At Coulter Home—
Mrs. C. T. Coulter, of the Iowa district, surely proved herself a gracious hostess Wednesday when she had the members of the Happy Hour Circle at her home for an all-day work meeting. There were about a dozen of the neighborhood women, club members—present for the day and they all contributed to the pot luck dinner served at noon. The work for the day consisted of tying out two comforters, one for relief work and the other for the hostess.

Thanksgiving Program—
Out at the Allie school, the teacher, Miss Tucker, and the pupils are making their plans for a big Thanksgiving program and a basket social which is to be given at the school next Saturday evening, Nov. 19. The program is announced to start promptly at 8 o'clock and of course the invitation to attend is extended to every one.

Dinner Guests—
Mr. and Mrs. Frank McKennon, of near Imbler, and daughter, Mrs. Frances, a student at the Eastern Oregon Normal school, were dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Mabel Morton at their home, 1502 Fifth street in La Grande.

From Portland—
Harry and Leo Munson, who are attending school in Portland, have been visiting at the home of their mother, Mrs. Johnnie Wagoner, at Summerville and among their many friends.

Dinner Tomorrow—
Tomorrow is the benefit dinner which Mrs. Homer T. Wilson is giving at her home in May Park for the Ladies Aid of the Island City Community church. Mrs. Wilson cannot attend the aid and so some of the work as the other members do, so this year she decided to give this dinner and all the proceeds are to be her contribution to the church work. Dinner is to be served at 1 o'clock.

To Enterprise—
Miss Beulah Smith returned to Enterprise Sunday following a few days' visit at her home near Island City over the Armistice day recess.

Pomona Grange—
The members of the Rock Wall grange, north of Elgin, were assisted by their neighbors, the members of Cricket Flat grange when they entertained the Pomona Grange. The attendance was good with most of the subordinates of the county represented. J. A. Rice, of the Wolf Creek grange, presided over the meeting, serving in capacity of master. One prominent item of business which was given attention was the election of Pomona officers, an event which takes place only every other year. The result was as follows:

Master: Frank Wright.
Overseer: Jay Breshears.
Lecturer: Mrs. Cusick.
Steward: Raymond Waely.
Assistant Steward: Wayne Frizzell.
Chaplain: Mrs. Frank Wright.
Treasurer: J. J. Murchison.
Secretary: Miss H. Cusick.
Gate-keeper: John Waely.
Ceres: Mrs. Tom Walsinger.
Pomona: Mrs. A. Y. Fisher.
Flora: Miss Lois Witherspoon.
Lady Assistant Steward: Mrs. J. A. Rice.
Executive committee: Frank McKennon, J. A. Rice and C. E. Moore.
Under the lecturer's hour in the afternoon, Miss Minnie Holman announced the following program:
Song: America, The Beautiful.
Address of welcome: C. E. Moore, master of Rock Wall grange.
Response: Mr. Rice, Pomona master.
Reading: Little Miss Patten.
Reading: Dorothy Gekeler.
Music: The Witherspoon family.
Reading: Mrs. Albert Becker.
Talk: Mrs. Walter Pierce.
Music: Mrs. E. E. Miller and Clarence Carter.
Report on marketing: county agent, H. G. Avery.
Reading: Mrs. Raymond Waely.
Thanks on the way out of our difficulties, Walter M. Pierce and A. R. McCall.

Throughout the day there was a splendid opportunity for visiting and informal sociability and it was not overlooked. The women of the hostess organizations arranged for two meals during the day, the wonderful dinner served at the noon hour and the equally good supper in the evening.

Have New Son—
Mr. and Mrs. Chester (Gladys Beem) Skinner who have been staying at the parental Beem home at Rhinehart for the past few months are announcing the arrival of their first-born, a son, whose natal day was yesterday, Tuesday, Nov. 15.

At Childers Home—
Mr. and Mrs. Earl Robinson and their small son, of Seattle, are making an extended visit at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Childers on Lower Cove. Mrs. Robinson was formerly Miss Iola Childers.

