

E. O. N. To Conclude Grid Season Here Armistice Day With Lewiston

CLOSE CONTEST EXPECTED HERE ON NEXT FRIDAY

Both Teams Score Decisive Victories Over Spokane University — Quinn's Squad at Work.

Although three men were on the injured list over the weekend, indications are that the Mountaineer football team, which closed its fall season here Armistice day against the Lewiston Normal school eleven, will be practically at full strength Friday afternoon.

Hodgens, tackle, who was injured a couple of weeks ago, did not make the trip last Friday to Spokane and is expected to be able to play. Hodgens, a sparkplug in the line, is recovering nicely at present and if he is in first class condition for Friday, his presence will bolster the line considerably. In the event he does not get into the game much, Cook and McLean will take care of his position.

So far the team has fared fifty-five, winning three and losing three games for a percentage of 500. A victory over Lewiston would put the Mountaineers in the first division among Northwest teams not listed in the Northwest conference, and also would put the team in the first division among Normal school teams.

The Mountaineers lost to Ashland normal but defeated Albion normal. Other victories were over the Spokane team and the Baker University, while losses were to Columbia university and College of Idaho.

The football game Friday will be the afternoon feature of the annual Armistice day celebration sponsored by the La Grande American Legion, and is expected to attract a large crowd of fans from over all the county.

The game will begin at 2 o'clock. Present indications are that it will be played on a muddy field, but if the weather were to clear a couple of days before the game, the gridiron would be in good condition.

Capable Catcher Is Provided For Jackson Pen Team

DETROIT, Nov. 8 (AP)—The baseball team at dear old Jackson stadium can look forward to a winning season next year, if a capable catcher was all that is needed. For with the aid of Recorder's Mary E. Sweeney, Nicholas Glibble, 18, who was good enough for try-outs with the St. Louis Cardinals and the Pittsburgh Pirates, has "signed" for from one to five years.

Glibble, who had pleaded guilty to burglary, said he had kept abreast of the athletic situation at Jackson prison through a brother.

"So if I have to go to prison, send me to Jackson," he asked Judge Sweeney. "They need a catcher for their ball team up there."

So Jackson prison it was.

RUMORS ABOUT JOHN MEWAN DENIED TODAY

WORCESTER, Mass., Nov. 8 (AP)—Reports that Captain John J. McEwan, coach of the Holy Cross football team, might leave at the end of the season due to friction between him and other college athletic officials, brought the statement today from Cleo A. O'Donnell, director of athletics that "as far as the Holy Cross football team is concerned, he will continue to coach the Holy Cross football team."

Captain McEwan, former Army coach, refused today to discuss the rumors. His contract extends through 1933.

FOOTBALL COACH TAKES TO AIR TO SCOUT OPPONENTS

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP)—The modern "Indian" is using an airplane to do his scouting.

"Smilin'" John Kellison, coach of the William and Mary Indians, says the airplanes give the coaches time to scout William and Mary's future opposition and to return for the night games the Indians play on their home soil.

With a student pilot, Coach Kellison and Director of Athletics Billy Gooch keep an eagle eye on opponents without missing the study of their own football team in action.

William and Mary is taking the first college in America to offer a school of aviation with actual flying instruction. The student planes, in green, gold and silver, head the student body in formation at games played in Virginia.

South Booming Vandy's Center For All-America

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Clarence Bradshaw Gracye once thought "he was too small to play football with the "big fellows" in college.

Today as Vanderbilt university's center, he is being hailed as the greatest pivot post man southern football has known.

Months and years of overruling ambition and earnestness have blotted out his complex and have developed him into the great gridiron performer he dreamed of being as a boy.

Even after he became the regular freshman center at a weight of 185 pounds, he still feared for his size. But through arduous training he "grew up" and now tips the beam at 193 under his six-foot height.

They call him "Pete." His father facked that name on him when he was a lad on the farm at Franklin, Tenn. Franklin is 28 miles from Nashville and Pete used to ride a bicycle home and back on week-ends because the ball back with the former he dreamed of being as a boy.

