people gathered at the springs for their Sunday rest and later the organized church took the name of its particular spring.

Ralston as chairman, was appointed to arrange the women of the church into groups, each to be responsible for some entertainment. A program was presented yesterday and included a vocal duet, "The Voice Divine," by Gabriel, and an encore, "The Little Brown Church in the Vale," by Mrs. George Richardson and Mrs. Lou Robertson. Miss Doris French played her accompaniment. Miss Marion Boyles also presented two readings. The rooms were beautiful with baskets of autumn flowers arranged by Mrs. Ray Buell and her committee. Rainbow Girls To Be Baker Guests

Members of the La Grande assembly, Order of The Rainbow for Girls, have accepted an invitation from the Eastern assembly at Baker to be their special guests at their meeting Saturday evening. A large company of the La Grande girls, together with their mother advisor, Mrs. Florence Bacon, are planning to make the trip, accompanied also by a number of the older women members of Hope chapter Order of the Eastern Star. The La Grande assembly has a particular interest in the Baker assembly inasmuch as the local girls went to Baker and had charge of the ritualistic exercises when the Eastern assembly was instituted. The two groups have had a number of joint meetings during the intervening years, the duties of hostess having alternated between the two.

The cars which will form the caravan to the neighboring city are to leave the Sacajawa Inn Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock and all members of the La Grande assembly will get in touch with their mother advisor that room for all may be arranged.

Poet by Inspiration

Chednon was the first Anglo-Saxon poet. He died in 660. He is believed to have been a swineherd to the monks of Whitby. He had given no evidence of poetical talent until he had a vision in which he was commanded to sing. He immediately composed a poem in praise of the Creator and later wrote other devotional poems.

His Wonderful Acre

I asked an old gardener how much land he had. He replied, with pride, that he had one acre. He added: "And it is a wonderful acre. It reaches to the center of the earth in one direction, and it takes in the stars in the other."—L. H. Bailey.

"Nature in the Raw is seldom MILD" THE JUGGERNAUT OF THE JUNGLE "Native in the Raw"—as portrayed by the famous animal painter, Paul Bransom... inspired by the savage charge of the African rhinoceros crashing through the untamed jungle. "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes. No raw tobaccos in Luckies—that's why they're so mild WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes. "It's toasted" That package of mild Luckies
