La Grande Now Leading Contender For Eastern Oregon Football Championship

Oregon State's Team to Defend Michigan Record

By the Associated Press

DETROIT—Oregon State's football team has a record to protect in its clash with Detroit here Thanksgiving day. The far westerners never have lost a game in Michigan. Back in 1916 they wiped up the field with a great Michigan State team and in 1929 handed Detroit its first defeat in twenty games.

PHILADELPHIA—The odds are all against Pennsylvania checking the Pitt Panthers at Franklin field this week. In 10 previous games between the two rivals, Penn succeeded in winning only one game—that of 1923.

CHICAGO—Big Ten members have enjoyed extraordinary success in their intersectional games this season. Of 10 games played against Eastern, Southern, Big Six and Midwestern independent opposition, Big Ten members have won seven, tied two and lost one.

NEW YORK—More trouble seems to be awaiting Forham and New York University two of the biggest disappointments of the eastern campaign. Fordham, beaten by Michigan State and Boston college, now must play St. Mary's Gaels while N. Y. U., beaten by Colgate and Purdue, faces Georgia which usually plays its best football in the north.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Eddie Casey might have given his Harvard varsity a thorough shaking up yesterday except for the fact there wasn't much to shake. Seven regulars were so badly battered they couldn't appear for practice.

Three Varsity Players Demoted At Notre Dame

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 1 (AP)—A drastically revamped Notre Dame football team snapped into practice today as Coach "Hunk" Anderson sought to prevent a repetition of his team's unexpected defeat at the hands of Pittsburgh.

Three men were missing from the regulars' lineup—Capt. Paul Host, end, Nick Lukats, left halfback, and Ben Alexander, center. Moved from the second team to fill their places were Hugh Devore, Mike Koken and "Kitty" Gorman.

That's just a start, Coach Anderson threatened. There will be other shakeups if the team doesn't capitalize upon its potential power.

Revamping of the lineup gave fresh impetus to rumors that dissension had crept into the ranks of the regulars, and that Coach Anderson's action was taken to present a team in future grid engagements that, if beaten, could lay defeat solely upon the other team, not internal discord.

SIMMONS INSURED FOR $100,000

CHICAGO, Nov. 1 (AP)—An idea of what the Chicago White Sox gave Connie Mack for Al Simmons, may be gained from the fact that the new Sox outfielder has been insured for $100,000.

Simmons took his examination yesterday and stacked up close to 100 per cent.

Green Bay Packers Have Best Defense In Pro Grid Circuit

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—The champion Green Bay Packers are the best defense outfit in the National professional football league.

The Packers have permitted the opposition to gain only 890 yards in seven games, an average of slightly more than 128 yards per game. Second place in this division of play belongs to the Chicago Cardinals who have collected 746 yards in five games, an average of 149. The weakest team in this respect has been Brooklyn with an average of 230 yards per game.

Stapleton has gained the most yardage, 1406 in seven games; Green Bay has scored the most points, 84; and the New York Giants have the best passing record with 42 completions in 96 attempts.

Jones Grooming Bob Morrison As Driving Fullback

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1 (AP)—A sophomore by the name of Bob Morrison may be the much sought after driving fullback Coach Howard Jones has needed to make his University of Southern California football team click this fall.

The Trojan line is powerful and there seems to be no lack of pass throwing and receiving ability, but so far as line plunging goes, there has been little in the national champion's backfield this fall.

Coach Jones has about decided to start Morrison against California here Saturday, which will shove Bob Getz into second team spot and Dick Barbee, the man who got first place call when the 1932 schedule was opened, into third team place.

Homer Griffith, who was alternating between full and quarter when Orville Mohler was still numbered among the present, will confine activities entirely to the signal shouting tasks now.

Jones sent the team through a stiff scrimmage yesterday and contemplates doing the same thing again this afternoon. He will concentrate mostly on defensive assignments until the last part of the week.

Petrolle To Meet Canzoneri Friday

NEW YORK, Nov. 1 (AP)—Billy Petrolle, Duluth puncher who meets Tony Canzoneri in a 15-round bout in Madison Square Garden Friday night for the lightweight championship, has cut his weight to 138 pounds.

Scaling 142 pounds when he started training, Petrolle has worked steadily and now is within striking distance of the class limit of 135 pounds.

Canzoneri, meantime, has no weight worries. He fights habitually at around 132 or 133 pounds.

THREE TOUGH GAMES AHEAD FOR BEARCATS

SALEM, Nov. 1 (AP)—Coach Roy S. "Spec" Keene isn't thinking of the Northwest conference championship now, but of the three tough games his undefeated Willamette university Bearcats face in as many weeks, he stated today.

Linfield college will be played here Friday night and Keene's only remark was that the Wildcats play 100 per cent better against Willamette than against any other team.

Willamette's offensive potentialities were shown in the scoreless tie against Puget Sound here Saturday when the Bearcats made three times as much yardage as the Loggers and thrice the number of first downs. In three conference games this season no team has advanced the ball inside the Willamette 25 yard line.

