La Grande High to End Eastern Oregon Season at Pendleton Friday

CHAMPIONSHIP TO BE DECIDED ON ROUND-UP FIELD

Victory For La Grande Also Would Put the Tigers in the Race for State Titular Honors.

La Grande High school's football team will close its Eastern Oregon season at Pendleton tomorrow afternoon, playing the Buckaroos on the Round-Up field.

A victory for La Grande would give the Tigers the Eastern Oregon championship and also put them in the race for the state titular honors. But from present indications, the Pendleton outfit has developed into one of the toughest teams in this section of the state and Coach Ira Woodie is expecting the Bucks to be as strong if not stronger than Baker, a team which defeated Pendleton last month by one touchdown and which later lost to La Grande by the same margin.

Pendleton, incidentally, is out to win and makes no bones about it. La Grande hasn't lost to a Buck even for several years and that has irked the Round-Up City lads considerably. They figure this year is the big chance to get even, and it would be sweet revenge for them if they could defeat La Grande, thus not only improving their interschool record but also sinking the Tigers' championship hopes.

Coach Woodie will take 33 men, his entire squad, to Pendleton tomorrow morning by automobile. The game will begin at 2 p. m.

The squad is in pretty fair shape with no serious injuries. However, it has been bothered with eye trouble and Bean has a bad arm, but both are expected to be able to play. Alvey's tongue is healed and except for a loss of some 10 pounds in weight, the Tiger guard is in good shape.

Starting Lineup
The probable starting lineup follows:
Center, Oswley.
Guards, Munnhall and Alvey.
Tackles, Feuerhelm and Stoop or Howie.
Halfbacks, Roe and Sallor.
Fullback, E. DeBole or Bean.
A pep assembly today held at the High school today and from present indications, a large number of townspeople and students expect to accompany the team to Pendleton.

Incidentally, 17 seniors will play their last game of football in Eastern Oregon for La Grande tomorrow. The High school band may make the trip tomorrow.

SUSPEND M'EWAN AT HOLY CROSS

Former Oregon Football Coach in Trouble in Worcester, Mass. Today.

WORCESTER, Mass., Nov. 10 (AP)—Capt. John J. McEwan, head coach of the Holy Cross football team, has been indefinitely suspended by Rev. Timothy J. Phelan, S. J., moderator of athletics.

Father Phelan, acting on the recommendation of Rev. John M. Fox, S. J., president of the college, last night announced the suspension in a letter to Captain McEwan on account of your interference with the proper working of our athletic department by an unauthorized though widely published attempt to discharge one of our staff.

Father Phelan declined to discuss the probable duration of the suspension or its effect upon Captain McEwan's future status.

McEwan, whose present three-year contract does not expire until after the close of the 1933 season, also refused comment.

The decision to suspend Captain McEwan marks the first official action on a controversy which burst into flame after the Crusaders' 10 to 7 defeat by Brown when Captain McEwan announced that Bart Sullivan, veteran Holy Cross track coach, could not continue as his trainer.

McEwan claimed Bart "had misinterpreted and disobeyed my orders." Sullivan has been track coach at Holy Cross for 20 years and is popular with alumni and undergraduates.

Ray Sparling Is Out of Trojan Lineup a Week

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 10 (AP)—The famous Ray Sparling reverse, important part of the University of Southern California offense had a new and untimely meaning today. The most important member of the Trojan football cast in this particular play, has been "reversed" off the grid-iron for the game with Oregon at the Olympic stadium Saturday, due to a head injury sustained against California.

Doctors advised yesterday that Sparling be kept out of competition for a week, following an examination, although the Trojan wingman has been practicing since Tuesday. All the Southern California luck was not bad, however. Bob Getz, who was not expected to play full-back because of a strained back, may see action. He is due to report to practice this afternoon after spending several days in a hospital and although he is not due to start, the chances are strong he will play a good share of the game with the Web-footers.

Edward K. Hall, 62, Dies in Hanover

NEW YORK, Nov. 10 (AP)—Edward K. Hall, 62, for many years chairman of the football rules committee of the national collegiate athletic association and a former executive of the American Telephone and Telegraph company, died today of a heart attack at his home in Hanover, N. H., according to word received by friends here. He had been ill several weeks.

