

LOCAL BRIEFS

Hostess Changed—
Mrs. Ralph Wells and not Mrs. Frank Wright will entertain the Country Women's club Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Wells home.

Fined—
John Price pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving and was fined $100 by Judge L. Denham in the court of the justice of the peace Monday afternoon. He was committed to jail in default of payment. Mr. Price's car struck Henry Melancon Sunday evening while he was driving his automobile in front of the post office on Adams avenue, and the latter received a broken leg.

Married—
Olen Dedrick and Sadie L. Nedrow, both of La Grande, were married yesterday by Judge L. Denham, justice of the peace.

Mr. Leavitt to Speak—
A steady downpour of rain, and election night combined, failed to keep many people from hearing Evangelist Leavitt at the Church of the Peace.

Christ last night when he preached upon the true Church of the Bible. The audience showed unusual interest in the subject, and many expressions of satisfaction were heard. Tonight the evangelist has announced to use the subject, "The Foolishness of God." This may sound like a strange subject, Mr. Leavitt states that it is taken directly from the Bible, and urges that those who can do so come to hear the message.

Leave Hospital—
Miss Mildred Brock and Mrs. James E. Twidwell both left the Grande hospital this afternoon, where they have been confined as patients. Miss Brock underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Has Operation—
John Rogers, of Fruitdale, underwent an operation last night at the Grande hospital.

To Meet—
Housewives of the Eastern Oregon Normal school will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Miss Helen Moor, dean of women, in the Sackawana Annex.

Butter Market
Trend Without Change Today

PORTLAND, Nov. 9 (AP)—Generally speaking there was no change in the butter market trend here. A shortage of undergrades continues. The shortage may be a trifle greater than previous days but it did not appear sufficient to create any further advance in the price on the open market for the day.

The scramble for butterfat in the Portland territory indicates the shortage in the make of butter even through the immediate city churning is somewhat increased for recent days. Prices on butterfat are firm with more centralizers paying the extreme price of 21c for churning stock. Sweet cream commands the usual premium of at least 40c lb.

Trading in fresh eggs continues of more or less steady character with prices practically unchanged at all leading points. Storage stock is still reflecting lessened business.

Mostly steadyness is reflected in the market for live chickens along the wholesale way. Hens are steady to firm but springers remain of nominal value with prices inclined to weaken.

With The Dalles showing practically the only top quality lettuce now in sight here, prices are firmer to higher with sales as high as $1.10 crate. Local stock is about 25¢ @ 30¢ less.

Large sized Deschutes potatoes are being a premium on the local market, with sales as high as $1.25 cental. Deschutes stock in general is steady with Yukon offerings weak and local still almost too nominal to quote.

While local prices are not as yet advanced, a leading Willamette valley hothouse tomato grower is quoting $2 for 20's f. o. b. station or fully 15¢ to 25¢ lower than resale here. Market is getting more active.

While in spots the market for country killed calves is very much inclined to show dullness, no price change is shown in any line of country meats for the day.

Notes of wholesale trading: Slightly increased price on cauliflower for carloads. Sales to 45¢ for No. 1.

Celery demand in carlots continues good but practically no change in price.

More eastern than local cranberries are being offered on the local market. No price changes.

Cabbage market is weaker and lower for sacked stock.

All root vegetable prices are weak.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

NIGHT HAWKS
HAVE BEEN KNOWN TO SWALLOW HUMMINGBIRDS WHOLE!
IT IS BELIEVED THAT THE NIGHT HAWKS MISTOOK THE SMALL BIRDS FOR GIANT MOTHS.

THE WORD ELECTRICITY
COMES FROM THE FACT THAT AMBER, WHEN STROKED, ATTRACTS SMALL OBJECTS, MUCH AS A MAGNET DOES. "ELEKTRON" WAS THE GREEK NAME FOR AMBER.

A SNAIL SHELL—
AFTER SPENDING FIVE YEARS IN A MUSEUM SHOW CASE, WAS FOUND TO CONTAIN A LIVE SNAIL!

