

La Grande Tigers to Play Union Eleven Here Saturday Afternoon

LIGHTER BOBCAT ELEVEN HOPES TO HOLD TIGERS

Will Be Next to Last Game of Season For La Grande—Hood River Plays The Dalles.

The La Grande Tigers will play their next to the last game of the season here Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, meeting the Bobcat eleven of Union High on the L. H. B. gridiron.

Union's team, although lighter than La Grande, hopes to hold the blue and white squad to a low score and hope indicates there is a strong possibility of that occurring. Union held Enterprise to a 19 to 0 count and La Grande was hard pressed to defeat the Savages 7 to 0 the following week-end.

Union's Record
 Union's record for the season follows:
 Union 33, North Powder 0.
 Union 0, Enterprise 19.
 Union 7, Wallowa 2.
 Union 20, Cove 20, tie.
 Union 0, Richland 0, tie.
 Total points: Union 60, opponents 41.

Such a record would indicate that the Bobcats have a much stronger team than in the few years, sufficiently tough enough to provide an interesting afternoon for any Eastern Oregon grid outfit.

Alvey Out of Lineup
 Alvey Tiger guard, will not see service in the Union game. During practice last night he bit his tongue so severely as to require four stitches and he was unable to talk this morning. It is expected he will be O. K. by Armistice day.

Kimmell, end, also is on the bench with a bad charley horse and Munnell has had some trouble, although he probably will alternate with Lilly. Some of the players, including Howard, have been having difficulty with their grades.

Saller, Munnell, E. DeBole and Roe probably will see little action Saturday with the two Reynolds brothers, Floberg, Bean, Wood, R. DeBole and Webb slated to do the major part of the ball carrying.

Hogson, Williams, Bray, Kennedy and Irwin will divide work on the ends with Stoop and Hertzog working at one tackle and Feuerhelm, Corey and Strand at the other.

Coach Ira Woodie has not decided on his starting lineup for Saturday but expects to use most of his available men during the game.

Two Teams Tie
 Grade school football has ended with Greenwood and Riveria tied for the championship. Three games were played on the Greenwood field, with the following scores:
 Riveria 0, Greenwood 0, tie.
 Central 0, Riveria 0.
 Greenwood 6, Central 6, tie.
 There will be no play-off game, it has been announced.

This afternoon the Cove and Enterprise teams are playing.

Other games scheduled for this weekend in Eastern Oregon include Joseph at Wallowa and Baker at Nampa on Friday afternoon. Another interstate game is scheduled for the same day when Mac-Hi will invade the Blue Devil territory to play Wallowa.

Hood River Plays The Dalles
 A high school game of much importance in state circles will be played this weekend between The Dalles and Hood River, two undefeated Central Oregon teams. The Oregon Journal said yesterday that at present it appeared one or the other would be selected to play in Portland Thanksgiving day in the state championship game.

And on the eve of the game, the two schools were in the midst of an eligibility squabble.

Hood River protested the eligibility of George Starr, The Dalles fullback, on the grounds of professionalism. Hood River told the board of control of the state athletic association that Starr participated in a professional prizefight in 1930.

This charge was first made by Robert L. Murray, former Dalles High coach, and now a city policeman at The Dalles. Murray protested Starr's eligibility in a letter to the board, which refused to take action on the claims of an individual. Murray then supplied Hood River with information on which a protest was based.

Starr denies having fought as a professional, here and has affidavits showing that the fight in which he engaged was announced as an amateur bout.

It is expected that the protested athlete will be played by The Dalles in Friday's game, following which the board of control will pass on the eligibility question at a meeting Saturday at Corvallis.

KICKING HARD TO LEARN, SAYS FIELDING YOST

ANN ARBOUR, Mich., Nov. 3 (AP)—Kicking, says Fielding H. Yost, is the hardest thing to learn in football.

"And," continues the Michigan football coach emeritus, "it's the part of the game that pays big dividends when it is done right."

Yost scorns the widespread belief that Michigan has won many football games in which they were outgained. His argument is that the opponent's light gain more ground carrying the ball, but Michigan more than made it up by expert punting, by running back punts, or in some other way.