Sport Slants

By Alan J. Gould (Associated Press Sports Editor)

Many a grandstand play has nothing more behind it than the cheap publicity of some company who never had a large reel, human, kindly or otherwise, outside of the sphere of his own particular physical activity.

That's why some of the things Babe Ruth does stand out so against a background of things others try to do, solely for effect.

It's nice to report that the night of the world series game in which the Babe slashed a pair of home runs to demoralize the Cubs, he ate a large dinner and then went downstairs to the ball room of the hotel to plead with the orchestra leader for a job for a friend.

He snaked away later for another small crane he felt he should do. A bomb explosion blinded a Chicago boy shortly before the series started. The youngster, an innocent bystander, had a ticket for the games in Chicago. He was in a hospital. He'd never see those games, or any others.

The Babe heard of that while with the orchestra leader. He went alone to the hospital. For a couple of hours, alone with the boy, absolutely unknown except to the youngster, he told about the home runs, went over every play in the ball game, loaned the kid his eyes for the evening.

There aren't many nicer ways of celebrating victory.

NEEDED A FRIEND
There's one owner of a major league ball club who has fought, for seven years. He knows now he won't last through the winter. He may lose the property, and his last cent with it. But he'll go out with one memory as fine as that of the blind boy.

Last spring he was in such financial distress that he just about conceded the end. There was hope due in a few days for $75,000. He had just $15,000 in cash. And not another resource in the world.

He lay awake nights, thinking, figuring, trying to find way out, poring over in his mind for some friend he had overlooked who might come to his aid. He had no security that wasn't already mortgaged. Every last man who owed him a favor had helped already, or turned him down.

ONE LAST HOPE
Finally he remembered an old acquaintance he hadn't seen for years. The tie wasn't close, just friendship long ago. But it was the last desperate chance. He had to take it.

He jumped a train, hurried to this man's business office. The friend was happy to see him, not effusive, just pleased. He wanted to know about the family, about friends. The baseball man's face was drawn as he answered:

"I'm afraid you won't be so interested. He burst out finally, "when you know why I'm here. I've got to tell you now. Listen.

The man listened: $60,000, immediately, no security.

He smiled at the end, beckoned his secretary.

"Miss Soandso," he said, "write out a check for Mr. Blank for $60,000." Now tell me, how's the family?

He got no answer for several minutes. The baseball man's head was in his arms, and he was sobbing.

THE TINNITES!

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

THE deer head that the Tinnites tied tight to the horse was closely eyed and then Windy shouted, "Geo, the task is real well done."

"However, I can see no use in doing this. It won't come loose, but how do you expect that crazy wooden horse to run?"

"Well, in the first place," Duncy said, "the horse now has a deer head and so it is a deer-horse, and 'twill run. Just wait and see."

"Who's game to ride it when it does? I'd really like to know because I'm going to bring the horse to life and lots of fun 'twill be."

"I'll gladly ride it," Copy cried. "And, after me, you all can ride. I only hope that it acts tame and doesn't toss me high."

"If our old deer-horse runs too fast, the pleasure of the ride won't be. If I cry out, hey, stop us, grab the horse when it goes by." Then Duncy's magic oil was poured upon the horse. The Tinnites roared to see the wooden legs begin to move around a bit.

And then the horse began to shake. "Perhaps it has a tummy-ache," said Windy. "I just hope it isn't going to have a fit."

THEY waited for a little while. Then Copy's face spread in a smile. "It's quiet now," he said, "I am going to take my place."

He climbed right on the wooden back and gave the horse a friendly whack. It started running. Scouty cried, "Now, please don't try to race."

For quite a while the sport was great. The horse ran at an easy gait. Then suddenly it balked a bit and Copy got a scare.

"Hang on real tight," one Tiny cried. "Prove to us all that you can ride." When Copy did as he was told, his hat flew in the air. (Copyright, 1932, NEA Service, Inc.) (An auto tire makes the Tinnites laugh in the next story.)

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and snaky and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salt, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or other gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just floats in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Your skin breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes three good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the same Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931, C. M. C.
