cially opened throughout the nation yesterday, Armistice day, and will continue until Thanksgiving. In La Grande, an effort will be made to enlist every one who possibly can join within a three day period beginning Tuesday morning. Teams of workers are being organized who will canvass the entire city. Mrs. N. W. Frees, Miss Madeline Larson and Harold Boone are chairman of this work. A mass meeting of workers will be held Monday evening at 7:30 at the city hall.

The work which the Red Cross is doing in La Grande is sufficient in the minds of the workers to commend the roll call to every citizen. Thousands of dollars worth of flour and clothing is being distributed to the needy of this county, which were it not for the activities of the Red Cross, would have to come from local resources. All of this is being done by voluntary contribution, and without the services of any salaried workers. There is in addition to this, much relief of an unusual nature being by the local chapter of the Red Cross. Investigations involving missing persons, those stranded without funds, and many emergency cases are handled each year by the local chapter. The money received in the local roll call is used for this work. Only fifty cents of each membership is sent to the national organization for national disaster and emergency relief, the balance being kept and used by the local chapter.

This work is county wide, including all of Union county as well as the city of La Grande. Plans are to continue through the winter, and contemplates the spending of several thousand more dollars for supplies which will be furnished by the government through the national Red Cross. All administration expense, transportation, etc., is paid by the national organization.

RELIEF TASK BIG ONE IN STORM AREA

never be rebuilt on the sandy shore. Piffling Desolation The town presented a picture of piffling desolation today. It was nothing but a shambles, and where 3500 persons had lived were only soldiers, sanitary workers, and a few city officials.

Here and there rose the smoke of a funeral pyre, since it became necessary to burn bodies. The grave diggers could not bury the dead fast enough for the sanitary safety of the few who remained on guard.

Capt. Frederico Tomeu on his arrival here sent 500 bodies were buried yesterday and Thursday, but cremation was ordered when every pile of debris disclosed further dead.

The official estimates of the dead in the storm rose to 1700 during the night, but the exact number may never be known, as many in Santa Cruz were probably carried to sea by the retreating tidal waters.

Relief Plans Perfected Cheered by reports from Havana that governmental agencies were perfecting relief plans rapidly, local authorities co-operated with physicians to avert epidemic, the dangerous aftermath of disaster. A few cases of measles were discovered and quickly isolated.

The last relief train from Santa Cruz arrived around midnight, bringing in 150 refugees, most of whom bore wounds. This arrival lifted the storm casualties in Camaguey alone to 4000. Every available shelter was used for hospital work.

Relief for the physicians who had been working unceasingly since Thursday was expected from Havana momentarily. A train with 15 surgeons, 20 medical students and 40 nurses had left the capital. Secretary of the Interior Zubizarreta was aboard.

Medical supplies and clothing were brought in by train, airplane, steamer and truck. Four trucks arrived from Havana last night.

Relief Trains Ordered The Consolidated Railway company announced it had ordered relief trains from Tampa, and Puerto Rico, Caribbean coast cities in Santa Clara province west of Santa Cruz.

Camaguey province bore the brunt of the winds and waves. Everywhere sugar and banana plantations were leveled and mills damaged or destroyed. The death list outside of Santa Cruz, however, appeared surprisingly small, well under the 100 mark. Injured, however, were numerous.

A newspaper correspondent at Neuvitas estimated the damage there at $800,000. Nearly a hundred small boats in the harbor were wrecked.

67 KNOWN DEAD KINGSTON, Jamaica, Nov. 12 (AP)—Sixty-seven persons are known to have been killed and more than 100 seriously injured when the hurricane which inflicted heavy damage in Cuba struck Cayman Brac island and the smaller island of Cayman.

These estimates of the casualties were reported today by the island government as received from Kingston facilities with Kingston were restored.

The hurricane struck the two islands on Tuesday night with a wind at times blew a hundred miles an hour or more.

All the dwellings on Cayman Brac and Little Cayman were destroyed. The government here immediately sent help and prepared to ship building materials and additional food and medical supplies.

Cayman Brac, Cayman and Grand Cayman form the group known as the Cayman islands, about 200 miles northwest of Jamaica. Grand Cayman, the largest, is about 30 miles long and 5 miles wide.

All of them are only a few feet above the sea, surrounded by coral reefs. There are important coconuts groves on Cayman Brac.

FEDERAL AGENT KILLED BEATRICE, Neb., Nov. 12 (AP)—Chester Mason, federal prohibition agent, was killed and Byron Kennedy, an undercover agent, wounded seriously in a shooting scrape near here today when a bootlegger, believed by officers to be Ted Wells, shot himself out of a trap.

WOOL MEN TO MEET PORTLAND, Nov. 12 (AP)—Wool producers and representatives of their associations in 13 eastern states will convene here Dec. 8 for the three-day annual convention of the National Wool Growers association, the oldest national organization of livestock raisers in the United States.

C. B. McCULLOUGH ADVANCED SALEM, Nov. 12 (AP)—C. B. McCullough, state highway bridge engineer, for the last 12 years, has been appointed assistant to R. H. Baldock, chief engineer of the highway department, and will continue in charge of the bridge department.