Elect Officials—
At the city election at Island City last Tuesday the following officials were duly chosen: mayor, Merton Kiddie; recorder, H. L. Hungerford; treasurer, Mrs. Audrey Phillips; councilmen for two years, John Lindsey, P. E. Hyde, Carl Petrin; councilmen for one year, Albert Wardell, Bill Mitchell and John Bowers.

At Grange Hall—
Members of the Pleasant Grove grange met at their hall Sunday and spent the day constructing the booths, practicing, etc., looking forward to their entertainment this Saturday evening. A potluck dinner was served at noon and a most enjoyable day is reported.

At Ladd Canyon School—
The teacher, Mrs. Joe Diehl, of the Ladd Canyon school, and her pupils have hit upon a rather unique way to raise some money for the community Christmas tree this year. They are preparing a Thanksgiving program which they will give at the school house Friday evening, Nov. 18 which any one who wishes to may attend. Then the parents and those who will be there are asked to bring either sandwiches or a cake, which will be sold as it is served, together with hot coffee, following the program. This should make a very pleasant evening for all.

Cabinet Meets—
The cabinet of the Epworth League of the Island City community church met last Thursday evening at the home of their advisors, Mr. and Mrs. Bernice Hicks for a potluck dinner and business meeting. The dinner, which was quite complete, was served at 7:30 o'clock. At the business meeting plans were made for the hobo party which is to be given Friday evening at the church. Those who attended the meeting were Margaret and Harold Zurbick, Evelyn Hansen, Mary Jane Chadwick, June Hug, Frances Evans, Pluma and Annamie Shafer, and Mr. and Mrs. Hicks.

From Walla Walla—
Miss Marguerite Berryman, who lives between Imbler and Summerville, has returned from Walla Walla where she spent the weekend with her mother, who has been making a visit of a few weeks there.

In La Grande—
Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Comstock, of the Mill Creek canyon road near Cove, were among those in La Grande Sunday to attend the reunion of members of the Comstock family held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer (Lois Comstock) Lettel.

Get-together Club—
Mrs. William Banton, of Ladd Canyon, is having the Get-together club one week earlier it is announced as the regular meeting date would come on Thanksgiving day.

Moves To La Grande—
Loyne Williams, who has made her home with her sister, Mrs. Ella Fisher, of Lower Cove, has moved to La Grande and taken a part of the home property of the late Mrs. Zuber.

At Dry Creek—
The program given last Friday at the Dry Creek school under the direction of the teacher, Mrs. Inez Price, was a very successful affair and was enjoyed not only by the people of the district who turned out almost 100 per cent but also by residents of neighboring districts who completely filled the school. The children who gave the program did exceedingly well as they appeared in the following numbers:

Thanksgiving Acrobatic school.
At Grange Hall, song.
A Turkey Trick, Bobby Niederer.
Thankfulness, Stanley Rhoads.
Mince Pies, dialogue, Wanda Sanderson, Maxine Simpson, Delmer Conrad.
Hiram and Becky, song, boys and girls.
A Pumpkin Wish, Marion Spencer.
Sympathy, Charles Rhoads.
Polly Pail, The Turkey in the Tea, Elma Conrad, Lorraine Hug, Arlene Ghosia, Dorothy Sanderson.
Song of the Thanksgiving Turkey.
Lorraine Hug.
The Washburn Verdict, dialogue by boys.
Wishbone Song, girls.
Turkey for Thanksgiving, Wayne McKinnis.
My Thanksgiving, Delmer Conrad.
Over the River and Thru the Woods, Dorothy, Evelyn and Wanda Sanderson.

Who Stole The Turkey? dialogue.
When Teacher's Been Out Late at Night, Lorraine Hug, Elma Conrad, Alvin Spencer, Vernon Niederer.
When Grandpa Sticks the Carving Knife Beneath The Turkey's Wing, Arlene Ghosia.
Pants, Myron McKinnis.
Things to Be Thankful For, dialogue.
Out To The Farm, song.
Just Before The Dinner Mother, song.