Louisiana-Oregon Contest Postponed

BATON ROUGE, La., Nov. 1 (AP)—The Louisiana State-Oregon football game here December 10, has been postponed to December 17, Athletic Director T. O. Heard of L. S. U., said today.

The December 10 date conflicted with the annual Southern conference meeting.

Moe Will Captain Beavers Saturday

CORVALLIS, Ore., Nov. 1 (AP)—Harold William Moe, star blocking halfback has been selected by Coach Schissler to captain the Oregon Staters in their big game against Oregon here next Saturday.

Moe, a two-year letter man, will be playing his final home game for the Orangemen. Moe is from Great Falls, Mont.

WILDCAT PETE WINS

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 1 (AP)—Wildcat Pete, 156 pounds, Eugene, defeated Benny Martin, Buffalo, 156, two out of three falls here last night, after taking some terrific punishment from Martin, the result of a double stepover toe hold, which Martin held for seven minutes.

May Run Gasline Into Northwest In Near Future

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1 (AP)—Montgomery Street learned today the Standard Oil company had conducted engineering surveys of routes for a natural gas pipe line into Oregon and Washington. Such a pipe line would provide important new markets for the vast supplies of natural gas at Kettleman Hills.

Discussion of the project was raised by its mention by A. L. Chickering, counsel for the Pacific Gas & Electric company. The gas company has sought permission from the railroad commission to purchase the Pacific Public Service company, which has subsidiaries in Washington and Oregon. Chickering said there is definite possibility of running gas lines into the Pacific northwest.

Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company earned $4.73 a share on common stock in the first 9-months of this year, compared with $6 in the 1931 period. Dividend requirements on the common for the period were $5.25 a share.

DEADLOCKS MAR PIONEER RECORD ON THE GRIDIRON

Victory Over Pendleton, if Tigers Can do it, Would Give Title to Blue and White.

Because of the Pendleton-Mac Hi C to 6 tie Saturday, the way is cleared now for La Grande to win the Eastern Oregon championship if the Tiger football team is tough enough to spill the improved Buckaroo eleven on Armistice day.

The championship race has been in considerable of a muddle since the Pioneers and Tigers played a scoreless tie, but it is clarified now.

Here's the dope:

Mac-Hi and Baker, scheduled to meet Thanksgiving day, have cancelled the game for financial reasons, according to reports received here. Which means that Mac-Hi will go through the season without defeating a single leading Eastern Oregon team. One does not successfully claim a championship on two ties, unless all other teams have tasted defeat.

So if La Grande can win from Pendleton—which will be a man-sized job if there ever was one—then the Tigers may call themselves 1932 champions, and there will be no other record in this section that can compare.

Mac-Hi has been jinxed by the "tie bugaboo" this year, with four even games already—La Grande, Pasco, Pendleton and Kennewick. Although entitled to rank among the leading teams, Mac-Hi cannot claim supremacy over a team that were to go through the season with a victory or two and no defeats.

La Grande Takes Lead

La Grande has played three of the leading teams in this section, defeating two of them. Enterprise, 1931 champion, lost 7 to 0, and Baker, tied with La Grande last year for runner-up position, also lost 7 to 0.

Also, even if Ontario or Nyssa go through their season undefeated, they cannot claim an Eastern Oregon championship with success, because neither scheduled but one game in the northeast section of the district, Booth defeated Baker by a close score, but you cannot win a championship without defeating at least two of the leading contenders. Enterprise won its championship last year by defeating Baker and La Grande in a three-cornered race for the title, and there was no question that these three teams were the strongest, as they successfully turned back all other threats.

Tigers Hard At Work

With a championship dangling for the Tigers if they can defeat Pendleton, Coach Ira Woodle and his squad were at work this week in preparation for the Armistice day game, which will be played on the Pendleton field.

Saturday Union plays the Tigers in La Grande, but it is generally believed that the Maroon and White team is too light to hold the heavier La Granders in check.

Right now, the only possibility that might bring a reverse to La Grande, would be in the event that the team suffers another one of those "let-downs" that endured during the Walla Walla and Mac-Hi games, when a potentially strong Tiger team let itself be pushed around the gridiron like it had lead in its collective shoes.

PARTY LEADERS STUDY THE MAP

to provide the necessary majority of 266 electors.

LINING UP THE STATES

An examination of the electoral map will show how this objective is affecting all present political activity, and why the emphasis is far greater now in some states than in others.

It will show especially why President Hoover has made so many trips into the midwest; why he devotes special election-eve attention to the east; why he has been urged by some advisers to wind up his campaign on the Pacific coast.

Naturally, in calculating whether they might capture the absolute minimum of 266 votes needed to elect, the Republican managers begin with those states in which they conceive their chances are best.