"The proof," he said, "is that you

Vanderbilt Wins Bridge Cup With Hal Sims' Team

By William R. Spear
 NEW YORK, Nov. 3 (AP)—That old mug? That old mug? That old mug? In vain to win had a champion today on the mantelpiece of Harold S. Vanderbilt. It was the silver loving cup the millionaire yachtsman put up in 1928 for the competition of contract bridge teams.

Vanderbilt, who fathered contract in this country, restricted his tournament playing to the competition for his own cup.

The skipper of the "Enterprise" won it for the first time last night as a member of P. Hal Sims' team. The quartet, whose other members were Willard S. Karn and Waldemar Von Zedtwitz, defeated David Burnstine's forces in the final by 645 points.

Burnstine and his mates—Howard Schenken, national individual champion, Richard Frey and Charles Lochridge—led by 225 points after the first 30 boards of the final, but the Sims crew took an overwhelming lead on the second 30.

Sims and Karn won the trophy last year as half of the "four horsemen," whose other members were Oswald Jacoby and Burnstine himself. Von Zedtwitz played on the team of Ely Culbertson which won it two years ago.

Karn Plays Astutely
 Astute play by Karn on the following hand, which gave his team a 1830-point swing, was one of the factors in its victory:

NORTH
 S—K 9 7 4 2
 H—7 5 3
 D—Q
 C—A 8 6

EAST
 S—A J 6
 H—A K Q 4
 D—9 6
 C—K Q 7 4

SOUTH
 S—Q 5 3
 H—J 8 5 2
 D—10 9 5 3 2
 C—10 9 5 3 2

Both sides were vulnerable and west dealt.

With Sims-Karn east and west and Burnstine-Schenken north and south, the bidding went: two passes east one club, south one spade, west two diamonds, north pass, east two hearts, south pass and west six hearts.

After leading the opponents out of trumps Karn played the ace of diamonds from dummy. In order to establish a cross ruff with diamonds and clubs he then had to decide whether to lead dummy's king of diamonds and play for the jack to drop from north, or to figure south for the jack and finesse.

He decided on the latter course, leading back to his ace of spades, playing a diamond from his hand and finessing the jack with dummy's 10.

"The play gave him his contract, for 1430 points.

At the other table, Lochridge and Frey as east and west also arrived at a six-heart declaration against Vanderbilt and Von Zedtwitz. Lochridge as east, however, figured north for both the queen and jack of diamonds and played dummy's king after the ace. The error set him one at a cost of 100 points.

have to get the ball down to the end of the field to score, and the only way to do that is to outgain the other team. Princeton carried the ball 120 yards rushing, and we gained only 103, but Begeal had it over them 200 yards on punts. Just remember that the name of the game is football, and if you're going to take kicking out of it you better change the name and eliminate the 'foot' part. Call it 'run-with-the-ball' or something."

Now We Know Why Navy Team Was Held to Tie

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 3 (AP)—The secret is out and the Naval academy students explain why Navy could not get better than a scoreless tie with Princeton a couple of weeks ago.

Baltimore has been the jinx for the Middies. The regiment considers the city so ill-omened that whenever the Midshipmen pass through the city on trains bound for other stadia, they pull down the window shades until they are safely out of town.

Some of the cars of the train bearing the regiment to Princeton were dark, their shades down tight, but in a few, the Middies were neglectful and went through Baltimore with shades up.

In the future, the Middies say, every one of the shades will go banging down in Baltimore.

KAPLAN BEATS PAT REILLY, OF THE EAST

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 3 (AP)—Abe Kaplan, Jewish heavyweight wrestler, defeated Pat Reilly, Boston, two out of three falls here last night. The first fall went to Kaplan in 22 minutes on a series of rabbit punches, followed by a winglock and arm bar. Reilly countered Kaplan in 9 minutes, 50 seconds for the second fall with flying tackles and Sonnenberg butts. Kaplan took the deciding fall in less than five minutes when Reilly missed a flying tackle as Kaplan dived under him. Reilly landed on his back with Kaplan on top.

