Mrs. L. K. Kinzel Is Hostess On Wednesday Afternoon to Members Of Clio Club at Bridge-Luncheon

One of the leading events on Wednesday's social calendar was the bridge luncheon at which Mrs. L. K. Kinzel entertained the Clio club at one o'clock. Twelve were invited including two guests, Mrs. William Siegrist and Mrs. W. C. Perkins. Prizes at bridge were awarded to Mrs. Lee B. Bouvy and Mrs. Siegrist, the former for the high score among the members, and the latter among the guests. Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Ralston will entertain the dinner club next Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock.

Finlays Entertain Club Last Night

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Finlay entertained at dinner at the La Grande hotel last night at seven o'clock, with places arranged for members of their club. The table was attractively decorated in orange and black to carry out a Halloween motif. Bridge was played at the home following dinner, and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Homer Lefell and C. L. Thompson, high, and Mrs. James McNamee, consolation.

Mrs. John Larison Hostess to Club

Mrs. John Larison was hostess yesterday at one o'clock at a delightful bridge-luncheon at her home. Members of her club were invited for the afternoon and the prizes were awarded to Mrs. L. G. Every, first, and Mrs. Craig Carroll, second. Mrs. Lynn Larison will entertain for the group in two weeks at a one o'clock luncheon followed by bridge.

Tea Compliments Mrs. Allen Wright

Mrs. Lydia Grandy was a recent hostess at a charming afternoon tea to honor her granddaughter, Mrs. Allen Wright, who recently came to La Grande from Brevitt, South America. Mrs. Wright, accompanied by her husband and family, is a guest at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Osterling. Members of Mrs. Grandy's family were guests for the afternoon.

M. I. A. Planning Monday Social

The M. I. A. of the Second Ward of the L. D. S. church will entertain Monday evening, Oct. 31, at a Halloween party at the Recreational hall. All members are invited to attend the party which will begin at 8 o'clock. Games and dancing have been arranged for the evening. Elmo Clegg and Mrs. Stanley Jenkins, presidents of the M. I. A., are in general charge of the event, while Miss Elva Burke and G. R. Williams are arranging the program.

Mrs. Blokland Is Hostess to Club

The home of Mrs. Garrett Blokland was the scene of an interesting event yesterday when she entertained the Parkdale club at 2 o'clock, assisted by Mrs. John Bowery. Chrysanthemums were arranged about the room. Guests who were invited were Mrs. Jennie Griener, Mrs. Clifford Blokland, Mrs. Walter Blokland and Mrs. Hyde, of Island City. Mrs. Edna Halley Stonebreaker arranged the program for the afternoon which included two piano solos, "Idyll" by Engelman, and "A Carnival Scene" by Du Val, played by Mrs. Clifford Blokland, Mrs. Oda Shafer, who is leaving La Grande soon to make her home in Colorado, read a clever poem of her own composition in which she bid farewell to the club. Edward Stonebreaker sang two songs, "Happy at the World" and "Seven Little Robins," after which refreshments were served by the hostess. In two weeks Mrs. Lee Smith will entertain assisted by Mrs. Milo Blokland and Mrs. W. W. Holden.

Helomala Club Is Entertained

A Halloween motif predominated throughout the bridge event at which Mrs. C. L. Mackey entertained the Helomala club yesterday afternoon at her home. Prizes at bridge were awarded to Mrs. Will McClure, first, and Mrs. Edward Davis, second. Mrs. Davis was a guest for the afternoon. A two-course luncheon was served after bridge, with the guests seated at one large table which had as an appropriate centerpiece a large jack-o-lantern. Mrs. Will McClure will be the next hostess, entertaining in two weeks.

K. D. Club Meets With Mrs. Ball

The K. D. club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jennie Ball on Greenwood avenue, and the time was spent in needlework and contests. Mrs. Alta Winburn, Mrs. Eva Monroe and Mrs. Florence Pieper received prizes in the games. Mrs. Ball served refreshments in keeping with a Halloween motif. The house also was decorated appropriately. Those present for the afternoon were Mesdames Blanche McGhean, Jeanne Ball, Sarah Young, Martha Graham, Hazel Starmer, Laura Winburn, Ella Webb, Ella Baker and Minnie Starmer. Guests were Miss Florence Pieper, Mrs. Eva Monroe, of La Grande; Mrs. Mary Edwards, of Island City; and Mrs. Mary Starmer, of Pendleton.