THE BEAK OF A NIGHT HAWK does not appear large when closed, but when the mouth is opened, a yawning cavern some two inches from corner to corner is disclosed. For this reason it can swallow large objects with ease, and not only hummingbirds, but even sparrows have been found inside the stomach of a night hawk.

SNAILS have been found in the Sahara desert, in a region where the day temperature reaches 122 degrees Fahrenheit, and where no rain had fallen for five years.

MOVING BILL
SWAMPED BY OREGON VOTE

dictated, they were Benton, Douglas, Hood River, Lane, Linn, Morrow, Polk, Sherman and Yamhill, with Linn county showing the largest trend opposed to the repeal.

School Moving Killed
Disapproval of the electorate on an initiative measure has rarely been demonstrated more emphatically than its vote against the move to consolidate the university and state college into one institution at Corvallis. The outcome of this proposal was never in doubt from the earliest election returns received last night. Even Benton, the only district to favor the measure, gave it but a small lead. A vote of 96,845 to 19,703 from 1087 precincts was recorded against it.

Taxpayers only will be permitted to vote upon questions of levying special taxes or issuing public bonds, the vote indicated while the six per cent tax limit all but has been made more elastic to provide a base choice over a three-year period. Both these appear to have carried by safe majorities.

Affirmative votes were also in the lead on the increase in the income tax law from 5 to 8 per cent while the same time increasing the exemptions. The lead of 5000 votes however was not sufficient to render a decisive verdict, with more than one-third of the precincts yet to be heard from. The initiative directing the state to control and develop power sites was also approved. The right of criminals to be tried before a judge without a jury in the case of capital offenses was likewise favored.

For the second time in two years the voters of Oregon again protested the closing of the Rogue river in the southwestern part of the state to commercial fishing. Shortly after the protest was voiced two years ago the state legislature passed an act to close the stream. This was referred and defeated in yesterday's balloting.

The 10 per cent tax on oleomargarine as a stimulus to the dairy industry in the state was voted down. It was also the proposal to restrict freight and bus operation and increase fees for common carriers. The two measures providing for control and supervision by the state of local tax levies were defeated along with the appropriation of $1,181,173 made by the 1931 legislature for higher institutions of learning for the two years ending next January.

CONTEST FOR CORONER IS CLOSE RACE

Hicks 1029, E. A. Sayre 2684.

Constable James Nelson winner over William Rollins, vote not tabulated but Mr. Nelson won with ease. The complete unofficial count in Union county probably will not be available before tonight or tomorrow, because of the heavy vote cast here yesterday which swamped election board officials and kept them busy well into today counting ballots.

In the city election the three commissioners elected were J. L. Lee, William Condit, unopposed, and William Condit, unopposed, were elected to another term of office.

KENTUCKY KILLS THREE IN FIGHTS

shot Redmond after he had left a polling place.

Four men were wounded in a general run fight at a polling place at Four Mile, in Bell county. They were Paul Miller, an election officer, Andrew Miller, Huey Rice and Matt Shinn.

In Pike county, at Island Creek, Homer Fields was seriously wounded in another shooting. Roosevelt Elswick was arrested.

At Wise's Landing in Trimble county, Clarence Corbin was seriously wounded. Charlie Simpson and his father, Pete Simpson, were arrested.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 9 (AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt started out with a two to one lead over President Hoover as scattered returns from Kentucky's election began to come in today. Reports from 31 of the state's 4184 precincts as tabulated by the Associated Press showed: Roosevelt 12,625; Hoover 6641.

New York Rivers

In the territory known to the early Dutch colonists there were two great rivers—the Hudson and the Delaware. They called them simply the North river and the South river. The name North river has survived as a local appellation partly because it is in kind with the name East river for the arm of the sea on the other side of Manhattan.

