Roosevelt left the party here to return by airplane to New York and resume her school teaching duties.

Ahead of the governor today were a motor trip around the city, parade, conferences with Democratic leaders assembled here, the address at 9:15 p. m. C. S. T., at the Atlanta auditorium and finally departure at 10:30 p. m. for Baltimore by way of Raleigh and Richmond where brief stops are made.

Senator Byrnes of South Carolina and Pittman of Nevada are traveling with the Roosevelt party, the former planning to stump Delaware, New Jersey and Rhode Island in behalf of the Roosevelt candidacy.