Bob Miller took two straight falls with body slams to win from Sailor Franz.

Dr. De Vora, a newcomer, pinned Glenn Stone with a tricky trip hold to win the opener.

Galloping Gaels Arrive In New York City Today

NEW YORK, Nov. 3 (AP)—The galloping Gaels of California, St. Mary's football team, today invaded New York City to again meet Fordham at the Polo Grounds Saturday. St. Mary's won in 1930, 30-12.

In the group which completed its three day trip from San Francisco were 40 players in charge of Coach E. P. (Skip) Madigan and his half dozen assistants and 90 rooters.

Mrs. Madigan was taken ill of influenza on the trip and had to be removed from the train on a stretcher, threatened with pneumonia.

Turning the team over to Assistant Coach Vince McNally, Madigan accompanied Mrs. Madigan to the Vanderbilt hotel where a nurse and doctor were waiting to take charge.

"The team, undefeated this year, appeared in fine fettle. Madigan said all his regulars were in shape, including Charley Baird, pass-throwing halfback, about whom there had been some doubt.

No Showers For Hunk Anderson, Harper States

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 3 (AP)—Jess Harper, Notre Dame athletic director, today arose in defense of Healthley (Hunk) Anderson and spiked rumors that a new football coach would be hired for next year.

"Rumors can fly where they will but Anderson will be back at Notre Dame as head football coach," Harper said with emphasis. "The fact that he lost a game is no reason to fire him. Why we at Notre Dame feel he has done a fine job. He stepped into a tough job and we like the way he has handled things."

"Any parts to the contrary are mere propaganda and should be treated as such."

Still boiling because of his team's feeble reaction to the Pittsburgh defeat, "Hunk" worked the regulars overtime last night, even hauling out the ghost ball and turning on the lights to extend the practice session. When it was all over he was still dissatisfied.

"The boys aren't clicking," he warned his assistants. "Hunk did get a chance to see some clicking, however, before the night was over. He went to Chicago to start the six-day bike racers on their international race."

BEAR TALES COME FROM O. S. C. CAMP

Schissler Says McIntosh, New Backfield Find, Will Play on the Bench.

CORVALLIS, Ore., Nov. 3 (AP)—With the prospect that the Oregon university-Oregon State Pacific Coast conference football struggle here Saturday will be fought on a rain-drenched field, Coach Paul J. Schissler led his Oregon State Beavers into a stiff practice today designed to develop a non-skid and effective offensive on a slippery field.

The coach admitted that he is hoping the clouds will mend their ways by Saturday and that a reasonably dry field will greet the teams, so his men can determine to the fullest extent if the Oregon university Webfoots are still weak in their defense against passing.

McIntosh, the backfield find who found no trouble in plowing through the mud against West Coast Army last week, will probably view the Oregon game from the bench, Schissler said, as leg injury kept him out of uniform today. Jarvis, another stalwart in the backfield, was also missing from practice today with a pain in his side.

The following have been announced tentatively by Schissler as starters against Oregon: Keith and Everett Davis, ends; Miller and Schwammel, tackles; Tuttle and Tomack, guards; Danforth, center; Blicone, quarter; Plange and Moe, halfbacks; Joslin, full. Moe will be captain.

Another Laugh Of Gridiron; Fan's Remark Well Put

This is the eighteenth of a series of articles in which O. W. "Red" Severence, noted official, relates the humorous and "inside" stories he has run across in a long association with leading football coaches.

By O. W. "Red" Severence
 (Written For The Associated Press)
 Coach Arthur J. "Dutch" Bergman at on the visitors' bench, hunched his shoulders a little higher and prepared to ride out the storm.

Before him on the gridiron his Catholic university team from Washington, D. C., was battling bravely but futilely against a superior Boston college eleven.

Beside him on the bench sat his substitutes—all eight of them—while overhead a sweltering sun shone down on his tiring players.

Faced with the knowledge he must substitute sparingly if he was to end the game with a full team on the field, Coach Bergman was bidding his time before using any of his priceless reserves.