After the program, sandwiches, cake, pie, coffee and cider were sold and a neat sum was realized to be used for the children's Christmas.

Have New Son—
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Butler, of North Powder announce the birth of a son last Thursday.

Include Visit—
Mrs. Fred Shafer, son, Roy, and daughter, Enid, of Troy, returned to their home Saturday following a two weeks' visit among their relatives at Island City and La Grande.

Pleasant Grove Officers—
Election of officers at the Pleasant Grove grange was held at their regular meeting last Thursday and the several officers to be filled during the coming year by the following: Master, Frank McKennon. Overseer, Will Bull. Lecturer, Gaston Lion. Gate-keeper, Wayne Frizzell. Steward, Virgil Sanderson. Assistant Steward, William Fries. Chaplain, Roy Knight. Secretary, Mrs. Leona Swearingen. Ceres, Flora, Pomona, Verna Knight. Melvia Bull and Marjorie Woodell.
Lady Assistant Steward, Bernice Johnston.

Have Quilting—
Mrs. R. S. Comstock, of the Mill Creek canyon road, had a quilting bee at her home yesterday, a group of her friends coming in for the happiest kind of a day and taking out her "French Nose-Gay" quilt.

From Walla Walla—
Mr. and Mrs. E. Z. Thompson, of Walla Walla and their daughter, Patricia Harland, were guests for lunch Saturday at the Isaac Shafer home in the Moss Chapel district.

Returns Home—
Mrs. Emma Poole, who spent the summer and fall at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. Y. Beale, in the Ladd canyon neighborhood, has returned to her home in Milton. She accompanied her daughter, Mrs. Roy Records and granddaughter, Mrs. Amy Fox and baby, who had spent last Thursday in the valley.

The Big Carnival—
That is what they claim it will be—the carnival which the Pleasant Grove grange is to give at their hall north of La Grande this Saturday evening, Nov. 19. The program which is free to all, begins at 8 o'clock and consists of music, readings and a 45 minute play "Scenes in a Union Depot." We are told that the members of the grange, from the oldest to the youngest are in the play. Then the patrons will sell refreshments, and they will have a needle-craft booth, a freak show, boxing match, "nigger babies," fortune telling and all the attractions which go to make up one whizz of a carnival.

At McNeill Home—
Mr. and Mrs. Lester Warner, of Medford, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie McNeill, of the Mill Creek canyon, nearly all of last week. Mr. Warner and Mrs. McNeill are brother and sister.

Entertain Neighbors—
Mrs. Claude Beale and Mrs. Frank Poole, of Ladd Canyon, were joint hostesses when they entertained some of their neighbors at pinocchio Saturday night at the home of Mrs. Beale. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ewin won first prize and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Council took second. A nice waffle supper was served following the cards.

Returns Home—
Harry Mitchell has returned to his home in Lower Cove from Northern Idaho where he has been the past few months. He was connected with the highway department there driving Earnie Miller's caterpillar. Having a promise to be taken on again next season he stored the tractor there.

No Aid Tomorrow—
It has been previously announced that the work meeting of the Allie Ladies Aid society which was to have been held tomorrow at the hall, has been indefinitely postponed on account of the death of Mrs. J. P. DeLong.

Mrs. Austin Hostess—
Mrs. Elliott Austin entertained the Get-together club last Thursday at her home in the Ladd Canyon district. Mrs. L. W. Drumsmith and Mrs. Mary J. Council had charge of the entertainment. The "gift box" shovels, which have proven so popular were brought to a close when the two remaining names were drawn from the membership. Mrs. Alec Ferguson and Mrs. Roy Munsell. Their gifts were alike and they received many useful articles. Mrs. Austin served a very nice lunch.