Aid Planning For Annual Dinner

The annual chicken dinner which is served by the Loyal Sisters Aid of the Christian church will be an event of Nov. 8, it was decided yesterday when the Aid met at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. W. Bunting. Mrs. Harry Sandoe, president of the society, will be the general chairman, and will be assisted by Mrs. Arno Voelz, Mrs. Arch Conley and their committees. Mrs. Fred Roberts arranged an interesting program yesterday afternoon, which included a number of guessing contests. Miss Barbara Roberts presented a group of readings. Halloween refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Fred Yeake, Mrs. Conley and Mrs. J. H. Miller.

Delphian Chapter Continues Study

The Delphian chapter continued its study of Greek drama last night at a meeting at the Sacajawea Inn. Under the direction of Miss Hulda Anderson, the reading of "The Frogs," by Aristophanes, was completed. Miss Henri Hering, the president, led a discussion as to character, locality and stage direction. Miss Ida McMeekin gave a review of "Mourning Becomes Electra," by Eugene O'Neill, comparing it with the Greek tragedies that form its background. The next meeting will be held Wednesday, Nov. 9, with a reading of "The Brothers," by Terence, and a study of Roman comedy.

Seventh, Eighth Boys Entertained

The seventh and eighth grade boys who won in a recent membership drive conducted under the auspices of the Riveria Parent Teacher association, were entertained yesterday afternoon by the girls at 3:30 o'clock at the Lane chapel. Robert Wakefield and Mrs. Mary Heasler were faculty advisors and were assisted by Mrs. Floyd Mann and Mrs. R. E. McAnulty. Halloween favors were presented and appropriate games were played during the afternoon. Refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon and faculty advisors and mothers say that "a glorious time was had by all."

St. Mary's Altar Society In Meet

St. Mary's Altar society of the Catholic church enjoyed a social afternoon yesterday when the members were entertained at the home of Mrs. H. J. Leonard. Sewing and conversation were the diversions during the affair. Refreshments were served at a late hour by the hostess. Mrs. W. M. Peare will be the next hostess at a business meeting on Nov. 9.

Riveria P. T. A. To Meet On Friday

The Riveria Parent Teacher association meeting which was postponed last Friday because of the death of L. M. Hoyt, will be held Friday afternoon, Oct. 28, at the Lane chapel at 2 o'clock. Senator C. R. Eschard will speak on the Zorn-Macpherson school-moving bill and other ballot measures. School demonstration by Miss Ruth Fraser's room will be followed by a report on the regional convention which was held at Baker yesterday and Tuesday. Musical numbers will be furnished by the Hendrickson children and will be followed by tea.

Eastern Star In Business Session

A short business meeting was held last night when the Order of Eastern Star met at the Masonic hall, with Miss Stella Bloch, worthy matron, presiding. Nov. 9 is the date of the next business meeting, while Nov. 23 will be devoted to social activities.

Mrs. Hill Hostess At Bridge-Luncheon

Mrs. A. T. Hill was hostess yesterday to a group of her friends for luncheon at one o'clock, followed by an afternoon of bridge. Mrs. A. L. Richardson received the award for high score.

LARGE CROWD TAKES PART IN RIOTING

marble arch entrance to the huge park on the Edgewater road. It was estimated that 50,000 people, mostly spectators, were massed in the park where many of the marchers were assembling and their leaders were making speeches. At the scene of the fighting, police singled out leaders and arrested them despite shouts of protest from the crowd. The trouble began when a brick was thrown through a post-office window at Great Cumberland Place. Stones and sticks were hurled at charging police.

Police Clear Street

The Oxford street shopping districts became a surging mass. Women were shrieking and many windows were broken. Cumberland Place was cleared of the mob and 200 police reserves were stationed there to await developments. In the park a living wall of police, shoulder to shoulder, kept back the crowds as the marchers entered. The famed free speech arena, near the marble arch, was enlarged to cover the whole northeast section of the park. Long lines of limousines, smart entourages and horseback riders bound for Totter Row were interrupted. They were not delayed long, however, after the marchers arrived.

Marchers Escorted

For every "hunger" marcher, one of London's poked-faced, apple-cheeked "bobboes" acted as escort in the park, protecting the demonstrators in their right to protest the government's avaricious administration, but also as an ever-present reminder against the accompanying of strong words with deeds. The mass demonstration was mainly orderly, an ugly situation arose between police and some sections of the crowds. One crowd of about a thousand men gave continuous trouble in the Marble Arch area.