Coaches at Vanderbilt agree Gracye is one of the most accurate passers ever to wear the gold and black. He always snaps the ball back with the laces down, and frequently has trouble in getting the referee to place the ball the way he wants it.

Pete isn't very superstitious, but Dr. Annie Sikes, the team physician, is the only man he allows to tape his ankles before a game. He believes the average football player can recuperate from the hardest game within a week.

Gracye has been picked already by many southern coaches as the best center ever seen in the south and some of them say he will be a leading candidate this year for All-America honors.

Dan McGugin, Vanderbilt's coach for more than 25 years, said: "No defensive lineman ever made more tackles and seemed to get so great a kick out of them as does Gracye."

TROJANS TO MEET OREGON SATURDAY

Bob Getz, Latest Fullback Find, Out With Severe Kidney Injury.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 8 (AP)—Cosh Howard Jones was faced with another backfield problem today as the University of Southern California prepared to meet Oregon's football team at the Olympic stadium Saturday.

Troy's head man was busy making fullback adjustments with Bob Getz, his latest find, out with a severe kidney injury. The big sophomore, who started against California, is in a local hospital and is not expected to be ready for the Webfoots.

Yesterday Dick Barber and Bob Morrison alternated at the position. Morrison saw action against California, but Barber has not played since the opening game of the season.

The Trojans were let off with a light workout yesterday but Jones planned to change the order of things again this afternoon and promised heavy drills on defense as well as some polishing of offense the rest of the week for Oregon.

Ray Sparling was not out yesterday. He was in the hospital with Getz, suffering from a blow on the head sustained Saturday, but is expected to be ready for the Oregon game.

Pitt, Brown And Colgate Hopeful Of Getting Call

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—There are other possible nominees but right now it appears that one of three eastern football machines—Pittsburgh, Colgate or Brown—will receive the bid to play the far western representative, probably Southern California, in the annual Rose bowl game at Pasadena New Year's day.

Of these, Pitt, on the basis of its more taxing schedule, seems most likely to win the nomination, provided the Panthers, conquerors of Army, Notre Dame and Pennsylvania, can get by Nebraska, Carnegie Tech and Stanford without defeat.

Pitt has had no luck in two previous appearances in the New Year's day classic, bowing to Stanford by one point in 1928 and to Southern California, 47-14, in 1930. Perhaps the Panther believes his luck will turn if he can get the bid this year.

Pitt will be heavily favored over both Nebraska and Carnegie Tech but the battle with Stanford Nov. 26 may be the game which will decide whether the Rose bowl invitation will go to Jock Sutherland's crew of Huskies. A defeat by Stanford will ruin all Pitt's chances.

Colgate and Brown should reduce the field of possible winners of the award in their battle at Providence, Thanksgiving day, assuming that both come through their games against Syracuse and Columbia, respectively, this week. The winner of the Thanksgiving day game might well be invited west in the event that Pitt comes a cropper.

The south has produced two outstanding teams in Auburn and Tennessee but both have played a southern schedule exclusively and thus probably will be considered for the Rose bowl game only if all three of the eastern contenders prove unavailable.

Michigan or Purdue might well be included in the list of available eleven except for the fact that the Big Ten conference definitely frowns on post-season engagements.

Sport Slants

By Alan J. Gould (Associated Press Sports Editor)

The post-Rockne deflation of Notre Dame football set in during the fourth period of the game with Southern California at South Bend last season.

It was so sudden that it left the football world a trifle unbelieving, despite the fact that Army capped the climax the following week by running all over the Irish at the Yankee Stadium for a two touch-down victory.

Just why there should have been a tendency this year to "throw those two out," as the boys say, and again put the plaster of invincibility upon the Notre Dame gridiron product, is difficult now to fathom.

We did not, of course, figure Pitt's Panthers to turn the tables so quickly and deflate the Irish before they got into the current campaign, but it was nevertheless a noteworthy contribution and perhaps all for the best, for Notre Dame and for football in general.