Exact statements are impossible, because the situation might change from day to day, but in their process of figuring down to their minimum needs, the Republicans arrive at some such grouping as this:

In the east—Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania; in the middle-west—Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Iowa and Kansas; in the far west—California and Oregon.

Here are only 17 states out of 48, yet in the electoral college they cast 275 votes—enough to elect a president and leave a small margin besides.

BIG STATES COUNT

This does not mean, of course, that these are the only states the Republicans are claiming; for actually they are trying for several others. It comes a long way from meaning that these states are conceded by the Democrats; as a matter of fact, nearly all of them are claimed today by the Democrats.

It does mean that in the states named the Republican effort will be especially vigorous in the closing hours of the campaign; and it illustrates how tremendously important a small minority of big states can be in determining the result.

"Which Fathead?" Was the Question

This is the sixteenth of a series of articles in which O. W. "Red" Severence, noted official, relates the humorous and "inside" stories he has run across in a long association with leading football coaches.

By O. W. "Red" Severance
(Written For The Associated Press)

To put it mildly, Coach Dick Hanley of Northwestern was disgusted.

Instead of a "breather" he had counted upon to break the strain of a terrific schedule, the University of California at Los Angeles had played the Northwestern second team off its feet in the first quarter and forced him to rush his varsity into the game.

After breaking up a U. C. L. A. drive on the seven yard line the varsity had swept down the field for a touchdown and immediately had started playing half-hearted "saving ourselves" football.

Apparently convinced a 7-0 lead could never be overtaken, the team was growing more careless with every play. Ball-carriers were being stopped by their own interference.

And like a sore thumb, "Pug" Rentner, brilliant Northwestern backfield ace, was standing out as the chief offender. Starting out on end runs like a truck horse, he was being tackled behind the line repeatedly.

Finally Coach Hanley's patience reached the limit of endurance. Jumping to his feet as Rentner made another blunder, he pointed an angry finger at Luke Fossler, backfield substitute, sitting on the bench.

"Get in there," he cried, "and take that fathead's place."

Headgear in hand, Fossler took a step toward the gridiron, then turned back. "Say, coach," he asked in a puzzled tone, "which fathead?"

"THE TINYMITES"

STORY by HAL COCHRAN PICTURES by JOE KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

SAID Scouty, "'Twas a shame that we were forced to cut down that big tree to save our friend, the flying horse. The tree is no good, now."

Up to the tree the farmer ran. "Oh, yes it is! I have a plan," said he. "I'm going to use the wood. I'll shortly show you how.

"Hey, Duncy! To my farmhouse run and get a big saw. When that's done, we'll all take turns at sawing. Gee, I hope you lads are strong.

"We'll have some fun. 'Twill be a race at sawing wood for my fireplace. Why, there's enough wood there to last me all the winter long."

INSTEAD of Duncy, Windy ran. He shouted back, "I know I can get there and back much quicker than poor Duncy. He is slow.

"We will admit that it is sad, but Duncy is a lazy lad." This didn't peeve wee Duncy. He just said, "All right, YOU go!"

The saw was brought back very quick. The farmer then showed them the trick of making it go back and forth. "It isn't hard," said he.

"If we all work just as we should we'll shortly have a pile of wood. This winter it will keep me just as warm as warm can be."

AND so the bunch began to saw. Soon Duncy said, "I want no raw spots on my hands from blisters." Then he sat right down to rest.

The others worked till, by and by, great chunks of wood were piled up high. "The job is finished," Scouty cried. "We've surely done our best.

"And now we'll use our flying horse. He'll gladly do his part, of course. Let's load the wood right on him. It will bring the beast no harm.

"Then, when he has a great, big load, I'll drive him slowly down the road, and soon we'll have all of the wood stacked safely on your farm."

Portland Chamber Against School Moving Measure

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 1 (Special)—An emphatic and unanimous stand against the Zorn-Macpherson bill, which, it maintains, "would disarrange higher education in Oregon and plunge the state into a large expense," was taken by the board of directors of the Portland chamber of commerce at its meeting, Oct. 21.

The chamber's resolution against the bill also points out that enactment of the measure into law would lower the standard of higher education in Oregon.

The chamber's board also went on record against the proposed chain store tax bill which will be on the ballot.

Opposition also was registered by the board on the city ballot measure which would call for the raising of $107,000 by taxation to help the city water bureau meet deficits in operation.

A Light Squeeze

FAMOUS FOOTBALL PLAYS

THE quick kick is a trick play and a good ground gainer, if the man punting the ball can get distance and roll.

The kicker acts as the receiver of the ball. The other three backs line up on one side of the line. The ball is snapped to the receiver who drops back quickly. The opposing backfield, rarely expecting a kick because of the close formation of the backfield to the line, is drawn in.

The kicker hurriedly boots the ball in a low rolling punt, the idea being to cause the ball to get distance and roll forward into the enemy's territory, unprotected by the backs who have been drawn in.

The object of the offensive linemen, of course, is to break through and down the receiver of the kick before he can recover the tricky, bounding ball, and start running.
