At the 11:00 o'clock worship service Mrs. Frank Jasper will be the soloist and the pastor will speak from the theme "Losing Courage."

A beautiful offertory number "The Harp of St. Cecilia," by Wiegand, will be presented by Miss Gladys Miller, organist; Mrs. Lynn Wright, pianist; and Miss Norma Hanks, violinist. The Sunday School Lesson in Rhyme
By Carlos A. Plummer
JESUS RISES FROM THE DEAD
Mark 16:1-20.
In Joseph's sealed and guarded tomb
Laying in death's darkest gloom,
The Savior's nail-pierced body lay
Awaiting there that glad Easter day.

As Easter morn began to break,
"Behold there was a great earthquake!"
And, to the Roman guards' surprise,
An angel came down from the skies:
His visage as the lightning shone
As from the door he rolled the stone.
And all the sentries standing round
Fell as if dead upon the ground.

And then the Son of God arose
Triumphant over all his foes;
O'er death he won the victory
And put on immortality.

The women who sweet spices brought,
The Savior's body vainly sought;
"He is not here," the angel said,
"For He is risen from the dead."

To his disciples quickly go
And these glad tidings to them show.
Upon a mound in Galilee
They soon their risen Lord shall see.

And as they ran the news to tell,
They met the one they loved so well:
The risen Christ, with cheerful voice,
Bade fears depart and hearts rejoice.

TEACHERS GO TO CHICAGO
Miss Emogene Russell and Mrs. Evelyn Bennett, teachers in the city school, left last evening for Chicago where they will attend the Century of Progress. Miss Russell plans to be away from La Grande for about three weeks while Mrs. Bennett will probably be gone for the remainder of the summer. During her stay in the Middle West, Mrs. Bennett will visit with a brother who home is in Wisconsin and will then go on to see her son and family who live near Wilkesbarre.

Attendance at Pacific Coast baseball league games showed an increase of approximately 25 per cent over last year during the first three weeks of play.

qualifications were the first consideration, and also the fact that there are three grade schools on the North side and we believe these people should be represented, especially when we have an opportunity to elect people as well qualified as Mr. Kingsley and Mrs. Gehring.

EUROPE ASKS ATTITUDE OF WASHINGTON

French delegates and their followers expressed keen disappointment over Secretary Woodin's announcement in Washington that the United States government had not agreed to any currency stabilization proposals, which are understood to have been considered by French, American and British financial leaders.
The French indicated they had thought the stabilization question had been settled when they conceded the chairmanship of the monetary commission to James M. Cox, second in command of the United States group.
It had been reported that plans were afoot to stabilize the American dollar at between $4.04 to $4.07 to the British pound.
In a formal statement given out in Washington last night and received here this morning, the American secretary of the treasury said that "the discussions in London regarding stabilization" must be exploratory only, and any agreement on this subject will be reached in Washington, not elsewhere.
In the meantime, British, French, and American bankers are meeting in London to study the problem and it was feebly stated that they are expected to reach a decision in two or three days.
With the conference facing this fresh impasse, the American delegates were standing pat on their informal denial that an agreement had been reached on stabilization and were awaiting instructions from Washington.

STILL NO WORD FROM MATTER; HOPE NOT LOST

he would have been compelled to land. Along the 2500-mile hop from Ekhabrovsk, Siberia, no ship nor land settlement had reported sighting him.
While searching plans were held in abeyance today because of the frequency with which "lost planes" have turned up in Alaska, aviation men recalled that he had said before leaving Ekhabrovsk several days ago on his first attempt to reach Alaska, that his plane was in "fine shape."
No severe storms, either, had faced him on the "Post-Gatty trail," over which Wiley Post and Harold Gatty had flown two years ago this month, landing at Solomon Beach, 40 miles east of here. He had also received the advice of Boris Lukht, experienced Soviet flier, before leaving Ekhabrovsk, and he gained experience in Alaskan flying two years ago.
Fog banks and overcast skies lay over the Bering sea and the western coast of Alaska in the early hours yesterday, at the completion of the 16 to 17 hours he was given to make the 2500-mile flight. Had he pushed through to interior Alaska, however, he should have found safe landing places easily, aviation men said.

IN RESPECT OF — Father's Day

Sunday, June 18

PRACTICAL, rugged, matter-of-fact Dad does not often give us opportunity to express our tender feelings toward him. He demands respect, and gets it. He inspires reverence and we acknowledge it. But he rather evades expressions of the tender emotions that Mother dotes on. Yet way down deep is love and devotion of the purest quality and a heart that naturally hungers for evidence of love. In some way, express your deference and devotion on Sunday, June 18.

THE greatest service the world has ever known is also the greatest privilege — that of parentage. And children whether still in their youth or grown to maturity, should cherish their father and mother.