Request Bids For Surplus Game

To prevent over-grazing on its big game preserves, the bureau of biological survey, U. S. department of agriculture, has called for bids on this year's surplus animals, including 141 buffalo, 162 elk, and 45 mule deer. It is probable that most of the animals less than two years of age and, but by making special arrangements, a state or municipal park or zoological garden can obtain a few animals at cost of handling and transportation.

Mule deer, biological state, are suitable only for regions west of the Mississippi river. The bureau will not dispose of these animals for other than exhibition and breeding purposes. Surplus buffalo and elk that cannot be disposed of for similar purposes will be sold for meat, though animals less than two years of age will be sold only for breeding and exhibition.

Big-game animals, the bureau explains, have increased under protection. The preserves, however, have not increased in size and some animals must therefore be disposed of to keep herds within the grazing capacity of present ranges. Over-grazing, if not avoided, would result in malnutrition and suffering among the animals.

Milk Valuable For Poultry

Which is best for poultry—dried skim milk or creamy buttermilk? In answering this question F. E. Fox, associate professor in poultry husbandry at Oregon State college, says skim milk and buttermilk have practically the same feeding value, and whether it is in dry or liquid form is largely a matter of choice or convenience.

In comparing price, however, Fox says that buttermilk at 1½ cents per gallon will give a cost for "total solids" of about two cents per pound, while dry skim milk at four cents per pound will mean a cost for total solids of about 2½ cents to five cents. Therefore he believes it is largely a matter of what can be obtained the more cheaply at any given place—labor and convenience considered.

Thanksgiving Dinner

The modern trend in the holiday dinner is somewhat different from that of other days. In place of the elaborate dinner requiring days of preparation, we now favor the simpler type requiring less in the way of preparation and less time after in recovering from its effects. This change is partly due to a better knowledge of food values and a greater appreciation of the relation of diet to health.

The traditional wild turkey dinner has become almost impossible to carry out and the domesticated one has taken its place. However, wild fowl such as pheasant, duck or the wild goose will be the center of interest to many this year. A suggested menu is given for the Thanksgiving dinner and recipes will be sent on request to those of you who desire them.

DELONG — IN MEMORIAM

Today we remark the passing of two women, both well known in the valley—mother-in-law and daughter-in-law, their going being but nine days apart.

Mrs. J. P. DeLong
"Grandma" DeLong—it was the affectionate name by which Mrs. J. P. DeLong was known by all who knew her—old and young. Everyone who knew her loved her and it was a feeling which was reciprocated. Grandma DeLong was interested in all those whose lives hers touched and if there were any group which attracted her special attention it must have been the little folks. We recall how she made little gifts for each of the pupils at the Valeria school last Christmas, the little school close by her home for almost half a century.

Mrs. DeLong, 88 years of age at the time of her passing, had been in very frail health for the last several years and her condition was the concern of her hundreds of friends. Since the sudden death of her husband several years ago she had divided her time among her children, spending part with her daughter, Miss Anna, in Portland, and the rest with her daughter, Mrs. Maude Walsinger in the Valeria district and her son, Ernest, in the Grange Hall neighborhood. She returned to Portland early in the fall, but since going there had not been so well. Her condition became critical about ten days ago and her children here were notified. She slipped away quietly Monday morning.

Funeral services are being held this afternoon at the First Methodist church in La Grande with burial at Summerville. It was to the church and her family that Mrs. DeLong gave unstinted devotion. She was a sincere, earnest and active Christian woman and her life was constantly a benediction on those who were with her.

Besides the two children Maude and Ernest here, she is survived by her daughter, Anna, in Portland, her son, Walden, in Riverside, Cal., Ella, of Torrance, Cal., and Lena, of Seattle.

Long ago, because of the infirmities of age, Mrs. DeLong's field of active Christian service became more limited but now her family and her friends rejoice that she is even now

You will notice that rolls are omitted, according to the present fashion in dinners, but if your guests like them they should be served. Butter shaped in balls or rolls is an attractive addition to the table.