Polar Bears Kill Zoo Pool Invader

A flareback to natural animal life was presented hundreds of spectators at Washington Park zoo, Milwaukee, when two polar bears disposed of a grown black bear that had fallen into their pool. The black bear tumbled from a ledge into the polar bears' pool. Two polar bears leaped into the water. For 30 minutes the black bear held off the snarling ferocious cubs who ducked and clawed him. Finally the black bear was drowned and hauled ashore where grizzlies, polar bears and wolves started tearing at the carcass. Keepers finally reclaimed the 500-pound body. Above the black bear is shown backing away from the polar, while the sketch is the official version of the struggle to death.

F. R. ELECTED
IN LANDSLIDE
OVER NATION

by the Democratic triumph. The south made up for its 1928 departure by returning with emphasis to the Democratic fold, carrying with them the sometimes debatable border states.

In the east, tiny Delaware gave Hoover its three electoral votes while the Democrats were sweeping New York and New Jersey.

New York went for Roosevelt and lost no time about it. Eastern Republican leaders conceded the state both to Governor Roosevelt and Herbert Lehman, Democratic gubernatorial candidate early in the vote-counting. New York City gave the governor a 600,000 plurality to offset a Hoover advantage of 200,000 in other parts of the state.

Making For Hoover
In New England, Maine which wandered off the Republican reservation in September, was back with a Hoover lead. Massachusetts and Rhode Island, which the prediction makers had counted as uncertain, lined up for Roosevelt. Not even the state of his birth, Iowa, or that of his present residence, California, gave its electoral votes to Hoover.

In his Palo Alto home, the president watched the disappointing total accumulate. Soon after nine, by California clocks, he penned a brief message to Roosevelt.

"I congratulate you on the opportunity that has come to you to be of service to the country and I wish for you a most successful administration. In the common purpose of all of us I shall dedicate myself to every possible effort."

Joyous Celebration
At that moment, Governor Roosevelt was the center of a joyous throng of party workers and close friends in New York's Democratic headquarters, the Biltmore hotel. Al Smith was there, brown derby afloat, a happy grin upturning a big cigar. So too was Jim Farley, astute politician, who directed the Roosevelt campaign, predicting from the start a Roosevelt plurality of 10,000,000.

ROOSEVELT AT EASE
NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt, president-elect of the United States, took his ease this morning after the long hard fight for the country's highest office.

From his town house came word that he was still in bed, a slight cold and there were indications that he would not appear in public until after noon.

About that time he was expected to visit the national headquarters, where it was believed he would make public his reply to the telegram sent him last night by President Hoover.

BABIES NAMED
NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Three baby boys were born at the Menorah maternity hospital in Brooklyn early today and their names, thinking about names, all got the same idea.

So the babies are Franklin Delano Maybloom, Franklin Delano Ragin and Franklin Delano Flunkstein.

FARLEY ELATED
NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Victory in a "sweet thing," says James A. Farley.

"The man who spread the tidings 'Roosevelt for president,' to the far corners of the country and managed the Roosevelt campaign as national chairman, also may say:

"We are not unmindful of the great obligation that goes with a great victory."

In a speech last night, he expressed "sincere and heartfelt" thanks to all who aided in the victory. He was satisfied, he said, that Gov. Roosevelt "will go down in history as a great president."

"He is a great American, with great ability," Farley declared, "he will be successful because I am firmly of the belief that he will be able to attract to his support thousands of Americans who will be willing to aid him in every way they possibly can to bring this country back to the position it held several years ago."

PRESIDENT SPEAKS
PALO ALTO, Cal., Nov. 9 (AP)—President Hoover, as final returns from the election came to his home, told newspapermen today he would return to private life after March 4.

COMPARE

Mix a thin paste of Schilling Mustard and water in a cup. Do the same with some other kind. Smell the aroma from both. Note the difference in strength.

The reason: A mustard seed contains two oils—one a flavor oil—the other flavorless. Most of the flavorless oil can be removed, leaving the flavor oil concentrated in the mustard. Schilling does it.