NATURAL DECLINE

The decline since Rockne died, in the fortunes of Notre Dame, is not only definite but natural. Whether or not the decline is only temporary is another matter. No system, however, founded so much upon the personality and genius of one individual, pulling all the intricate strings of the puppet show, could continue to operate with consistent effectiveness without the master's touch.

With sweeping colors, moreover, Rockne painted his last two football seasons vividly. The 1929-30 Notre Dame teams were the nearest thing to perfection, in gridiron skill and power, that has ever been seen. It does not seem an exaggeration, even now, to say that the 1930 combination which ran rough-shod over Pennsylvania, 60 to 20, and trampled Southern California, 47 to 0, was as near unbeatable as any aggregation in modern football history.

Had Rockne himself lived, a natural let-down from such heights could have been expected. "Rock" told me in the winter, a few weeks before his tragic death, that he expected to be back in the fall of 1931, that it would be a good thing for the "boys" to get the idea of invincibility out of their heads.

The anvil chorus, therefore, should hesitate before piling the "blame" on the shoulders of the rugged soldier, regardless of what his virtues or shortcomings may be as head coach. It is difficult to figure a football coach in a tougher spot than Anderson, all because the winning habit became so strongly associated with the football team at South Bend.

IT'S THE CONTRAST

Like most everything else, football fortunes move in cycles. Of course there are certain definite factors entering into the picture of winning teams, such as the fundamentals of coaching and material. Even the best systems strike slumps.

It just so happened that Notre Dame, under Rockne, kept the average so high that a dip in the results always seems to shock the general populace. They immediately view with alarm.

It would seem about time to change the subject and worry over when Tennessee is going to lose another football game.

Chick Meehan says his lanky Manhattan college quarterback, Bill Bendigat, is one of the best broken field runners he ever coached.

He weighs only 157 pounds and stands over six feet, says Chick. "But he has the first half Maryland in the third quarter and was either directly or indirectly responsible for the scoring of three more touchdowns. Then he left the game and it was a pretty even battle again."

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

UNTIL 1883 THERE WAS NO SUCH THING AS STANDARD TIME! EVERY RAILWAY HAD ITS OWN MERIDIAN BY WHICH IT RAN ITS TRAINS, AND TRAVELERS OFTEN MISSED CONNECTIONS.

UNDER the standard time system, standard meridians are adopted 15 degrees apart, this being the space over which the sun passes in one hour. The time at which noon passes a standard meridian is then used throughout a zone extending seven or eight degrees on each side.

MRS. HARRIMAN, ONCE RICHEST OF WOMEN, IS DEAD

Her record office at Cold Springs Harbor, N. Y., the Southern Pacific hospital at San Francisco, a chair of forestry at Yale, a $300,000 athletic field for Trinity school and gave art masterpieces to the Metropolitan Museum and other institutions.

In the days when she was actively handling and increasing the vast Mrs. Harriman fortune, friends used to say that it was money which came to her from her father that served as the original nucleus of her husband's fortune. She was the daughter of William J. Averell, of Ogdenburg, N. Y., banker and president of the Ogdenburg and Lake Champlain railroad.

Young Edward Harriman, then an obscure but promising figure, went up to Ogdenburg one day to consult Mr. Averell about a business matter. He met the daughter and fell in love with her.

When it became known in 1909 that he had left her his fortune, Mrs. Harriman received 6000 letters asking for charity amounting to $267,000,000. She turned them over to a municipal research bureau to be analyzed in the interests of organized beneficence.

Five Children Benefit

It is understood that in later years she transferred much of her fortune to her five children, each of whom had received $3,000,000 from Harriman before he died. The children are Mrs. Charles Cary Rumsey, Mrs. Robert Livingston Gerry, Mrs. W. Plunkett Stewart, William Averell Harriman, and Edward Roland Noel Harriman.

The funeral will be held tomorrow at Arden, seat of the great Harriman country home at Arden, which has 160 rooms and gorgeous gardens. Six hundred laborers worked more than five years developing the estate, which originally had 30,000 acres.
