

Rooks and Frosh Play Second Scoreless Tie of the Season

BOTH ELEVENS THREATEN BUT DEFENSE HOLDS

First Half of Game Played On Dry Field and Last Two Quarters in a Deluge of Rain.

EUGENE, Ore., Nov. 5 (AP)—The football supremacy of Oregon State rooks and Oregon frosh remained unsettled today, following last night's scoreless game, the second within the past two weeks.

The first half was played on a dry field, then the deluge started.

The Oregon Babes looked better last night than they did in their first game against the rooks and had a big edge on yardage and aggressiveness. Most of the game was played in Oregon State territory. In the first period the Babes marched 70 yards to the Rook 19-yard line where it was their third down and only two to go. Although Milligan and Leemans had been making big yardage by smashing the line, the freshmen decided a pass was the thing. The pass was spilt and on the next play the Rooks Mikulak shot four yards.

Milligan and Leemans banked away on either march from the 32 and hammered to the three yard mark in the second period. There the Rooks stiffened and again held for downs. Rooks stopped.

In the third quarter, the Rooks threatened. An Oregon State punt hit Byrne of Oregon in the back on the Webfoot 34 and was recovered by the Rooks. Mikulak shot four yards.

The Frosh threatened again in the fourth quarter, when they got to the Rook 19 and again when they reached the 21 yard line, but both times the Rooks braced hard and took the ball on downs.

Willamette Wins From Linfield Eleven 26 to 0

SALEM, Nov. 5 (AP)—The Willamette university Bears moved closer to an ultimate tie with College of Puget Sound for the Northwest conference football championship, by defeating Linfield college 26 to 0 in a driving rain storm here last night.

Both Willamette and Puget Sound have won three games and tied one. The Bears will play Pacific and Whitman the next two weeks while Puget Sound finishes against Albany college.

The Bears played a kicking game and waited for the break which were numerous. The first Linfield punt was blocked and the next one was run back 38 yards for a touchdown by Cannady, who scored two more touchdowns before the game was over, on a 15 yard run after fumbling. Olson went over for the final touchdown on a nine yard drive.

Kicks out of bounds inside the 20 yard line, once on the eight, and the Bearcat defense, kept Linfield from penetrating the Willamette 30 yard line.

Voll was the outstanding Linfield back and Carter and McGowan were strong in the line. Linfield made three first downs to 10 for Willamette.

Egg Long Used as Food

Eggs have been used for food since the dawn of history and nobody knows who first ate them. The oldest mention of eggs as food is probably found in the book of Job, the most ancient of the Scriptural books. In Job 6:6 it says, "Is there any taste in the white of an egg?"

And Again, Old Man Dope Was Smeared Around

There were more upsets over the last weekend in the way of football results—favorites in the east and west getting dumped. Here is a little of the action: Above—When the Pitt Panthers crushed Notre Dame. Mike Sebastian, Pitt halfback, starting the 46-yard end run that stored the touchdown of season against Irish. Mike was the star of the startling 12-0 victory. Center—Walter Clark, University of California at Los Angeles, scores the winning touchdown for the Bruins against Stanford, and the week's greatest upset. He wormed through all sorts of Stanford defenses. Below—When a center made yardage. Al Dowd, Santa Clara center, making a 40-yard gain after intercepting a St. Mary's college forward pass in the game Santa Clara led, 13-0, in the first half, last, 14-13.

Oregon Staters, Oregon Playing On Muddy Field

CORVALLIS, Ore., Nov. 5 (AP)—Faced with the prospect of a wet field, the Oregon State Beavers and the Oregon university Webfoots were ready to confront each other here today in their Pacific Coast conference football game which is also to determine the state championship.

The Oregon squad, headed by Coach Frank Callison, arrived from Eugene shortly before game time and rested, briefly before taking the field. With every man off the injured list, the Webfoots were in excellent condition for the battle.

Stan Koska, out since he injured his shoulder in the early season game with Santa Clara, was back in active practice this week, and scheduled to start in the backfield. Mike Mikulak, the plunging fullback who is also a starter on defense, was named to start after being out for several weeks with a bad knee.

Coach Paul J. Schissler said Ed McIntosh, who showed sensationally in last week's game against West Coast Army, would not start in the backfield because of an injured leg. The injury is not expected to keep him on the bench, however, if Oregon State finds itself in need of added scoring punch.

Oregon, by reason of the season's record to date takes the field a slight favorite, but history shows the underdog in the annual state classic has a habit of suddenly emerging on top.

Trojans, Bears Meet Today On L. A. Gridiron

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5 (AP)—Southern California's undefeated and unscored upon Trojans and California's Bears line up at Los Angeles today in the far west's outstanding football encounter with coast conference championship chances of the Trojans staked on the outcome.