And back of him the Boston crowd was hurling taunts of "Simon Legree" and demanding he send relief to his exhausted players.

After a particularly crushing drive by Boston, the referee untangled the mass of arms and legs to find one of Coach Bergman's linemen stretched out on the turf.

A dash of water soon revived him, and he wobbled so pitifully that "Dutch," with a despairing sigh, sent in a linesman to replace him.

As three spectators dashed out to help the weary player off the field, the rozzing became louder and louder. Pop bottles joined the jeers and the remarks directed at "Dutch" became less and less complimentary.

Like a giant's roar the noise increased—yet high above the din one voice could be heard clearly—singing—"Say, what are you taking him out for? He's still breathing!"

Jack McDowall, coach of football, basketball and baseball at Rollins college, is preparing to coach golf.

CONSIDER THE BABE

Babe Dietrikson's remarkable all-around track performance in the national championships, where she topped all rivals in a half dozen events, and the Olympics, where she set two world records.

7. Jim Bausch's world record victory over the Finns in the Olympic decathlon.

8. Eddie Tolson's double sprint triumph in the big international jamboree.

9. The sensational advance of Japan's masculine swimmers, who carried off the Olympic honors from the U. S. A. for the first time.

10. The season's batting exploits of Jimmie FOXK, including an output of 58 homers.

11. Babe Ruth's dramatic home run outburst against the Cubs in the third game of the world series.

Football Fodder

Tulane, the victim of Auburn's come-back this year, was the only major team in the country to finish its regular 1931 campaign undefeated or untied. Subsequently the Greenies were deprived of this distinction by losing a sensational battle with Southern California in the Rose Bowl classic on New Year's day, 1932.

The unbeaten list has been rapidly reduced so far this season, with the process in a fair way to being completed by the end of November with the aid of a few upsets.

Auburn in the South, Colgate and Pitt in the East, Michigan in the Middle West and Southern California in the Far West appear to have the best chances of keeping their slates clean.

Football Is Here To Stay, Opinion Of Coaching Dean

CHICAGO, Nov. 3 (AP)—Amos Alonso Stagg has had a cheery opinion of American football's big parade for a half century but can't see the end in sight.

"America always will have football without a great change from the game as played today," the 70-year old University of Chicago coach said reflectively in discussing past and future.

"The game is here to stay."

"A lot of people enjoy football but don't understand its real purpose. Youth is restless and demands what is commonly known as roughhouse. They like to fight or tussle playfully and football gives them a chance to do it. That's why football is popular and why so many play it from the smallest sandlot to the largest university."

SPORT SLANTS

By Alan J. Gould
 (Associated Press Sports Editor)

Apropos of the poll we will take later on the same subject and after more time and more returns have been permitted, a curious reader in Brockton, Mass., wants to have at least a partial list of the year's outstanding sports performances listed for examination and, no doubt, argument.

Here are a few that can be put down off-hand in more or less chronological order:

1. Malcolm Campbell's record automobile speed run at Daytona Beach.

2. The California crew's unbeaten sweep of all the eight-oared competition, from Poughkeepsie and Worcester to the Olympic lagoon at Long Beach.

3. Ellsworth Vines' winning tennis campaigns at Wimbledon and Forest Hills, crowning him the world champion for 1932, at the age of only 20.

4. Gene Sarazen's record triumph in the British and American Open golf tournaments, climaxed with a final round of 66 at Fresh Meadows.

5. Bill Carr's trio of record-cracking races against Ben Eastman on the coast, concluding with the Olympic 400.

6. Babe Dietrikson's remarkable all-around track performance in the national championships, where she topped all rivals in a half dozen events, and the Olympics, where she set two world records.

7. Jim Bausch's world record victory over the Finns in the Olympic decathlon.

8. Eddie Tolson's double sprint triumph in the big international jamboree.

9. The sensational advance of Japan's masculine swimmers, who carried off the Olympic honors from the U. S. A. for the first time.

10. The season's batting exploits of Jimmie FOXK, including an output of 58 homers.

11. Babe Ruth's dramatic home run outburst against the Cubs in the third game of the world series.