Traffic practically at a standstill still there until mounted police broke through and galloping up and down the street, tearing, jerking, boosing agitators off the thoroughfare. The demonstration was the climax of a nation-wide gathering of unemployed and the goal was the famous park in the city's heart where the 2000 marchers, augmented by many thousands of London's unemployed, planned to take the government to task for the "means test."

Scotland Yard ordered its men not to interfere with peaceful demonstrations.

The marchers moved on the park from these suburban centers: Wimbledon, Deptford, Brentford, Edmonston, Stratford, Hammermith, Tottenham, Battersea, Greenwich and Stepney. The long distance walkers were easily distinguishable from the rather pale faced recruits who joined their ranks near London. Called Dupes of Moscow Many of the veterans in the lines were obviously weary and footsore, and some carried their world belongings on their backs. The Daily Mail called these the "dupes of Moscow being used as pawns in communist propaganda."

Few of the hunger marchers were hungry today because local residents and organizations fed them well.

At Willesden 250 Scotsmen breakfasted on tea, bread, butter, sausages and eggs. Besides each man was given a large package of food to last him through the day. The "army" numbered about 2000 as it passed through South London. Forty men from Camberwell, escorted by 60 policemen, joined the ranks as the column trudged on toward Hyde Park. One of the few picturesque units was a delegation of Welshmen, uniformed like an army with haversacks, heavy walking sticks, red neckties and red hats. Bag pipes and a drum corps marched ahead of them. Before they left Hammermith there was a preliminary mass meeting with speeches and singing of "The Red Flag" and other revolutionary songs. A hundred police stood by quietly until the march was resumed.

Leader a Communist?

The vanguard of the army moved into London yesterday with W. A. L. Hannington at its head. Hannington was described by the police as a communist. He was the leader of a similar march on London in 1930 and claims responsibility for the Invergordon naval mutiny last year. Where the army will be fed and sheltered tonight and thereafter in the heart of London was causing misgivings among the organizers and authorities alike. The prospect of a deputation appearing at the bar of the house of commons, has been demanded, appeared remote today, although a deputation might be received in parliament by one or more ministers. Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald has promised to re-examine some features of the test, but has declared its abolition is impossible.

RIOTING IN AUSTRALIA

SYDNEY, Australia, Oct. 27 (AP) — Rioting occurred today in Ghebe, an industrial suburb of Sydney, when a mob of unemployed gathered to protest application of the means test for the dole. Police cleared the streets and arrested several persons.

Lost 20 Lbs. of Fat In Just 4 Weeks

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I'm only 28 years old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a hungry moment." Fat folks should take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast — it's the SAFE, harmless way to reduce as tens of thousands of men and women know. For your health's sake ask for and get Kruschen at Red Cross Drug Store, L & L Drug Co., Glass Drugs, Inc., Moon Drug Co., or any drug store — the cost for a bottle that lasts 4 weeks is but a trifle and if after the first bottle you are not joyfully satisfied with results — money back. —Adv.

The Courtney barn fire was discovered at 7:55 and the recall was sounded at 8:50. Some damage was done, but the building was saved. The house on N avenue was a considerable distance from any other dwellings and the night was very dark, affording an easy opportunity for incendiarism.

CAMPAIGN COSTS HIGHER THAN FIRST ESTIMATED

In a million-and-a-half budget.

CAMPAIGN MORE SPIRITED

The explanation of the present spending is that the presidential campaign, in its closing days, has become much more spirited than either side expected. Responding to the request of President Hoover himself, voiced in his telegram to Chairman Sanders after the Maine election, the Republicans have undertaken an attack of great intensity—and consequently of much expense. The Democrats did not feel they could at this new element in the campaign go unmatched, and they, too, have gone in for a whirlwind finish. Thus no one, at this stage, is taking much about budget poverty. The talk is rather that no expense should now be spared.

GETTING IT SOMEWHERE

Where is the money coming from? Appreciable sums must be arriving from some quarter, either as contributions or loans, for the parties must pay cash for the items which make up the bulk of their expenditures and can do only a small percentage of their business on credit. Neither party has yet disclosed any important loans, but it would not be surprising if some showed up in the final accounting. For the party which wins, this will not be a very serious matter. The party will be a going concern, and its creditors will not be over-disposed to press for payment. But it is entirely possible that the party which loses will wake up on the day after election with a large headache due only in part to the political aspects of the case.