Philanthropist Remembered Probably the only case of its kind in history is the tribute paid to the memory of Edward Colston, a philanthropist buried in Bristol, England. The schools, homes and hospitals which he founded have placed fresh flowers on his grave every week for the past 200 years.—Collier's Weekly.

Copied British Usage The reason usually advanced for the dollar mark being put before the figures in American money is that the English colonists were accustomed to place the mark for the British pound before the figures, so did the same with the dollar mark.

Adversity's Uses Difficulties show what men are. Adversity is the test that proves the mettle of those encountering it. Trouble seeks out and tries to the utmost a man's latent abilities. Just as a gem is not polished without intense rubbing, so is man not developed without his numerous trials.—Grit.

Butter Demand Continuing To Show Strength

PORTLAND, Nov. 12 (AP)—Demand for fresh butter continues to reflect strength in practically all grades. The shortage of extras was making itself felt and these were moving out promptly at the price quoted.

Make of butter was showing a late decrease in the immediate Portland territory. However, this has been more than eliminated by the supply liberal increase in the latter part of the month.

Friday being a holiday there was no session of the produce exchange but cubes in general were unchanged in price on the open market Saturday.

Butterfat values continue firm. Market for eggs continues to reflect at least a steady to firm tone locally. This applies to fresh offerings of all sizes. Pulled stock continues in very scant supply.

Very slow trading tone is continued in the market for spring chickens. Even at the lowest price in history—10c for the light and 11c for the cooked sort, the movement outward continues restricted.

While current demand for hens is good, the exception is in heavy weights. They are today being discriminated against because the public is inclined to buy more by price than quality.

General steadiness is reflected in the market for country killed meats. Veal has surprised receivers by showing an increased call during the last few days and prices are held generally.

Cashberry prices here are steady. This applies to both local and eastern offerings, both being in liberal supply. The greatest call remains in the quarter box sized offerings.

Sales of cauliflower on cars are reported firmer and higher at 50-55c crate for No. 1 grade. Movement is holding up well and quality is fair although not quite as good as a week ago.

HOOVER WILL CONTINUE IN HIS EFFORTS (Continued From Page One)

In the crowd at the train was a group of friends in Southern California who had asked the opportunity to greet him.

After the speech, the president and Mrs. Hoover drove to the new home of their son, Herbert Hoover Jr., at Sierra Madre. Mrs. Hoover had expressed a desire to stop to see the newly built home.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hoover Jr. and their three small children rode from Palo Alto on the special train. Allan Hoover, the president's youngest son, also left the train here to return to his work in Los Angeles.

Republicans should not be discouraged by defeat, the president said, but "should at once strengthen all forms of national, state, county and precinct organization for militant action."

Hoover extended his thanks to those who have given so freely of their time and effort in this campaign and in supporting the principles for which we stand.

His statement in full follows: I am glad of this opportunity to meet with you again as a group of loyal friends who take this means of expressing their continued friendship. On my part, I welcome the opportunity to thank you for your comradeship in our battle together for the welfare of our country that has heartened me in many a difficult hour. And I wish to thank you even more warmly for your personal devotion which touches me deeply and which I shall always treasure as the highest reward of public service.

The majority of the people have decided to entrust the government to a new administration. The political campaign is over.

I asked for unity of national action in the constructive measures which have been initiated during the past three years for care of distress, to protect the nation from imminent dangers and to promote economic recovery. If we are to continue the recovery, so evidently in progress during the past few months, by overcoming the many difficulties which still confront us, we must have continued unity in constructive action all along the economic front. I shall work for that unity during the remaining four months of this administration. Furthermore, it is our duty after the fourth of March to co-operate with our opponents in every sound measure for the restoration of prosperity.

I am making an early return to Washington in special concern that the measures and instrumentalities which we have in motion on an entirely non-partisan basis shall continue their utmost. The functioning of our government is dependent upon strong two-party organization. It is one through party organization that public questions can be properly considered and determined. Republicans of the country should not be discouraged by defeat. Rather they should at once strengthen all forms of national, state, county and precinct organization for militant action. True to its great traditions, whether in the majority or the minority, the Republican party should continue to give its constructive service to the country. It will return to power.

I desire to extend my sincere thanks to all our party workers and others who have given so freely of their time and effort in this campaign and in supporting the principles for which we stand, and for the many evidences I have received of devoted friendship. But the first consideration today of every American citizen is the continued recovery of the country—a consideration far above partisanship.

HOOPER CHANGES ROUTE EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 12 (AP)—A change in the plans of President Hoover's return trip to Washington that will take him to the Hoover dam in Nevada was received here today by Southern Pacific railroad officials. The presidential train will switch to the Union Pacific at Colton, Cal., and proceed to Las Vegas, Nev., railroad officials said. The stop is expected to delay his arrival in Washington from 12 to 24 hours.

Stocks Higher For The Third Successive Day

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—Stocks continued upward for the third successive session today, at a retarded pace. Weekend profit taking, however, cancelled much of the advance.

Chiefly by a sharp upturn in the Chicago wheat market, and firm implications were outstandingly strong. The decline shown in the weekly freight car loadings report was perhaps a shade larger than expected, but it failed to halt the upward movement. Prices closed with a fairly steady tone which touches me deeply and which I shall always treasure as the highest reward of public service.