Pumpkin pie is substituted for the once favored plum pudding and mince pie. A favorite pumpkin pie recipe is given below:

Pumpkin Pie
Beat two eggs, add one cup of pumpkin put through a sieve, and one cup and one-half of light cream or undiluted milk. Add the following ingredients, which have been sifted together: One tablespoon of flour, three-fourths cup sugar, one-half teaspoonful salt, one-third teaspoonful ginger, one-fourth teaspoonful nutmeg, one-fourth teaspoonful cloves, one-half teaspoonful allspice, and one teaspoonful cinnamon. Stir this mixture and when the sugar is completely dissolved, pour into pastry-lined pie tins and bake six minutes at 300 degrees F.; then reduce heat to 200 degrees F. for thirty minutes.

For those who want something different in the way of pies this lemon chiffon pie is sure to please.

Lemon Chiffon Pie
Soften one tablespoonful of gelatin in one-fourth cup of cold milk; add one cup of milk in a double boiler; beat three egg-yolks, gradually add two-thirds cup of sugar and one-half teaspoonful of salt; add the egg-yolk mixture to the hot milk and continue stirring until the eggs are set. Remove from fire, add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Pour into a bowl and set in ice and water; when cool add one-half cup of lemon juice, mix thoroughly and fold in one cup of heavy cream, whipped. When the mixture will hold its shape, pour into a baked pastry shell. Set in refrigerator until ready to serve. Before serving spread whipped cream over the top of the pie and pipe whipped cream around the outer edge.

Oregon Butter Has Better Quality

Steady improvement in the quality of butter made by Oregon creameries is shown in a compilation of 3½ years results of butter scoring conducted by the dairy department of Oregon State college as a service to buttermakers of the state.

The first year of the scoring approximately 20 per cent of the samples submitted for scoring graded below 90, 39 per cent were between 90 and 91, 33 per cent between 91 and 92, and less than eight per cent 92 or above. The proportion of the higher scoring divisions has steadily increased until for the first seven months of this scoring year only 13 per cent of the samples scored below 90, only 32 per cent between 90 and 91, while 34 per cent made the 91-92 class, and 21 per cent got in the distinguished rating of 92 or above.

Our aim is to eliminate, if possible, all butter scoring below 90 with the conclusion of the fourth year of scoring," says Dr. G. H. Wilster, head of the dairy manufacturing at the college. "In the latest month's samples, only 10 per cent fell below 90."

Eat Big Quantities of Grain

Grain Used As Fattener For Western Cattle

Use of grain along with hay in fattening beef cattle is now becoming a much more general practice in the west than ever before, says E. L. Potter, head of the animal husbandry department at Oregon State college. Grain has never been fed in the west in any such liberal amounts as is customary in the cornbelt, but where a few years back it was unusual for a feeder to use grain at all, now the practice is becoming quite general, he says.

"Where a cornbelt feeder would feed from 15 to 18 pounds of grain and seven to eight pounds of hay a day, the western feeder will give only a third as much grain and three times the quantity of hay," Potter explains. "The bulk of our steers on hay and grain will get from five to eight pounds of grain a day."

than three times the price of hay, but this is likely to be a more liberal feeding of grain," Professor Potter added.

Ground or steam rolled barley is an excellent feed, little less valuable than corn, except that a straight combination of barley and alfalfa has a tendency to cause cattle to bloat. Any last winter was a marked exception to this rule.

"Even with the cheap hay of this coming winter it is likely that the grain will be less than three times the price of hay, and under such con-other mixture of grain with the barley seems to reduce if not actually eliminate this danger, according to Professor Potter.

Under present low hay and beef prices, feeders need to figure on a margin of about one dollar per hundred between feeder and beef prices in order to carry a four to five months feeding period, experiments show. Much data on this and other phases of feeding of beef cattle have been collected at the Union branch station which may be had by any stockman for the asking.