With three victories written into the records, including the setback of Stanford two weeks ago, the Trojans go into action as top favorites to continue onward at the expense of the Bears. More than 75,000 persons expected to witness the game.

Victory was necessary for Coach Howard Jones' Trojan warriors to assure co-leadership of the conference with the University of California at Los Angeles Bruins, undefeated in three starts and inactive today.

California took the field as a team headed back up the comeback trail, after earlier ups and downs, while its supporters clung to the hope of an upset with the reminder that last year in this game the Bears were on the short end but managed to hold the Trojans to a surprising 6-0 win. Four years ago under similar starting conditions California scored an amazing reversal to win.

In three other conference engagements, Washington moved into Palo Alto given an even chance to land Stanford its third straight defeat; Oregon was slightly favored to vanquish its neighboring rival, Oregon State at Corvallis, while Washington State, next ranking team after U. S. C. and U. C. L. A., took on Idaho in what was expected to be an easy home town win for the Staters. San Jose State and University of Nevada, undefeated in western conference eleven, squared off at San Jose in a contest expected to decide the championship. Santa Clara faced Collier of Pacific, at San Francisco, with the former strongly favored.

Historic Balkans
The Balkans are a series of ridges of mountains in southeastern Europe. The term Balkan peninsula is applied to the region which contains them, the peninsula of southeastern Europe which was formerly under Turkish suzerainty, except that Rumania and Greece are often omitted in naming the Balkan states. The others, now, are Jugoslavia, Bulgaria, Albania and the remnant of European Turkey.

holds the contract under which Jack Sharkey must defend his title next summer, even though that contract does give Sharkey the right to name his own opponent and there is some evidence up Boston way that the Squire of Newton would just as soon it be other than Schmeling.

But it just so happens that there are only two heavyweights at the moment who can be taken seriously by that part of the public still affluent enough to buy fight tickets. One is Sharkey, the other Schmeling.

BAER IN OFFING
Baer or some one else may pop up to get the big shot, just as Tom Heeney took it away from Sharkey himself in 1928 in one of the late Tex Rickard's "elimination carnivals."

SPORT SLANTS

By Alan J. Gould
It may be just a coincidence and, then again, it may be just a winter's festive ballyhoo, but it is noticeable the semi-defiance tossed at Madison Square Garden by the manager of Max Schmeling is followed by the abrupt assertion of the manager of Jack Sharkey that Sharkey will pick his own 130 lb heavy-weight title opponent and fight him only in Boston.

For no other good reason than that he suspects the Garden of harboring intentions of bringing Max Baer east to fight Sharkey for the crown that has been kicking around under Schmeling's feet for the past three years, Schmeling's manager declared he was all through. Finished, done and absolutely disembodied from any further association with the New York outfit, which sponsored the German in this country.

Of course, there is also the reason that Jacobs does not want his fighter to remain out of the arena, or, any argument, if he happens to be out of the country.

AND SO-O-O-O
So-o-o-o, my friends, when Schmeling returns for his bi-annual quota of what it takes to stave off depression in Germany he will fight, as always, for Madison Square Garden. He has made almost $1,000,000 since coming to the United States, a ragged youngster without even an overcoat against the wintery blasts, nursing high hopes and a broken right hand.

He has fought perhaps ten times in the United States in four years and only once outside the confines of the Garden and its affiliated properties. He took a ferry over to Jersey one evening to pop over one Pietro Corri when things were so dull between seasons he had to have some small source of income.

OUTSTANDING TRUCKS... TRUCK-BUILT TRAILERS... AND THE "KNOW HOW"

Bunting Tractor Co. has all Three!

Unless you're a truck expert, you don't know how good a truck is until after you buy. But that's not true with General Motors Trucks and Trailers. Here's why—
First—the price. GMT's sell as low as $595, f. o. b. Pontiac, for a 6-cylinder, 66-horsepower, 1 1/2-2 ton job that is a hound for punishment. Specifications prove that it beats anything in its price class. And all the way up the line to the 20 ton unit, there's the same combination of advantages.
Next—there's the trailer advantage. GMT is the world's largest builder of both trucks and trailers. And naturally, GMT Trailers are more soundly engineered, longer lived, and more economical to buy and to operate.
Finally—there's that "know how." We mean the knowledge and experience available to help you choose a truck or trailer that is just right for your needs. GMT Company spent two years finding out how successful truck users make money. This information is down on paper. It tells how trucks can be used profitably—and selected right. That's the "know how"—an advantage to you that no other dealer can offer!
We have all these things—right here. Why not drop around and let us show you what we can do to help you lick your truck problems?
